PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

For nearly three decades, KIMEP University has provided students of the Republic of Kazakhstan with a world-class, Western-style education, unparalleled leadership training, and exceptional professional development and orientation, shaping the next generation of political and business leaders and specialists in Central Asia and abroad. KIMEP's mission to form well-educated citizens and to thereby improve the quality of life in the Central Asian region has remained steadfast since our institution's founding. KIMEP has quickly evolved into a world-class university, which all other Kazakhstani universities strive to emulate.

KIMEP University has established a tradition of excellence by offering programs and educational orientation of the highest academic quality in business, social sciences, law, and language studies. In recognition of KIMEP's unwavering efforts to achieve academic excellence, KIMEP has received prestigious international accreditation of all 28 academic programs from the Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA) and the Agency for Quality Assurance and Accreditation Austria (AQ Austria), and institutional accreditation from Independent Kazakh Agency for Quality Assurance in Education (IQAA). Moreover, KIMEP has been recognized as the #1 Leading University in the Development of Science and Innovations in Kazakhstan, #1 Leading University among Humanitarian-Economic universities in Kazakhstan, and the #1 Leading University in Reputational Assessment of Employers by IQAA.

The university prides itself on more, however, than simply providing first-class academic programs. KIMEP University distinguishes itself in its devotion to the well-being and personal development of its students. In stark contrast to many universities throughout the CIS, KIMEP University involves representatives from its independent student association in the decision-making process. This complements the university's broader commitment to transparency, fairness and integrity, as well as fosters a sense of empowerment and responsibility among students.

KIMEP University alumni are not only highly qualified, but deeply committed to these values, and it is this characteristic that makes them such desirable hires. Numerous prestigious international companies rely on KIMEP graduates' skill, expertise, innovation, and experiences to improve and advance their organizations. KIMEP graduates serve as the backbone of Kazakhstan; the integral role that KIMEP and over 12,000 outstanding alumni have played in the economic and social development of Kazakhstan is undeniable. As an innovative and adaptive institution, KIMEP University will continue to pursue academic excellence and institutional development in order to tailor its services to the needs of its students and to those of the Kazakhstani state and society as a whole.

This university catalogue provides updated information regarding academic courses, academic requirements, university policies, and student responsibilities for Academic Year 2021-2022. The KIMEP administration hopes this information will help students achieve their academic goals, pursue their professional interests, and take part in the vibrant student life on campus.

Respectfully,

Chan Young Bang, Ph.D.
President, KIMEP University

PART I. GENERAL INFORMATION

DISCLAIMER

KIMEP University wishes to emphasize that the materials in this catalog, including policies, programs, courses and tuition fees, are subject to change, alteration, or amendment at the absolute discretion of KIMEP University.

FOREWORD

The purpose of the 2021-2022 KIMEP Catalog is to provide students, faculty members, administrators and all other interested persons with the details of policies at KIMEP University. While the audience for the KIMEP Catalog is the campus community, we recognize that applicants, prospective students and many other people will read this material. This publication offers them insight into KIMEP, its policies and auxiliary services.

MISSION

The mission of KIMEP University is to develop well-educated citizens and to improve the quality of life in Kazakhstan and the Central Asian region through teaching, learning, community service and the advancement of knowledge in the fields of business administration and social sciences. To fulfill this mission, we offer graduate and undergraduate degree programs at the highest level of international educational standards in business, economics, finance, accounting, public administration, political science, international relations, law, pedagogy, journalism and mass communication to outstanding students, who will become equals to graduates of universities anywhere in the world. We seek to select students from among those who demonstrate leadership, talent and language capabilities, irrespective of their financial means, gender or ethnic origin, or any other subjective criteria. KIMEP University has grown substantially since President Nursultan Nazarbayev established the Institute on January 14, 1992. He gave Dr. Chan Young Bang the responsibility of managing and developing this new academic institute, the first in Central Asia to be modeled on the North American system of education. By attracting local and international scholars, encouraging excellence in all operations and focusing on the long-term well - being of the members of this community, KIMEP University has grown into a vibrant , matching the high standards of leading Western academic institutions. KIMEP has contributed enormously to the growth and development of the nation and its people by challenging young men and women to draw upon their standards of excellence and to contribute to society after graduation.

PART II. ADMISSIONS

ADMINISTRATION

Director
Natalya Miltseva, MA in Higher Education Administration

Associate Director
Assem Beisembinova, MBA

Enrollment Services Manager
Anastassiya Manoilenko, MBA

The Department of Student Recruitment and Admission (DSRA) reports to the Provost and General Deputy to the President. It serves as a central information point for all internal and external inquiries on applications and admissions to academic programs.

Admission Officers and Coordinators work together with students (on part-time employment basis) on recruitment, applications and admission procedures that are in line with the strategic and operational plans; as well as the goals and targets set at institutional, program and admission office levels.

Staff members are highly committed to integrity, transparency, ethics, respectful and customer-focused functions and processes in all appearances and operations; as well as have absolutely no tolerance for any form of favoritism, corruption or nepotism.

Part 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

KIMEP University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for admission of all qualified individuals. The university is also committed to the principles of continuing life-long education, and it does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of race, ethnicity, nationality, religion, gender, social or sexual orientation, creed, marital status, physical disabilities, remote area location, age and/or any other subjective criteria.

KIMEP University seeks to enrol outstanding students who have demonstrated the potential to succeed through leadership and talent and who have also shown evidence of their capability to contribute to the community.

The university has created clear and transparent procedures for applying and accepting individuals with a diverse academic history and academic needs: Kazakhstani and international applicants, undergraduate students (graduates of high schools and professional vocational schools, transferring and reinstating students), graduate students and non-degree students for short and long-term study terms (international summer school, exchange program, adult learner program, etc).

Any information provided during the admissions process concerning an applicant's disability is voluntary. Specific services are made available once eligibility is proven through professional documentation to the KIMEP Medical Center. This procedure is maintained in accordance with laws relating to confidentiality. No limitations are placed on the number or proportion of persons with disabilities who may be admitted or enrolled.

KIMEP University has three study periods: Fall, Spring and Summer semesters (see Academic calendar <https://kimep.kz/current-students/calendar/>)

Academic rules and policies, academic programs and degree requirements are listed in the KIMEP University Catalog, which is annually updated and changed (see catalog: <http://www.kimep.kz/about/about/publications/>)

To enrol in dual degree programs through KIMEP and a partner university, it is necessary to fulfill the admission requirements set forth by each university/program.

Part 3. Applying to KIMEP programs

KIMEP University has an open and transparent process of applying to academic programs on a year-round basis. Specialists in the Department of Student Recruitment and Admission will provide assistance and will answer all questions regarding application process. Applicants will need to submit the Application Form with required documents attached for certain semester by set deadlines. According to state law, documents, submitted in foreign languages, have to be accompanied with a certified translation into Kazakh or Russian language.

In some cases, especially with foreign applicants, Department of Student Recruitment and Admission has a right to request additional documents (licenses for educational activity of organizations issuing the diplomas, confirmations of attestation and accreditation, confirmations of degree, specialization and diploma, etc.)

Incomplete application may result in delay for admission review/decision or rejection of admission.

Cases of fraudulent documents or submission of knowingly false information result in permanent application rejection and may be transferred for consideration to law enforcement bodies in accordance with the order set forth by the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

The complete application package has to be submitted to the Department of Student Recruitment and Admission through on-line applicant portal: (<https://www.kimep.kz/ext/application/online/>)

Notifications

The system automatically sends out a notification on receipt of applications to the e-mail address indicated in the application. The status of the submitted application may be checked using the Applicant portal or the following link of KIMEP web site: (<https://kimep.kz/prospective-students/admission/>) .

APPLICANTS' PORTAL

KIMEP strives to offer world class educational services and to increase its range of on-line admission and recruitment services. This goal requires that applicants are given the opportunity to apply on-line from any place in the world with Internet access, as well as to receive personalized information regarding the status of their application and other useful information through a centralized web-resource for applicants, known as the Applicant's Portal (<https://www.kimep.kz/ext/application/online/>).

On-line application is developed in three languages – Kazakh, Russian and English. Applicants may easily activate their account in the system by entering a current personal e-mail address.

On-line application is reviewed by the admission officers of the DSRA only on the condition of filling in all mandatory fields and submitting the on-line application. Incomplete or/and not submitted on-line applications will be annulled after three months of inactivity in the on-line account. Applicants may initiate another application later on from very beginning.

On-line applications shall be printed out and signed by the admitted students (together with signing a contract of rendering educational services) upon arrival to the university campus.

REGULATION OF UNIVERSITY ADMISSION COMMISSION

1. Department of Student Recruitment and Admission (DSRA) is created to recruit and admit students to KIMEP academic programs in accordance with admission policies, strategic and operational plans.
2. Annually DSRA organizes relevant recruitment activities in Kazakhstan, Central Asia and internationally.
3. DSRA is empowered and responsible for all activities related to collection, review and data entry from on-line applications of all programs of the KIMEP University. DSRA is also responsible for review of each and all applicants as to comply with the KIMEP Admission Policy 2019-2020 and, therefore, for identification in terms of admission or rejection to KIMEP programs with the follow up communication that would lead to arrival, visa, registration and enrollment or re-application for the next intake.
4. On behalf of the University, DSRA proceeds with admission to the academic programs as per the Admission Policy approved by the President (or his designee) and issues the Admission Orders for students.
5. DSRA reports to the Provost and General Deputy to the President. It serves as a central information point for all internal and external inquiries on applications and admissions to academic programs.
6. DSRA closely interacts with KIMEP units responsible for the admission decision-making, such as Admission and Scholarship Committee, Academic Council/Summer Oversight Committee and President's Cabinet. Members of the committees are approved at the University level.
7. In collaboration with Deans, faculty, and DSRA Office of Academic Affairs plans, organizes, conducts and reports on the entrance exams that lead to admission or rejection decisions.

8. DSRA closely works with the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan on the issues related to required state examinations (UNT and Graduate exams). Director appoints responsible officers and informs state bodies.
9. To ensure smooth and effective admission process 2021-2022, the University Admission Committee is created as the following:
 - University President, the Chair
 - VPAA and PGDP
 - College Deans (CSS, BCB, Law School, LC)
 - Executive Secretary
 - Chairs of Subject Examination Commissions:
 - a. Interview for undergraduate foreign applicants – Program Chairs
 - b. Undergraduate and Graduate Program Examinations – Program Chairs

Admission Committee is formed for 1 year and work is adjourned after all admission is done.

10. Student admission decisions are recorded in the form of Order specifying the grounds for the admission. The final list of admitted students is approved by KIMEP President in the form of Order on admission to undergraduate programs, graduate programs and non-degree programs. Each Admission Order has a list of requirements which admitted student shall fulfill to ensure eligibility for full admission. Those admitted students who did not comply with each and all requirements listed in the Admission Order are withdrawn as non-matriculated students. Students, who complied with each and all requirements stipulated in the Admission Orders, will have access to course registration in accordance with their program and terms of study.
11. Neither KIMEP nor any group, committee, individual at any level will guarantee admission to KIMEP University and/or its programs.
12. Admission consideration is separate from financial aid considerations. By making admission decision to academic programs KIMEP University does not mean any financial aid promise to any type of the applicant.
13. Upon completion of the recruitment and admission process, DSRA provides detailed reports to KIMEP departments and administration, and to the state authorities (the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan and National Statistical Agency).

ADMISSION TO UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE PROGRAMS

KIMEP is governed by the university's charter (available at <https://kimep.kz/about/management-and-governance/>) with the participation of faculty members, students, staff and administrators at various policy-making levels.

Together with the global experience of working with applicants, state admission legislation applies when making admission decisions, including the Law of the RK On Education, Standard Rules of Admission to Academic Institutions Offering Undergraduate Education, Standard Rules of Admission to Academic Institutions Offering Graduate Education, and Rules for Students' Transfer and Reinstatement, as well as the RK Government Order (as of July 9, 2013 #701).

KIMEP University and its academic units review specific requirements for submission of documents and criteria of admission of students to each program on annual basis. Requirements are approved by the University Academic Council (or its standing committee during summer period) as well as by the President's Cabinet. Upon completion of the process of admission, all applicants receive letters of admission, letters of access to non-degree educational services or letters of rejection. Appropriate orders are approved by the President and serve as a ground for the start of study at KIMEP University.

On behalf of the University, the Department of Student Recruitment and Admissions issues orders for three types of degree students and for non-degree students. Periods of issuing the orders of admission to undergraduate and graduate programs are defined by the legislation of the RK:

1. Orders of admission of undergraduate students, graduate and doctorate students
2. Orders on transfer and reinstatement of undergraduate students
3. Orders for granting access to non-degree educational services (throughout the year) for:
 - Non-degree students taking undergraduate or graduate level courses;
 - Auditing students with the purpose of increased access to higher education;
 - Exchange students from other universities aiming to increase academic mobility;
 - International Summer School visitors aiming to increase academic mobility;
 - Any other non-degree groups.

Admitted students will immediately receive notifications to their e-mail address, indicated in their application form, as well as via the Applicant Portal in the section “Check your admission status”.

To take part in dual degree programs (at KIMEP University and a partner university) it is necessary to fulfill the admission requirements set forth by each university/program.

The order provides the list of requirements that each admitted student must fulfill before classes start. Admitted students who do not fulfill all requirements listed in the order shall be withdrawn from the university during the semester in which they are to start studies.

Information packages are sent to all admitted undergraduate, graduate, doctoral and non-degree students via e-mail indicated in the application form. The package includes the admissions letter, important contact information, information about orientation programs, terms and conditions of tuition payment, registration for foundation and degree courses, medical requirements, nostrification requirements, etc.

Applicants who did not fulfill the admissions requirements may contact the DSRA in order to take part in the next admission round and to voluntarily participate in the special preparatory program.

Nostrification

Documentation regarding education issued by foreign academic institutions shall undergo the procedure of nostrification required by the state (after admission of students, during the first semester of their studies).

Additional requirements for foreign citizens¹

Foreign citizens shall submit the following documents before registration for any courses (according to the Law on Migration, Chapter 5):

1. Financial statement on availability of funds to cover accommodation and tuition in accordance with the educational services contract (except ethnic Kazakhs)
2. Criminal records form.

Admission and Financial Aid

Applications for admission are reviewed separately from applications for financial aid. Admission to academic programs at KIMEP University does not guarantee provision of financial aid to applicants.

The Admissions and Scholarship Committee is the standing committee of the KIMEP Academic Council that sets the policies and procedures for financial aid. Financial Aid Office sets the deadlines and requirements for submission of documents <https://kimep.kz/prospective-students/financial-aid/>

The student may be transferred or reinstated to any program of study and to any specialization of undergraduate studies. Requests for transfer or for reinstatement are considered by the programs and the academic difference in disciplines of working curricula is defined during the period of summer and winter breaks within five business days before the start of the next academic period. Final documentation is signed by the Dean of the College, by the Vice President of Academic Affairs and by the President of KIMEP. Within three business days from the date of issuing the order on transfer or on reinstatement, the written request to provide a personal file of the student is sent to the student's previous university of study.

II. Defining English Proficiency Level²

Because KIMEP University is an English Medium of Instruction institution, students' English proficiency level must be assessed prior to being admitted. Students that have not undergone a procedure of defining their

² Is not an entry/admission requirement for undergraduate programs

English proficiency start their studies from the beginner level (UF C).

To assess English proficiency, KIMEP University accepts the following English proficiency test certificates:

- TOEFL (Code of KIMEP University for the examination is 2104)
- IELTS/IELTS Indicator
- Cambridge English Examinations
- Duolingo
- KIMEP English Placement Test
- Provisional Foundation English courses successfully passed prior to admission for degree or non-degree program

Level of English Foundation Course	KEPT	CEFR+	IELTS / IELTS indicator	TOEFL IBT	TOEFL PBT/ Institutional TOEFL	Revised TOEFL paper-delivered test	Duolingo English test
Academic English	80-100%	B2	5.5 (not less than 5.0 in the Writing section)	70	523	52	85-90
UF A	51-79%	B1	4.5	57-69	475-522	42-51	65 -84
UF B	30-50%	A1	3.5	27-56	380-474	19-41	45-64
UF C	< 30 %	Beginner or False Beginner	<3.0	<26	<379	<18	<44

CEFR* - Common European Framework of Reference (Common European competencies of foreign language proficiency: studying, learning, assessment)

Although the KEPT (or its equivalent) is used as the primary reference for placement, new students can move to a higher level during the first week of their study. This can be done in accordance with an instructor’s recommendation if their level of English proficiency has been proved to be higher, or if they submit their IELTS or TOEFL results before the semester starts or during the first week of study.

Suggested procedure: a) the student submits the original of the English language proficiency test (e.g. IELTS) to the Language Center with the request to reconsider the placement; b) After the results have been verified, the LC issues a memo to the Office of the Registrar with the request to transfer the student to the appropriate level with the copy of the English language proficiency test; c) the LC archives one copy in the student’s file and returns the original to the student.

III. Academic standing³

KIMEP welcomes young leaders from a variety of backgrounds. The system of ranking the incoming students includes several criteria:

- a. Average academic standing upon results of secondary and secondary-special education
- b. Evaluation of English proficiency, UNT, international and Kazakhstani academic and personal achievements

³ Is not an entry/admission requirement for undergraduate programs

GRADUATE PROGRAMS (MASTERS AND DOCTORATE STUDIES)

Entry requirements to graduate programs

1. Completed higher education

- Copy of a diploma confirming the completion of undergraduate degree(s).
- Copy of a transcript (diploma supplement) with grades

2. Submission of application

According to Standard Rules of Admission to Academic Institutions Offering Graduate Education, all applicants are obliged to submit a complete application package to the Admissions Office by the established deadline of the corresponding year.

3. Complex Test (CT)

CT follows the method developed by the National Testing Center of the Ministry of Education and Science of Kazakhstan.

All graduate applicants – citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan – have to take Complex Test in order to secure admission to the graduate program. Applicants to MBA program are exempted from the Complex Test.

4. Entrance examinations by specializations⁴

- a. Entrance examination for MAE and MEPM programs (KGET – KIMEP Graduate Entrance Test) – with a score not lower than 14;
- b. Entrance examination for MBA, MACTA, MFIN, MMKT, MMGT programs (KGET – KIMEP Graduate Entrance Test) – with a score not lower than 15; an additional criterion for admission to the MBA program is at least 1 year of work experience or equivalent including internship and volunteering work;
- c. Entrance examinations for MPA, MEPM, MAJ, MIR, LLM and EXMBA programs are held in the form of an interview in the field of study by departmental committees; an additional criterion for admission to the EXMBA program is a requirement of a minimum of 5 years of work experience or its equivalent;
- d. Entrance examination for the Two Foreign languages (MAFL) program has two stages (a) on-line essay and b) live interview via Skype conference or other application at the discretion of the departmental committee.

5. KIMEP University accepts international certificates of GMAT and GRE tests for the appropriate graduate programs, which are considered on an individual basis by departments.

Code of KIMEP University for GMAT examination is BLP-9V-74 and BLP-9V-70

6. Defining English proficiency level

Because KIMEP University is an English Medium of Instruction institution, students' English proficiency level must be assessed prior to being admitted. Therefore, defining level of English proficiency is mandatory, except for:

1. Holders of completed undergraduate, graduate or doctoral degrees or their equivalents from English medium universities (authentic diploma, transcript and confirmation of English teaching form the university concerned), including KIMEP University Graduates

⁴ KIMEP graduates with GPA of 3.0 and above are exempted from program entrance tests

2. Students of dual degree programs between KIMEP and partner universities
3. Students in the Russian cohorts of the EXMBA program

Students that did not undergo evaluation of their English-language proficiency begin their studies at the beginner level (GRAD C).

To evaluate English-language proficiency, KIMEP University accepts international English proficiency test certificates

- TOEFL (Code of KIMEP University for the examination is 2104)
- IELTS/IELTS Indicator
- Cambridge English Examinations
- Duolingo
- KIMEP English Placement Test

ACCESS TO NON-DEGREE STUDY

There are several opportunities to study at KIMEP as a non-degree student: non-degree at the time of application with or without the intent to enter an undergraduate/graduate program in the future, adult learners, visitors of the International Summer School, exchange students, Russian or Kazakh language learners. All these groups receive a special document reflecting the results of study in individual courses taken at KIMEP University, but not any academic degree or diploma.

NON-DEGREE (available at both undergraduate and graduate course levels) is an educational option to be used by any person wishing to take courses for personal purposes without any intention of obtaining a degree. Upon the completion of the selected courses, the document is issued with an indication of course title (s), number of academic credits and grades. Successfully completed courses may be transferred to undergraduate or graduate degree programs. Defining the level of English proficiency is mandatory for this group of non-degree, except for the Russian cohort in ExMBA. Students who graduated from KIMEP or English-medium universities applying to non-degree programs may be exempted from KEPT and Foundation English courses.

ADULT LEARNER Adult Learner is an option of non-degree study, offered to all people (21 years and older) interested in auditing courses currently offered by KIMEP University. A person under adult learning status can audit courses; however no current or final course assessment or academic credits will apply to these individuals. Verification of English proficiency is not required for the students with adult learner status.

INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL Students are admitted to ISS courses for general education purposes but are not able to continue studying at KIMEP University after completion of ISS without undergoing a procedure of admission to an appropriate program (undergraduate, graduate, non-degree).

EXCHANGE PROGRAM According to cooperation agreements established between KIMEP University and foreign academic institutions, exchange students undergo a selection process to study at KIMEP University for one or two semesters depending on specific conditions of the cooperation agreements. Conditions of selection and enrollment are monitored by the Department of International Academic Mobility.

Attachment # 2. KIMEP University Tests

Results of tests and examinations administered by KIMEP University may be used only for the purposes of admission to KIMEP University and are valid for one calendar year.

Rules, periods and format of taking tests and examinations are set forth by the Office of Academic Affairs and by Academic Departments.

Entrance examination for applicants enrolling in undergraduate and graduate programs take place in accordance with the state requirements.

i. KIMEP English Placement Test (KEPT)

Who takes the test: Applicants for Bachelors and Masters programs, non-degree applicants
 Language: English
 Total number of questions: 100
 Duration: 90 minutes
 Number of sections: 3

Short description:

Section 1: Grammar Structures

The first section is designed to test the grammar skills of applicants. Candidates will have to choose the correct word or phrase to complete simple sentences. They will choose from three or four possible answers that may have the same meaning, but only one of which is grammatically correct.

Section 2: Grammar and Vocabulary in Context

The second section is designed to test the grammar and vocabulary development of applicants. They will read short selected passages that are missing key words. They will choose the best words to complete the text from three or four possible answers.

Section 3: Reading Comprehension

The third section is designed to test the reading comprehension of applicants. They will read fairly long selected passages and choose from a multitude of answers or provide short written responses which best describe the meaning of the text.

KEPT schedule is available on the KIMEP web site <http://www.kimep.kz/prospective/en/kimep-university-tests/>

ii. Creative entrance exams for journalism program: an essay and a written interview

The test is given in English and it consists of 3 sections:

1. Problem solving (there are 20 questions and the recommended time is 30 minutes)
2. Data sufficiency (there are 20 questions and the recommended time is 40 minutes)
3. Critical thinking (there are 10 questions and the recommended time is 20 minutes)

Test takers have a maximum of 90 minutes to complete these 50 multiple-choice questions. Problem-solving is evaluated based upon mainly quantitative questions. This section tests the knowledge of arithmetic, elementary algebra, and common geometry. Data sufficiency questions consist of a question and two statements. The critical thinking section is composed of questions testing reading comprehension and critical reasoning.

The KGET test covers a wide range of topics.

KGET sample test and schedule is available on the KIMEP web site <http://www.kimep.kz/prospective/en/kimep-university-tests/>

iv. KIMEP Test for Master of Arts in Foreign Languages: Two Foreign Languages (MAFL) Program

Entrance examination for the Two Foreign languages (MAFL) program has two stages (a) On-line essay and b) live interview via Skype conference or other application at the discretion of the departmental committee.

Attachment # 3. Rules of behavior at tests and exams in KIMEP University

Exam rules are unified for all tests regardless of locations, on or off campus, within and outside the country where KIMEP decides to hold the entrance exams.

Note: violations of the rules of behavior during test taking (such as cheating, etc) results in the disqualification of an applicant for 1 to 5 years.

1. Applicants must produce their EXAM ENTRANCE TICKET and ID/passport before being allowed to enter the examination room
2. Proctors have the right to inspect applicants' ID/passports prior to entry to the examination room or at any time during the test.
3. All coats, bags, briefcases and other possessions (including mobile telephones) must be placed in the area designated by the proctors. Mobile telephones must be switched off.
4. All reference books, materials, papers, magazines and journals, whether relevant to the test or not, must be placed at the chief investigator's table. Unless the test rules require that they be referred to, these items may not be within the sight or reach of the candidate.
5. If it is evident that the candidate has in his/her possession any items, such as notes, answer-keys or crib-notes, after the start of the test, the candidate will be refused permission to continue the test and will be referred to the Chief Academic Officer for disciplinary action.
6. Applicants taking the KGET test are allowed to use simple calculators that do not have communication capabilities. Mobile telephones may not be used for the purposes of mathematical calculations. An applicant shall be solely responsible for having a calculator corresponding to the aforementioned requirements. If the applicant has no calculator on hand, the test should be taken without a calculator. Applicants may also refuse to take the examination and to take it at any other designated time.
7. Candidates may not communicate with or borrow any items from another candidate. The candidate will have to raise hand to speak to a proctor in case of an emergency.
8. Candidates may not leave the test room once the test has started, regardless of the reason. This includes going to the toilet. It is highly recommended to take care of all necessary needs immediately before a test is scheduled to begin.
9. Candidates who leave the test room will not be allowed to return.
10. Any talking or signaling to any person other than a proctor will be viewed as cheating. If the candidate needs assistance, he/she needs to raise hand to attract the attention of a proctor.
11. The test must be conducted in strict silence. Mobile telephones, pagers, walkman, clock or watch alarms or any other electronic devices must be switched off until leaving the test room.
12. No one is to leave the test room during the final 15 minutes. If the candidate finishes the test, he/she should wait patiently and quietly until exam papers are collected and the proctor gives permission to leave.
13. Any candidate who continues working after the proctor has stated that the test time is over ("pens down") will be considered to have broken the rules of the test and will be referred to the Chief Academic Officer for disciplinary action. This will be interpreted as cheating.

KIMEP has a "zero tolerance" policy for any and all forms of academic dishonesty. Zero tolerance for all forms of dishonesty applies to any and all tests as well as classroom assessments. The zero tolerance policy also applies to faculty in the same regard as students.

Attachment # 4. KIMEP University World Languages and Preparatory Program (WL & PP)

The WL & PP offers the opportunity to study a wide range of languages and to enroll in exam preparation courses which will improve program participants' language skills and test-taking techniques to the highest level possible. The program provides language courses such as 'English for All', General and Business English for Executives, English for Specific Purposes, English for School Students, Kazakh and Russian (for both native speakers and foreigners) and foreign language courses such as Chinese, Japanese, French, German, Spanish and Italian among others. Also, the program offers examination preparation courses. These are preparation courses for the KIMEP English Placement Test, the KIMEP Graduate Entrance Test (KGET), the national Kazakhstani exam (UNT – Unified National Testing) and International exams such as TOEFL, IELTS, GMAT, GRE, SAT, etc. These courses will enable participants to successfully sit the exams or obtain internationally recognized qualifications.

Attachment # 5. Professional Development and Certificate Program

The Professional Development and Certificate Program at the Executive Educational Center provide learning and networking opportunities for working professionals. In operation since 1994, it serves both individuals and organizations alike. A full program of courses, trainings and workshops are regularly scheduled and customized trainings can be developed on demand. The program offers 'stand alone' and integrated series of courses, seminars and trainings. Participants can gain knowledge of the fundamentals and then, if they choose, pursue an advanced understanding of topics including management, accounting and finance, marketing and sales, human resource management, information technologies, and business administration. New offerings and learning opportunities are introduced every year.

Attachment # 6. Nostrification/recognition

Nostrification/ recognition of educational credentials received abroad is a procedure carried out to determine the equivalence of educational documents issued to an applicant by foreign educational institution or its branch to Kazakhstan's state mandatory standards of education.

According to subparagraph 21 of Article 5 of the Law on Education of the Republic of Kazakhstan of 27 July 2007, the procedure of nostrification/ recognition of educational credentials received abroad is obligatory for all applicants and students who wish to receive their degree at KIMEP University while being graduates of foreign education institutions. This requirement applies equally to foreign citizens and to Kazakhstani citizens who studied abroad, except graduates of the "Bolashak" scholarship program and graduate of Russian universities who received diploma before 1995.

All applicants and students who fail to comply with the nostrification/ recognition requirements lose the legal basis for gaining access to higher education in the Republic of Kazakhstan, and therefore to continue their studies or graduate in Kazakhstan.

KIMEP students with foreign academic credentials will need to pass nostrification/ recognition procedures in the Center for Bologna Process and Academic Mobility of the Ministry of Education and Science of RK, Department of Recognition and Nostrification, during the first semester of study. By decision of the Center for the Bologna Process and Academic Mobility starting from February 5, 2018, documents for nostrification/ recognition procedure are submitted by students only through the Public Service Centers.

To support students, the University voluntarily provides consulting support to KIMEP students on nostrification and recognition procedures. Please contact KIMEP University: Abai avenue 4, Almaty city, 050010, Kazakhstan, tel.: +7 (727) 270 42 13, e-mail: nailya@kimep.kz.

Documents necessary for the nostrification procedure are available at the <https://kimep.kz/prospective-students/admission/nostrification/>

PART III. FINANCIAL AID SERVICES

MISSION OF THE FINANCIAL AID OFFICE

Office of Financial Aid works with all students who apply for KIMEP University financial assistance. It provides students with information and counseling related to financial aid application, distribution and prolongation. It organizes information sessions on a regular basis for students, parents and prospective students.

Customer care and personalized approach is our highest priority. KIMEP University assures that the process of distribution of available funds is the most transparent and deliberate. Selection criteria as well as specific conditions for each type of financial aid are clearly set in Financial Aid program for particular Academic Year and approved by the President's Cabinet. All detailed terms and conditions are stated in the General Financial Aid Rules and Regulations paragraph below.

Once in a year KIMEP University may organize an Honorary Financial Aid Award Ceremony where all awarded students and their parents together with donors are invited to share student success and kind contributions toward it. Financial aid is designed to support academically successful students and encourage all students to be committed to excellence.

KIMEP University offers different types of financial aid based on student's academic merit. These include scholarships, grants, teaching assistantships, and other on-campus employment opportunities. The amount and type of scholarships or grants depends on its criteria and student's academic performance, and may take different forms. There is no need-based financial aid, but University tries to support its students in case of emergency based on documents that prove strong unfavorable situation in student's family. Need-based financial aid is subject to the decision of the KIMEP University's President's Cabinet or other Administrative body. Some students find financial support from outside the University. In some cases, financial aid is provided by current and future employers in the form of scholarships or loans. Every student is encouraged to seek such external sponsors individually.

KIMEP University strives to educate students who are academically qualified regardless of their financial means. Together with families, KIMEP University works on a variety of ways to support students through corporate donations and sponsorships, our own funds, trilateral agreements between industry and students, student work opportunities on and off campus, flexible tuition payment system, including monthly payments and individual payment plans.

KIMEP University makes no promise of scholarships, grants, financial aid to any student or individual. KIMEP University makes no connection between the distributions of any form of financial aid with payment deadlines. Thus, students and prospective students need to be prepared to pay all tuition and other fees according to established KIMEP University regulations and tuition deadlines.

All financial assistance is subject to the availability of funds.

TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

External Financial Assistance

Financial assistance in a form of scholarships, grants and tuition discounts would not have been possible without help from various companies and foundations. Many companies and international foundations feel that it is very important to contribute to building up a new generation of managers by providing financial aid to students, especially those who have financial constraints. Corporate Development department serves as a link between scholarship and grants givers and KIMEP University. Once a company establishes a scholarship fund, Corporate Development department and Financial Aid Office define a pool of students who are eligible to receive a scholarship based on either company's criteria or criteria set by KIMEP University. For outside support, a student refers to Financial Aid Office, and a student will be informed about outside scholarship/stipend competition if he/she meets criteria. KIMEP University is grateful to all sponsors and donors who continued to help and support academic and institutional development of KIMEP University over these years.

If some company would like to pay tuition fee for a student, a Trilateral Contract between a sponsor company, a student and KIMEP University is the most effective and simple way. This widely accepted practice is used by those companies that want their employees to receive the benefits of an education at KIMEP University. For more information, address the Corporate Development department.

Internal Financial Assistance

Focusing on individual student's academic merit achievements, KIMEP University strategy is to lift up the academic quality of our students to new level and encourage student community of KIMEP University to be committed to excellence. To diversify student community, KIMEP University offers financial assistance to a wide range of students including newly admitted and current undergraduate and graduate (except EMBA) students, as well as PhD, students from Kazakhstan and other countries. The Financial Aid program is reviewed and approved every year by responsible bodies. After approval the Financial Aid program is available in Financial Aid Office, KIMEP University web-site and in other printing information materials.

Applying for Financial Aid

Students apply for financial assistance by completing the online application for Admission and Financial Aid at official web site of KIMEP University and uploading a set of required documents. Based on approved eligibility criteria and/or documents provided, the Financial Aid Office determines students' eligibility for consideration for Financial Aid. Financial aid could be provided with duration from one semester only to the whole period of study for degree completion (based on the type and terms of scholarship/grant/financial aid). All applications shall be made before official deadlines. Late applications will not be considered.

Applying students are encouraged to present all required documents within the set deadline to ensure fair and timely distribution of the aid. KIMEP University reserves the right not to consider any applications with an incomplete list of documents or submitted after the deadline.

If a student faces force-major situations arising because of extraordinary circumstances that the student was not able to foresee or prevent, he/she has an opportunity to apply for Financial Aid providing the required documents, as an evidence of such circumstances. All applications will be considered, however, KIMEP University does not guarantee to satisfy all requests and such financial assistance distribution will depend on funds available at KIMEP University budget.

Eligibility Criteria

Eligibility criteria imply that all documents must be valid at the moment of application.

Scholarship award does not guarantee admission to the KIMEP University. Scholarship recipients must fulfill all the admission requirements.

Non-degree students applied for undergraduate or graduate degree in the particular year are eligible for consideration for scholarships/financial aid offered for applicants for that particular year. Scholarship/financial aid award will be provided only to admitted degree students. In case if awarded student is not admitted, the award will go to the next student in the waiting list, if applicable.

Students transferring to KIMEP University from other universities, including transferring by reinstatement, are eligible for the scholarship for transferring students. There are two intakes and scholarship distributions for transfer students: in Summer and in Winter.

All students receiving financial aid will be reviewed each semester for continued eligibility. Students who do not meet the criteria set for their award standard will have Financial Aid removed or frozen (depends on type of aid) for that semester. They are welcome to submit an application again at the end of the next academic year if they again meet the eligibility criteria.

Once financial aid is awarded, the recipients will have corresponding records on their student payment account. Scholarship/grant recipients will receive a Letter of Award with prolongation terms (if applicable).

Work and Study Policy (Work-Study*)

KIMEP University encourages students to gain working experience and makes it possible as a part of financial assistance.

The Work-study program provides an opportunity for all Undergraduate and Graduate students to work as part-time assistants in administrative (office assistants) and academic units (teacher/research assistants) not limited to colleges and faculty offices, libraries, print shop, dormitory, student club auxiliary services and other various departments and Faculty offices. Students may work not more than 20 or 30 hours per week performing different duties (for Undergraduate and Graduate accordingly). Students are paid hourly according to the manning table. The Work-Study program gives students the opportunity not only to earn, but also provides the student with valuable work experience in University environment. The experience may later give students an advantage in entering the employment market and benefit in salary competition.

Financial Aid Office establishes consistent approach in providing list of students willing to work at campus and those who meet the required criteria assigned by employee. The requirements may vary program, minimum GPA, year of study etc.

All departments/units and Faculty by themselves should invite on interview selected candidates and choose among them required candidate(s) to work.

Besides that, in order to sign a contract between University and part-time student, interested departments/units and Faculty have to submit the following documents to the HR Office:

1. A pre-employment contract form signed by part-time student(s), instructor and Dean of concerned academic units or Head of concerned unit;
2. Copy of the CV of the part-time student(s),
3. For Office Assistants - transcript and semester schedule of candidate;
4. Any other document(s) required by HR

Eligibility criteria for Teacher Assistants, Research Assistants and Office Assistants:

Qualifications for Teacher Assistants (TA's):

1. 3rd and 4th year Undergraduate students and all Graduate students;
2. GPA at least 3.00,
3. Instructor must have at least 40 registered students in one class/section for TA hiring.

Qualifications for Research Assistants (RA's):

1. 3rd and 4th year Undergraduate students and all Graduate students;
2. GPA at least 3.50;

Qualifications for Office Assistants (OA's):

1. 2nd, 3rd and 4th year all Undergraduate students and all Graduate students;
2. GPA at least 2.50

Hiring procedure for Teacher Assistants, Research Assistants and Office Assistants:

1. Apply for the part-time work (Students). According to determined eligibility criteria for students who are looking for part-time job at campus as TA's, RAs or OA's there is an application form at Student Portal with personal information (questionnaire). The application could be found on: my.kimep → FINANCES → Financial Aid → Part-Time work.
2. Eligible students' list (Faculty/Staff). Faculty/Departments consider students from the link generated by Financial Aid Office and invite student(s) on interview, choosing the required candidate(s) for part-time work as TA, RA or OA. Only student who are eligible for work will be in the list. Link location: Intranet -> Enrollment Management -> Financial Aid -> "List of eligible students for part-time work".
3. Hiring (HR Office). The next step is the final one when corresponding Faculty/Department/representatives inquire and provide all necessary documents to KIMEP University HR Office (CVs, interview forms, offer forms etc.). Further from their part HR Office works with employers on further related questions (contract, conditions, salary rate, etc.). HR Office has to mark every hired part-time student and hired students will disappear from "List of eligible students for part-time work".

*Every Academic Year, conditions, special order of hiring, etc. are subject to change with respect to going Academic Year, based on the Orders from President Cabinet or its Representatives (if any)

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS THAT GOVERN FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE (SCHOLARSHIPS/GRANTS/FINANCIAL AID)

These are general rules and regulations that govern the internal financial assistance, as well as external one if other is not specified by donor. Each type of financial assistance may have its own specific rules, terms and conditions that are stated in the Letter of Award.

1. Financial assistance for KIMEP University's students only.
2. The scholarship/grant/financial aid may provide full or partial tuition waiver with duration from one semester only to the whole period of study for degree completion.
3. Each academic year consists of consecutive Fall, Spring, and Summer semesters. One-year scholarships distributed during academic year are valid only for remaining period following the award (Spring and/or Summer semester). Any financial assistance awarded for completion of a degree is limited to the maximum of 4 consecutive academic years for undergraduate students and 2 consecutive academic years for graduate students.
4. English proficiency is regulated by the English proficiency level definition policy stated in the Catalog and evaluated based on the results of IELTS, TOEFL or KEPT. Non-Controlled KIMEP University computer-based KEPT is not valid for financial aid purposes.
5. All prospective students applying for scholarships (including KIMEP Fast tracks, International, those attended KIMEP's Provisional program, etc.) should submit KEPT/TOEFL/IELTS results for scholarship purposes. IELTS and TOEFL certificate should be valid at the moment of submission to KIMEP. IELTS should not exceed two years from the date of issue.
6. Unless otherwise stated the minimum passing score for scholarship criteria: interviews, essays, contests, GPA, KTA, etc. is 50% out of maximum possible;
7. Content, topic and volume of motivation letters/essays/interview forms are determined by Colleges.
8. Current student with incomplete grade received during the Academic Year prior the award (including Fall, Spring and Summer semesters) is not eligible for any graduate or undergraduate scholarships for current students. Exception: Graduate thesis with the confirmation from the Dean's office.
9. A student cannot be awarded more than one type of financial assistance from internal fund in one semester; therefore, he/she will be given the most suitable one. A student awarded external financial assistance can receive KIMEP University's financial assistance up to the remaining amount of tuition that the student has to pay in particular semester or Academic Year. A student cannot receive financial aid that exceeds the total amount of tuition for semester, academic year or degree.
10. A student may receive one 100% scholarship to cover one bachelor degree and is not eligible for any other KIMEP University undergraduate scholarship full or partial. A student may receive one 100% scholarship to cover master degree and is not eligible for any other KIMEP University graduate scholarship full or partial. In case if a student was previously awarded partial scholarship for another program in the same degree level – undergraduate or graduate, then this student may be considered for the scholarship after consideration of all other eligible students in the list who were not awarded previously.
11. Each scholarship has its own duration and cannot be prolonged.
12. The financial assistance is not transferable and has no cash value; it will be deposited to the student's account to cover tuition. The financial assistance is automatically accrued to student's account, and is reflected in Payment Report from the moment when the full-time academic load is obtained in Fall and Spring semesters and any academic load in Summer semesters.
13. The financial assistance covers certain number of credits per semester in accordance to the credit limit requirement mentioned in the Financial Aid Program Policy for particular AY (if any). Any financial assistance is also limited to the number of credits required for degree completion based on the Catalog (both for full and partial scholarships awarded for any period) taking into consideration credits transferred from another degree/program/university, etc. Credit limit for 100% scholarships is 37 credits per academic year for undergraduate programs and 26 for graduate programs;

14. Recipient must register for courses in the first semester following the award; financial assistance will be terminated if no registration takes place.
15. In order to register for Fall and Spring semester a recipient of financial assistance must pay all fees, payments, deposits and at least 1/3 (one third) of his/her semester tuition that is not covered by financial assistance. 2/3 and 3/3 are paid in the same way and in accordance to the Academic Calendar deadlines. (e.g.: the amount of scholarship is 75% of the tuition fee, taking into account the number of registered courses the recipient must pay 1/3 out of remaining 25% of tuition fee to register for Fall or Spring semester).
16. Financial aid does not cover any withdrawn, retaken, academic withdrawals “AW” and “o” credit courses, late payment fees, late registration fees, as well as other fees, fines, dormitory and library deposits, etc. for which student is liable. However, if a student who was awarded any form of financial aid withdraws from the institution the financial aid received will be discontinued with an immediate effect and a student will not be required to reimburse KIMEP for the courses taken up until that point or for other benefits of awarded scholarship package;
17. Foundation courses are covered by the following scholarships: scholarships for Transferring students, Intellectual KIMEP Olympiad, “Altyn Belgi” scholarships and Central Asian Undergraduate Scholarship-2020.
18. In order to keep the financial assistance during the whole period of its validity the recipient have to keep certain minimum overall GPA each semester as required by particular scholarships/grants/financial aid stated in the letter of award and to keep a full-time status in Fall and Spring semesters: registration minimum for 4 courses or 12 credits for Bachelors and 3 courses or 9 credits for Masters. The exception to this policy is the registration for the last credits left for graduation in the final semester of study where the full-time status is waived. This also applies to the Exchange Program, as chosen by student in the final semester of study. In this case, the student is liable to cover extra credits taken by Exchange Program and not covered by the scholarship/financial aid. The student has to transfer back, towards his degree at KIMEP, only those credits required for graduation.
19. If recipient of financial assistance is going to participate in exchange program, he/she has to register fulltime and transfer back to KIMEP University at least 4 courses or 12 credits (for Bachelors), and at least 3 courses, or 9 credits (for Masters) in Fall or Spring semester. Regardless of offered scholarship package, only tuition coverage will be provided to student on exchange program. Tuition coverage for the Exchange program is based on number of transferred credits from Exchange Program towards the student’s degree at KIMEP. If student registers for the Exchange Program in his/her final semester of study, then the Scholarship will cover only the final credits. The final credits must be transferred towards student’s degree as well. Other components of scholarships package such as stipend, library/dormitory/transportation fee coverage will not be provided.
20. Provision of financial assistance cannot be considered if student no longer meets eligibility criteria. If overall GPA falls below the requirement, a scholarship will be suspended. A student has to raise GPA up to the required level in order for scholarship to be reinstated.
21. If awarded student wants to be transferred to another undergraduate/graduate program of KIMEP University, then the opportunity to keep the financial assistance will depend on the terms of the particular scholarship/grant/financial aid stated in the letter of award.
22. The submitted student’s information is retained by KIMEP University and can be used for any future references.
23. By accepting the financial assistance recipient agrees that personal information (tuition payments, grades, debt, etc.) will be opened to third parties (parents, guardians or sponsors). The recipient of financial assistance also agrees to participate in recruitment and promotion events organized by departments and offices of KIMEP University.
24. The KIMEP University reserves a right to cancel, modify or amend the conditions, criteria, and order of allocating and granting the financial aid/scholarship, as well as not to award scholarships based on decision of the Disciplinary Committee or President Cabinet or other authorized body, as well as due to Academic/Disciplinary probation, falsification of any official documents, or other actions that can be qualified as an administrative violation of the KIMEP University's regulations. The financial assistance provided by external funds or companies is an exception to this rule.

25. The following conditions can serve as an automatic disqualification of student from any type of scholarship/grant/financial aid: Academic/Disciplinary probation, falsification of any official documents, and other actions that can be qualified as an administrative violation of KIMEP University's regulations. In addition, disciplinary, legal and/or administrative actions may be taken.
26. KIMEP University's website, Catalog and recipient's personal e-mail provided by KIMEP University (e.g. studentname@kimep.kz) are official sources of information. It is responsibility of a student to be acknowledged with information that is published in the Catalog, on University's website or sent to student's university e-mail. Student is considered to be acquainted with the information published in the Catalog, web site and/or sent to student's university e-mail.
27. Student should contact the Financial Aid Office (#203, Valikhanov bld.) to find out about updated information on scholarship/grant/financial aid. Awarded students are advised to consult with the Financial Aid Office before doing any changes in academic, financial or other areas related to their studies at KIMEP University (withdraw courses, transfer between programs, applying for exchange program, receiving "I" grade, etc.), as it may lead to suspension or cancellation of scholarship/grant/financial aid.

SCHOLARSHIP PROBATION AND SUSPENSION POLICY

After being awarded and during the whole scholarship duration period (1, 1.5, 2 or 4 years) students have to maintain eligibility from semester to semester and from year to year in order to receive their scholarship. Each scholarship requires students to meet certain prolongation criteria, i.e. full-time registration in Fall and Spring semesters, minimum cumulative GPA level, etc. Awarded students receive the list of scholarship rules/requirements/prolongation criteria with their Letter of Award and have to submit signed acceptance letter to the Financial Aid office within the certain period. Rejected (not accepted) scholarships may be redistributed to the students from the wait list if so provided by scholarship rules. If students do not meet scholarship prolongation requirements, they will face the following course of action: probation, suspension, or termination of their scholarships.

Scholarship probation

Understanding that different difficulties with adaptation to university study may happen, as well as family or health problems may occur during the period of study of a student, KIMEP University offers one semester (Fall, Spring or Summer) of scholarship probation. Scholarship probation is offered to students whose GPA dropped below the required prolongation level, yet is higher than 2.33 (2.33 is the minimum GPA for providing financial aid in accordance to the GPA Standardization Policy). Students with scholarship probation will be consulted and monitored by the FAO and Support Learning/Center Student Affairs in order to help them to improve their academic standing. Students must be meeting the requirements of the scholarship by the end of the probationary semester; otherwise, students will be suspended from the scholarship. Scholarship probation will be provided only once and by student's request (as some may prefer to pay tuition and keep this opportunity of scholarship probation for the future). Scholarship probation will not be given to students whose GPA dropped below 2.33, their scholarship will be suspended. Scholarship probation will not be given to students who had scholarship suspension and raised GPA above 2.33 yet below the scholarship prolongation GPA requirement.

Scholarship suspension

The automatic suspension of a scholarship without a probationary semester is given to:

- Students whose GPA dropped below 2.33;
- After the probationary semester, if students do not meet the scholarship GPA requirements;
- If scholarship duration period is over;
- By the decision of the Disciplinary Committee, and other terms stated in the Catalog

Reinstatement of scholarship

Once a student returns to the minimum requirements for the scholarship, the scholarship will be reinstated automatically if so provided by scholarship rules. A reinstated scholarship will not include payments that were forfeited during the suspension period.

Competent Authority

Financial Aid has a policy-making body represented by the KIMEP University President's Cabinet. Approved eligibility criteria can be changed according to the decision of the Admission and Scholarship Committee / Academic Council /President's Cabinet.

TUITION PAYMENT POLICY

Payment of tuition allows a student to register for courses. No student is permitted to attend class or to take exams unless the student is officially registered for the class and the name appears on class roster produced by the Registrar office. Tuition is based on the number of credit equivalents that a student enrolls in. The total tuition is the tuition rate per credit times the number of credit equivalents.

Tuition Payment Options

KIMEP University adopted flexible system of tuition payment. At the beginning of the academic year, before any registration, students have four options for paying tuition:

1. Pay tuition at once for all credits required for the degree completion and keep current year's tuition for all years of study.
2. Students willing to pay in advance (before the study) for the whole period of education in a lump sum should stop by the Registrar Office to receive further instruction in order for tuition to be fixed. Exceptions are cases of retakes and of registration for additional courses. In this cases payment shall be made according to the price, current at the moment of registration.
3. Pay tuition for the semester at the beginning of the semester.
4. Pay the semester tuition in three installments.

Tuition payments must be received by KIMEP University by the due date (please follow the Academic Calendar). As KIMEP University follows cashless operations principle and usually bank transmissions take several days, all payments should be made sufficiently in advance to allow for transmission, processing and posting while before the due date on the payment report of each student. Payments received after the due date are automatically assessed a late payment fee (regardless of when the payment was initiated). It is the students' responsibility to ensure that tuition is paid on time.

Late payment fee

KIMEP University requires all students to be current in their financial responsibilities for payment of TUITION and FEES to the University and will define "current and not owing any outstanding amount" as:

- Fully paid
- Paid or Scheduled to be paid appropriately for the second installment before the end of the 5th week and for third installment before the end of the 9th week of the semester.

Students who are registered for any classes in Fall Semester or Spring Semester and have an outstanding debt shall be fined a late payment fee. Students will be warned at the beginning of the fifth week of the semester; the late payment fee will be charged to all who are not current and fully paid or with appropriate clearance, as per the above listed categories.

- This same process will be allowed at the beginning of the ninth week of both the Fall and Spring Semesters when all payments for the both of those Semesters are to be finalized by individuals

Semester Payment and General Installment Payment Plan

Tuition can be paid at the beginning of the semester or in three installments throughout the semester. The first payment is due from the start of registration until the beginning of the semester and allows students to register for classes. The due dates of the first, second and third payments are listed in the Academic Calendar. There is no installment payment option for summer tuition (summer tuition is paid in advance before registration).

Non-payment of tuition

KIMEP University reserves the right to take administrative and/or legal actions to the students whose payments have not been received by the tuition due date, as indicated in the Academic Calendar or in the payment plan. Although, the University notifies students about the payment deadlines by sending a message to the student's University provided email address and/or by phone, it is responsibility of a student to be current in payment of all financial obligations to the University. Following administrative actions will be taken in case the student has overdue tuition balance:

1. Administrative Withdraw will be applied to all students whose accounts not found to be current and which are owing any outstanding amount on the Friday of the thirteenth week.
 - i. Withdraw (administrative withdraw) from registered classes, i.e. the student won't be able to attend classes, submit assignments, and sit final examinations.
 - ii. Official transcript won't be available to the student until the balance owed is paid in full.
 - iii. Registration for classes will be blocked until the balance owed is paid in full.
 - iv. Withdrawn students may apply for reinstatement of dropped classes during fourteenth and fifteenth week if the balanced owed is paid in full. Reinstatement requires Instructor approval.

Following legal actions may be taken in case the student has overdue tuition balance:

1. Student 's account may be sent to a collection agency. In such circumstances, the student will be responsible for all collection costs, including, but not limited to, agency fees, attorney fees and courts, on top of the balance owed to the University.

Refunds of overpayment

When an overpayment occurs (except for graduating students), KIMEP University encourages students, parents and sponsors to leave the overpayments in the student's account and to use these funds for tuition in the subsequent semester or summer sessions. When undergraduate student applies for refund he/she should meet Learning Support Center (LSC) coordinators. The LSC shall consider each case on merit and reserves the right to inform parents.

Payment Obligation

Every student must accept personal responsibility for the payment of all tuition and fees on time. Where possible, KIMEP University and other organizations will provide support to students who need financial assistance. However, it is important to recognize that financial assistance is not a contractual obligation on the part of KIMEP University or any other organization and is always subject to the availability of funds. If anticipated financial assistance is not received, students will need to find alternative means of meeting their financial obligations.

How to Pay for Education

University education is expensive, but some steps can be taken to reduce the costs:

1. Explore the availability of grants and scholarships from internal and external funds.
2. Arrange for educational bank loans in order to make tuition payments on time.

3. Apply for scholarships or Individual Payment Plan through Financial Aid Office.
4. Use one of the tuition payment options mentioned above
5. Find out opportunities available through part - time employment on campus (refer to KIMEP University Student Portal) or elsewhere.

REFUND POLICY

- Tuition refunds shall only be made during the specified period, with the only exception for students leaving KIMEP University permanently or on a leave of absence of at least one semester.
- Tuition refund requests of less than 100,000 tenge shall not be approved, with the only exception for students leaving KIMEP University permanently or on a leave of absence.
- Partial refund requests shall not be approved.
- Refund requests for the dormitory fee shall be approved during tuition refund period only.
- Tuition refunds shall only be made through bank payment to the bank account of the students (parents, sponsors) within the Republic of Kazakhstan only.
- Tuition refund applications shall be checked for legitimacy and signed by the authorized University's representatives.
- When undergraduate student applies for refund he/she should meet Learning Support Center (LSC) coordinators. The LSC shall consider each case on merit and reserves the right to inform parents;

Documents required for tuition refund

Tuition refund is only made to a person made tuition payment. This person may be either a student made payment himself/herself or a person who paid for a student, i.e. legal or physical entity. Tuition refund is made through a bank transfer. Tuition refund to a relative or a trusted person of a student in the event when a student made payment himself/herself, is done only upon notarized power of attorney from a student.

Required documents for a student-made payment:

- 1) Copy of ID/Passport. Present original as well.
- 2) Number of payer's bank card account (20-digit card code of a payer) or Number of payer's bank current account.

If a student does not have a bank card/account, he/she can prepare a power of attorney for a person whose card/account he/she is going to send money to. The following documents shall be provided:

- 1) Copy of ID/Passport of a student. Present original as well.
- 2) Notarized power of attorney from a student to a recipient.
- 3) Copy of recipient's ID/passport. Present original as well.
- 4) Number of payer's bank card account (20-digit card code of a payer) or Number of payer's bank current account recipient.

When student's tuition is paid by a third party (legal entity per trilateral agreement, by public funds, physical person as a sponsor or other sponsors) the balance of funds is returned directly to a tuition payer.

When tuition payment is made under a trilateral agreement or by other sponsoring legal entity, the balance of funds is returned directly to a company after completing act of reconciliation.

Required documentation for when tuition is paid by a sponsoring physical person:

- 1) Copy of payer's ID/passport. Present original as well.
- 2) Number of payer's bank card account (20-digit card code of a payer) or Number of payer's bank current account.

Special refund arrangements for transfer credit students

1. Students wishing to transfer credits to KIMEP University are not advised to take the course(s) under study before credit transfer processing ends;
2. If this/these course(s) are taken anyway, then the students are advised on the following special refund arrangements in case of positive credit transfer decision:
 - a. Partial Refund: for course(s) currently being taken.
 - i. The refund percentage is calculated on a pro rata basis of total tuition for course(s) starting the (a) date of the credit transfer decision or (b) last date student(s) appeared on the attendance list(s), whichever is later;
 - ii. Students wishing to complete this/these course(s) anyway, may do so. No refund in this case;
 - iii. Students wishing to apply for a partial refund should comply with the following:
 1. Stop attending this/these course(s) beginning the date of the credit transfer decision;
 2. File a request with the Registrar Office no later than three working days of the date of the credit transfer decision. No late requests allowed;
 - iv. Refund timing & processing follow general rules/procedures mentioned above in the Refund Policy sub-chapter;
 - b. No Refund: for fully completed course(s) with assigned final grade(s);

PART IV. REGISTRATION & ACADEMIC POLICIES

MISSION AND PURPOSE

The Office of the Registrar is dedicated to providing the best possible services to for KIMEP University students, faculty and staff. The office generates student records from the point of first enrollment through graduation and beyond. It offers a wide range of services in the areas of academic records, student status, registration, course enrollment, classroom assignments and scheduling.

The office monitors implementation of KIMEP University policies and procedures to ensure maintenance of well-documented, valid, accurate, permanent, and confidential student records. It also provides certified documentation of academic records through official transcripts.

ONLINE RESOURCES

The Registrar's Office maintains a website with information and resources for students, faculty, administrators, and for the public at large. Through the website, students have access to their own personal records.

Confidentiality of individual records is maintained by a personalized password system. The website is available at www.kimep.kz > Student Portal: Here a student can check his/her advising materials, holds and blocks, checklist, personal registration and final examination schedule, wait list status, transcript, grades, payment report, degree requirements, etc.

For Faculty: Here a faculty members can find individual schedules, information on his/her advisees and advising online resources, students on wait lists, registration results, relevant statistics, grade entry pages, attendance sheets, etc.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

From time to time KIMEP University may change or add new academic policies. New and/or revised policies apply to all students regardless of the year of entry into KIMEP University unless specific exemptions are stated in the policy. Policies stated in this catalog replace policy statements from previous catalogs. The KIMEP University Academic Council may, during the course of the year, revise and alter current academic policy.

CREDIT SYSTEM

KIMEP University uses a modified American credit system as the foundation for the curriculum.

Degree requirements are stated in terms of credits earned rather than in terms of courses completed. Each credits represents 50 student learning hours, which may include 10-20 hours of in-class instruction. Typically a semester long course will meet for forty-five class contact hours and is worth three credits. However, some courses are worth more than three credits and some worth less.

To earn a degree from KIMEP University, a student completes a set of credit requirements for a particular program. The requirements usually have a list of courses that must be taken, a list of elective courses, and a minimum number of credits to be earned. Elective courses are not a requirement but are necessary in order to complete the minimum number of credits. A program can have subparts, with required courses and a minimum credit requirement for each subpart.

Another requirement for graduation is a minimum level of scholastic performance, which is measured by the grade point average or GPA. The GPA is the average of the grades, but weighted according to the number of credits for each course in which a grade is received. An example of how to calculate GPA is given in a later section.

Credit equivalents

Some courses are preparatory courses and are worth zero credits. Completion of any of these courses does not earn credits towards graduation. The courses, however, do have a credit equivalent. A three-credit equivalent means that in terms of class time and learning outcomes, the course is approximately the same as a typical three credit course. Some policies (such as maximum course load) are based on credit equivalents rather than on credits.

GRADING SYSTEM

KIMEP University uses a letter grading system A, B, C, D, F, etc. Letter grades are further differentiated with “+” for the top of the grade range or “-” for the bottom of the grade range. Based on the grades assigned, a grade point average is calculated and recorded on the student’s transcript.

Grades and Grade Points

The following letter grades apply to courses at the undergraduate, graduate, and doctoral levels respectively.

Grade	Undergraduate	Masters	Doctoral	Points
A+	Highest grade	Highest grade	Highest grade	4.33
A	Excellent	Excellent	Excellent	4
A-	Very good	Very good	Good	3.67
B+	Good	Good	Passing	3.33
B	Good	Satisfactory	Passing	3
B-	Good	Passing	Passing	2.67
C+	Satisfactory	Failing or Passing*	Failing	2.33
C	Satisfactory	Failing or Passing*	Failing	2
C-	Satisfactory	Failing or Passing*	Failing	1.67
D+	Passing	Failing	Failing	1.33
D	Passing	Failing	Failing	1
D-	Lowest Passing	Failing	Failing	0.67
F	Failing	Failing	Failing	0

* Grade “C” for Master students can be considered as either passing or failing, depending on the specific program.

Numerical Conversion to Letter Grades

The following table is a suggested equivalency between classroom numerical averages and the “A” – “F” letter grade scale.

Grade Numerical Scale

A– 80 - 84
 B+ 77 - 79
 B 73 - 76
 B– 70 - 72
 C+ 67 - 69
 C 63 - 66
 C– 60 - 62
 D+ 57 - 59
 D 53 - 56
 D– 50 - 52
 F below 50

TYPES OF GRADES

Administrative Grades

The following KIMEP University wide notations apply to both graduate and undergraduate programs. These notations do not affect the calculation of the grade point average but all courses taken at KIMEP University (with grades) appear on the official transcript.

Grade	Comments	Points
NA	Not Applicable	N/A
Pass	Pass	N/A
AU	Audit	N/A
IP	In Progress	N/A
I	Incomplete	N/A
W	Withdrawn	N/A
AW	Administrative Withdrawal	N/A

Not Applicable – NA

Credits earned at other institutions transfer to KIMEP University without grades. In such cases the credits are posted to the transcript with the annotation “NA”. Credits with a grade of “Not Applicable” are not included in the calculation of the grade point average.

Grade of Pass

In certain cases an undergraduate student may elect to have a course graded on a pass/fail basis rather than receiving a letter grade.

- To receive a grade of “pass” a student must have selected the pass-fail option at the beginning of the semester.
- After the registration period ends the pass-fail option cannot be changed.
- An earned grade of C or higher is recorded as “Pass”; an earned grade of “C–” or less is recorded as “F”.
- “Pass” earns credits which may count towards graduation.
- “Pass” has no grade points and is not included in the calculation of the GPA.
- “F” earns no credits.
- “F” has zero grade points which are included in the calculation of the GPA.

Eligibility for Pass-Fail

- Full-time 4th year undergraduate students who are not on academic probation are eligible. The option is not available to graduate students.
 - There is a limit of 3 credits per semester.
 - The maximum within a degree is 6 credits.
 - The pass-fail course must be a free elective course and not a requirement.
 - The department offering the course must give written permission for pass-fail.
 - Student must submit signed Pass-Fail form to the Registrar Office till the end of Registration period.
- Without submitted form Pass-Fail option is not valid.

Grade of Audit – AU

A student who wishes to sit in on a class without receiving a grade may elect to audit a course.

Audited courses are recorded on the transcript with the notation “AU”. Audited courses are not included in the calculation of the GPA.

- The grade of “AU” is automatic. The instructor cannot assign any other grade.
- Audited courses do not receive credit, cannot be counted towards graduation requirements and cannot be transferred.

Eligibility for Audit

- Any student may audit any course for which s/he meets the prerequisites.
- The student must register to audit the course.
- The student must pay for the course the same as for any other course.

Grade of In Progress – IP

“In Progress” applies to DBA dissertation courses which are taken in a sequence over one or more semesters.

Once the dissertation has been successfully defended, the “IP” grade is changed to the appropriate grade for the sequence. A dissertation receives a “Pass”.

- The grade of “IP” does not affect the GPA.
- If a student does not complete the dissertation the “IP” grade remains permanent.

Grade of Incomplete

An instructor may enter the temporary grade of Incomplete (“I”) in cases of significant, disruptive life circumstances that cause the student to miss a limited portion of the course assignments (no more than 40 percent of the course total). The Incomplete grade provides the student with some additional time to complete the missing assignments working independently, and is recalculated by the instructor to a letter grade upon the student’s submission of work or upon reaching the end of the allowed period for the incomplete grade.

Disruptive life circumstances justifying award of an “I” grade can include things such as illness of the student, illness or death of a family member, participation in international educational activities that conflict with the course schedule, and so on. Documentary proof may be required from the student as evidence to justify assigning the Incomplete grade. The decision whether to award the “I” grade is made by the course instructor.

In issuing the Incomplete grade, the instructor is exercising judgement and taking additional responsibility for assessing work turned in after the official end date of the course. The additional work required of the instructor should be limited to this review and assessment and to communicating to the student the requirements for completing the coursework, such as deadlines and expectations for the work. The additional work should not require supplementary lectures or other substantive activities to make up for missed classes.

If the student faces disruption requiring make-up of more than 40 percent of the course material and/or requiring additional support to successfully pass the course, the Incomplete grade should not be applied. Instead, the student should petition for a refund and opportunity to repeat the course under the hardship policy.

The last deadline for submitting material to resolve the Incomplete grade is the seventh week of the next full semester following issuance of the incomplete. However, the instructor may assign a shorter deadline. This deadline must be formally communicated to the student by the instructor at the time of issuing the Incomplete grade (for example, via KIMEP email). The Incomplete grade is not subject to further extension (except in cases of Thesis or State Exam, outlined below) except in special circumstances and with the approval of the instructor, the Dean, and the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

The grade of “I” is assigned 0 (zero) credits, has no grade points, and is not included in the calculation of the GPA. At the time of award of the “I”, the student must otherwise be achieving a passing average for the portion of the course assignments already completed. An “I” grade cannot be used simply to help a student avoid failing a course or receiving a poor grade; it can only be awarded in cases where a student has achieved a passing grade based upon at least 60 percent of the course requirements; it cannot be used to allow a student to do 'extra credit' work, and it cannot be used simply to give a student additional time absent substantial justification.

Removal of Incomplete

- It is the student's responsibility to complete the work that has been missed according to the guidelines provided by the instructor. It is also the student's responsibility to contact the instructor when there are questions about the work that must be completed in order to convert the "I" into a standard grade.
- The instructor and the student should develop a plan to complete the remaining coursework in a timely fashion.
- The grade "I" should be changed by the instructor to a letter grade (A, B, C, etc.) immediately after the student completes all course requirements. This should be done as soon as possible but at the absolute latest by the end of the seventh week of the semester following that in which the "I" was assigned. (The summer semester is not considered a full semester.) An electronic "Change Grade Form" shall be used for this purpose. Appropriate documentation must be accompanied with evidentiary support.
- Academic Leave (AL) does not exempt the student from completing needed work in order to convert the "I" into a standard grade in time.
- If a student fails to complete all requirements as assigned by the instructor during the allowed time period after the incomplete grade was received, the "I" will automatically convert to an "F".
- If an instructor who has assigned a grade of "I" to a student leaves KIMEP before the time limit, the Dean will assign another faculty member to evaluate the remaining coursework and to convert the incomplete to an appropriate letter grade. The Registrar should receive formal notification of the name of the responsible faculty member and all current assessment records of the student; course syllabus and remedial components shall be transferred from the former to the new instructor. The Registrar will not sign a final clearance form for the departing faculty member without formal notification from the Dean on all of the above.
- A student may elect to repeat a course rather than remove the incomplete. In such cases the student must register for the course again and pay the regular tuition fees.
- Prolongation of Incomplete Grade for regular courses for undergraduate and graduate students is prohibited, except in special cases approved by the instructor, Dean, and Vice President of Academic Affairs.
- Students can apply for prolongation of Incomplete Grade for Thesis and State exams on exceptional basis by online request. Prolongation could not be beyond the time limit allowed for graduation.
- The grade "I" will be automatically converted to «AW» grade for those students, who were withdrawn from KIMEP, either by personal reasons or by university initiation.

Grade of Withdrawal – W (by students)

The grade of W denotes that the graduate or undergraduate student has withdrawn from the course and has not completed the course requirements (Please refer to the academic calendar for the last date to withdraw from a course).

- The grade of "W" is automatic. The instructor cannot assign any other grade.
- The grade of "W" is assigned 0 (zero) credits and cannot count towards graduation.
- The grade of "W" has no grade points and is not included in the calculation of the GPA.
- The grade of "W" does not count in any restrictions or limitations on the number of retakes for a course.
- A student is not obligated to repeat a course from which s/he has withdrawn. However, if the course is required then the student must complete the requirement in order to graduate.
- In order to repeat the course a student must register for the course again and pay the regular tuition fees.

Withdrawing from a Course

Before the end of the add-drop period a student can use the online registration system to cancel the registration for a course. After the end of the add-drop period, the student must submit to the Registrar's Office a completed electronic withdrawal form for each course from which the student is withdrawing. The eform is available at the Students' Portal.

- The number of grade W of undergraduate course cannot exceed 10 units within the entire study period on Bachelor Degree Program.
- Instructor, learning support center coordinator and student will receive automatic E-MAIL notification on course withdrawal record in the system.
- Student may exceed the number of W (more than 10 units) only in case of serious reasons (e.g., medical or family emergency, prolonged illness and etc.). Student should apply for "hardship withdrawal" ("HW") and receive approvals of Program Manager and the Dean of College and submit the approved request to the Registrar Office.
- Based on the approved "HW" registrar officer will withdraw the student from all courses he/she is currently registered for and assign grades of "W" for those classes.
- A hardship withdrawal ("HW") cannot be used to withdraw from some courses selectively while remaining being enrolled in other courses. Selective withdrawal will be permitted only under exceptional circumstances.
- During fall and spring semesters a student who withdraws early may be entitled to a partial refund of the tuition paid. The cutoff dates and amount of refund are stated in the academic calendar. These rules do not apply to summer semesters. There is no refund after registration period for any summer semesters.
- The withdrawal e-form must be received by the Registrar's Office before the deadline to withdraw. Students may withdraw from courses until the last day of semester/summer classes. The last date to withdraw is stated in the academic calendar.

KIMEP University Refund Schedule Based upon a 15-weeks term and is linked to the withdrawal schedule as follows:

Week 2 - 80% Refund

Week 3 - 60% Refund

Week 4 - 40% Refund

Week 5 - 20% Refund

No Refund Subsequent to that time.

Grade of Administrative Withdrawal – AW (by administration)

The grade "AW" is equivalent to the grade of "W" in all respects except that the Dean of Student Affairs initiates the withdrawal.

The non-academic type of administrative withdrawal can be initiated by the Dean of Student Affairs in collaboration with the instructor. Administrative withdrawal applies to emergency situations that do not allow the student to continue his/her studies in a course or at the university. An emergency situation may include medical conditions, family issues that impact the ability to study, excessive financial debt, or other reasons deemed appropriate by the Dean of Student Affairs. This type of withdrawal may be initiated at any time during the semester. The Dean of Student Affairs has the final decision on the appropriateness of an "AW" grade.

KIMEP University reserves the right to take administrative and/or legal actions to the students whose payments have not been received by the tuition due date, as indicated in the Academic Calendar or in the payment plan. Following administrative actions will be taken in case the student has overdue tuition balance:

1. Withdraw (administrative withdraw) with "AW" grade from registered classes, i.e. the student won't be able to attend classes, submit assignments, and sit final examinations.
2. Withdraw (administrative withdraw) from the University, if outstanding balance is not paid in full by the end of the following semester (classes end) unless the student has made satisfactory arrangements prior to this date.

GRADE SUBMISSION

Based on the requirement of the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan the course assessment should be divided into 3 parts: 2 assessments/exams which constitute 60% of the total points and the final assessments/exams should not exceed 40%.

Credit courses are to be assessed only (Thesis's, Internship, Comprehensive Exam, Dissertation and 1 credit courses are excluded). Foundation courses are not credit bearing courses, so it is not applicable to them as well.

- Fall and Spring semesters' 1st assessment must be completed by the 8th week of classes, 2nd assessment by the 13th week of classes and final assessment by 16th week (Final Exam period).
- Summer 1 courses must include at least one assessment score (60%) due to the Registrar before the last day of the course and the final assessment (40%) score due to the Registrar by the end of summer 1 term. No assessment scores are required for Summer 2 term.
- Students may withdraw from courses until the last day of semester/summer classes
- Fixed dates should be indicated in the Academic Calendar

Access to final exams will be given to all students despite of their first and second assessments scores (effective from S2019 – to implement the order #494 of the MOE from September 25, 2018);

Students who dropped the course by the results of first and second assessment would be offered an option by Registrar office to reinstate into the course.

Except in cases of audit (AU) or withdrawal (W), KIMEP University has an online Enter Final Grade system that facilitates the electronic submission of the assessments scores to the Registrar's Office.

Instructors must enter 1st and 2nd assessments scores no later than one week following the date of the assessment. No hard copy is required for 1st and 2nd assessments.

Final assessment scores must be entered no later than one week following the date of the final examination, or one week following the last day of classes for the courses with no final examination scheduled.

Once the Final assessment scores are entered, the summary table, including all three assessments results and letter grade, will be provided by the system. Instructor should submit signed hard copy of the summary table to the Registrar office.

No faculty member may leave on vacation or permanently unless scores have been entered and a printed copy sent to the Registrar Office. Late submission of the grades formally affects annual evaluation process of the faculty.

Instructors may not post or publish any final grade results.

Instructors are encouraged to provide feedback to students on exam and evaluation results but information on final grades is disseminated exclusively by the Registrar's Office. The Registrar's Office will not release grades to students with outstanding debts.

Feedback policy

KIMEP University is committed to providing timely and appropriate feedback to students on their academic progress and achievement, thereby enabling students to reflect on their progress and plan their academic and skills development effectively. Feedback, and acting on feedback, is therefore part of the active learning process throughout a student's course of study. Faculty are responsible for providing meaningful feedback in a timely manner; students are responsible for receiving and responding to feedback. The following guidelines reflect these principles:

1. In addition to being assigned a numerical score and/or letter grade, all students work submitted for a grade must be provided meaningful feedback from the instructor. While the feedback need not be lengthy or detailed to qualify as "meaningful", it must be sufficient to help show the student what was done well and what needs improvement. Thus, a single sentence might be sufficient for a short quiz, while editing marks and a paragraph or two of commentary might be needed for a paper.
2. a) Assignments and mid-terms, should be graded or other feedback given and returned in a timely manner, typically within seven (7) days fo the submission deadline.
b) An instructor, whose class had more than 30 students, has an additional seven (7) days for grading and giving feedback. However, please note 4 below that requires that feedback on an assignment be distributed to students prior to giving any subsequent assignment extending from that assignment. In the event an instructor is unable to return assignments within this timeframe, notification and an adjusted timeframe should be provided to students.
3. In cases where performance on an assignment depends upon feedback from a previous assignment, feedback on the first assignment must be provided with enough time for the student to absord and respond to that feedback before turning in the subsequent assignment.
4. Recognizing that certain assignments may be running in parallel and, upon occasion, the second assessment and a final project or other assignment may be crowded near the end of the semester, exceptions to 3 above are allowed if stated in the course syllabus at the beginning of the semester.

Change of Grade

Faculty members are responsible for ensuring that assessment scores/grades are accurate and correct at the time of submission. Nonetheless if a miscalculation was made, a faculty member can initiate a change of scores by the end semester and change of grade within 2 weeks of the date the original grade was submitted to the Registrar. An electronic “Change Grade” form shall be used for this purpose. Faculty members are allowed to change scores/grades only if they have erred in compiling the final score/grade and the original scores that were submitted were incorrect. Appropriate documentation must be submitted for every change of entered scores/grades in the system. The Instructor, Chair/Program director and the Dean must sign the Grade Change form.

GRADE APPEAL

A grade assigned by an instructor is only subject to the appeals procedure if:

- There was a clerical/administrative error in the calculation and/or assignment of the grade;
- The student’s grade does not adhere to the syllabus assessment grading system

Situations of proven academic dishonesty are not eligible for this process.

Students may appeal any graded assignment given by the instructor. Students are encouraged to meet with faculty any time during the semester if they have inquiries or questions.

There are five sequential steps in the grade appeal procedure:

- Student submits an online inquiry form (student portal/forms/grade appeal) regarding the grade(s) in question for the course no later than 72 hours after official posting of the final course grade;
- The student’s online inquiry form will be automatically sent to the instructor to respond utilizing the online inquiry system. This response should be made within two working days of receipt of the student inquiry. If the instructor’s response to this inquiry resolves the student’s concerns, the process ends at this point;
- If the student believes that the faculty response to the inquiry does not resolve her concerns, the student has the right, within two working days, to complete a further online grade appeal form which will be automatically sent to the Chair of the College’s grade appeal committee who will convene a meeting with the committee members to review the student’s grade appeal;
- The College’s grade appeal committee will review the information and documentation from both the instructor and the student and if needed, will request further documentation or testimony from the instructor and/or student;
- The College’s grade appeal committee will determine the final outcome of the student’s grade appeal. That decision is not subject to further appeal.

During this process, students are responsible for clearly stating the reason(s) for their inquiry and appeal, for providing documentation such as graded assignments (if they were returned to the student), and for providing other documentation and information requested by the committee. Faculty are responsible for providing course documentation relevant to the appeal (including graded assignments if they were not returned to the student) and other documentation and information requested by the committee. All parties are required to conform to the norms and policies of KIMEP University.

PLEASE NOTE: While every attempt will be made to conclude the appeals process quickly, the process is dependent upon the presence of faculty on campus; in some cases, an appeal may not be decided until early in the semester after the appeal is submitted.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE (GPA)

To calculate the grade point average in a credit based system, the numerical points for each grade are multiplied by the number of credits for the course. The results are summed for all courses included in the calculations. The total is the “Credit-Hour Value” (CHV). The Credit-Hour Value is divided by the total number of credits which yields the grade point average. The following are examples:

History of Civilizations A 3 credits

$$4.00 \text{ (for A)} \times 3 \text{ (credits)} = 12.00$$

Kazakh Language B 2 credits

$$3.00 \text{ (for B)} \times 2 \text{ (credits)} = 6.00$$

Credit-Hour Value = 18.00, Credits = 5
 $18.00 / 5 = 3.60$ grade point average

Two calculations of the GPA are listed on the student's transcript: a semester-based GPA and a cumulative GPA.

The semester-based GPA is calculated and based only on grades from courses taken in a particular semester. The cumulative GPA is based on grades from all courses taken from the beginning of study.

If a course is taken more than once, only the grade received in the most recent retake is counted in the calculation of the GPA. The GPA is calculated only for degree students. The GPA is not calculated for exchange or for non-degree students.

ACADEMIC AWARDS AND HONORS

KIMEP University provides recognition for those students who achieve the highest level of scholastic performance. At the end of each regular semester, the Office of the Registrar compiles a list of the top performing students. All full time students, undergraduate or graduate, with a semester GPA of 4.0 or higher are placed on the "President's List". All full time students, undergraduate or graduate, with a semester GPA of 3.75 or higher are placed on the "Dean's List".

At graduation, KIMEP University recognizes students with outstanding academic performance by conferring a degree with honors. There are three levels of honors: Cum Laude (With Honors), Magna Cum Laude (With High Honors), and Summa Cum Laude (With Highest Honors). Graduating with honors is noted on the student's transcript and is printed on the Diploma. Honors applies to both undergraduate and graduate students.

To graduate Summa Cum Laude a student must have a grade point average of 4.25 or higher.

To graduate Magna Cum Laude a student must have a grade point average of 4.15 or higher.

To graduate Cum Laude a student must have a grade point average of 4.00 or higher.

A student receives the highest level of honors for which s/he is eligible.

KIMEP University Diploma with Honors is awarded to graduates in accordance with the Academic Awards and Honors policy.

STATE DIPLOMA WITH HONORS

According to the section 52 of the Order #595 from October 30, 2018 of Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan, a diploma with Honor is issued to a student with the following grades A+, A, A-, B+, B, B- and C+ and whose cumulative GPA (for the entire term of study) is not lower than 3.5, who has passed all State Exams and defended Thesis with A+, A or A- grades (excluding grades for additional taken courses).

ACADEMIC RECORDS

The Registrar's Office maintains records of student academic performance. Academic records are available on a continuous basis on four forms: mid semester grade reports, graduation checklists, unofficial transcripts, and official transcripts. Grades and credits earned are posted to academic records only when all required documentation submitted to the office of the Registrar from instructors.

Graduation checklist

The graduation checklist is an internal document which tracks a student's progress towards meeting degree graduation requirements. Completed coursework is organized by the degree requirement rather than by semester.

The checklist is used for advising purposes and should not be circulated outside of KIMEP University. A student's checklist is available to the student and his/her adviser online through the registrar's website: www.kimep.kz > Student Portal.

Graduation request

The student, planning to complete graduation requirements in the current semester, must submit a Graduation Request to the Registrar's Office. After that all graduation approval will start taking place. Without written notification through the Graduation request, registrar office cannot initiate graduation preparation for the student. Failure to submit graduation request by the prescribed deadline will postpone student's graduation till next semester. Candidates who apply for a given graduation and fail to qualify will need to reapply for a later graduation.

Unofficial Transcript

The transcript is the record of a student's academic performance.

The transcript contains the following information:

Student name, student ID, student status, degree program, declared major, declared minor, courses taken (with course code, course title, grade and credit hours), credits completed and GPA (grade point average). The transcript is organized by semester. Grade point average and credits earned are indicated for each semester and as a cumulative total. An unofficial transcript is available online through the registrar's website: www.kimep.kz> Student Portal.

Official Transcript

The official transcript is the formal presentation of a student's record to the external community. The official transcript contains the KIMEP University logo and address. It is printed on secure violet paper with the official seal in the center and with the name of the university repeated in the background in white type over the face of the entire document. The registrar signs an official transcript and certifies the document with the registrar's official seal. When photocopied a hidden security warning appears over the face of the entire document.

In addition to the information mentioned for the unofficial transcript, the official transcript also contains information for the external community such as an explanation of KIMEP's University credit system, course codes and the grading system. A student may request an official copy of the transcript for any purpose at any time upon payment of the transcript fee. Student may request the official transcript online through the registrar's website: www.kimep.kz > Student Portal provided they have no tuition debt.

Registrar Office provides with the official transcript students from partner universities study at KIMEP University on Exchange Program for one or two semesters upon the official request from the International Office with no transcript fee.

Diploma supplement

The diploma supplement is a document accompanying a higher education diploma, providing a standardized description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies completed by its holder. It has the following eight sections of information:

1. Holder of the qualification
2. Qualification
3. Level and function of the qualification
4. Program contents and results gained
5. Information on the function of the qualification
6. Any additional relevant information
7. Certification of the supplement
8. Details of the national higher educational system concerned

KIMEP should follow the structure and sequence of information as provided by European Commission, avoid information overload and present information as concisely as possible.

Supplement is free from any value judgements, equivalence statements or suggestions about recognition. The Registrar signs a diploma supplement and certifies the document with the Registrar's official seal.

From Spring 2018 the Supplement will be issued automatically to all graduates, free of charge, in English language. Diploma Supplement can be issued upon request to alumni graduated in 2013 and onwards.

COURSE CODING

KIMEP University uses an alphanumeric coding scheme that consists of 3 alpha and 4 numeric characters. The first alpha characters represent the department or discipline for the course. The first numeric character represents the intended level of the course. The remaining numbers represent the unique identifier of the course. Course codes for discontinued courses cannot be reused.

Course Level Intended students

1000 All Students (Mainly First Year)
2000 Second or Third Year Students
3000 Third or Fourth Year Students
4000 Third or Fourth Year Students
5000 Graduate Students Only
6000 Doctoral Students Only

ACADEMIC COMMUNICATION POLICY (G-MAIL)

All KIMEP University students and instructors are provided with an official e-mail address on Gmail. Since the KIMEP University e-mail system is an official means of communication, both students and instructors are expected to communicate through it. Because the important announcements, news and messages regarding the academic affairs, student life, campus events or administrative issues are sent to the students' official email, all students are expected to check their student e-mail on a regular basis (at least daily), and any communication sent to them by the administration or faculty is considered to be received and read by the students. Both instructors and students are expected to use their official e-mail address for academic communication.

Note: E-mail addresses are assigned by the Computer and Information Systems Center. The academic communication policy is based on existing KIMEP University e-mail policy. (Please, refer to the Computer and Information Systems Center section of the Catalog.)

CODE OF CONFIDENTIALITY

KIMEP University's policy on the confidentiality of student records is governed by Republic of Kazakhstan law: "On Education" dated July 27, 2007, № 319-III. Any majority age student has the right of non-disclosure of confidential information (number of registered courses per semester, schedule, tuition, payment, debts, grades, etc.). This information cannot be released to any other party without the student's consent.

Permission for the release of information to other parties can be granted in person by the student or by submission of a notarized "Consent Form for Use and Disclosure of Student Information".

STUDENT STATUS AT KIMEP UNIVERSITY

KIMEP UNIVERSITY employs several criteria for classifying students.

The most important classification is the status while studying at KIMEP University.

Degree Student – is any student who intends to complete a program of study and to earn a degree, which is offered by KIMEP University. To have degree status a student must have successfully passed KIMEP University entrance examinations (if required) and have been formally admitted to a degree program. A degree student can attend either full time or part time.

Non-degree Student – is any student who wishes to take classes for personal reasons without the intent of earning a degree. In order to register a student must apply for admission as a non-degree student and be accepted.

Non-degree students can only take courses for which they meet the prerequisites. Registration for non-degree students is opened 3 days after registration for first year students.

If a non-degree student applies and is accepted to a degree program, some credits earned in non-degree status can transfer to the degree program. However there are restrictions and limitations. Details are defined in the section on transfer of credits.

Exchange student – is any student studying at KIMEP University who is a degree-seeking student from another university. KIMEP University has student exchange programs with many partner universities from around the world. Students from partner universities study at KIMEP University for one or two semesters and transfer the credits back to their home university.

Adult Learner – is a non-degree option offered to all people (above 21 years old) interested in auditing KIMEP University courses. A person who is accepted under the Adult Learning status is not formally the student of KIMEP University and, therefore, do not receive any/all benefits that students have. Though the rules and conducts while taking courses have to be followed (KIMEP University and KZ regulations). A person under the Adult Learning status can only audit the course and no course assessment will apply to these individuals. A person under the Adult Learning status take full responsibility on English proficiency to understand course materials. No course Prerequisites apply. No formal transcript is provided upon the completion of the course, just confirmation from the Registrar office, which reflects the name of the course, semester and AU grade.

Audited courses cannot be transferred or converted to degree programs at KIMEP University. Registration for the courses is done on a space-available basis (any Undergraduate or Graduate courses in KIMEP University official schedule) during registration period for non-degree students. All other non-degree conditions apply, including full payment in advance with no refunds and maximum number of courses per semester the same as degree students.

Visiting students are those who independently come to the KIMEP U without having a formal exchange agreement.

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE-SEEKING CLASS STANDING

Freshman – refers to a student during his/her first academic year followed the admission to the program

First-year student – A student who has fewer than 30 earned credit hours student with up, regardless the year of entry

Sophomore - A student who has 31-68 earned credit hours

Junior - A student who has 69-106 earned credit hours

Senior - A student who has at least 107 earned credit hours

GRADUATE DEGREE-SEEKING CLASS STANDING

Newcomer – refers to a graduate student during his/her first academic semester followed the admission to the program

Fast-Track Student - newly admitted graduate student who has certain courses transferred from recognized undergraduate degree toward graduate records

ACADEMIC STANDING

Academic standing applies only to degree students. Therefore a student with Regular status is a degree student in good academic standing.

Regular – is a degree student whose academic progress is acceptable towards earning a degree.

Academic Probation (AP) – is a degree student whose performance is below the standards required for graduation (details are stated in the section on Academic Probation).

Full Time - Part Time

KIMEP UNIVERSITY also classifies students as full time or part time. The only distinction between full-time and part-time students is that part-time students may not receive scholarships, grants, or tuition waivers.

Full Time Student – is any undergraduate student who takes 12 or more credit equivalents per semester or any graduate student who takes 9 or more credit equivalents per semester. Foundation course count as a full time load.

Part Time Student – is any undergraduate student who takes less than 12 credit equivalents per semester or any graduate student who takes less than 9 credit equivalents per semester.

Year of Study

In the framework of academic credit system, the year of study is based on the number of credits completed according to the table below. Graduate programs have only a first and second year. In some cases a second year graduate student will have more credits than the upper limit in the table for second year status. Year of study is important for the priority registration system.

Bachelor Program

Credits earned	Year of Study
0 to 30	First year (Freshman)
31 to 68	Second year (Sophomore)
69 to 106	Third year (Junior)
107 and up	Fourth Year (Senior)

Graduate Program

Credits earned	Year of Study
0 to 30	First year
31 and up	Second year

Confirmation of student status

The Office of the Registrar prepares enrollment verification documents (spravka) for students enrolled at KIMEP University under any status as well as alumni. Documents are available in a timely manner. Students may request it online through the Student Portal.

AT-RISK OF ACADEMIC FAILURE

According to Fridlander (1980) at-risk students are “Those students who because of poor academic preparation, language handicaps, or low motivation may have difficulty to succeed”

Early warning indicators

I. Freshmen are flagged for early intervention if:

Admission stage:

1. Overall UNT score is below 60;
2. UNT mathematics score (for BCB, BPMA and BAE programs only) is below 10;
3. KEPT score is below 50 (Undergraduate English Foundation courses Level C and B). or/and:
 1. fails to attend the Fall Orientation Program;
 2. fails to attend Academic Policies make-up workshop.

First semester:

Students are flagged for early intervention if:

1. have more than 2 (Undergraduate English Foundation) or 3 (Academic English or/and Kazakh language) unexcused absences, demonstrate poor performance or/and skills deficiency during the first two weeks of classes;
2. identified as “at risk” by faculty based on attendance, performance and/or skills deficiency two weeks before the midterm break;
3. earn less than 50% of the first and second assessment scores.
4. have one F and/or one W by the result of the first semester

II. First Year Students (less than 30 credits earned) are flagged for early intervention if:

1. do not pass Foundation A course during the first year after admission;
2. took less than 24 credits and have GPA below 2.10;
3. have one F and/or one W by the result of the first semester
4. identified as at risk by faculty two weeks before the first assessment.

III. Senior Students (over 30 credits earned) are flagged for early intervention if:

1. GPA is below 2.10 at the end of the term;
2. identified as at risk by faculty two weeks before the first assessment (midterm);
3. have more than one “F” and/or more than one “W” in one semester.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

Students on Academic Probation are considered as students at academic risk. AP students may register for restricted number of credits only and cannot be the recipients of the KIMEP University financial aid.

Undergraduate students

- By the results of the first semester of study at KIMEP University if cumulative grade point average of student is below 2.0 the obligatory academic counseling with the program/college is required.
- After an undergraduate student has taken 24 credits at KIMEP University, the student will be placed on Academic Probation if the cumulative grade point average is still below 2.0.
- An undergraduate student on Academic Probation may not register for more than 12 credits equivalents per Fall/Spring semester and for more than 6 (six) credit equivalents in a seven-and-a half week of Summer semester. While student on Academic Probation academic counseling remains obligatory for him/her.
- A student will be returned to regular status whenever the overall GPA is raised to 2.0 or above.
- An undergraduate student who has attempted 24 or more credits while on Academic Probation, whose overall GPA is still below 2.0 withdrawn from KIMEP University.
- Student may return to KIMEP University following the Reinstatement policy.
- An undergraduate student with GPA of 1.9 or above and 117 or more credits earned, may request an extension of the Academic Probation Period for one semester, if graduation is feasible based on the availability of remaining courses in the upcoming semester and raising the GPA 2.0 or above required for graduation.

Graduate students

- By the results of first semester of study at KIMEP UNIVERSITY if cumulative grade point average of a student is below 3.0 BCB, LAW and CHE graduate programs and 2.67 for other Masters programs, the obligatory academic counseling with the program/college is required.
- After a graduate student has taken 18 credits at KIMEP UNIVERSITY, the student will be placed on Academic Probation if the cumulative grade point average is still below 3.0 for BCB, LAW and CHE graduate programs and 2.67 for other Masters programs.
- A graduate student on Academic Probation may not register for more than 9 credits equivalents per Fall/Spring semester and for more than 6 (six) credit equivalents in a seven-and-a-half week Summer semester. While student on Academic Probation academic counseling remains obligatory for him/her.
- A student will be returned to regular status whenever the overall GPA is raised to 3.0 for BCB, LAW and CHE graduate programs and 2.67 for other Master programs or above.
- A graduate student who has attempted 18 or more credits while on Academic Probation, whose overall GPA is still below 3.0 for BCB, LAW and CHE graduate programs and 2.67 for other Master programs will be withdrawn from KIMEP University.
- Student may return to KIMEP University following the policy of Returning Students.

ACADEMIC SUSPENSION

Any student who does not regain good standing is offered one semester Academic Suspension option. If student decides to accept the offer, he/she has a right to register for one 2/3 credits course and is obliged to participate in an academic recovery program during one semester. After a semester of the recovery program, a student returns to the Academic Probation status for one more semester and if is not able or willing to regain good standing will be dismissed from the KIMEP University.

Academic Suspension is allowed during the whole student's history only once (at least under the certain Student ID).

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Academic Support Program is a mandatory recovery program for students with the academic suspension status. The Academic Support Program is designed to help students to regain good standing with emphasis placed on self-responsibility, proper decision-making and sturdy skills. Participation in the Program is a must! Students must register for one credit course that includes a series of one hour workshops. These workshops are focused on the academic performance skills, such as studies, making the grade, critical thinking, presentations, working in groups, effective reading, writing, handling homework and test taking, communications, memory tricks, listening and note taking, etc.

All students who participate in the Support Program must attend the workshops on a weekly (every other week) basis throughout the semester. The Student Learning Center advisors shall make individual appointments with students to help them design a personal schedule for the Academic Recovery Program that meets their individual needs. If poor academic performance is caused by behavioral problems rather than skills deficiency, the student should attend the mandatory counseling with the KIMEP University psychologist. Students must fill in an application form to register for the Academic Support Program. The Academic support Program is free of charge.

The Academic Recovery Program will be offered in the Fall and Spring semesters on the dates specified in the KIMEP U academic calendar.

If a student fails to attend the workshops as scheduled in accordance with his/her individual recovery program a semester long, this student will be dismissed from the KIMEP U.

The Academic Support Program is an opportunity for students to identify their problems that caused their academic problems and define steps to be taken to correct these problems.

REGISTRATION FOR CLASSES

KIMEP UNIVERSITY has a unique online registration system following personalized and secure approach. The dates of the registration period for each semester (including summer sessions) are stated in the academic calendar. The online registration system is accessible only during the registration and add/drop periods.

Priority Registration

KIMEP University uses a priority registration system. Graduate students, fourth-year students, students with a grade point average of 4.0 or above, and students with special needs have the first opportunity to register for classes. The priority system ensures that graduating students are the first to be registered in courses that would be needed for graduation.

Thereafter registration is opened for third-year students, then second year, etc. The date on which registration is opened for each priority group is indicated in the academic calendar.

Add and drop

The first week of the full (Fall/Spring) semester is designated as the add-drop period. During Summer semesters add/drop period is two days. (The exact dates are stated in the academic calendar). Add and drop period is originally designed to add and drop courses for students who already registered.

Late Registration

The second week of the full (Fall/Spring) semester will be opened as on-line late registration for any students whose semester registration is delayed for any reasons. During Summer 1 semester Late Registration period is two days. No Late registration period in 3 weeks Summer 2 Semester. Limited course options are available at this stage. Applications for late registration will not be considered unless first approved by the Instructor. A set Late Registration Fee applies to a student.

Student Activity Fee

All registered KIMEP University undergraduate students (including non-degree students) have to pay the Student Activity Fee for the Fall and Spring semesters.

The only exemptions are:

- Those be approved and recommended by the KIMEP Students Association (KSA) who must provide a resolution explaining and justifying the recommended exemptions.
- When exchange students (in/out KIMEP University) enter into different financial arrangements as specified in the relevant Memorandum of Understanding.

Duration of Semesters

Fall and Spring Semesters average 15 weeks long. Summer one is 7.5 weeks long and Summer two semester is 3 weeks long. Semester breaks and final exam periods are not included.

Maximum Course Load per Semester

The maximum course load is based on credit equivalents which includes both credit and non-credit courses.

Fall and Spring Semesters

The recommended academic load during fall and spring semesters for undergraduate students is 15 credits or credit equivalents. The typical course schedule is five 3-credit courses. The recommended academic load for graduate students is 12 credits or credit equivalents. The maximum number of credits (and/or credit equivalents) for both graduate and undergraduate students in fall and spring semesters is 18 (eighteen). The limit includes retakes and zero credit courses. Physical education can be taken above 18 credits. Non-degree students and Adult Learners follow the same guidelines and restrictions on maximum course load as regular degree students.

In rare cases an exception can be made for students with 91 and more credits earned and with an outstanding academic record to take up to 21 credits in the final fall or spring semester. Approval of the dean and the Vice President of Academic Affairs is necessary. No other exceptions are permitted.

An undergraduate student on academic probation may register for up to 12 credit equivalents. A graduate student on academic probation may register for up to 9 credit equivalents.

An undergraduate student on academic suspension option may register for one 2/3 credits course and is obliged to participate in an academic recovery program during one semester.

Summer semester

The maximum number of credits (and/or credit equivalents) that a student may take in a seven and half week summer semester is 9(nine) credits. The limit for a three-week summer module is 3 (three) credit equivalents. The limits include retakes and zero credit courses. Physical education can be taken above 9 credits.

In rare cases an exception can be made for students with 91 and more credits earned and with an outstanding academic record to take up to 12 credits in the 7.5 weeks summer semester. Approval of the dean and the Vice President of Academic Affairs is necessary. No other exceptions are permitted.

Waiting List

Once a course section is full, the online registration system allows students to sign up for a waiting list (after verification of required prerequisites, maximum number of credits in a semester and tuition availability). Any course drop of an earlier registered student will result in registration of the student who is first in the waiting list, requiring student confirmation within 48 hours for new coming students and 24 hours for the rest.

Immediate notification of the waiting-listed student is made through the E-MAIL system. Tuition is charged accordingly, and course registration is treated as for any other course. If a student fails to register within the given period, the eligibility to register for the course goes to the following student on the waiting list.

Should there be sufficient demand and an available instructor for an additional section or further attrition from the original class, students will be informed and allowed to register in the order in which they requested the course.

While every effort will be made to accommodate student preferences, it is important to note that we cannot guarantee first choices in either time slots or instructors to those on the waiting list. Most places will not become available until the end of the add/drop period. Historically there is no more than 10% attrition from any course, and students are advised to plan accordingly and secure themselves a position early in another course or section.

Until the end of the add-drop period, individual instructors do not have access to the waiting list or ability to add students to the class roster.

Prerequisite Waiver Policy

Many courses have one or more prerequisite courses, which must be completed before a student can register for the course. The purpose of the prerequisite is to ensure that a student has sufficient knowledge to understand the content of a course.

Only in rare situations can a student enroll in a course without having completed the prerequisite(s). If a student feels that there is sufficient justification to waive a prerequisite, the student may submit a petition for a prerequisite waiver to the department chair or program director.

The chair then consults with the instructor of the course. If both agree, then a waiver can be granted. If either the instructor or the chair refuses permission, then the student will not be allowed to enroll in the course.

Retake (Repeat) of a Course

If a student receives a failing grade in a course, the student may retake the course. If the course is an optional elective, the student may choose to repeat the course but is not required to do so. A student who has completed a course with a passing grade may elect to repeat the course in order to improve the grade (except a State Exam for History of Kazakhstan course). All grades for a course and subsequent retakes are recorded on the transcript, but only the last grade is included in the calculation of the cumulative grade point average. This applies even if the last grade is lower than an earlier grade.

To retake a course, students should register for the course and pay tuition the same as for other courses. Student must attend class sessions (lectures and/or tutorials) and complete all assignments and examinations, the same as if they were taking the course for the first time. Student may not recycle assignments or exam scores from a previous enrollment nor can students use current assignments or exam grades to raise a grade from a previous semester.

To retake a course for a third time a student needs the approval of the dean of the student's college. A fourth and subsequent retakes require the approval of the Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Independent Study

An undergraduate student (in good academic standing on regular status) may enroll in independent study during the final year before graduation if a course necessary for graduation is not offered or if a course necessary for graduation has been cancelled. Before an independent study can be authorized, the student should consult with the program advisers to determine if a substitute course is available. Independent study is not authorized if the required course was previously offered and the student would have been able to take the course but elected not to do so. No more than three credits of independent study can be used for an undergraduate degree. Independent study may not be used to repeat a course previously completed with a passing grade.

A graduate student (in good academic standing on regular status) may enroll in independent study if a course necessary for graduation is not offered or if a course necessary for graduation has been cancelled.

Independent study can be authorized if sufficient courses or substitute courses are not available for the student to make continuous progress towards completing the degree. No more than six credits of independent study can be used for a graduate degree.

The process for completing an independent study is as follows:

- The dean assigns instructor for Independent Study and makes recommendation to Vice President of Academic Affairs for final approval.

A signed form for Independent Study should be submitted to the Registrar's Office

- The student registers for the course as independent study and pays the regular tuition fee.
- At the end of the semester the faculty supervisor submits all documents verifying completion of the independent study along with the grade for the course.

Graduate Jump Start

A KIMEP UNIVERSITY undergraduate student with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher may request to enroll in graduate courses in his/her last semester of study. The student must be enrolled in all courses needed to complete the undergraduate degree and the total number of credits for both graduate and undergraduate courses may not exceed the maximum number of credits allowed for graduate students. If the student subsequently enters a graduate program, the graduate credits can be transferred to the graduate program and counted as credits taken in residence.

The graduate credits cannot be used as part of the degree requirements for the undergraduate degree. The graduate tuition fee applies to all courses receiving graduate credit.

Cancellation of classes

KIMEP University has no obligation to run a course with low enrollments. KIMEP University has an established policy on minimum class size and has the right to cancel classes due to low enrollment. To best assist students, the colleges will notify students about all class cancellations prior to a semester start. When a class is cancelled, students should consult with the department or advisers to determine an appropriate alternative and register accordingly.

Scheduling Final Exams

A final exam week shall be a final week of classes or 16th week unless otherwise determined by the College in terms of the mode of assessment or time of assessment. Exams are scheduled at the same time and halls as during the regular semester.

There is no final exam schedule for short summer semesters. Final Exams should be held on the last day of classes.

LEAVE AND WITHDRAWAL FROM KIMEP UNIVERSITY

A student may request a leave of absence by submitting a leave of absence form to the Registrar's Office. The maximum time for a leave of absence is one academic year or 2 semesters separately. Exception is Academic Leave due to maternity reason (3 years) and due to military services (for the whole period of services), provided official documents confirming the declared status. Any period of academic leave from KIMEP University is included into the time limit allowed for graduation.

If a student does not enroll for classes and does not request a leave of absence, the student is administratively withdrawn from KIMEP University at the end of the late registration period of non-enrollment (excluding summer sessions). Registrar's office informs non-enrolled students about upcoming withdrawal by e-mail only. Such students are welcomed back through Registrar Office, following the State Standard rules.

Eligibility for Leave of Absence (AL):

- All degree students are eligible for AL. This means they must have completed at least one semester at KIMEP University.
- A student must submit all supporting documents to justify the reasons for AL.
- Settle all financial obligations to the University. (Except for financial reason). If you have outstanding debts to your account while on leave, you will not be allowed to register until your debts are cleared before returning.

Application Instructions and Deadline:

- A student must complete the Leave of Absence Form through the students' portal, sign it and submit to the Registrar Office during the registration period stated in the academic Calendar. If there is a debt then VPAF's consideration needed.
- Applications will NOT be considered until grades are posted for the last semester of enrollment.
- If students are enrolled for the term they wish to begin their leave and it is beyond the drop deadline, a student must officially withdraw from course(s) following the withdraw periods and tuition refund period stated in Academic Calendar.
- Registrar Office will process the form and issue an order for leave of absence.

Return from Leave of Absence

- Academic/Administrative Leave status will be converted to Regular status upon completion of the Academic/Administrative Leave period indicated in Leave of Absence Form.
- Registrar Office can cancel Academic Leave upon student's request if he wants to return earlier

Withdrawal from KIMEP University

Withdrawal from KIMEP University terminates the agreements between the student and the University. Withdrawal can be initiated by the student or by KIMEP University. KIMEP University has the right to administratively withdraw students for poor academic performance, for violations of KIMEP University regulations, for disciplinary reasons, for expiration of the time allowed for graduation or for non-registration (unless a leave of absence form has been submitted).

To voluntarily withdraw from KIMEP University, a student should:

- Apply for withdrawal on-line via Student Portal
- Contact the Dean of Student Affairs
- Settle all debts and obligations with the University.
- Pay a withdrawal fee if withdrawal is initiated by student

Withdrawal fee is not applied to students in the following cases:

- Students who are readmitted to regular KIMEP University programs.
- Students who are administratively withdrawn from KIMEP University.
- Newly admitted students who did not start study and not registered for any courses

- Retrieve all official documents (such as UNT certificate)
- If withdrawn students later desire to return to KIMEP University, they must apply for reinstatement through Registrar Office, following the State Standard rules.

Withdrawal period for newly admitted students

1. Newly admitted students have to enroll in the period indicated in their letter of acceptance/Admission order.
2. If newly admitted students have not enrolled in the period indicated in the acceptance letter/Admission order they will be administratively withdrawn from KIMEP University and reported to the Ministry of Education and Science of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

TRANSFER BETWEEN PROGRAMS

At KIMEP UNIVERSITY, degree students are admitted to a specific program. For various reasons a student may later decide to pursue studies in a different program. A transfer to another program is permitted for both undergraduate and graduate students, subject to the following limitations:

- Undergraduate students must complete one full semester.
- Graduate students wishing to transfer from one program to another may do so without regard to the number of credits completed.
- The student must meet all admission and/or transfer requirements of the receiving program.
- Student has notified the parent college and has written permission of the dean of the receiving college.
- Students are free to change the program of study within KIMEP University as per their study aspirations. State transfer rules prevail any internal transfer rules.

Regardless of whether previous courses are counted towards a degree program, all courses taken at KIMEP University (with grades) should appear on the official transcript. Courses not counted towards a degree can be listed in a separate “additional courses” section at the end of the transcript.

For students who transfer from one program to another, or who transfer from non-degree to degree status, the GPA will be calculated using all courses for which credit is given in the degree program. Courses not counted towards the degree program “additional courses” will not be included in the calculation of the GPA, although they will appear on the student’s transcript.

BAJ students wishing to transfer to another program shall submit valid UNT certificates with specialized subjects corresponding to the chosen program of study.

TRANSFER OF CREDITS

Transferring KIMEP UNIVERSITY credits (Internal Transfer)

Credits earned in degree status at KIMEP University are permanent and can be used in any degree program for which the credits are appropriate. If a student is withdrawn from KIMEP University and later reapplies to study under a new student ID, the credits previously earned can be transferred to the records for the new ID. If requirements have changed, then some credits may not be applicable. The curriculum committee of the department or program makes the final determination of whether previous credits correspond to current requirements and can count towards the degree.

Grades achieved at KIMEP University can be transferred automatically only if they are any “C”, and better. The curriculum committee of the department or program may consider transferring a student’s any “D” grade, in which case a transfer form shall be submitted to the Registrar Office.

All internal transfer should be processed during the admission period.

All internal transferred grades are calculated in overall GPA.

No transfer credits to non-degree status are allowed.

Transfer of Credits from outside of KIMEP University

Coursework completed at other universities in Kazakhstan or abroad can be transferred to KIMEP University. Newly admitted students, who did not indicated their status as student transferring (intentionally or unintentionally) from other universities (from KZ or abroad) will not be able to transfer any courses later during their study term, except for the cases of pre-approved exchange programs or pre-approved study abroad programs. Registrar will, therefore, make the course transfer during study only for above mentioned groups.

The application must be accompanied by a detailed course syllabus showing the topics covered in the course and an official transcript showing the number of credits and the grade or final assessment in the course.

- If an equivalent course exists at KIMEP University, the transcript will indicate the course code and course title of the KIMEP University course. The course need not transfer for the same number of credits as the KIMEP University course.
- If a course does not match a current course title then the course might be transferred as Special Topics.
- Courses in disciplines that are not taught at KIMEP University can still be transferred as free electives.
- Credits for courses taken at other institutions of higher education will only be transferred if the student has earned “C”, and higher grade in the course. However coursework taken at a partner university as part of a KIMEP University sponsored student exchange program requires any passing grade in order to be transferred. All courses taken abroad must be transferred within semester following the exchange period. In case of studying abroad during more than 1 semester it could be done after each semester abroad.
- No letter grade is assigned to transfer courses. Transfer courses are not considered in the calculation of the grade point average.
- There is no limit to the number of credits eligible for transfer as long as the courses are determined to be equivalent.
- A course will not be accepted for transfer in the event that the learning outcomes are substantially different from the relevant KIMEP course.
- No transfer credits to non-degree status are allowed.
- To apply for the transfer applicant should submit a transcript with grading system described. No course with “pass” grade is transferred unless the numerical scale for the grade provided.
- Student, admitted by transfer policy, can further apply for additional course transfer within one semester of study. No course transfer is allowed thereafter.
- One course of Physical Education taken during one semester at other university is equal to two KIMEP credits.
- The course transfer decision is an academic decision, and the final judgment and decision is made by the academic departments (number of credits, level of the course, course equivalent in KIMEP University catalog, etc.).

The Registrar may not accept for processing some credit transfers if not satisfied with above. The Academic Council provides oversight of the course transfer procedure and decision-making in case of inconsistencies or student appeals.

ECTS transfer

Coursework completed at European universities is often defined in terms of ECTS (European Credit Transfer System). ECTS is based on workload and learning outcomes rather than on class contact time. This is the same as KIMEP University credits.

ECTS	KIMEP UNIVERSITY

Waiver of Graduate Requirements (Fast-track)

Students admitted to a graduate program who have an undergraduate degree in the same field or a closely related discipline are considered fast-track students. Fast-track students can transfer or receive course waivers according to the guidelines of the graduate program. For KIMEP University graduates each program has a policy on the courses and the minimum grade requirement that applies to the fast-track program.

Students who completed undergraduate programs at other universities should follow the course transfer procedures in order to qualify for waivers under the fast-track policy.

Fast-track courses are transferred without grades. Grades earned in undergraduate courses that are used to waive graduate requirements do not count in a student's graduate grade point average.

GRADUATION

KIMEP UNIVERSITY Curriculum Requirements

In general, a student follows the curriculum requirements in place at the time the student begins to study at KIMEP University. However, KIMEP University has the right to improve or make substitutions to the curriculum. Every effort is made to ensure that any necessary changes do not put the student at a disadvantage or disrupt the program of study. In some cases, students in a particular program may have the choice of completing the program under all or part of the requirements from a later edition of the KIMEP University catalog. Whenever this is the case, students are informed of their options and can consult with advisers to determine the best course of action.

KIMEP UNIVERSITY Graduation Requirements

In order to receive a degree from KIMEP University, a graduate or undergraduate student must:

- Fulfill all KIMEP University requirements.
- Settle all financial obligations to the University.
- Fulfill all requirements, if any, of the College.
- Fulfill all requirement of the degree program.

KIMEP UNIVERSITY Undergraduate Degree Requirements

KIMEP University has established six general requirements that a student must meet to earn a bachelor degree:

- Earn credits with a minimum passing grade of "D–" or better in each course.
- Have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of at least 2.00. (It is necessary to have grades above the minimum passing grade in order to meet the 2.0 GPA requirement.)
- Complete General Education required courses (GER) based on program curricular.
- Receive a passing grade in all required non-credit prerequisite courses.
- Complete all of the requirements in a KIMEP University degree program. Degree program requirements are stated in later sections.

KIMEP UNIVERSITY Graduate Degree Requirements

Graduation requirements for Master's degrees vary from department to department. Full details are given in the program sections. However, in general, to earn a graduate degree from KIMEP University, every student must:

- Complete a minimum of 36 credits of Master's coursework beyond the undergraduate degree. The minimum includes credits for internship, practicum, thesis and research projects.
- Complete a residency requirement consisting of a minimum of 50% of graduate coursework completed at KIMEP University. Up to 6 credits of graduate coursework completed at a partner university in a KIMEP University - sponsored exchange program can be included in the 24 credits.

Additional credits earned at partner universities can be transferred but cannot be applied to the KIMEP University minimum credits. The thesis and internship normally are supervised by KIMEP University.

- Receive a passing grade in all required credit and non-credit courses.
- Complete the number of credits required by the degree program with a passing grade in each course. Grades between "A+" and "B–" are passing grades. "C+", "C", or "C–" can be passing subject to the 2 C's policy limitation.
- 2 C's Policy: For the Bang College of Business and School of Law two grades of "C" are allowed for graduation. For the College of Social Sciences and the College of Humanities and Education two grades of "C" in elective courses are allowed for graduation. The 2 C's policy does not apply to 0 credit English courses.
- Have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) at or above the minimum requirement: 2.67 for CSS graduate programs and 3.0 for BCB, LAW and CHE graduate programs

- Research, write and publicly defend a master's thesis.
 - Meet all requirements for the master's program in the student's major field of study.
- Graduation requirements for Doctoral degrees are covered in their respective sections.

Time Allowed for Graduation

Undergraduate students are allowed 10 years to complete all requirements for graduation. Graduate students have a 5 year limit for completing graduation requirements. Any period of academic leave from KIMEP University is included in these time limits.

GRADUATION DATES

A student can graduate after Fall, Spring, or Summer semesters once all graduation requirements have been completed. In order to graduate, a student must complete all requirements by the end of the semester of graduation. In order to graduate, a student should:

- Submit a Graduation Request to the Office of the Registrar. This initiates the process of certifying that the student has met all degree requirements and is approved for the degree.
- Submit a Graduation Checkout List to the Office of the Registrar. This verifies that all administrative and financial obligations (library, dormitory, sport center, commandant, etc.) have been met.

Graduation Ceremony

KIMEP University holds an annual graduation ceremony shortly after the spring semester of each year. The graduation ceremony is for all graduates from the entire academic year.

- Spring graduates may participate.
- Graduates from the previous fall semester may participate even though they have already received their diplomas.
- Students who are short 12 credits based on Spring registration may also participate. These students do not officially graduate or receive their diplomas until after the semester in which all requirements are completed.

Graduation Participation

Student who are eligible and wishes to participate in the graduation ceremony should:

- Inform the Office of the Registrar that they desire to participate
- Settle all debts with the University.

PART V. STUDENT LIFE

ADMINISTRATION

Aigerim Ibrayeva, MD, MPhil
Associate Vice President of Student Affairs

Arailym Kuderbayeva, MIR
Executive Director of Student Affairs

Nailya Akhmarova, Diploma
International Office Coordinator

Bulbul Aitzhanova, MA
Student Learning Support Center Coordinator

Assel Tokina, MA
Director of Residence Live and Housing Department

Sergey Dyakov, MD
Senior Doctor, Medical Center

Office of Student Affairs

The Student Affairs office leads, plans, controls, and monitors implementation of academic support and co-curricular student programs. New realities complicate reaching out to the students and make a huge gap in interaction with them during the pandemic. The universities have to come up with new approaches to extraordinary activities and services. Previous strategies lost their effectiveness in reaching students and organizing on campus activities. Student Affairs Office comes up with new strategic goals and objectives in order to increase students' motivation, team spirit, life success and involvement into extracurricular activities as well as preventing students from joining extremist organizations during pandemic.

KIMEP STUDENT ASSOCIATION (KSA)

KIMEP University is the only university in the CIS where students take part in the decision-making process. The KIMEP Student Association (KSA) protects student interests at all levels and may influence administrative decisions and policies. Elected student representatives sit on almost all major standing committees such as the KIMEP U Budget Committee, Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee, Academic Integrity Committee, Academic Council, Tender Committee, and different college level committees. All full-time KIMEP University students automatically become members of the KSA. Every year, in the beginning of the Fall Semester, the KSA members elect the KSA Cabinet that is headed by an elected President for a period of one year. The KSA organizes student events and activities in collaboration with the Office of Student Affairs, meets with the top management and the President on a regular basis to address students' issues and concerns. The KSA Cabinet and KSA members contribute greatly to the intellectual, cultural and personal development of the student community.

Student organizations

KIMEP University offers interesting and unforgettable extracurricular activities. Each semester students full of enthusiasm and ambitions independently or jointly with the Student Affairs office hold various events and activities.

More than 30 student clubs and organizations of very different nature with the goal to make university life unique are registered at KIMEP U. Among them are intellectual clubs, sport teams, charity organizations, environmental organizations, etc. KIMEP University is proud to have a successful and well known Debate Club, Case club, English language theatre (KELT), English club and other language clubs, Media clubs, International students' club, Art and Music club, etc.

Student organizations issue "KIMEP Times" newspaper and "KIMEP Pie" journals on a regular basis. One of the oldest student organizations is the Legal Clinic that provides legal assistance to vulnerable Almaty residents for free. Students also organize intellectual challenges and competitions, parties, games, cultural festivals and art exhibitions, etc. on and off campus. KIMEP University student life is an excellent platform for student' personal growth and life success. See <https://www.kimep.kz/current-students/en/organizations/>

Student activity fees expenditures guidelines

The Student Activity Fee (hereinafter SAF) is collected to give students financial independence in managing their budgets for student activities and projects.

All KIMEP University undergraduate students (including non-degree) registered for regular semester (Fall and Spring) have to pay Student Activity Fee. For more information, see <http://www.kimep.kz>

STUDENT CENTER

The Student Center hosts various student activities such as campus clubs, disco nights, job and student organizational fairs, art exhibitions and other events. Any student or student organization may reserve the Student Center for student activities and events. Reservation and technician service forms are available on Student Portal and should be filled at least 3 days prior to the event.

GREAT HALL

The Great Hall hosts a number of activities, including theater performance, KSA elections debates, music and dance performance, conferences, etc. Any student or student organization may reserve Great Hall for student activities and events. Reservation and technician service forms are available on Student Portal and should be filled at least 3 days prior to the event.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICE

The International Office strives to expand KIMEP University's international activities and to enhance the awareness and reputation of KIMEP as a competitive institution in the global academic community.

KIMEP University has partnership with over 170 higher educational institutions in Europe, North America, CIS, and Asia to offer comprehensive academic mobility, dual degree and international summer programs, internship and international research projects.

The pandemic made universities come up with new approaches to educational activities and services. Previous recruitment strategies lost their effectiveness in reaching potential incoming and outgoing students and partners. The International Office comes up with strategic objectives in order to achieve the major goal—maintain internationalization rate of the KIMEP University during a pandemic with the following objectives: increase the number of active international partnerships, promote E-mobility and regular mobility programs and increase the number of exchange students, ensure success of incoming and outgoing e-mobility, regular mobility and degree/non-degree international students through comprehensive support program and data driven approach to strategic planning and reporting.

Buddy Program

Buddy program was created to put forward organized efforts to match incoming international students with current students, help international students adjust to the KIMEP University environment, and deal with cultural adjustment. The program is intended to provide a warm welcome and assistance to international students during their stay at KIMEP U, with the purpose of making their lives more comfortable and help them overcome the barriers they encounter.

Academic Mobility Program

Academic mobility program is designed to help participants acquire new knowledge and skills, ensure their professional and personal growth and learn new cultures.

Types of academic mobility:

- Incoming regular academic mobility is moving students, faculty or staff from another country to the KIMEP U for a limited time.
- Incoming e-mobility is connecting students, faculty or staff from another country to the KIMEP U online teaching, research or studying for a limited time
- Outgoing regular academic mobility is moving students, faculty or staff from the KIMEP U to another country for a limited time.
- Outgoing e-mobility is connecting students, faculty or staff from the KIMEP U to another country online teaching, research or studying for a limited time

Selection procedures

- Applicants are evaluated by the software program based on the criteria listed above.
- The program selects the applicants with the highest scores and ranks them accordingly.
- The program sends a message to a chosen candidate with a request to confirm his/her participation in the exchange program within a week period.
- If a student does not respond or declines the offer, the place is passed to the next candidate from the list.
- Once all selected students confirm their participation, they are officially nominated for the exchange program.
- If a student cannot participate in the exchange program, he/she has to inform the Coordinator within 5 calendar days about withdrawal from the program.
- A partner institution accepts the nominated exchange students but reserves the right to deny admission.

Student responsibilities

- select courses and receive home university college approval
- pay tuition fee to the home university and register for courses
- sign learning agreement with home and host universities
- Cover visa and other needed expenses
- remain full time student during the exchange period
- complete courses successfully
- initiate credits transfer procedure once grades are released and transcript is available

STUDENT LEARNING SUPPORT CENTER (SLSC)

The KIMEP University Learning Support Center (LSC) was established to serve a broad scope of student needs, ranging from the individually structured assistance and services to specialized, comprehensive support systems.

The KIMEP U Learning Support Center is strongly committed to giving students the outstanding academic support through the programs designed to:

- Help students acquire new and higher level study skills and strategies needed to master course content

- Provide student-centered and collaborative learning support programs that promote active and independent learning
- Collaborate with faculty and college academic support programs to develop appropriate strategies for each major
- Promote the academic success of students who are at risk due to diagnosed disabilities, other special needs, and insufficient preparation.

Advising and Orientation Program

Advising and Orientation Program is the first-year program designed to welcome new students and their parents to the KIMEP U community that offers carefully planned activities and workshop/webinar sessions. This program is intended to support new students and their parents as they begin their journey at KIMEP U.

Orientation is an important intervention service that can help incoming students to acclimate and make a more successful transition to college life. The Student Day helps to bridge in students through carefully planned team building exercises. The Orientation Program starts in July and continues throughout the semester and consists of a number of different events and activities including some components of the online program (preadmission webinars).

During this program, orientation leaders, deans, active students will gradually introduce life at KIMEP U. Advising and Orientation Program participants will learn about the wide variety of student activities and services at KIMEP U and have many opportunities to ask questions as well as learn about the campus culture and student life. All undergraduate students are expected to register for the Advising and Orientation program.

Special Need Policy

KIMEP University is committed to providing equal educational opportunity and participation for students with special needs. It is the University's policy that no qualified student with a special need be excluded from participating in any University program or activity, denied the benefits of any University program or activity, In this regard, KIMEP University:

- Strictly prohibits any form of discrimination on the basis of an individual's disability
- Offers individualized academic placement and reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with special needs.

Definition of an Individual with a special need

For purposes of this policy, a person with a special need is defined as any person who has a physical, psychological, and/or medical impairment, which substantially limits one or more major life activities and has a record of such impairment.

Eligibility for Services

To be eligible for services, students with a special need must identify themselves and present professional documentation to the Medical Center for verification. Until appropriate documentation is provided, support for the student with a special need may be postponed.

Students may receive services in one or more (but not limited to) of the following areas:

- Mobility, visual, hearing, or speech disability
- Learning disability
- Acquired brain injury
- Developmental delayed learner
- Psychological disability

- Pregnancy
- Other chronic or health-related limitations that adversely affect educational performance

Professional Documentation and Verification

Documentation should be prepared by an appropriate professional who is not a family member. Documentation should be recent (within one year), relevant, comprehensive, and the original. The university has the discretion to require additional documentation.

Records and Privacy

Medical information provided to the University by students as a part of a request for accommodation(s) is treated as confidential medical records under applicable laws and university policies. Such information is provided only to individuals who are privileged to receive it on a need to know basis. Such confidential records shall be separately maintained by the Medical Center.

Priority Registration

Students with documented special needs are eligible for early registration times. Students should submit the list of preferred courses three weeks prior to the registration period to the Learning Support Center. This accommodation will give students more flexibility when planning their schedules and to help arrange adequate time between classes and ensure that classes are scheduled in the easy accessible facilities.

Reasonable academic adjustments and accommodations include but are not limited to:

- Extended time for testing
- Alternative testing sites
- Permission to tape lectures
- Volunteer readers
- Scribes for classroom
- Print materials in alternate format
- Permission to bring food and drink into examination
- Written instructions for those with a hearing impairment.
- Enlarged font papers for those with a visual impairment
- Take-home exam for students in wheelchair or with walking problems

Requesting Accommodations

Students are encouraged to speak directly with faculty members regarding any academic adjustments/accommodations they need. Discussing the needs with faculty members helps them better understand the student situation and allows them to get to know him/her personally.

Students should follow the below listed steps to request academic adjustments and/or accommodations:

1. Apply for services as soon as possible and provide documentation of conditions that may warrant academic accommodations
2. Provide all of the information regarding the type of expected accommodation to the LSC coordinator
3. Explain the needs, and discuss possible accommodations with the instructor. If student feels uncomfortable discussing their need with a faculty, the LSC coordinator will serve as a liaison between him/her and faculty member
4. Remind an instructor of the need for the accommodation, for extended time and/or quiet room accommodations for testing, before each test

Academic Support Program (ASP) for Undergraduate Students on Academic Probation and at Risk

The aim of the academic support program is to ensure that the students on AP and at Risk statuses are provided with all necessary assistance and guidance to succeed and return to good academic standing.

The Academic Support Program is mandatory for undergraduate students placed on AP or at risk statuses. The Program is available for students who were identified by faculty as in need of academic support. Students with more than one “F” or “W” in one semester are flagged for early intervention and must take part in the support program.

Early Alert Intervention System

Based on the student retention and recommendations proposal approved by the President’s Cabinet on November 15, 2018, the Early Alert Intervention System and On-line Attendance have been introduced by the Student Learning Support Center to identify at risk freshmen students based on their attendance, performance and skills deficiency.

In order to ensure smooth and successful transfer of freshmen students to the second year of study and increase the retention rate, faculty teaching general education and some program required courses, enter data on freshmen attendance and performance into the Early Alert Intervention System after 3d and 5th weeks of the semester.

The program benefits are:

- Personal – increasing student’s confidence in who he/she is, what the student believes and what he/she wants to achieve
- Academic – identifying what it takes to help a student learning effectively, what the student would like to achieve academically and how he/she is going to get there
- Social – building student’s awareness of others and the importance of different team roles

Program Outcomes

Depending on their specific needs, students will be equipped with the skills of:

- Effective Use of Resources
- Successful Application of Learning Strategies
- Effective Use of Self-Assessment Strategies

Students will also

- Gain “academic survival knowledge”
- Summarize major principles of self-motivation
- Define what an active learner is
- Come up with strategies for returning to a good academic standing

Program requirements

- Be enrolled for current semester
- Register for the ASP and attend individual mentoring sessions
- Attend at least 10 tutoring sessions per semester
- Attend the mandatory counseling with the KIMEP University psychologist if poor academic performance is caused by behavioral problems rather than skills deficiency

Peer Tutoring Program

Program Description

KIMEP U Tutoring Program is a program designed for students who are seeking additional assistance to improve their academic performance. Tutors are available for most of the general education and program required courses. The Peer Tutoring Program is primarily targeting students on Academic Probation and those at risk of academic failure, however, any KIMEP U student may register for the peer tutoring program.

- Tutors are students who have been selected by SLSC and approved by faculty and completed a tutor training program conducted by the SLSC. Tutors are trained to help students to understand the fundamental concepts, acquire problem solving, critical thinking, and research skills. However, the student is expected to put the effort to learn the course materials on their own, attend lectures, and make home assignments by deadline.
- A tutor will not directly help students with course assignments, as this would violate the academic integrity.
- Small group and drop-in by appointments tutoring are available at no additional cost to students. Some of the high demand and repeating courses may automatically be open to small groups.
- Peer tutoring begins on the second week of classes and ends the last day of classes.
- Teach students to help themselves, or to guide them to the point at which they can become successful and independent learners. A tutor is not responsible for teaching course material or completing course assignments. SLSC tutors work with students on a continual basis, meeting weekly to review and reinforce course material.

Faculty Involvement

The peer tutors work closely with faculty to ensure that tutoring meets academic standards and faculty expectations.

RESIDENCE LIFE AND HOUSING

Residence Hall

Student housing is conveniently located on campus. Residence hall may accommodate 406 students. There are comfortable and clean rooms served by a polite and friendly staff. Residence hall also has: four laundry rooms, study rooms & TV rooms on each floor, kitchens that are available for student use 24 hours a day. Utilities such as Wi-Fi, cable television, electricity and water are included in the Residence hall rate. Residence hall, as well as the KIMEP University campus, offers a secure environment 24/7.

Application

It is the responsibility of all applicants and current students who desire campus housing to apply for it by the deadline.

Eligibility Criteria

Applicants for the Residence Hall space are prioritized as the following:

- Orphans and special need students
- Incoming Kazakhstan regional students and international students
- Exchange students (both graduate and undergraduate)
- CAUS and other international scholarship holders
- Undergraduate and Graduate international students
- Residential assistants
- Only vaccinated students (second component is required)
- Other returning students

Residence Hall accommodation is provided for one academic year with possible prolongation if resident meets the eligibility criteria (scholarship, GPA, full time status, etc.).

For freshmen students, academic criteria are applied as soon as the overall GPA is accumulated. All returning students, except for orphans and students with special needs, should have full-time status -12 credits for bachelor and 9 credits for master students, and accumulated GPA of 2.67. For students with special needs and orphans GPA should be 2.00 or above.

Students on Disciplinary or Academic probation shall not be granted a place in the RH.

Students may stay in the Residence Hall during Summer I and II semesters only if they apply for prolongation, meet eligibility criteria and register for the courses.

All eligible returning students are required to reapply for the next year prolongation of the residency by the end of the Spring semester through the Residence Life online booking system. Please note, placement is not guaranteed after the freshmen year.

Booking policy and Roommate request

In order to book a room a student first should read and sign Residence Hall rules and contract.

Online booking system is available on Student Portal. Students could book a room through the student portal at <https://my.kimep.kz/>. The detailed booking procedure is available at <https://kimep.kz/current-students/student-affairs/housing/>.

Roommate requests should be submitted to the Residence Hall Administration not earlier than two weeks after move in. Both roommates should be of the same gender and be enrolled at the KIMEP U. All roommate requests must be mutual – each student must have requested the other. We strive to assign preferred roommates together, and it is usually possible to honor roommate preferences. However, if the number of places is limited, the request might be rejected. Final roommate assignment is left at the discretion of the Residence Hall administration.

IMPORTANT!

1. If a student is not able to move into the Residence Hall within the indicated period due to reasonable excuse, then he/she has one more chance to rebook the room one week prior the arrival date.
2. If a student decides to live off campus, s/he has to cancel the booking one week prior the arrival date.

Waiting list placement policy

If the number of students willing to apply for on campus residence exceeds the Residence Hall capacity, the students should register in the waiting list, on the Student and Applicant Portal. If some of the residents, who booked a room and received confirmation, decide to live off campus, the remaining places are distributed by the KIMEP U Selection Committee. The Selection Committee consists of one representative of Financial Aid, International Office, Student Affairs and Residence Hall representative.

The Committee decision is based on the eligibility criteria. High academic achievements, community service, involvement into the student life, reference letters, etc. serve as competitive advantage.

Please note, the Residence Hall space is limited and the priority is given to those eligible candidates who make advanced payment.

Assignment of space

Assignment to the university residence hall is made without regard to race, ethnicity, gender, or religion. When possible, the assignments would take into account preferences of the applicants. Assignment procedure as well as other housing policies and procedures are subject to change and it's applicant responsibility to learn new rules and regulations.

There is no coed dwelling in the Residence Hall – all rooms are single sex.

Move-in procedure

A student granted a place in the KIMEP University Residence Hall shall

- Pay semester residence fee
- Pay damage deposit fee
- Go through check up in the KIMEP U Medical Center (basement floor of RH)

- Visit Residence Hall administration to complete paperwork
- Receive key, bed linen
- Go with residential assistant to the assigned room, check the facilities, furniture, equipment and sign “Assets handover” form

Checkup and move in hours

All incoming and returning students should go through checkup before move in. The check-up is performed by the KIMEP U Medical Center staff during working hours only.

Students arriving at the Residence Hall should schedule the arrival based on the working days and hours of the Residence Life and Housing Department.

Working hours: Monday to Friday 8-00 AM to 5-00 PM, Saturday and Sunday are days-off.

If the arrival is scheduled for night time, holidays or weekend, students should temporarily stay in the hotels/hostels.

Room change

A room is assigned for the entire academic year. Requests for room changes based upon roommate incompatibility will be considered upon application of the student residents after they have been in residence for two weeks.

Move out procedure

Move out hours: Monday to Friday from 8.00 a.m till 5.00 p.m

Before move out, all residents must

- Inform the RH Administration 2 weeks prior the move out date
- Sign and submit “Move out Asset Handover” form to the RH Administration.

Residence Hall accommodation payment policy

The semester fee is fixed and does not depend on move in date.

At the beginning of the academic year, before move in, students have three options for paying residence fee:

1. Pay fee for one academic year.
2. Pay the semester fee
3. Pay the semester fee in three equal installments:

- First payment should be done prior move in,
- Second and third payment due dates coincide with the tuition payment deadlines.

Payment by installment is applied for regular semesters only. Summer semesters require 100% prepayment.

Residence fee refund policy

- 100% refund of overpaid amount before 3rd week of classes
- 50% refund of overpaid amount before 4th week of classes
- 0% refund after 4th week of classes

Any resident who is dismissed from the Residence Hall because of behavioral misconduct is not eligible for refund. Summer I and Summer II payments are not refundable.

Deposit Fee

A deposit is required prior to moving into KIMEP Residence Hall. During the occupancy of a room by the applicant, the deposit will be held until the student moves out of campus housing permanently.

Students are responsible for taking care of all residence area property and damage payments. If damage is found and residents deny taking the responsibility, the cost of repairs will be deducted from every resident of the room or floor.

Any damages that are assessed will be withheld from this deposit, as will any other charges owed to KIMEP University including accommodation fee debt, and the balance will be refunded to the depositor.

Common Area Damage

Damages occurring in the public places such as TV room, study room, kitchen, computer lab and laundry are charged to the individual or group responsible when that can be determined. When this is not possible, all residents of the Residence Hall or separate floor will become collectively responsible for the costs involved. If students would like to anonymously report common damages can send email at atokina@kimep.kz

Lost Keys and Lock changes

Each resident receives one set of keys and is financially responsible for maintaining them. Students are strongly encouraged not to loan out your keys, leave them out unattended as this creates a potential security problem or use them in a way that bends or breaks them. Moreover, all residence room keys are the sole property of KIMEP U Residence Hall and may not be duplicated. Keys, locks are essential components for the safety and security of students and their belongings. Safety and security is the responsibility of students. Therefore, residents are expected to keep their keys with them at all times.

Missing or damaged keys create a security risk to you and your community and must be reported to RH Administration immediately, and your door must be rekeyed under any of the circumstances listed below. The cost for the key is KZT 3 500-8 000 depending upon the number of doors and keys affected, and the final amount is charged from the student's damage deposit. Students will be charged for:

- Damaged keys
- Failure to return a lockout key within 24 hours
- Failure to turn in keys when you check out
- Missing, lost, or stolen keys

Laundry facilities

Laundry facilities are located in each floor of Residence Hall and laundry service is free of charge, but if laundry machines are broken and no one takes responsibility for damage, the repair costs will be shared by all residents and charges from their damage deposits.

Deposit Refunds

Students must follow and complete the move-out procedures in order to receive a refund of deposit. After vacating the residence room, students will have time until the end of the following term to request the refund of their deposit, or it will be forfeited. Residents must request the return of the deposit by completing the Residence Hall Move-Out Form and submitting it to the Residence Hall administration.

Damage deposit refund will be transferred to a payer account after successful completion of the move out procedures and paperwork. Please note, the transfer may take up to 15 working days.

Residential assistant program

The Residential Assistants help other students with their questions about on-campus living, payment arrangements, housing policies, and other topics. Students should feel free to discuss any concerns with their Residential Assistant. Compensation for RAs includes free room in Residence Hall for the length of their term of service.

Eligibility Criteria

At the moment of application, the student should

1. Be full time
2. Have Regular status

3. Have GPA 2.67 and above for undergraduate applicants and 3.00 for graduate students
4. Do not have Incomplete grade/s

Counselling & Psychological Services

Counselling & Psychological Services provides a variety of services to enrolled KIMEP students. Individual counselling services are designed for students who can benefit from short-term therapy. Often, a few individual meetings with a psychologist can help better identify, understand, and resolve emotional barriers that may be interfering with personal well-being and academic success. These confidential services are for KIMEP U students at no cost. If a student's situation requires longer-term therapy, referrals can be made to off-campus resources.

Faculty Housing

Faculty Housing offers on-campus, off-campus and short-term housing options.

On-Campus Faculty House Accommodation and Waiting list policy

Occupancy is granted according to the priority list indicated below:

- Foreign, local faculty and staff with special needs
- Foreign faculty and staff with children
- All other foreign faculty and staff
- Local faculty and staff with children
- Local faculty and staff

The lease contract is signed from the date of occupancy until end of the academic year with possible prolongation.

Once a year, the rent prices of the apartments might be revised and changed based on actual market value.

FIXIT Services

In case of any issues related to the plumbing, electricity, carpentering and others, it is necessary to fill in an online request form located on Intranet or contact the Residence Life and Housing Department (ext.1022/1229).

Smoking

Since August 2009, KIMEP has been a Smoke-Free zone. It is prohibited to smoke in the apartments, stairways and on campus. In case the tenant breaks the rules, an administrative sanction will be applied in accordance with the KIMEP U and the state rules.

Pets in Housing

Pets are not allowed

Safety

The tenant is obliged to switch off all electric utilities and gas supply except refrigerators, whenever leaving the apartment. The tenant should not clog the pipes in the apartment, since this may cause flooding. In case of such an event, all of the fees for the repair are to be burdened by the tenant. The resident should not leave his/her door unlocked.

KIMEP Guest House Accommodation

The KIMEP Guest House is an apartment in a residential house located on campus with 4 double bed guest rooms, TV lounge, porch, kitchen, 1 WC room and 2 washrooms (bathroom and shower room). KIMEP guests will share the common areas of the house. The Guest House was created for two purposes – to reduce hotel expenses for new faculty and to have an on-campus place for visitors.

New full-time foreign faculty, visiting faculty who will be teaching at KIMEP for one semester or less, visiting international students, who are writing research papers or staff, and guests will be permitted to utilize housing for KZT 10 000 per day.

In the event that an exception to this policy is requested, permission of the Provost and General Deputy to the President respectively is required.

Hotel Accommodation

If the Guest House is fully occupied, the department will help to book the room in one of the partner hotels that provide a fair discount.

MEDICAL SERVICES

KIMEP U Medical Center is focused on high-quality, safe care and exceptional service. New realities put the center and its staff to the front line in preventing COVID-19 dissemination among the students, staff and faculty. Regular work is constantly interrupted with emerging COVID-19 related challenges. The Medical Center comes up with new goals and initiatives aiming to keep campus COVID-19 free such as: enforcement of COVID-19 protective measures; regular testing to identify infected employees and students; medical assistance and on-call observation of the sick staff, online COVID-19 database, and regular monitoring of the COVID-19 situation in the country/city and timely adjustment of the protocols, rules and procedures

The Medical Center is also responsible for collecting and verifying all medical documentation submitted by incoming and returning students.

Required Documents for newly admitted students

All applicants have to submit the following documents to the Medical Center:

1. Health certificate #075/y, which includes checkup by physician, psychiatrist, and narcologist
2. Copy of form #065/y (vaccinations records)
3. Chest x-ray film and its summary, double signed and double stamped by a doctor/s

4. International students have to submit a copy of their vaccination records and must go through checkup in Almaty and submit health care certificate 075/y upon the arrival.
5. X-ray film and summary from abroad must be verified in Almaty by a relevant specialist.

Note: International and regional students are strongly recommended to have health insurance from local companies. Students may learn more about health insurance options in the Medical Center.

Sick leave certificates

The Medical Center receives and verifies sick leave certificates of students (certificate # 037/y) and employees.

The Medical Center confirms short-term and long-term absences due to illness or injury and works with students to ensure appropriate documentation. If a student is hospitalized or has a serious, ongoing illness or injury, the Medical Center will, at the student's request and with the student's consent, communicate with the student's academic adviser. Students are instructed to contact their professor/instructor/coach in the event that they need to miss class, etc. due to an illness, injury, or an emergency. All decisions about the impact of an absence, as well as any arrangements for making up work, rest with the instructors. Academic advisers are available to provide assistance to students or faculty members who have concerns about attendance issues.

The Medical Center reserves the right to verify medical certificates submitted by a student. In case of false submission, the student's case is redirected to the SADC for disciplinary hearings.

All medical care provided at the Medical Center is strictly confidential. No one, on or off campus, other than the Medical Center staff, has access to medical records without written permission from the student, faculty or staff.

Medical Center Hours

Working hours of the medical center are: Monday to Friday 8-00 AM to 8-00 PM, Saturday 9-00 AM to 2-00 PM, Sunday is a day-off.

Medical fee

The annual checkup fee is charged from all undergraduate degree students at the beginning of the Fall semester along with the student fee and first installment of the tuition fee. The checkup results will allow students to attend the Sport Center Gym.

SPORT CENTER

The mission of Sports Center is to provide a wide range of sports activities, recreation, fitness, sport events, and wellness opportunities for students, faculty, staff, and alumni. We strive to enhance healthy lifestyle and well-being on KIMEP campus in a safe and welcoming environment.

Students at KIMEP benefit from a fully-equipped sports complex located on campus, including gyms: aerobics, cardio, free weights, and universal hall. A number of showers and lockers are also available, and entry and use of the facilities are free for all KIMEP Community. Students enjoy exercises on the "Workout zone", play basketball, volleyball and football on the street ball and soccer fields. KIMEP sport teams participate in local, regional, and international competitions in various sports, and also play in several internal leagues. KIMEP University is unique in being home for the first American football team created in Kazakhstan – the Titans

Starting from 2014, KIMEP University offers students the 2 credit Physical Education courses such as: Pilates, fitness, cardio, yoga, aerobics, basketball, volleyball, mini football, ping-pong, and chess. Students are expected to complete 4 credits of Physical Education courses within the degree.

Sport Teams

In addition to the general provision, each sport team may determine additional membership rules. PART VI. UNIVERSITY CODE OF CONDUCT

KIMEP University continues to work proactively in order to reduce the need for disciplinary action. Given the complexity of the university, however, the need for disciplinary actions occasionally does arise. It is the general policy of practice at KIMEP University to take such actions with care and to only implement formal disciplinary procedures as a last resort in resolving a difficulty that may arise. The following describes the expectations of KIMEP University regarding academic and personal code of behavior for all students, faculty and staff.

All members of this academic community entitled the same basic freedoms, rights and responsibilities. In particular, students and faculty at KIMEP University should exercise freedoms and responsibilities related to the educational process. In order for this to happen, teachers should be free to teach, conduct research, and publish findings in the spirit of free inquiry, and to exercise academic responsibility in the classroom in examining and discussing subjects in a spirit of freedom. For students, attending KIMEP University is a privilege. In order to maintain the ideals of scholarship, character and commitment to excellence, KIMEP University establishes these rules and regulations to further these ideals within the university community. Students must understand that individual rights bring associated responsibilities and that individual rights must be viewed in relationship to the health, safety and welfare of the university community. Faculty, students and administrators who are found by the appropriately constituted committee(s) to have contravened any KIMEP University regulation designed to protect the above principles will have the right to due process. Due process means the confidential and impartial consideration of their case by the appropriate committee, with the right to appeal any decision taken. These rules apply to all members of the university community equally. All members of the university community are responsible for the rules enforcement. Any KIMEP University student, teacher or employee who is aware of an offense and who does not act to prevent it, if possible, or to report it to the properly constituted authorities is also considered to be guilty in connection with the offense. All are also required to give evidence of what they saw, heard or perceived by other means before the appropriate committees when a case is under consideration.

Policy on Sexual, Religious, and Ethnic Harassment

It is the policy of KIMEP University to provide a safe and positive learning environment for all faculty, staff and students. To ensure such an environment, KIMEP University will not tolerate acts of sexual harassment or retaliation for filing a charge of sexual harassment against or by any employee or student. The following provides a definition of sexual harassment, any potential retaliation, and the procedures to be followed in cases related to sexual harassment. Furthermore, it is a violation of KIMEP University policy to knowingly lodge a false complaint of sexual harassment or give false information regarding such a complaint. This policy applies to all faculty, staff, and students of KIMEP University. There are many definitions of sexual harassment.

- Sexual harassment consists of interaction between individuals of the same or opposite sex that is characterized by unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature under the following conditions.
- Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly as a term or condition of an individual's employment, living conditions and/or educational evaluation.
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or educational decisions affecting such individual.
- Or the conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or educational environment.

A hostile environment concerning sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual conduct that is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it alters the conditions of education or employment and creates an environment that a reasonable person would find intimidating, hostile or offensive. The determination of whether an environment is “hostile” must be based on the circumstances and conditions in which the act has taken place. These circumstances could include the frequency of the conduct, its severity, and whether it is threatening or humiliating. Examples which may indicate a violation include but are not exclusive to a faculty member who suggests that a higher grade will be given to a student if the student submits to sexual advances; a supervisor who implicitly or explicitly threatens termination if a subordinate refuses the supervisor’s sexual advances; a student who repeatedly follows an instructor around campus and sends sexually explicit messages or images to the instructor’s voicemail, email or phone; demands by anyone for sexual favors, accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning one’s job or letter of recommendation; subtle pressure for sexual activity; unwelcome physical contact; sexual comments and innuendos; visual displays of degrading sexual images; and physical assault and rape. These are only examples, whereas the actual definition of sexual harassment may include a variety of other interactions.

- It is a violation of KIMEP University policy to engage in retaliatory acts against any employee or student who reports an incident of alleged sexual harassment, or any employee or student who testifies, assists or participates in a proceeding, investigation or hearing related to such allegation of sexual harassment. Students and employees who believe they have been retaliated against because of testifying, assisting or participating in a proceeding, investigation, or hearing relating to an allegation of sexual harassment, should meet with and seek the advice of the Chair of KIMEP University Disciplinary Committee, whose responsibilities include handling retaliation as well as sexual harassment allegations. All members of the university community enjoy the same rights and privileges, independent of their ethnicity, gender and sexual orientation, and are protected from harassment related to them. It is forbidden to pressure students or any member of the KIMEP University community for sexual favors or to insult, harass, threaten or assault any person for reason of their religion, ethnicity, gender or sexual orientation.
- Cases where evidence of harassment is discovered will automatically be referred to KIMEP University authorities and then reviewed and discussed by the Disciplinary Committee. The Disciplinary Committee will make recommendations to the Provost and General Deputy to the President of the KIMEP University for appropriate action.

KIMEP University Drug and Alcohol Policy

The President’s Cabinet reaffirms legislation that KIMEP University cannot sell alcoholic beverages, including beer, on campus. Based on this, a decision was made to prohibit the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages, including beer, on campus by students, faculty, and staff.

It is also prohibited to sale or distribute of alcoholic beverages, including beer, in the Faculty and Staff Lounge. For other events on campus involving faculty, staff and guests, permission to serve alcoholic beverages must be approved in advance by the Office of the President of KIMEP University.

Cases where evidence of possession or use of these substances is discovered at “student events” on campus will automatically be referred to KIMEP University authorities and then reviewed and discussed by the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee.

KIMEP University Gambling Policy

Gambling is prohibited on KIMEP University premises, and violators will be subject to sanctions. Based on this, it is important that KIMEP University clearly states guidelines of what is considered gambling and why it has been prohibited.

All students are expected to be familiar with and abide by KIMEP University’s policies regarding gambling-related activities. The practice of illegal gambling among students has a disruptive effect and can lead to financial loss and possible retaliation by others. Students are not allowed to organize games of skill or chance where money changes hands. This includes playing cards, in which money is bet, won or lost.

Cases where there is evidence that there has been a violation of this policy will automatically be referred to KIMEP University authorities and then reviewed and discussed by the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee.

Smoking and Chewing Gum Policy

- a) Beginning Fall 2009 smoking is prohibited throughout all of the KIMEP University campus. Also, smoking is prohibited in toilet facilities.
- b) The use of chewing gum is forbidden during classes. At all other times used chewing gum must be neatly disposed of in garbage and trash cans.

Campus Cleanliness

KIMEP University seeks to keep our campus as clean as possible. The students have a responsibility with regards to their personal conduct. Students must use proper disposal places for their cigarette butts, chewing gum, and other trash. To encourage students to use proper disposal places, KIMEP University has implemented a disciplinary procedure for those who do not comply. After one written warning by the security staff or other KIMEP University personnel, the student will be referred to the SA Disciplinary Committee for further action. Considering the nature of the offense and the number of times an offender is caught, the Committee will consider the following disciplinary actions.

Use of KIMEP University Facilities for Activities

The use of KIMEP University facilities for activities and events is considered as a privilege. Therefore, any conduct that in any way deliberately vandalizes or damages property; poses risks to staff, faculty or students; and, in general, is not adult or professional behavior will not be tolerated. Unacceptable behavior includes but not limited to fighting, shouting, theft or destruction of property, or any use of facilities other than their intended purposes. Under no circumstances will facilities be used for political and religious activities, such as political party and religious meetings, political and religious events, or for discussion on political and religious matters. The policy outlined in this Code of Conduct is not to restrict the freedom but only to protect KIMEP University property, members, and their guests. The following rules must be adhered to at any event held using facilities and will be strictly enforced. Students, student organizations, faculty or staff may use facilities for any event they choose. The Office of Student Affairs must be notified at least two weeks in advance of any plans to conduct an event on campus. The administration reserves the right to refuse usage of facilities to any entity for any event.

Ultimately, it is the responsibility of the Event Host to make sure that all participants are obeying KIMEP University rules and regulations.

The policy towards events on campus that involve the consumption of alcohol is as follows:

- In the event that any violation of these rules occurs and the on-duty Security is unable to manage the situation, then the Head of Security shall be contacted immediately. The Head of Security shall use all resources at his discretion to rectify the situation.
- In the event that such violations pose grave risks to students or KIMEP University property, and the Head of Security is convinced that the safety and security of students are in danger and he is unable to manage the situation, then the proper law enforcement authorities shall be contacted immediately.
- In the event that such violations are illegal by Kazakhstan law, the Head of Security has the right to contact the appropriate law enforcement authorities without further consideration.
- In the event of such gross violations, the Head of Security shall at the first opportunity inform the administration and shall make a formal report informing all relevant administration officials of the details of the event. These matters shall be reported to the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee for action. The Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee will make recommendations to the Provost and General Deputy to the President of the KIMEP University for appropriate action.

GENERAL CONDUCT POLICY

Student Centered Learning

“Any definition of student centered learning has both an academic and a social dimension. Student centered learning requires seeing students as people who have a certain ‘personal autonomy’.

Seeing students as partners in the construction of knowledge is a radically different view to seeing them as consumers, or as individuals who simply reproduce knowledge.” (Koen Geven, Robert Santa, 2010)

Faculty and students are considered to be professionals and adults, whether teaching or in the process of being taught at the university level. For this reason, KIMEP University requires adult and professional behavior and conduct from everyone on campus.

Faculty Conduct Policy

Violations of published laws; policies or rules and regulations may subject violators to appropriate disciplinary action by KIMEP University authorities. Faculty members who have engaged in misconduct, or whose poor work performance is due to culpable behavior (with blame) on the part of the staff member, will be subject to a progressive discipline process. Where the University believes that a faculty member may have engaged in misconduct or is not living up to their professional and work responsibilities due to culpable behavior, the University will first investigate the circumstances surrounding the allegations. Faculty members are expected to fully co-operate with any such investigation.

As part of this investigation the University will provide the faculty member the opportunity to present the facts of their case and to respond to the issues that the University may rely on in determining whether discipline is required and the extent of the disciplinary penalty.

Examples of Faculty Misconduct

“Personal misconduct” includes, but is not limited to:

- Criminal acts such as assault of a student
- Bullying and other forms of mental and / or physical harassment including behaving aggressively and / or in a manner likely to cause distress to students, staff or another faculty
- Fighting while on KIMEP premises
- Unprofessional behavior such as Yelling or Screaming at staff or students
- Harassment on the grounds of sex, marital status, disability, race, ethnic origin, nationality, age, religious or political beliefs or socio-economic background;
- Acts while under the influence of alcohol that threaten the integrity and image of the institution
- Distribution of confidential, slanderous or libelous information that tarnishes the image of the institution and disturbs peace and harmony within the KIMEP community
- Incapacity at work from alcohol or being under the influence of illegal drugs;
- Other unethical behavior as stated in the Labor Law of Kazakhstan (Faculty Code of Practice, page 86, <https://kimep.kz/discover/files/2014/01/17-06-2016-Faculty-Code-of-Practice-June-2016-final.pdf>)

Note: other types of misconduct, which are not specified in the list above will be also subject to a progressive discipline process

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURES

All members of the KIMEP University community are required to give true and accurate testimony during any of the procedures listed below. Giving false or misleading testimony to an official of KIMEP University who is investigating a complaint, or to any official body that is judging a complaint may result in disciplinary action. Violations of published laws; policies or rules and regulations may subject violators to appropriate disciplinary action by KIMEP University authorities.

Complaints about Faculty Conduct

KIMEP University respects the academic freedom of the faculty and will not interfere with it regarding the content or style of teaching activities. At the same time KIMEP University recognizes its responsibility to provide students with a procedure for addressing complaints concerned with incompetent or inefficient service, physical or mental incapacity, biased attitude, and harassment of any kind – sexual, ethnic, religious, etc. Students may receive advice in the student affairs office or Learning Support Center about complaint procedure.

The procedure is the following:

- Informal resolution. First of all, students are encouraged to resolve complaints informally with the faculty member or to seek the assistance of the department chair or dean to facilitate the discussion.
- Formal complaint. If facilitation is unsuccessful or student does not wish resolve the situation informally, or if faculty misconduct is too severe, the student must file a written complaint with the department chair or dean if the academic unit does not have departments (Law School, Language Center). Any evidence supporting the case should be included with the complaint.

- Case review. This step includes a review of the alleged violation(s), the associated information, and evidence by the chair/dean/director of the Department/College/School/Center. If it is determined that the case has merit, the process will move forward to the next step. If it is determined that the case does not have merit, student is informed about the decision within 10 working days. Merit is determined based on the facts and evidence presented by a complainant.
- An administrative resolution will occur between the chair/director/dean and the accused faculty member. This process will allow the faculty member an initial response to the claim and may involve admission of responsibility and acceptance of sanctions, or explanation. The outcome of the process will be a decision by the chair/dean/director either: a) to apply sanctions (in cases of admission of responsibility), b) to proceed to disciplinary hearings (in cases with continuing merit), or c) to withdraw the case (in situations where explanation indicates the case no longer.
- Disciplinary Hearings. If the administrative resolution concludes the case should continue to disciplinary hearing, the chair/dean/director will schedule a meeting of the Disciplinary Committee within 10 working days after the complaint was filed. The committee membership must consist, at minimum, of a committee chair, two faculty members, one student, and one administrative staff member. If a member of this committee is involved in the disciplinary action as either the initiator or alleged violator, then he/she will be replaced by an alternative representative. The faculty named in the complaint will be invited to attend a meeting of the committee three days in advance. Exceptions to this policy may occur if an emergency situation exists. The faculty is expected to appear at this meeting. Failure to do so without giving advance notice of extenuating circumstances will mean a decision can be taken without presentation of evidence by the faculty member. The Committee will hear from both sides and both parties have the right to hear all evidence presented. The person(s) facing the complaint and those bringing the complaint will then be asked to leave the room while the Committee makes a decision. A simple majority constitutes a decision. The Chairperson has the casting vote in the event of a tie.
- Decision. After hearing all relevant testimony, the Committee will deliberate in private. The decision of the Committee will be released within 10 working days after disciplinary hearings.
- Appeal. If either the student or the faculty member is not satisfied with the decision of the committee, they may file a written appeal to the next level committee (college or KIMEP; if hearings started from the department level, there shall be two levels for the appeal- College and university) within ten working days of receiving the decision. The chief academic officer (dean or VPAA) shall serve as the chairperson of an Appeals Committee, which shall also include the chief student affairs representative, 3 faculty members, and one student representative. The committee shall issue a written decision within twenty calendar days of receiving the appeal. A copy of the decision shall be sent to the student, the faculty member, the department chairperson, and the president.
- Disciplinary charges. Following the completion of these procedures, the committee shall decide on the appropriate action, if any, to take, for example: verbal warning, warning letter, reprimand letter, termination.

Complaints about Staff Conduct

Professionalism

Administrative staff are expected to proceed in their daily duties to demonstrate their professionalism with clear understanding of responsibilities, commitment to respectful, responsive communication, excellence and quality in all they do, and student-centered attitude.

Application of the Code

The Provost and General Deputy Office together with the Associate Vice President of Student Affairs will exercise jurisdiction over the relevant units and members conduct.

Sanctions for the conduct listed below may be imposed on any administrative, professional, or supervisory member found responsible for violating the Code of Ethics.

The Provost Office together with the Student Affairs office has responsibility for adjudicating cases based on allegations of misconduct. Ordinarily the University will proceed with written complaints but reserves the right to proceed without a written complaint.

Professional Conduct

KIMEP U expects all administrators to conform to the explicit standards of professionalism defined in this policy. Any administrator who demonstrates behavior that does not comply with or that is inconsistent with the minimal standards of professionalism may be subject to the range of disciplinary actions.

1. An administrator shall carry out the duties of the office with competence and strive to maintain and quality of service;
2. An administrator has the obligation, within the scope of his/her authority, to insure compliance with the KIMEP Core Values;
3. An administrator should see students as partners in the construction of knowledge and personal growth;
4. An Administrator should promote student well-being, retention, progression, and achievement;
5. An administrator should understand the value and impact of services that support students;
6. An administrator should refuse to accept any gift, favor, service, or other item of significant value from any person, group, private business, or public agency which may affect the impartial performance of one's duties;
7. An administrator should not create any obstacles and hassles in administrative procedures and be able to address student inquiry correctly. If an administrator is not able to provide correct information or service, he/she should find the resource person who would be able to do so.
8. An administrator should not involve students in unnecessarily time-consuming, confusing, and unreliable bureaucratic procedure.
9. An administrator should not create the situation when students feel that needed information is both in short supply and hidden in balkanized departments for which they have lack an overall roadmap.
10. Staff shall treat other staff and students with dignity. Free from harassment, gossip, slanderous accusations, or inappropriate confrontations.

Procedures for Complaints

The following procedures comprise the conduct process:

- Complaint Reported. Complaints should be reported in writing and registered in Clerical Office. Then complaints are submitted to the Human Resource Office. HR Office reports on incoming complaint to Provost & GDP.
- Case review. This step includes a review of the alleged violation(s) and the associated information and evidence by HR Head, the Provost, The VPAA and KIMEP Legal Office. If it is determined that the case has merit, the process will move forward to the next step. If it is determined that the case does not have merit the HR Head and the Provost will meet with the complaining party and explain, why the complaint will not be pursued.
- An administrative resolution will be attempted between the two parties. This process will allow the staff to admit responsibility for violation(s) of the Code and accept the sanctions.
- Disciplinary Hearings. If the case is not handled an administrative resolution, the HR Office and Provost will pass the case to a KIMEP Disciplinary Committee. Committee members (3) are selected by the Provost, HR, and Legal Office. KIMEP Disciplinary Committee will be scheduled within 7 working days after the employee has been charged. Committee membership will be on annual basis and shall consist of 1 member of the HR department, 1 SA representative, 1 general body staff representative. The chair position is rotating on annual basis. The secretary is also on a rotating annual basis. KIMEP Disciplinary committee will review the case with all relevant evidences; will hear witness statements if any and interview the charged individual. Charged individuals, must be given the opportunity for an interview by the committee. If the committee has question related to KZ Labor policy or laws, they may request answers in writing to specific questions from the Legal Office or HR. If the Committee needs help in investigative work, they may meet with the HR Head and the Provost to determine exactly what is needed and who can help.

The Committee member will serve for one year and will not serve two years in a row.

The Committee work is confidential, outside involvement or interference is considered a violation of the integrity of the committee and a violation of the confidentiality agreement signed by all members.

- Decision. The decision of the Committee will be released within 5 working days after disciplinary hearings.
- Appeal Process. If staff member disagrees with the Committee decision, the appeal should be submitted to the President’s Cabinet. The decision of the President’s Cabinet is final.

Sanctions:

1. Reprimand letter
2. Admonition
3. Reprimand
4. Severe reprimand
5. Termination of employment contract upon initiative of the Employer

All members of the KIMEP University community are required to give true and accurate testimony during any of the procedures listed below. Giving false or misleading testimony to an officer of KIMEP University who is investigating a complaint, or to any official body that is judging a complaint may result in disciplinary action. (Faculty or Employee misconduct cases are reviewed in accordance with Faculty Code of Practice and Employees Hand Book).

Violations of published laws; policies or rules and regulations may subject violators to appropriate disciplinary action by KIMEP University authorities. All non-academic personal behavior cases shall be reported to the Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee.

The Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee has the jurisdiction to investigate any non- academic student violations of rules and regulations of the institution. The Student Affairs Disciplinary Committee members shall be the Executive Director of Student Affairs, one faculty member from each College/School, nominated by the Dean, and representative of Financial Aid, International Office, and three KSA representatives.

The rotating chair position will change each academic year. If a member of this committee is involved in the disciplinary action as either the initiator or alleged violator, then he/she will be replaced by an alternative representative.

The student(s) named in the complaint will be told to attend a meeting of the SADC in most cases three days in advance. Exceptions to this policy may occur if an emergency situation exists.

The student(s) MUST appear at this meeting. Failure to do so without giving advance notice of extenuating circumstances is taken as an admission of guilt.

The SADC will hear from both sides in the question. The person(s) facing the complaint and those bringing the complaint will then be asked to leave the room while the SADC makes a decision.

A simple majority constitutes a decision. The Chairperson has the casting vote in the event of a tie.

The person(s) about whom the complaint was lodged is then notified in writing within five working days of the Committee decision after signing the minutes of SADC hearings.

Upon the issuing reprimand or dismissal/suspension letter, the decision must be immediately obeyed. Failure to do this will open the person penalized to further disciplinary action.

All appeals must be submitted to the office of Provost and General Deputy to the President within one week of the decision of the SADC. Provost and General Deputy to the President will create an appeal committee. The decision of this Committee is final.

Actions of the committee

The SADC may recommend one of, or a combination of, the following:

Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary probation is a formal warning to a student that their conduct is unsatisfactory. A record of the probation is placed in the student's academic file. Any further violations of the discipline code will result in automatic suspension or dismissal from KIMEP University.

Suspension

The student is told to leave KIMEP University for a period deemed appropriate for the offense. During this time the student is forbidden to enter KIMEP University buildings and premises.

Dismissal

The student is told to leave campus and not allowed to return to KIMEP University. Any degree candidacy or academic standing is automatically nullified. The student is forbidden to enter KIMEP University buildings and premises.

Community Service/Work Experience

The student is asked to perform a specified number of hours of volunteer work, either at KIMEP University or in the wider community. In certain circumstances, the Committee may require that the student find regular paid employment and demonstrate a period of time working in that job.

Monetary Compensation for Damages from the Student

In cases where property has been damaged (E.g. computers, software, fixtures etc.), the Committee may offer the student an opportunity to compensate KIMEP University for the damage caused. In case of serious damage the Committee may impose either suspension or expulsion, or recommend that KIMEP University sue the student in a civil court action to recover the cost of the damages.

Course of Consultation with a Psychologist or Psychiatrist

There are circumstances where the Committee may feel that the student should have consultation(s) with a mental-healthcare professional before the student can be reintegrated into the KIMEP University academic community. Records of such consultations are entirely confidential.

Enrollment in Specific Classes

The Committee may decide that the best solution to a problem may be knowledge itself: that a student may be directed in certain circumstances to take an academic course offered by KIMEP University.

Ban from Computer Facilities and Laboratories

Violations of the Computer and Communications Code ('Computer Lab Rules') may result in the student being banned temporarily or permanently from computer facilities and laboratories. The Director of Computer and Information Systems Center has discretion in cases of suspension of up to one month. Longer suspensions require action by the SADC.

STUDENT ACADEMIC CODE OF BEHAVIOR

Student academic behavior at KIMEP University should support the principle of freedom of expression for both instructors and students. The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and students to learn. Any action that impedes these rights is prohibited. The expectation is that students:

1. Arrive on time for class (after 10 minutes instructors have the right to refuse entry if instructor arrives on time for the start of class).
2. Obtain the instructor's permission if there is a legitimate need to leave class early.
3. Turn off all mobile phones and electronic devices if requested to do so by instructor. (Instructors have the right to confiscate mobile phones that have not been turned off for the remainder of the class period.)
4. Refrain from talking to other students except during structured classroom activities. (Instructors have the right to direct offending students to leave the classroom.)
5. Refrain from making disruptive noises such as slamming doors.
6. Behave in a respectful manner towards the instructor and other students. (Incidents of insulting behavior and/or use of offensive language or gestures can be forwarded to a disciplinary committee for sanctions.)
7. Respect the opinions and beliefs of others even if there is disagreement.

These guidelines are appropriate for all academic situations whether in lectures, seminars, tutorials, or in interaction in instructor office.

Disruptive Classroom Behavior Policy

Students are not permitted to engage in classroom behavior that interferes with the instructor's ability to conduct the class or with the ability of other students to profit from the instruction. An individual engaging in disruptive classroom behavior will be subject to: First offense: warning from instructor. Second offense: removal from class. Third offense: sanction by the College Disciplinary Committee.

"Disruptive," as applied to the academic setting, means verbal and other behavior in the classroom that a reasonable faculty member would judge as contrary to normal academic functions. Examples include, but are not limited to, speaking persistently without being recognized, frequently interrupting other speakers, constantly making statements that are off the topic, use of intimidation, physical threats, harassing behavior, use of mobile telephones, personal insults, physical contact, and refusal to comply with faculty direction. The institution reserves the right to move directly to removal from class or sanction by the College Disciplinary Committee, depending on the nature and severity of the misconduct.

Class Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all classes. Instructors are responsible for upholding their college's attendance policy.

The instructor is responsible for informing students of attendance policies and the effect of attendance on their grade during one of the first two class sessions. The student is responsible for knowing the college's policy.

Only the instructor can approve a student's request to be absent from class. Violation of the instructor's attendance policy may result in lowered grades or in an instructor-initiated withdrawal from the course. In the event of a dispute, the matter may be reported to the College Disciplinary Committee.

Make-up Class Policy

All contact hours declared in the schedule shall be maintained (for example, for a three credit course, 45 contact hours is typically expected). The academic department and faculty monitor the completion of required contact hours. KIMEP University recognizes the official holidays of the Republic of Kazakhstan. With the purpose of maintaining the excellence in education, both instructors and students of KIMEP University are expected to follow the class make-up policies:

1. Make-up days for all class cancellations due to official holidays are scheduled in the annual academic calendar. Make-up class schedule may fall on the weekends due to the limited flexibility of academic scheduling. Please refer to the Academic Calendar and make hall reservations. However, the offered schedule is flexible and can be changed for a more suitable time for instructors and students. Make-up classes are monitored by the department chairs and deans.
2. When an Instructor cancels a class due to the sick leave, conference trip, or any authorized absence, a make-up class is expected. The class should be scheduled, taking into consideration both instructor's and students' time. Make-up classes are monitored by the department chairs and deans.
3. Class cancellations by the University or instructor due to the weather or unexpected circumstances should be made up. Depending on the case, the scheduling is made either by the institution or instructors. Make-up classes are monitored by the department chairs and deans.

Examination Rules

Effective proctoring of exams is crucial for the reputation and integrity of the student evaluation system. To ensure the integrity of exams:

1. Proctors have the right to demand ID cards upon entrance to the examination room or at any time during the exam.
2. All coats, bags, brief cases and other materials must be placed in the designated area, usually adjacent to the senior proctor's table.
3. All reference books, materials, papers, magazines and journals must be deposited at the senior proctor's table. Unless otherwise indicated, they must not be within the sight or reach of students.
4. Students may not borrow anything from other students.
5. It is the students' responsibility to know whether translation dictionaries are permitted or not.
6. Possession of unauthorized notes or reference material whether referred to or not, may be taken as proof of cheating regardless of their nature.
7. Students may not leave the room once the examination has started for any reason. Students leaving the examination room will not be allowed to return. Students are advised to use the restrooms immediately before an examination.
8. Talking to anyone other than the proctor in the examination room is not permitted.
9. Student may not use cell phones, pagers or any text messaging devices.
10. Students must stop working at the end of the time allowed for the exam. Continuing to work on the exam after the allotted time is considered as cheating.
11. Communicating answers to other students is as serious as receiving answers. Students who assist others are subject to disciplinary action and penalties.

Academic Integrity/Violations Policy

University considers academic integrity to be essential for students' intellectual development. Incidents of academic dishonesty/violations can also seriously damage the reputation of the university.

KIMEP University requires all students, faculty and staff to accept responsibility to pursue academic research and learning in an honest and ethical manner. Any and all behavior that leads to academic dishonesty is strictly forbidden.

Zero Tolerance Policy

KIMEP University has a "zero tolerance" policy for all forms of academic dishonesty. "Zero tolerance means no rule (academic or extra curricular) violation will be accepted". Zero tolerance applies to homework, quizzes, assignments, papers, presentations and midterm exams, the same as for final exams. Zero tolerance applies to admission and diagnostic tests, the same as for classroom assessments. And zero tolerance applies to faculty the same as to students. Faculties are expected to lead by example.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty. Plagiarism is defined as submitting someone else's work as one's own. Plagiarism occurs when a person:

1. Directly copies one or more sentences of another person's written work without acknowledgment.
2. Closely paraphrases one or more paragraphs without acknowledgment of the origin of the ideas.
3. Uses facts, figures, drawings or charts without acknowledging the source.
4. Fails to put a word for word citation in quotation marks assuming that referencing the source is sufficient (i.e. a referenced work created by "cut" and "paste").
5. Turns in an assignment done by someone else.

Levels of Academic Violations

Incidents of academic dishonesty/violations can be classified into different levels depending on the seriousness of the action.

Level 1 incidents are situations in which the dishonesty would have only a small impact on the person's academic record. Examples would be falsifying an attendance sheet, copying a homework assignment, copying from another student's answer sheet during a quiz, or instances of plagiarism where only a part of an assignment is plagiarized. Dishonest behavior on an exam, quiz or assessment activity that counts for 10% or less of the total assessment is level 1 dishonesty.

Level 2 incidents are intentional and preplanned. The outcome of the dishonesty is significant enough that it might have an impact on a final grade or on some desired outcome. Examples include preparation and/ or use of cheat notes during an exam, communicating or receiving answers during an exam, submitting papers or assignments done by others, plagiarism, falsifying documents and/or forging approval signatures.

Level 3 incidents are serious incidents of dishonesty. Examples of level 3 dishonesty are gaining access to copies of upcoming examinations, gaining access to student records and changing grades or scores, falsifying academic records or documents, taking an exam for someone else or having someone else take one's exams, presenting a false identification or fraudulent documents.

Level 4 incidents are most serious and include criminal activity related to academic performance. Examples include theft and distribution of upcoming exams, bribery of faculty or staff to provide information or to change data, selling exam answers, gaining unauthorized access to data and/or computer systems and stealing information or changing data.

Review Procedures (see also flow chart for the review process)

When an incident of academic dishonesty occurs, the faculty or staff member should respond to the situation immediately upon becoming aware of the dishonesty.

For level 1 violations the faculty member or person responsible may handle the academic dishonesty at a personal level. If the person(s) involved accept the decision or penalty, then no further action is required. If the people accused of academic dishonesty disagree with the penalty or feel that the charge of academic dishonesty is incorrect, they may request a hearing with the College Academic Integrity Committee. If second offense for level 1 violation, then instructor informs department chair in writing.

For incidents of dishonesty at level 2 or higher, the faculty member or person responsible should submit a report of the dishonesty to the department chair immediately upon becoming aware of the dishonesty.

Any incident which has an impact of more than 10 percent of a grade is automatically level 2 and must be reported. Normally the report is submitted to department chair of the college responsible for the course in which the student is enrolled. If an incident involves persons from more than one School or College, then the Vice President of Academic Affairs will decide which committee is the most appropriate committee to hear the case.

Upon receiving the incident report, the chair of the College Academic Integrity Committee notifies the person of the charge of academic dishonesty and indicates the time and date of the next committee meeting. The College Academic Integrity Committee evaluates the evidence, determines whether or not academic violations have occurred and determines an appropriate penalty. If further investigation is necessary, the committee may meet several times in order to determine the outcome of a case.

People accused have the right to appear before the committee and to make statements to the committee. The accused also have the right to counsel and to have others speak on their behalf.

The academic integrity committee should examine the record of academic violations (if applicable) of the accused to determine an appropriate penalty. Once a decision has been reached, the College Disciplinary Committee must report in writing by letter the findings to the instructor, the student and the Registrar within 5 working days (excluding holiday and break periods).

Students have the right to appeal the decision of a College Academic Integrity Committee to the University Academic Integrity Committee.

The appeal should be submitted in writing to the Academic Affairs Office within 5 working days (excluding holiday and break periods) of receipt of the written letter of the College Academic Integrity Committee. If the appeal has a basis on the grounds of new evidence or due process violations, the appeal is heard by the KIMEP University Academic Integrity Committee. In order to have the appeal heard, the defendant must state a specific reason: a) new evidence not considered by the college/school academic integrity committee has been provided or b) due process violations occurred. A defendant may not use the appeal process to simply plead for a lighter sanction.

The KIMEP University Academic Integrity Committee may uphold the decision of the College Disciplinary Committee, may return the case to the CDC to be reheard, or may render a revised decision on it own. The decision of the KIMEP University Disciplinary Committee is final.

Penalty Guidelines

The appropriate penalty for an incident of academic dishonesty depends on the level of the academic dishonesty and on the person's record. Individuals involved in multiple incidents of academic dishonesty should be given harsher sentences with each additional incident of dishonesty.

For a Level 1 offense, appropriate penalties are:

- A grade of zero (o) for the assignment. The o is used in the calculation of the final grade.
- A reduction in the grade for the course.
- Additional coursework or a project to encourage ethical behavior..

For a Level 2 offense penalties may include:

- A grade of zero (o) for the assignment. The o is used in the calculation of the final grade.
- A reduction in the grade for the course.
- A grade of "F" for the course. (In such cases the student may not withdraw from the course.)
- Suspension for one semester.
- Additional coursework or a project to encourage ethical behavior.

For a Level 3 offense, penalties may include:

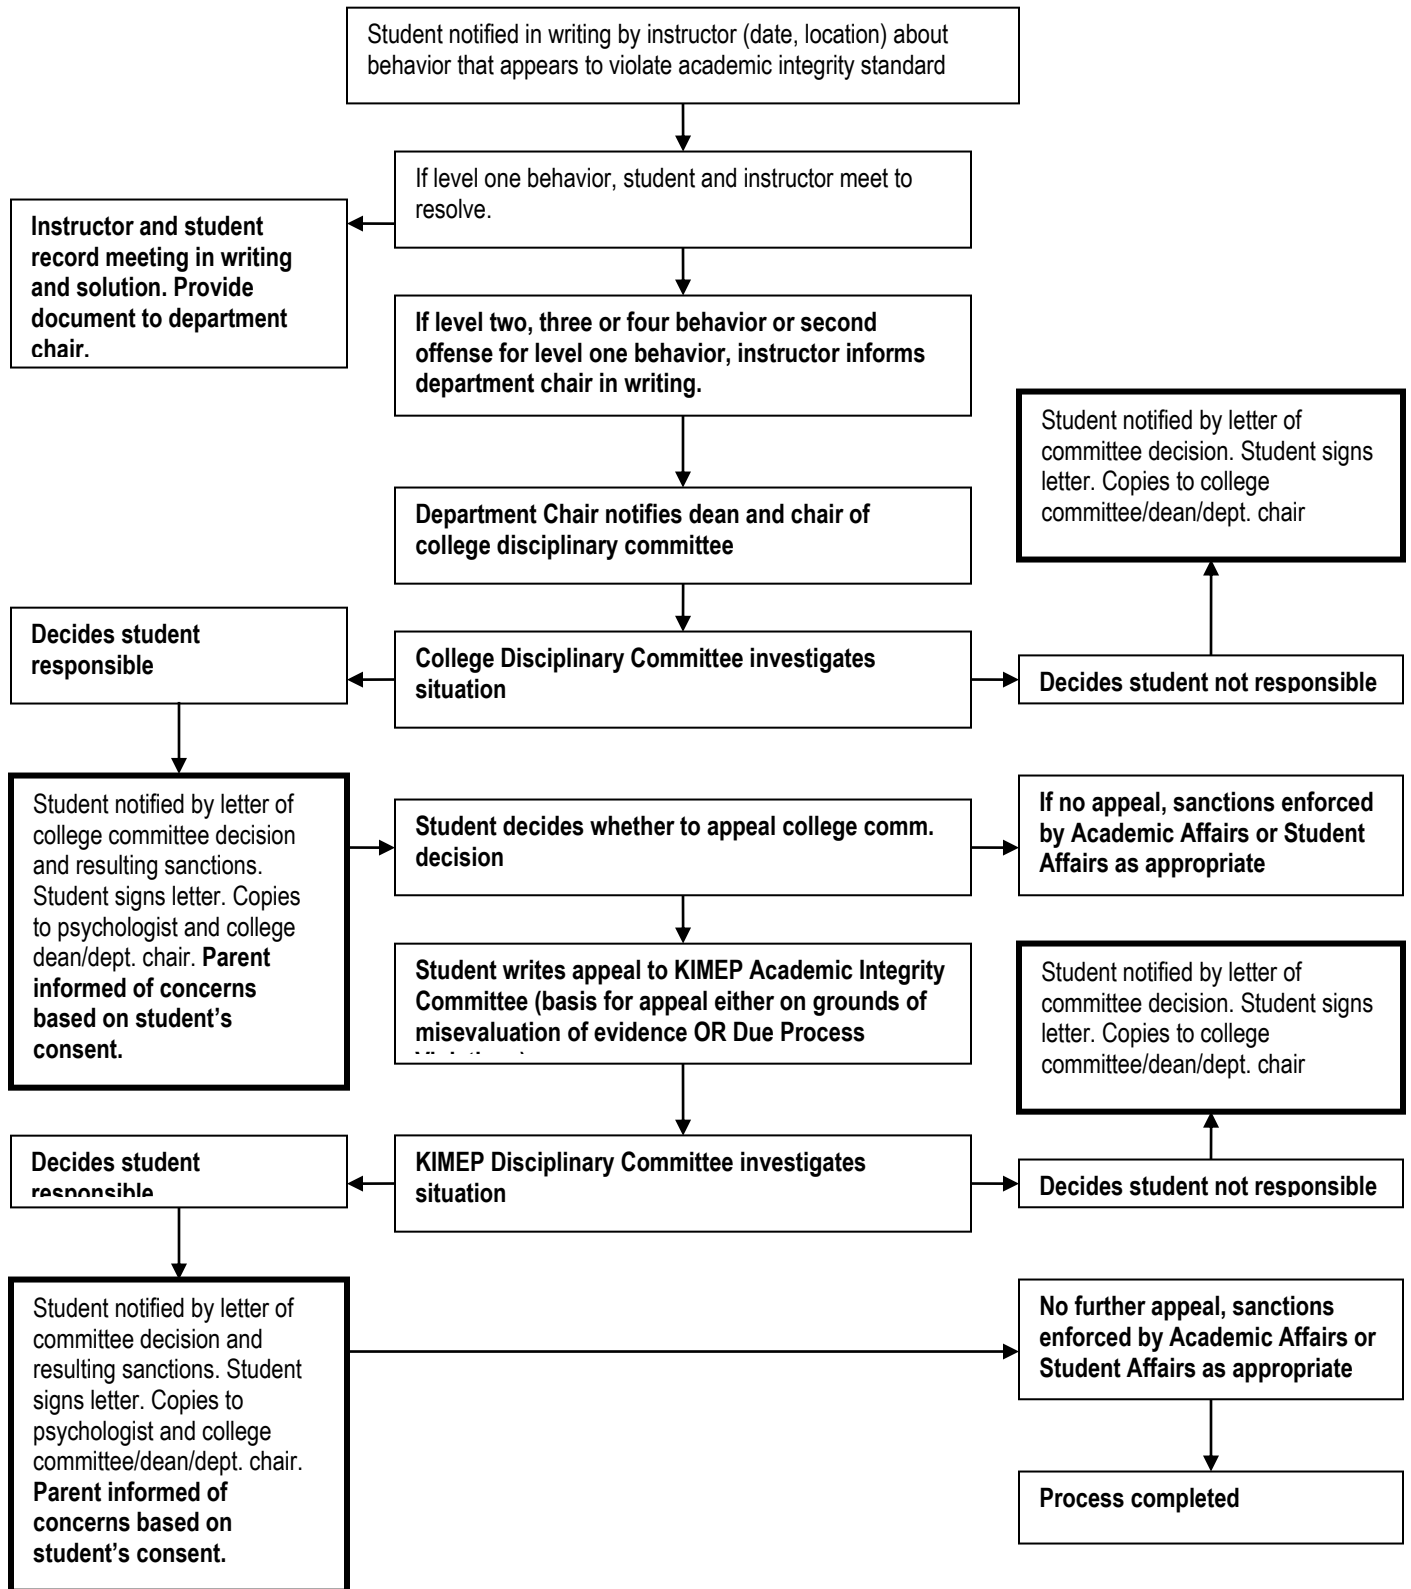

- A grade of "F" for the course. (In such cases the student may not withdraw from the course.)
- Forced withdrawal from all courses for the current semester.
- Suspension for one to three semesters.
- Expulsion from KIMEP University.
- Additional coursework or a project to encourage ethical behavior.

For a Level 4 offense, penalties may include:

- Forced withdrawal from all courses for the current semester.

- Suspension for 1 - 2 years.
- Expulsion from KIMEP University. Students who received sanctions from an academic disciplinary committee are placed on academic integrity probation for a minimum of one semester.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Vision Statement

The vision of Bang College of Business (BCB) is to be recognized as a world-class business college that is responsive to the needs of a diverse population of students and demands of the society.

Mission Statement

The Bang College of Business:

- Educates and prepares citizens from Kazakhstan and other countries to become knowledgeable, ethical, and competent business professionals, entrepreneurs, and leaders to work in national and international organizations, assume challenging roles and become lifelong learners.
- Promotes faculty and graduates, with diverse professional and research interests including a Central Asian focus, to contribute to the development and prosperity of Kazakhstan and the global economy.

Values

The Bang College of Business values:

- Shared governance and transparency;
- Decision making based on consensus;
- Teamwork and collaboration among faculty, staff, and students;

- Contributions of each individual and our relationships with each other;
- Opportunity and desire for life-long learning;
- Innovation and continuous improvement in curriculum and pedagogy ;
- Creation of knowledge and its dissemination to students, businesses and to the community at-large.

Statement of Purpose

The Bang College of Business offers quality business and management programs, prepares students to be committed professional and lifelong learners to contribute to and take leading positions in business and society. Theory and practice are linked together through teaching, scholarship, and service in order to benefit both students and the community.

Profile

The Bang College of Business continues to develop future leaders by providing world-class business education through our cutting-edge Bachelor, MBA, Executive MBA (EMBA), Master of Management, Master of Marketing, Master of Finance, Master of Accounting and Audit and doctoral (PhD and DBA) programs. Further, we are aggressively pursuing accreditation by most prestigious agencies to become an internationally renowned business college. Historically, we held Level III (International) accreditation for Bachelor, MBA and EMBA programs by the Asian Forum on Business Education (AFBE) and international accreditation from Austria Quality Assurance and Accreditation Agency (AQAAA). Currently, we possess all-programs accreditation by Foundation for International Business Administration accreditation (FIBAA) and Independent Agency for Quality Assurance in Education (IQAA). In 2010, the BCB became a member of the prestigious American accreditation agency - the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business, AACSB International. In 2016, BCB acquired a full membership in the European Foundation for Management Development (EFMD) and is in process of accreditation with the agency. BCB has graduate dual-degree arrangements with IESEG School of Management of France (KIMEP MBA + IESEG Master of International Business), ESC Rennes School of Business of France (KIMEP MBA + ESC Rennes MSc in International Management), and the Universitat International de Catalonia of Spain (KIMEP MBA + Universitat International de Catalonia Master in Entrepreneurship, Venture Capital and Private Equity). More such arrangements are in progress.

We have high proportion of faculty members with doctoral degrees from leading international universities, who have solid experience not only in teaching and research, but also in industry and innovation, and will add many more to our existing high-credentialed faculty. Our administrators and faculty strive for continuous improvement in curricula, pedagogy, facilities, community relationship, and shared governance. The BCB intends to involve students in greater “active learning” and plans to have more guest lecturers from the real-world in its classes, stronger corporate connections, and further internationalization. We have further strengthened our Bachelor, MBA, EMBA and specialized Master programs by revising their curricula to be more application-oriented.

We respect diversity, not only of ethnicity, but also diversity in thinking, creativity, and approach to solving problems. The Administration and faculty encourage and support students to communicate their new ideas, leverage their strengths and perspectives, explore diverse projects, work collaboratively towards a common goal, and apply critical thinking and innovation at work. Our program managers, specialists and faculty members are always willing to advise students pertaining to course and project selection, internship opportunities, and graduation requirements. The Bang College of Business has the student-centered philosophy of teaching/learning and educates world-class business leaders.

The Bang College of Business has grown steadily since its inception in 1992. It currently has around 1200 undergraduate students, 160 master students and 15 doctoral students. BCB has a well-balanced mix of local and foreign faculty members who are academically qualified (AQ) or professionally qualified (PQ) or both. A core of highly qualified Kazakhstani faculty - many with North American and European degrees - is supplemented by a body of foreign faculties who bring a wealth of international experience and cross-cultural knowledge to the college's learning community.

There is both a need and an opportunity for KIMEP to make an impact on entrepreneurship in Kazakhstan. The new Center for Entrepreneurship will be based in the Bang College of Business and reach out to the entire University and the community beyond. Our vision is for the Center to have three pillars: research, education, and practice.

Research in entrepreneurship will commence in collaboration with the Global Entrepreneurship Monitor (GEM) Consortium (www.gemconsortium.org). Since 1999 GEM has led an annual, internationally coordinated, cross country assessment of national and regional entrepreneurial activity. Through the Center's initiative, Kazakhstan will join the other 59 nations in collecting and analyzing this data nationally and then provide the data for a global assessment. This information will be available for KIMEP scholars to conduct further research which may have a profound impact on public policy decisions and economic development in the region.

Education in entrepreneurship will be enhanced with the introduction of an entrepreneurship minor, available to all KIMEP students with the design of additional courses for both business and non-business majors. In addition, we plan to develop workshops and certificate programs on how to launch start-ups in Kazakhstan for the greater community through the Executive Education Center.

The Center for Entrepreneurship will not only enhance research and education in entrepreneurship, it is our intention to help create new businesses in practice. We will do this by initiating an annual business plan competition. The judges of the competition will be actual successful entrepreneurs from KIMEP's vast alumni network. Eventually we would like to create an association of angel investors who are prepared to actually fund students' new venture ideas. In the future we may consider creating an incubator at KIMEP to help nurture start-ups.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Statement of Purpose

The main goal of the Executive Education Center (EEC) is encouraging lifelong learning and providing inspiring, innovative and effective personal and professional development opportunities.

The Center accomplishes its purpose by offering courses, trainings, seminars, workshops, forums and conferences catered to a wide range of interests.

Through the Center's commitment to collaboration with business, government and non-profit sectors, we have been able to contribute too many facets of Kazakhstani society and have consistently provided relevant and practical skills and knowledge. We serve the education needs of learners in Almaty and beyond via both traditional face-to-face interaction and online instruction. With over two thousand registrations annually, our clients range from university students, enhancing leadership skills, to government leaders and business exploring issues of national interest.

Mission

The mission of the Center is to provide cost effective, accessible, quality and recognized career enhancing trainings and courses for students and employees alike.

The EEC provides flexible access for working professionals throughout Central Asia to obtain up-to-date skills and business knowledge in economics, management, finance, accounting and other related fields and for both individuals and companies. In today's global and rapidly changing business environment there is only one source of long-term competitive advantage: human capital. Businesses will succeed through the efforts, knowledge and skills of their employees. Executive Education Center at KIMEP University helps individuals and organizations develop and sustain this competitive advantage.

Overview

Since 1994, the Executive Education Center (EEC) at KIMEP University has offered dynamic programs that allow professionals to further upgrade their skills and gain a competitive edge in the labor market. As part of the University commitment to lifelong learning, the EEC addresses this for further skill development through two separate tracks. First, it provides a range of opportunities for middle managers and experienced professionals to come to KIMEP University and receive focused training in a flexible format that suits their schedules. This wide array of offerings includes a market-leading Executive MBA, professional development programs, international certifications and regular roundtables on issues facing the Kazakhstani business community.

EEC also works closely with partners to ensure that they have access to programs that are specifically tailored to meet their particular needs. This makes EEC an excellent platform for business companies, NGOs and Governmental bodies wishing to acquire the necessary tools and global knowledge to adapt to meet rapidly changing market opportunities.

For example, EEC collaborated with the Eurasia Foundation and USAID to establish a Leadership Learning Center for American Energy Services, a global leader in the production of industrial valves. Using facilities provided by the Kazakh-American Free University in Ust-Kamenogorsk, KIMEP trained 650 mid to senior level managers. The project was so successful that the center has become a permanent institution, continuing to offer targeted trainings and opportunities for professional development. It is just one example of how EEC serves Kazakhstan by supporting professional capacity building and providing various forums for the exchange of ideas and information.

A similar success story is demonstrated by the launch of the International Institute of Banking (IIB), the first major initiative of EEC funded by USAID. The success of IIB encouraged KIMEP to engage in further outreach to the financial sector, and many successful programs followed. EEC trained 4,014 Kazakhstani bankers since 1994, along with an additional 192 from other parts of the CIS, giving them access to intensive training sessions led by experienced Western financial professionals. Without a doubt, the experience these professionals gained at EEC has directly contributed to the reform and explosive growth of Kazakhstan's banking sector over the last twenty years, which has transformed Almaty into a regional hub for financial services.

EEC has also made a considerable contribution to the development of Kazakhstan's oil and gas industry. The Natural Resource Executive Management Training Program (NREMTP) was established, funded by the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) and implemented jointly by KIMEP and USAID. More than 1,000 professionals in the oil, gas, and mining sectors have participated in trainings offered by KIMEP then, teaching them essential skills like total quality management, human resources development, petroleum project evaluation and contract law for natural resource companies. More than 80 companies were involved in this project, ensuring that these skills were shared throughout the industry.

In these projects and many others, EEC has provided targeted training to more than 12,200 professionals from 193 companies during its history. This includes 34 banks, nine government departments, and a variety of UN agencies and NGOs.

EEC also plays a critical role in delivering Executive MBA Program at KIMEP University. Following an initial program designed specifically for Food Master that finished in 2004, EEC helped design an open Executive MBA that accepts any mid-level manager with at least seven years' experience. This program began in 2007. Based on the success of the program, KIMEP expanded its offering, beginning a new Russian-language Executive MBA in 2010 that uses a unique distance learning platform for its students. EEC has been recognized by Almaty's international business community for its efforts in developing the program. In 2009, during Kazakhstan's first Lawyers, Academics and Consultants Awards, both MBA and Executive MBA programs were recognized as the best in Kazakhstan.

EEC also benefits the local business community through several free forums. The KIMEP HR Club, established in 2009, is a bimonthly roundtable that serves as a discussion forum and networking platform for HR professionals. In 2010, KIMEP delivered its first International Human Resources Conference, focusing on "Training for Superior Results." KIMEP University Marketing Club "Navigator" serves a role for marketing similar to the HR club.

Through EEC, KIMEP University is able to make a sustained improvement in the professional skills base of the Republic. Anyone at any stage of their career can access this resource to gain additional qualifications, benefiting themselves, their companies and the community at large. KIMEP EEC has established key partnerships with some of the largest professional service Almaty companies to deliver other international professional qualifications, which will push EEC into the forefront of executive education, making it an invaluable resource for the Republic of Kazakhstan.

EEC Programs Accreditation

The Executive Education Center's Executive MBA and Mini MBA Programs exceeded quality requirements of the Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA) and have been re-accredited for seven years without any conditions by this agency from 2018 until 2025. Before re-accreditation in November 2017, the FIBAA accredited both EEC programs in 2012.

The purpose of FIBAA is to promote quality and transparency in education and science by awarding quality certificates to educational programs and institutions in the areas of higher education and continued professional development, according to the organization's website.

The Executive Education Center's Executive MBA program has been awarded full, Level 3 international accreditation by the Asian Forum on Business Education (AFBE). This means that the program is recognized by the AFBE with regard to the quality of its mission and overall policies; curriculum; assessment standards; faculty (teaching staff); and other factors including admissions procedures and student support.

The accreditation also reflects the AFBE's belief that the Executive MBA program provides valuable, relevant support for Central Asia's business community. Leading companies look to the Executive MBA program as an important resource in honing the abilities of their top managers.

Executive MBA program was accredited by AQAAA (The Agency for Quality Assurance and Accreditation Austria).

The accreditations and ranks received by the Executive Education Center programs is another milestone in KIMEP University's quest to offer truly world-class education.

Statement of Purpose

The Professional Development and Certificate Program provide learning and networking opportunities for working professionals. In operation since 1994 it services both individuals and organizations alike. A full program of courses, trainings and workshops are regularly scheduled and customized trainings developed on demand. The program offers 'stand alone' and integrated series of courses, seminars and trainings. Participants can gain knowledge of the fundamentals and then, if they choose, pursue an advanced understanding of topics including management, accounting and finance, marketing and sales, human resource management, information technologies, and business administration. New offerings and learning opportunities are introduced every year.

Mission

The mission of the Professional Development and Certificate Program is to deliver high quality learning opportunities to meet customer needs and to support the viability of Central Asia business community. The program strives to develop and offer opportunities that:

- Are relevant to the current business environment.
- Provide excellent value and a sound investment in career enhancement and human capital.

- Instill knowledge and skills that are immediately applicable in the workplace.
- Are delivered at times and by means accessible to any professional.

Program Offering

Courses and trainings are offered in a variety of different learning modes to maximize accessibility:

- Short-term (2-5 days) intensive trainings are regularly scheduled throughout the week.
- Meeting weeknights and on the weekend, are scheduled over longer periods of study, usually lasting 4-6 weeks.
- Hybrid trainings and courses, combining face-to-face and online learning are also offered.
- Some training is also provided via self-study with a trainer available for consultation as needed.

Participants in this program can earn various levels of certification including:

- “Certificate of Completion”: This is a certificate confirming participation in a specific course.
- “Certificate of Specialization”: Students wishing to pursue one field of study may earn a certificate of specialization by successfully completing 4 courses.
- ‘Mini MBA Professional Diploma”: This program is developed for business managers wishing to gain enhanced skills and knowledge in the field of Business Administration. They may choose to complete 6 courses composed of 12 modules from the list in major areas: Finance and Accounting, Management, Marketing and Sales; Human Resource Management.

The duration or number of contact hours/days of Mini MBA as well as other short-term trainings and the methods of student evaluation vary according to the learning objectives, the nature of the course content and the mode of delivery.

Language of presentations of all PDCP programs is Russian. Trainings in English or Kazakh are upon the client request.

Teaching techniques utilized in all PDCP (including Mini MBA) programs differ from traditional methods in the local training market. They consider the specific needs and goals of adult training. An interactive approach is utilized to involve all participants in the learning process. Discussions and teamwork also promote knowledge sharing and networking.

PDCP utilize its wide network of adjunct faculty drawn from both the corporate and academic world to deliver its training. Their skills and knowledge make training practical and applicable to everyday business. Mini MBA Program Accreditation

Executive Education Center Professional Development currently holds the FIBAA Quality Seal for accredited Mini MBA Program. This is the only professional development program in Kazakhstan which has received high level international recognition.

The Executive Education Center supports the business community by introducing new alternative learning and networking opportunities. These take many forms and can be designed to serve audiences ranging from the general community to specific industries or business functions.

EEC along with organizing its own conferences, seminars and benchmark testing of employees, helps to organize KIMEP University-wide seminars, conferences, symposiums both in-house and virtually, hosts HR and Marketing Clubs. EEC also cooperates closely with other KIMEP University Colleges and Units in hosting different events and offers various trainings for outside clients.

KIMEP HR Club

Executive Education Center at KIMEP University continues to create learning and networking opportunities that will benefit working professionals of Kazakhstan. Created in 2009 in the Executive Education Center, the KIMEP HR Club (Forum) provides HR Directors and other HR representatives from the KIMEP University EEC partner companies with the opportunity to discuss the challenges they are facing in their organizations and to collectively seek solutions. Within the three years of its active work the Forum has grown professionally and is considered one of the best platforms for the HRM in the area. The Forum offers a series of "workshops" designed for people working in Human Resources. The workshops provide the HR representatives with practical solutions and modern instruments and have wide media coverage. Apart from main target, it also gathers together experienced HR coaches, business consultants, trainers and private business owners. HR Club members meet every second month of the year, ultimately, as a result of the Forum discussions, each year the EEC organizes International HR conferences for both members and non-members of the Club. Participants come from different companies of Kazakhstan, Russia and Kyrgyzstan. The practical role of the HR Forum meetings cannot be overestimated as the HR Forum serves as a strong networking point for local and international HR specialists. The Club functions in English and Russian languages.

International KIMEP HR Conferences

The International HR Conferences in KIMEP "HRM Architecture Building" with a slogan "Train for superior results" are successfully held at KIMEP University campus. The target audience is executives, governmental bodies, mid-managers, HR directors of business companies, HR practitioners, consultants, educators, Business School students and graduates from different regions of Kazakhstan and invited guests from Russia and Kyrgyzstan. Supporters of KIMEP HR Conferences are EEC partner companies from industries, Almaty Akimat, guests from Russia, Kyrgyzstan, Uzbekistan and International Corporations executives. KIMEP Executive Education Center invites outstanding key speakers from the area each year. Speakers' key messages are: "any organization shall be aware of its own potential for developing talents, and be professional in identifying, motivating and retaining those". The professional audience has a brilliant opportunity to familiarize themselves with the latest trends in business education, to compare the Kazakhstani trends with the Russian Federation trends and look into the global achievements in the field. Finally, they have tools and new ideas in HRM drawn from the conference to apply those in their organizations to achieve ever-higher results. The conference participants also have a great opportunity to participate in Educational Exhibitions.

KIMEP Marketing Club "Navigator"

The mission of the KIMEP EEC's Marketing Club "Navigator" is to build a platform for working professionals to enhance their knowledge and understanding of modern marketing practices and important professional skills. We also strive to provide the Club members with the exclusive opportunity to network with representatives from the most distinguished companies of Almaty city and the chance to interact socially with their peers.

According to the mission of the Marketing Club, the major focus of its activities is: being a platform number 1 for marketers from industry to discuss, share the trends in marketing, brand management and communication. More importantly, the Club participants are offered to speak out on different topics and the audience is encouraged to actively discuss the practical significance of these issues and challenges that they pose towards local marketers, ways to adjust them to local business environment. In general, the practical implication of the Club sessions is difficult to undervalue as the Club serves as an effective experience-sharing and strong network-creating platform for local marketers. The Club functions in English and Russian languages.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS OF THE MINI-MBA PROGRAM

Accounting/Finance Principles

In the broadest sense, financial and accounting managers are responsible for an organization’s financial performance: cash management (present), reporting (history) and financial strategy (future) to keep shareholders/investors informed about the business. This course provides trainees with skills and knowledge to support accounting/finance systems development for investors to evaluate and make investment decisions.

Managerial/Cost Accounting

This course covers interpretation, use, and analysis of cost data for management planning, coordination and control. It includes the application of theories and concepts underlying cost accounting and budgeting through case- study analysis related to real business activities. Course topics also include job order costing, spoilage standard cost and capital budgeting.

Corporate Finance

The course introduces the fundamentals of finance. It considers theories and tools used to address modern corporate problems and issues in realistic settings. Specific topics covered include short-term financial management, capital structure theory and practice, dividend policy, and mergers and acquisitions.

Financial Statements: How to Develop, Read and Interpret

This course has been specifically designed for the practicing manager and those with managerial aspirations. It includes teacher-led instruction, self-study as well as communication between attendees and instructors through many exercises.

Financial statements communicate important facts about an organization. Users of financial statements rely on these facts to make decisions that affect the well-being of businesses and the general health of the economy. Therefore, it is essential that financial statements are both reliable and useful for decision-making. Useful accounting and financial data is information that makes managers more effective - it makes managers better decision makers.

International Financial Reporting System

This course is designed to explore the role of International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) for organizations competing in increasingly global economies. It entails the convergence of different countries' accounting systems, differences between GAAP and IFRS, and ways of transformation/transition to internationally recognized reporting for local companies. Course learning materials include case studies and assignments that require analysis and that promote discussion.

Taxation and VAT

This course instils the skills and knowledge needed to comply with the taxation principles and practices of local laws and international standards. Attendees will develop an understanding of the key underlying concepts that run through the many specific provisions of the tax law and how income tax considerations interact with business decisions. The course is designed for chief accountants, accountants, managers of accounting and finance departments, and financial controllers (tax inspectors and tax police).

Financial Performance Analysis

This course provides attendees with tools and skills to evaluate the company's financial condition. Financial statements, ratio analysis and their interpretation are critical to making the right managerial decisions. For any business to survive in a competitive and challenging environment it must attract external financial support: via issuing new stocks, applying for bank loans or direct investments. Regular analysis of financial performance indicators will support prompt preventive measures to keep the company attractive for investors.

Financial Analysis Using Excel

This course introduces participants to various MS Excel tools of financial analysis that can be used in getting insight into real problems and making business decisions.

It continues with a study of IT principles and how they apply to financial analysis through the use of MS Excel worksheets, graphs, and step-by-step examples. Participants will learn to perform financial analysis and conduct research.

Risk Management

This course is designed to assess, prevent (mitigate when possible), monitor and control risks. In some cases acceptable risk might approach zero. Risks may also encompass natural catastrophe/force major as well as deliberate actions from other parties. Risk management strategy provides participants with skills and knowledge to prevent, avoid and transfer risks to reduce their negative impact and/or measure them to analyze their actual consequences on the business. Financial risk management focuses on risks to be managed by using existing financial instruments.

Financial Accounting

This course presents the fundamental concepts and techniques of the basic accounting system, including accounting for a complete cycle of business activities. It also reviews the basic principles of internal control and financial statements: assets, current liabilities, payroll accounting, as well as an overview of revenue and expense issues.

Budgeting, Planning and Controlling

This course enables participants to analyse the company's financial stability and to develop the planning and budgeting of the company's operational and financial activities. The tools and skills introduced in the sessions will support budgeting and forecasting of operating cash flows, pro-forma income statement and balance sheet development

Auditing

This course is designed for members of the Board of Directors, finance directors, managers and internal auditors. The main focus of the course is on the auditor's decision-making process. As well, the course discusses and analyses the key issues of internal control functions and their importance from the auditor's standpoint to support and improve the efficiency and profitability of the organization.

Project Management

Project management has become one of the most effective and widely accepted tools of business operation management. This course helps participants understand modern techniques and technologies used in project management: developing a project organizational chart, monitoring and controlling of the project implementation processes/stages and reporting. As well, the course provides techniques for team building and team management, and recognizes the impact of leadership and motivation on the successful implementation project goals.

Fundamentals of Marketing

The purpose of this course is to introduce the general concepts of marketing, its business function and the practices of modern marketing. Attendees will learn how to define a market segment and how to advertise and promote products and services for chosen target segments. Case studies will be considered and discussed.

Effective Business Communication

This course introduces the role of communication in business relations; basic elements of the communication process; and the components of successful communication. It also explores the role of media, advertising and PR.

Marketing Research

This course introduces attendees to the basics of marketing research such as planning and conducting marketing research, interviewing techniques, data analysis, drawing reliable conclusions and the presentations of results.

Sales from Start to Finish

Negotiation has become an important aspect of selling. Salespeople have to work out satisfactory solutions to customers' demands and concerns to reach a mutually acceptable agreement. Modern sales should be cooperation oriented, result in value-added, geared toward problem solving, and should concentrate on building relationships with buyers. The course will provide participants with win-win negotiation skills development.

Conflict and Stress Management

Introducing conflict as an ordinary event in any system, the course uses generated contradictions as its engine for further development. On the one hand, conflict can draw attention to necessary change. On the other hand, conflict can act as a driver for; building better relationships between groups; developing more precise organizational structures; and strengthening organizational behavior integrity. Attendees will understand how dangerous unrecognized conflicts can be and learn to develop systems of conflict identification, assessment, and resolution. Case studies offered for discussions have been tailored to real relationships that arise in everyday business situations.

Strategic Marketing

This course introduces key marketing strategies and their implementation. The main objectives of the course are to:

- Study specifics of strategic marketing.
- Learn key marketing strategies.
- Analyze different methods of estimating a product's and company's competitiveness.

Fundamentals of Human Resource Management

The objective of this course is to provide practical skills and general knowledge to deal with human resource issues within an organization. At the same time the topic covers the current discourse and trends related to human resource management at both the strategic and international level and provides easy access to these issues for both managers and non-experts.

Total Quality Management (TQM)

This course introduces modern techniques of operations management based on TQM principles, including the development of systems necessary to realize managerial goals and objectives. The course objective is to provide attendees with practical skills and knowledge to design and build Quality Management and Quality Assurance systems and to conduct external and internal quality audits. TQM principles and procedures as well as a variety of TQM document samples will support organization TQM monitoring in compliance with ISO standards.

Team Building

Successful teamwork can result in the group's performance being greater than the sum of the individual team member's performances. What differentiates a 'team' from other groups is the successful interaction and cooperation between team members who share and coordinate their experiences, skills, knowledge corporate values and aspirations.

Legal and Regulatory Issues on Tenders

This course is designed for professionals who represent state organizations, (any legal entities with more than 50% of their shares belonging to the government and those affiliated with legal entities) and who deal with the organization of tenders. The course covers the major issues related to tenders: legislation and regulations; amendments and changes to the "Law on Tenders"; tender documentation development procedures/maintenance/security and archiving. As well, different types of tender will be discussed: open/closed competition; one source tender; and tender via open merchant exchange.

Finance and Accounting for Non –Financial Managers

This course provides an introduction to finance and accounting principles as well as managerial accounting basics in compliance with International Financial Reporting System standards. The course is designed for accountant/finance freshmen, line managers and those interested in the use of accounting and finance data to enhance decision making. The objective of the course is to instill an understanding of accounting methodologies, procedures; balance sheets; income and cash flow statement development and interpretation and its use to analyze financial performance.

Investment Analysis

The purpose of this course is to introduce investment alternatives that are available today and develop an approach to analyze and attract investments. The course involves both theory and application. The course discusses available investment instruments and considers the purpose and operation of capital markets around the world. The theoretical part details tools of evaluating current investments and future opportunities to develop a portfolio of investments that will satisfy risk-return objectives.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Statement of Purpose

The College promotes understanding about society, its structure, its relationship to both the state and the marketplace, and the means by which information is disseminated throughout society. The College accomplishes its purpose by:

- developing graduates who are independent and highly qualified critical thinkers, who are well prepared for graduate social sciences study in English, and who can become the future leaders of the public and private sectors, including news media, in a modern Kazakhstan;
- conducting and disseminating applied and academic research for the betterment of Kazakhstan and Central Asia more generally; and
- contributing, through our graduates, to the securing of the foundations for democratic government, strong civil society, good laws and fair law enforcement in the region.

Mission Statement

The goal of the College is to aid in the building of civil society in Kazakhstan and, through our graduates who move beyond its borders, in Central Asia and elsewhere. The College strives to play a significant role in promoting societal and political liberalization throughout the region, thereby contributing to the quality of people's lives both materially and culturally.

The Strategy for achieving the mission is to develop and disseminate knowledge of diversified human economic, social and political experience relevant to Central Asia. We recognize that life is complex and that not all the situations our graduates will face will be easily understood. That's why we prepare them to think analytically and critically about past and present human experience at the individual, group national and global level. That is also why we provide our students with the values, the basic analytical knowledge and techniques, and the employment-relevant and problem-solving skills they needed to be able to address both the anticipated and the unknown challenges that lie ahead in the twenty-first century. Our students are prepared for a wide variety of graduate programs in the social sciences and for career opportunities in business, journalism, government, social services and education.

We want all our students to experience a vibrant academic community, one in which they have opportunities:

- to mix with foreign exchange and visiting field-work students;
- to learn from, and to be mentored by our well qualified and experienced foreign and local faculty and visiting professors;
- to study abroad for credits at one of our world-class partner universities; and
- to be paid teaching and research assistance working with faculty committed to delivering high quality teaching and learning, and research.

Profile

The College is a union of four disciplines that range from classical social science theory to professionally oriented curricula. The faculty is a mix of both foreign faculty and Kazakhstani faculty. Not only are the faculty academically qualified but they possess a wealth of professional experience which is important in developing and mentoring the professionals of the future.

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

Department Chair

Eldar Madumarov, PhD

Office № 507 (Valikhanov Building)

Tel: +7 (727) 270-42-71, ext. 3071

e-mail: madumarov@kimep.kz

Mission Statement

The Department of Economics provides global-standard education in economics. The Department is a center of education with relevance to the region and beyond.

The Department's core mission is to train students to comprehend the structure and functioning of the global economy, national economies, and reach a deep understanding of local social, business, and economic policy issues. The goal is to enable students to compete on an equal footing with graduates from top-ranking departments anywhere in the world. The graduates of Economics program lead and support decision making processes at all levels in business and government, by providing them theoretical and empirical frameworks of analysis, conceptual apparatus, and state-of-the-art techniques, to transcend cultural boundaries and parochialism.

The Department prepares students for a wide range of career choices in business and government, financial institutions – private and public – and non-governmental organizations as well as multilateral institutions. The Department provides students with educational and professional development via a choice of courses and specializations, such that they can match their educational profile to the career they wish to pursue. The greatest strength of our education in economics lies, however, in the flexibility with which our students can apply themselves, with rigor and clarity of thinking, by developing a framework of coherent investigation for each specific, new problem they may face.

Degree Programs

The Department of Economics offers a Bachelor of Economics (BAE) at the undergraduate level, a Master of Economics (MAE) at the graduate level, and a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Economics degree at the postgraduate level.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS

Department Chair

Sholpan Kozhamkulova, PhD

Office № 414 (Valikhanov building)

Tel.: +7 (727) 270-42-96, ext. 3110

e-mail: sholpank@kimep.kz

Mission Statement

The Department of Media and Communications offers the skills and understanding needed for success in professional communication, in such fields as Public Relations, online and print Journalism, Management of media organizations, and Broadcasting. In an age of Internet-propelled change, effective communication is essential. We are the leading program in Central Asia for preparing students for professional and academic excellence. Courses are taught in English, giving graduates the strong language skills that help them achieve their dreams around the world.

The Department offers international-level opportunities to aspiring communication specialists. We have strong ties with Journalism, Broadcast and Public Relations leaders, both internationally and in Kazakhstan. This helps our graduates gain key positions in a full range of media companies. Beyond media employment, many graduates become leaders in commercial, governmental and non-governmental organizations, which increasingly demand communication and media expertise.

At the same time, the Department prepares students for academic prominence. Our graduates earn Ph.D.s in leading Western universities. Analytical and research skills, valued by employers all over the world, are a central part of each course.

Students learn from highly qualified international professors with a wealth of both professional and academic experience. Instructors from Kazakhstan combine Western training with extensive local knowledge. The DMC department is strongly student-focused and supportive. We treat each student as an individual, helping them complement practical skills with a superb knowledge base. Departmental facilities are exceptional, giving graduates outstanding hands-on skills and problem-solving abilities.

The Department of Media and Communications is Kazakhstan's leader in professional communication education at an international level. It has been conditionally accredited by the American Communications Association (ACA). We are committed to the success and satisfaction of our students, and to the development of Kazakhstan in an interconnected world of information.

Degree Programs

The Department of Media and Communications offers a Bachelor of Journalism and a Master of International Journalism.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Department Chair

Gerald Pech, PhD

Office № 503/505 (Valikhanov Bld.)

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Public Administration is to deliver international-standard education and research in public policy, administration, and management relevant to Kazakhstan and the Central Asian region.

The department's operational goals are:

- to educate Kazakhstani and Central Asian professionals for future leadership in government, business, and the NGO sector;
- to provide students with the analytical and practical skills needed for them to be successful researchers, policymakers, and managers; and
- to foster within students an ethos of public service and active citizenship.

The Department realizes its goals through a diverse and highly qualified local and foreign faculty and support staff. It offers an interdisciplinary range of courses in areas such as financial management, public administration, environment, health, and education, while encouraging students in a broad range of research endeavors of their own choice. Its program is rounded out through a Public Administration Internship which places candidates in their choice of public, private, and non-government organizations, including the Parliament of Kazakhstan. Graduates of the Department of Public Administration are accepted into top Western universities.

The Department is an institutional member of various organizations, such as the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), the Network of Asia-Pacific Schools and Institutes of Public Administration and Governance (NAPSIPAG), and the Network of Institutes and Schools of Public Administration in Central and Eastern Europe (NISPAcee). The membership in NISPAcee qualifies the Department to apply for accreditation of its programs by the European Association for Public Administration Accreditation (EAPAA).

Degree Programs

The Department of Public Administration offers a Bachelor of Public and Municipal Administration for undergraduate students, a Master of Public and Municipal Administration for post graduate students and a Doctor of Philosophy in Public and Municipal Administration for doctoral students. Both BPMA and MPMA programs of the department are accredited by the European Association for Public Administration Accreditation (EAPAA). KIMEP University is the first institution in Central Asia to achieve this recognition. The accreditation is valid for a period of seven years with effect from September 2012.

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND REGIONAL STUDIES

Department Chair
Nygmet Ibadildin, PhD
Office # 204 (Valikhanov building)
Tel: +7 (727) 270-42-12

Mission Statement

The Department of International Relations and Regional Studies is designed to produce graduates capable of taking on leadership roles in the challenging arena of world affairs, including positions within the diplomatic corps, multinational corporations, education and non-governmental organizations. Our multidisciplinary program provides a cutting-edge, well-rounded education, modeled on and delivered according to the highest international standards. Our program of study has received international recognition from top programs – the Department is a member of the international consortium of universities and offers a joint Master's degree - the Erasmus Mundus International Master in Central, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies program and Glasgow University, UK is a main coordinator of this program. By closely cooperating with KIMEP-based research institutes, like the Central Asian Studies Center (CASC), the Department is establishing itself as an internationally-recognized base of excellence in research and the training of future scholars. Advisory board of the department consists of the professionals in the field, academicians, alumni and best students of the department and it is active in sharing ideas and projects with faculty and students.

Objectives

The Objectives of the Department are:

- To train professionals capable of taking on challenging jobs and playing leadership roles in the international arena, as diplomats, consular agents, communications officers, international affairs analysts and advertising specialists; and
- To provide a solid foundation for future scholars who want to pursue graduate study and research in international relations and related fields in the social sciences and humanities.
- To foster students' critical and analytical thinking and to expand their linguistic, technical, research and communication skills.
- To analyze the core fields and sub-fields in the discipline through innovative teaching
- To develop student/faculty collaboration that allows students to attain the political literacy necessary for good citizenship.
- To help students understand the concepts, theories and methodologies used in the disciplines so that students can integrate theoretical knowledge and practical experience.

Degree Programs

The Department of International Relations and Regional Studies offers a Bachelor of International Relations (BIR) for undergraduate students and a Master in International Relations (MIR) for postgraduate students.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Statement of Purpose

The School of Law provides undergraduate and graduate education in national and international law. It prepares students to take leadership and management roles in the development of the business economy, legal practice community and civil society in Kazakhstan and Central Asia.

Mission

The mission of the School of Law is to provide students with a deep understanding of substantive Kazakhstani and international law, and of the role that national and international law play in the development of orderly and successful societies. In addition, the School will provide students with the skills necessary to apply that law to solve business, individual and societal problems. The fundamental principle guiding the School of Law and the courses in its curriculum is the Rule of Law. The School seeks to produce the next generation of leaders in legal practice, government, and international organizations. Accomplishing this mission necessitates a reconstruction of how law is taught and applied in Kazakhstan and Central Asia.

Profile

The School of Law incorporates the best academic practices in teaching and scholarship as adopted by leading law schools throughout the world. The School stresses innovative courses and teaching methodology, legal research and publication, and education in non-legal disciplines to deepen understanding of the law. The School's objective is to create the foremost School of Law in Central Asia.

The School of Law teaches by transmitting knowledge required to understand each field, instilling in students critical thinking skills, and developing practical skills to apply law to solve legal and social problems. Because of their unique training that integrates theory and the practice of law, graduates of the KIMEP School of Law will have a competitive advantage when they work for internationally recognized law firms, consulting firms, accounting firms or multinational corporations as well as for smaller law firms and individual clients.

Faculty

The Faculty of the School of Law consists of foreign and local scholars and practitioners. The School of Law stresses high-quality teaching and aspires to advance knowledge through the development of research. Faculty members are actively engaged in research both in law and in related fields. The faculty publishes articles in international and national peer-reviewed journals and engages in the publication of books in their fields of expertise.

Degree Programs

The School of Law offers two undergraduate programs: Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of International Law and one graduate program: Master of International Law. In addition, the School of Law offers a Minor in Law to undergraduate students enrolled in other KIMEP colleges.

LEGAL CLINIC

KIMEP Legal Clinic is a non-profit academic unit of the School of Law of KIMEP University serving the public interest. The Clinic is a provider of free legal services to the underserved and disadvantaged in Almaty area and the Republic of Kazakhstan (online consultations). Supervised by Law School faculty members and practicing attorneys, law students interview clients, write legal memoranda, solve cases, draft documents, do all necessary paperwork to apply for different aid programs for their clients and also represent the clients in government agencies. Currently, academic internship of law students is conducted exclusively on the platform of KIMEP Legal Clinic.

Profile

The work of the College of Humanities and Education is multifaceted. It provides university-wide academic English and writing courses, as well as language and general education courses, and pre-credential Foundation English courses for undergraduate and graduate students. The courses are aimed at improving English language proficiency and honing the verbal skills required for future academic and professional success. More specifically, the College is tasked with developing students' abilities to think and read critically and to write and speak effectively and persuasively, both in an academic and in a social context. Student-centeredness is our core value; students are given the opportunity to practice and develop in a supportive environment using constructive feedback.

Mission

The College of Humanities and Education supports the university's mission by providing opportunities for our students to develop proficiency in English and English academic literacy, critical thinking, and communicative skills in multiple languages, as well as the knowledge of language pedagogy, translation studies, linguistics, literature and appreciation of arts expected of culturally literate citizens. Our mission is:

- To promote quality language education through teacher training, research and its dissemination, and through improving standards for instruction.
- To help students build a solid foundation for successful careers in many fields that rely on effective communication, translation/interpreting and other multilingual skills.
- To develop students' discipline-based skills as well as transferrable and marketable skills necessary for lifelong learning, critical thinking, and engaged citizenship within local and global society.
- To promote academic excellence by involving students in creating, comprehending, and interpreting different kinds of texts in various media.
- To reinforce the crucial role of the humanities in instilling critical thinking and creativity.
- To imbue students with the university's values of academic integrity and work ethic, responsibility, transparency and accountability, and engaged citizenship.

Center for Educational Excellence

College of Humanities and Education houses Center for Educational Excellence (CEE). The aim of this center is to provide a life-long professional development, internship and re-qualification for professionals in the field of education. The CEE strives to enhance the quality of learning, teaching, scholarship and educational management by being a change agent supporting the transformation of the Kazakhstan's system of education.

CEE offers professional development in three main areas:

Excellence in Educational Leadership – training educational managers (Rectors, Deans, School Principals, administrators, etc.) to develop their capacity to guide effective change within major educational reforms in Kazakhstan. The special focus will be on program evaluation, international accreditation process and organizational change.

Excellence in Teaching and Learning – training university instructors primarily and school teachers to enhance the quality of education in Kazakhstan’s higher education institutions and schools. The program aims to promote evidence-based pedagogical practices that foster student academic engagement, learning, and success. Special focus will be on English-medium instruction and multilingual education.

Excellence in Research – training young researchers to increase their research capacity in aspects such as advanced-level academic writing, research design, data collection and analysis, dissemination of data and scholarly publishing.

World Languages and Preparatory Program

College’s commercial unit World Languages and Preparatory Program provides its customers with a wide range of high quality language courses (English, Kazakh, Russian, and other languages), language clubs and preparatory courses for exams required for local and international study such as KGET, KTA, TOEFL, IELTS, SAT, and GRE.

PART VIII. DEGREE PROGRAMS

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

GENERAL EDUCATION PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

The courses are offered by the departments that are most in line with the specific area of general education. General Education courses will still refer to the goals and objectives that are listed under this section.

Mission

General Education develops the foundation skills necessary for functioning in complex local and global environments. General Education courses foster those skills necessary to acquire knowledge, comprehend complex material, think critically and creatively, formulate ideas, evaluate moral and ethical issues, consider different and sometimes conflicting perspectives, derive solutions to problems and communicate effectively throughout the process.

Goals and Objectives

The experiences of General Education encourage students to develop a critical and inquiring attitude, an appreciation of the interdisciplinary nature of subject areas, acceptance of persons of different backgrounds or values, and a deepened sense of self. In their lives and in their careers, students must be prepared to grasp complex problems, develop a global perspective on the diversity of human experience and knowledge, responds to changing demands, and articulate innovative responses and solutions. GE seeks to grow students’:

- Creative and intellectual engagement.
- Civic, personal and social responsibility.
- Dedication to lifelong learning to enable them to thrive in a knowledge-intensive economy and a society where new ideas are essential for progress.

Intended Learning Outcomes

The goals of the General Education program as well as the measurable learning outcomes are driven by the mission of KIMEP. These goals reflect the philosophy of a balanced education that prepares students for decision-making, leadership and lifelong learning. After completing the General Education program, a student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate analytical skills.
2. Demonstrate effective problem solving and critical thinking skills.
3. Demonstrate awareness of topics in history, geography, and economy.
4. Demonstrate awareness of ethical and philosophical topics.
5. Demonstrate awareness of topics in political science.
6. Demonstrate awareness of topics in psychology
7. Demonstrate knowledge and skills in information technology

PHYSICAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS (4 credits)

Students should take the Physical Education required courses.

GENERAL RULES

The Ministerial course requirements apply to all undergraduate degree students (including students from outside Kazakhstan). Non-degree students (including non-degree international exchange students) are exempt from these Ministerial requirements, as they are not seeking a KIMEP undergraduate degree. Anyway, if non-degree students later decide to enroll as regular students, they will be required to take the courses required by the Ministry of Education in order to complete their programs.

The General Education curriculum consists of preparatory courses that develop the skills necessary to succeed in other core courses. These courses include English, Kazakh, Introduction to Computers and Modern History of Kazakhstan. They must be completed in the first year of study to ensure that students are prepared to do well in more challenging courses. For some of them there are course options that are designed specifically for students in certain fields.

Students should complete GEN1000 Modern History of Kazakhstan during the first year of their study at KIMEP. Sections of this course taught in Russian and Kazakh are available, although students are strongly encouraged to take the course in English.

Students (except non-degree international exchange students) must study two semesters of Kazakh language. The program in Kazakh includes suitable courses at various levels, from beginner to advance, for students who enter with different levels of Kazakh proficiency. Students should read the course descriptions in order to ensure that they choose the right level. Kazakh instructors will offer assistance in the first week of classes in order to confirm the choice of level.

After all preparatory courses have been completed, students are encouraged to make regular progress on the other advanced General Education courses, such as their data analysis course, arts courses and Principles of Ethics or Introduction to Philosophy by taking at least two General Education courses per semester, or as specifically recommended by a student's department of major, until all requirements have been completed.

The following general rules and procedures apply to the State Exam for “Modern History of Kazakhstan“ in effect at KIMEP U from Spring 2013:

1. State Exam for “Modern History of Kazakhstan” is conducted during the final examination period based on the approved academic calendar.
2. All students enrolled in any bachelor program are required to take the State Exam for “History of Kazakhstan” after the full completion of the course and at the same semester.
3. The Department of International Relations under the supervision of CSS Dean's Office, and in cooperation with Office of Academic Affairs organizes state Exam preparation work.
4. The Faculty Members who are teaching the course are responsible for developing a unified course structure including content, assessment scheme, and syllabus. These must follow Ministerial standards, and must be approved by the KIMEP Academic Council.
5. The State Exam conducted in written form, counts as the course final exam.
6. The Membership of the State Examination Commission is formed for the one academic year, and should be approved by the President of KIMEP University. The candidate for the Chair of the State Examination Commission should be sent to the relevant state organ at the latest by November 1, and be approved by the MES at the latest by December 1.
7. The Office of the Registrar must schedule the meeting of State Examination Commission. This meeting's purpose is to ratify and approve those students eligible to take the State Exam. This meeting must take place two weeks before the State Exam date, and its duration must not exceed 6 hours.
8. The minutes (online protocol) of State Examination Commission meeting should be prepared for each individual student. The signed original hard copies should be submitted to the Office of Registrar in the Ministerial required format (numbered, officially bound, and stamped). The other copies should be kept in the Department of International Relations.
9. The grading system for State Exam is the same as that used at KIMEP University.
10. If a student has failed the State Exam for “Modern History of Kazakhstan” s/he must retake the course. To retake the course, a student should pay registration and tuition fee just as for the other courses. The student must attend class sessions (lectures) and complete all assignments and exams, the same as if s/he was taking the course for the first time. The student may not recycle assignments or exam scores from a previous enrollment, nor can a student use current assignments or exam grades to raise a grade from the previous semester. To retake the course for the third time a student needs the approval of the dean of the student's enrolled college. A forth and subsequent retake require the approval of Vice President of Academic Affairs.
11. If a student receives a passing grade (at least D-) on State Exam for “Modern History of Kazakhstan” s/he is not permitted to retake the course.

12. If a student feels that a grade is incorrect s/he should go through an official process (write an official appeal request and submit to State Examination Commission for future consideration).
13. The Chair of State Examination Commission is responsible for preparation of the State Exam report. The report should be approved by KIMEP Academic Council, and to be sent to the MES during the period of one month after State Exam's completion.
14. Credits for "Modern History of Kazakhstan" taken at other institutions of higher education will only be transferred if the student has earned a "C" or higher grade in the state exam.

Physical Education

The undergraduate academic curriculum includes physical education courses that adhere to the current legislative standards of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Physical Education courses are compulsory and not included in the GE curriculum. Physical education (PE) emphasizes the development of physical skills; improvement in physical self- education, shaping the need for regular physical activities, and the acquisition of knowledge that contributes to a healthy lifestyle.

A total of 4 credits in physical education need to be completed in order to earn a bachelor degree. Special arrangements have been made for students with disabilities and other health-related conditions.

Math Study Support

A Math Study Support is available to provide assistance to students who need help in mathematics. The lab -is open to all KIMEP students regardless of the courses in which they are enrolled. The lab has several computers with self-teaching software that can give students practice in solving math problems. Tutors are also available who can provide help in understanding math concepts.

GENERAL EDUCATION FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS FROM INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Students who have completed general education course requirements at other institutions of higher education may transfer these courses subject to the following conditions:

1. Course being transferred must be sufficiently similar in content to KIMEP University course description.
2. A grade of "C" or higher must be earned for any course being transferred.
3. Any course being transferred must have at least the number of credits as the corresponding KIMEP University GE courses
4. No letter grade is assigned to transferred courses, meaning such courses do not figure into the calculation of grade point average.
5. Credits for "History of Kazakhstan" will only be transferred if the student has earned a "C" or higher grade in the state exam.

General Education course completion

Please note:

A student must have fulfilled his/her General Education requirements by the completion of 60 credits or, if he/she has not completed the required GE courses at the 60-credit point, he/she must be enrolled in GE concurrent with other courses; and a student must have totally completed all GE courses by 75 credit hours. If a student has not completed his/her GE by 75 credit hours, the student will be limited to taking only GE courses until the GE requirement has been met. GE required courses are offered in Fall and Spring only.

UNDERGRADUATE LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

Although English is the medium of instruction at KIMEP University, it is not an admission criterion. The university admits students on academic merit and the College of Humanities and Education supports them in reaching the level of English that is essential for success in their studies. As part of the admission process, students must take an English proficiency test. Usually students will take the KIMEP Entrance Placement Test (KEPT), which is administered by KIMEP.

New students except those who have a valid TOEFL or IELTS certificate must take a placement test (KEPT) prior to the start of classes. The information about dates and testing procedure should be obtained from the Admission Office. The Advising Office in the College of Humanities and Education can provide additional information about testing.

FOUNDATION ENGLISH

Placement in Foundation English Courses

Upon admission to KIMEP, undergraduate students are placed in an English course according to their level of proficiency. This level is ascertained by reference to the KIMEP English Entrance Test (KEPT) or an equivalent instrument, such as a TOEFL or IELTS score. In the Foundation English phase, there are three levels of English, each requiring a total of 225 contact hours. The total number of courses that a student needs to complete will depend on his/her proficiency in English.

The Foundation English courses are as follows:

Course Code	Course Title	Level of Proficiency at entry *	Level of Proficiency upon completion*	Duration in contact hours	Prerequisite
ENG0101	Foundation English Level C	Beginner	A1 +	225 contact hours	Determined by KEPT
ENG0102	Foundation English Level B	A1 +	B1 Mid	225 contact hours	ENG0101 (or requisite KEPT)
ENG0103	Foundation English Level A	B1 Mid	B2 Mid	225 contact hours	ENG0102 (or requisite KEPT)

* Levels are defined in terms of the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR).

 KIMEP English Placement Test

Confirmation of Level

Although the KEPT (or equivalent) is used as the primary reference for placement, new students will receive an assessment during the first week of classes in order to confirm their suitability to the level in which they have been placed. This assessment procedure is recommended for all newly admitted students. After the consultation and the approval of the Dean of the College, an instructor may advise a student to move to a higher or a lower level. All such moves are exclusively in the interests of the student. Students may refuse to move to a higher or lower level but will be required to sign a document in which they take full responsibility for rejecting the advice given. It is possible to skip a level, provided a student takes an external test (such as IELTS) the result of which corresponds to the required level of proficiency upon completion.

Aims of the Foundation English Courses

These courses are KIMEP students' first encounter with university study. The purpose of the courses is, therefore, threefold:

To offer intensive practice in the use of English in all four skill areas (speaking, listening, reading and writing).

To guide students from the outset in the acquisition of effective study methods, sound academic skills, higher-order thinking and problem-solving, and critical thinking.

To support students in taking responsibility for their learning and becoming increasingly independent learners.

Classes are heavily learner-centered and task-based. Great emphasis is placed on encouraging students to realize the crucial importance of diligent study habits both in and outside the classroom. Assessment is continuous and feedback is constructive and frequent.

Course Duration

Each Foundation English course requires 225 contact hours.

Courses offered in the fall, spring and summer semesters run for a semester. At the end of the course a final result is issued and students can then move up to the next level (either a Foundation English course or the first two courses in English for Academic Purposes) or repeat the course, if necessary. The College Advising Coordinator is available to assist students in making appropriate choices.

Concurrent Study

Concurrent enrollment is permitted only within the following guidelines:

Course Code	Students may take concurrently:
ENGO101 Undergraduate Foundation C	Russian or Kazakh Language/History of Kazakhstan /Physical Education
ENGO102 Undergraduate Foundation B	Russian or Kazakh Language, Modern History of Kazakhstan, and/or Physical Education
ENGO103 Undergraduate Foundation A	Russian or Kazakh Language, Modern History of Kazakhstan, Physical Education, and/or Business Computer Applications/Introduction to Computers

No exceptions to the above table will be considered. Students should refer to the Academic Program sections for any restrictions that might apply to courses that can be taken concurrently with ENGO103.

Final Results

Students do not receive a letter grade for Foundation English courses. Instead they receive either a Pass or a Fail. In the event of a Fail, the student must repeat the course. KIMEP's policy on grade appeal applies equally to Foundation English courses. Information on the College of Humanities and Education's appeal procedure can be obtained from the Advising Coordinator of the College in Room 223, Dostyk Building or Executive Assistant in Room 228, Dostyk Building.

ACADEMIC ENGLISH

KIMEP is an English-medium university. A basic knowledge of English is insufficient because the English used in the classroom is academic English. Academic English is different from general English in many significant ways. Because of this, the College of Humanities and Education offers a number of courses in English for Academic Purposes to help students succeed in their studies. Every student must participate in some or all of these courses and receive a passing grade.

After completing (or being exempted from) Foundation English, students proceed to four courses in Academic English. Each course is worth three credits. Details and regulations can be found in the General Education section of this catalog and in the sections dealing with specific programs.

The following four Academic English courses are required:

ENG1110/GEN1110 Academic Listening and Note Taking
ENG1120/GE1120 Academic Reading and Writing 1 (not offered in Summer)
ENG1100/GEN1100 Academic Speaking
ENG1121/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing 2 (not offered in Summer)

The four Academic English courses (ENG1100, ENG1120, ENG1110, and ENG1121) form a sequence. ENG1110 and ENG1120 are normally taken in a student's first semester, and ENG1100 and ENG1121 in a student's second semester. Most academic departments expect a student to have taken and passed these four courses before taking content area courses in the major field. Therefore, it is especially important that students complete these courses in the first year.

ENG 1110 and ENG 1120 form part of the General Education program, whereas ENG1100 and ENG 1121 are located under Basic Disciplines in each academic program. For further details, refer to the General Education section or the specific program.

Students are welcome to approach the College's Advising Coordinator or the Associate Dean for further guidance.

English Completion

Please note:

A student must have fulfilled his/her English requirements by the completion of 30 credits or, if he/she has not completed the required English courses at the 30-credit point, he/she must be enrolled in English concurrent with other courses; and

A student must have totally completed all English courses by 45 credit hours; and

If a student has not completed his/her English by 45 credit hours, the student will be limited to taking only English language courses until the English language requirement has been met.

ENG1120 Academic Reading and Writing 1 (formerly GEB1120) and ENG1121 Academic Reading and Writing 2 (formerly GEN1121) are offered only in Fall and Spring.

KAZAKH LANGUAGE

Because Kazakh is the state language, all Kazakhstani undergraduate students are required to take two courses (six credits) of the general Kazakh language. Only one Kazakh language course is permitted per semester. Kazakhstani students will be given a diagnostic test in the first day of class to determine their level of proficiency and to ensure that they have registered for an appropriate course. Placement is determined by diagnostic tests, interviews and consultations.

In addition to required 6 credits of General Kazakh language, Kazakhstani students should choose one of the professional language courses according to the type of school they attended:

Students who graduated from a Russian-medium school take a course in Professional Kazakh.

Students who graduated from a Kazakh-medium school take a course in Professional Russian.

International students can choose and take 8 credits of Kazakh or Russian.

Because of differences in curriculum requirements, students who started their studies in Fall 2007, or thereafter, receive three credits for a Kazakh course, but pre-Fall 2007 students receive only two credits per course.

The following Kazakh courses are offered to international students:

Course Code	Course Title	Number of credits	Prerequisite
KAZ 1501	Beginning Kazakh	3 credits	no
KAZ 1502	Elementary Kazakh	3 credits	KAZ1501 Beginning Kazakh
KAZ 1504	Pre-Intermediate Kazakh	3 credits	KAZ1502 Elementary Kazakh
KAZ2101	Professional Kazakh 1	2 credits	KAZ1502 Elementary Kazakh or KAZ 1504 Pre-Intermediate Kazakh

The following Kazakh courses are offered to graduates of Russian-medium schools:

Course Code	Course Title	Number of credits	Prerequisite

RUSSIAN LANGUAGE

Students will be given a diagnostic test on the first day of class to determine their level of proficiency and to ensure that they have registered for an appropriate course. Placement is determined by diagnostic tests, interviews and consultations.

The following Russian language courses are offered to international students (except CIS):

Course Code	Course Title	Number of credits	Prerequisite
RUS1301	Beginning Russian	3 credits	None
RUS1302	Elementary Russian	3 credits	RUS1301 Beginning Russian
RUS1304	Pre-Intermediate Russian	3 credits	RUS1302 Elementary Russian
RUS 1306	Intermediate Russian	3 credits	RUS 1304 Pre-Intermediate Russian
RUS 2101	Professional Russian 1	2 credits	RUS1302 Elementary Russian or RUS 1304 Pre-Intermediate Russian

The following Russian language courses are offered to international students from CIS countries:

Course Code	Course Title	Number of credits	Prerequisite

RUS 1306	Intermediate Russian	3 credits	RUS 1304 Pre-Intermediate Russian
RUS1308	Upper Intermediate Russian	3 credits	RUS 1306 Intermediate Russian
RUS 2102	Professional Russian 2	2 credits	RUS1306 Intermediate Russian or RUS1308 Upper-Intermediate Russian

The following courses are offered to graduates of Kazakh medium schools and students from the CIS countries:

Course Code	Course Title	Number of credits	Prerequisite
RUS1308	Upper Intermediate Russian	3 credits	None
RUS2001	Advanced Russian	3 credits	RUS 1308 Upper-Intermediate Russian, or equivalent
RUS3302	Business Communication in Russian	3 credits	RUS2001 Advanced Russian
RUS 2103	Professional Russian 3	2 credits	RUS2001 Advanced Russian or RUS3302 Business Communication in Russian

Kazakh / Russian language completion

Please note:

A student must have fulfilled his/her Kazakh/Russian requirements by the completion of 75 credits. If a student has not completed his/her Kazakh/Russian by 75 credit hours, the student will be limited to taking only Kazakh/Russian language until the Kazakh/Russian language requirement has been met. The College of Humanities and Education's team of advisers will provide support for students themselves or refer students to the appropriate unit at KIMEP, such as the College of Humanities and Education's own Academic Learning Studio or another department at KIMEP. Students will be guided in making the right choice.

Where to go?

If students are in need of advice about studies in any courses offered by the College of Humanities and Education or are unsure where to go for help, they are always welcome to approach the CHW Executive.

ACADEMIC LEARNING STUDIO

The Academic Learning Studio was established by the College of Humanities and Education in order to help students achieve better results in courses and programs offered at KIMEP University. The Studio is a place where students can find many multimedia resources and materials to help them with their language learning and other studies. It is open to all students, from those enrolled in Foundation English to Master's and Doctoral level courses. It works closely with other programs to assist in assignments across the KIMEP curriculum. Support services are offered in English, Kazakh and Russian. Details are available from the Academic Learning Studio (Room 230, Dostyk Building).

BANG COLLEGE OF BUSINESS UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Bang College of Business (BCB) offers the following undergraduate degree programs:

1. Bachelor of Accounting and Auditing (BACTA)
2. Bachelor of Finance (BFIN)
3. Bachelor of Management (BMGT)
4. Bachelor of Marketing (BMKT)
5. Bachelor of Information Systems (BIS)

Common Purpose of Programs

The common purpose of all undergraduate programs is to:

- offer integrated multi-disciplinary curriculum in business administration comparable in terms of quality and standards to programs of leading US and European universities;
- educate and develop business leaders capable of effectively and ethically managing local and international organizations;
- provide students with undergraduate-level, cross-functional knowledge in the areas of Accounting and Auditing, Finance, Management, Marketing and Information System;
- foster students' critical thinking, develop and improve their analytical and communication skills;
- educate undergraduate students the importance of social responsibility and business ethical behavior;
- provide opportunities to apply knowledge and skills and learn the professions through internships and various projects;
- prepare graduates who can make significant contributions to the community, whether in business or in public and non-profit sectors.

Common Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

After successful completion of the bachelor program, students will be able to:

1. describe and articulate key concepts and major paradigms and theoretical perspectives within the chosen specialization;
2. understand the key principles of accounting, finance, management and marketing, and information technology;
3. analyze and solve business problems, using the necessary quantitative and qualitative tools;

9. undertake independent research, involving the synthesis and application of theoretical constructs to topics in the fields of specialization.

BACHELOR PROGRAMS STRUCTURE

To earn an undergraduate degree from the Bang College of Business, a student must earn a minimum of 240 ECTS or equivalent 146 KIMEP.

The following table illustrates a structure of the bachelor program in the Bang College of Business.

Category of Courses	KIMEP credits	ECTS
General Education	36	56
Program Foundation	68	112
Program Specialization	36	60
Final Attestation	6	12
TOTAL	146	240

SPECIALIZATION

Students usually declare a specialization at the second year of study. At the time of declaration, students can choose any specialization that is being offered. The Bang College of Business offers the following specializations:

1. Accounting and Auditing
2. Finance
3. Management
4. Marketing
5. Information Systems

The BCB is responsive to changes in students' interests and there may be additional specializations, majors or minors available in the future. Thus, at the time of declaration, the available options may be different from those stated in the catalog of the year of entry.

Each major and minor sets its own course requirements. In addition to course requirements, some majors may have the Grade Point Average requirements that must be met in order to qualify for the major or minor.

Once a student declares a specialization, major or minor and enrolls to the required courses, the BCB is committed to allowing the student to complete the program under the declared specialization/major/minor. If specialization, major or minor requirements or course availability change before the student graduates, the program office can assist the student in finding substitute courses or in arranging for an independent study.

As a matter of policy, students have the option of completing the specialization, major or minor based on the requirements that are current at the time of graduation.

MAJOR

Students are free to choose a major under the chosen specialization. They can also graduate without majoring. Graduating without majoring provides more flexibility in selecting courses because major requires students to take a particular set of courses.

Descriptions of majors are provided under the each program's sections.

MINOR

The Bang College of Business offers the opportunity to gain minor in different areas for business and non-business students of KIMEP University.

Minors for students of the Bang College of Business

Students are free to choose among different minors. They can also graduate without taking any minor. Graduating without a minor provides more flexibility in selecting elective courses because major requires students to take a particular set of courses.

To gain a minor the BCB students shall take particular courses for a total of 9 KIMEP credits/15 ECTS. A particular course cannot be counted towards both a specialization and a minor.

Table below lists the requirements for Minors for the BCB students.

Students may choose any course necessary to study towards a minor or double major degree and count it towards the KIMEP-wide elective category. They may replace a course in category B with a course from category A of this section.

Program requirements (36 KIMEP credits/60 ECTS)

The BAE program offers three majors: Business Economics, Financial Economics, and Public Policy . Students who want a flexible curriculum may choose to graduate without a major by earning 9 credits from economics elective courses.

Business Economics prepares students for work in the private sector with an emphasis on courses which combine decision theory with the analysis of interaction in markets. Several electives allow a more focused specialization in institutions and organizations in financial markets.

Financial Economics prepares students for work in the financial sector. The courses are designed to meet the qualification profile of financial analysts, risk-performance analysts, investment bankers, investment brokers, and financial consultants.

Public Policy prepares students to work with international organizations such as IMF, World Bank, WTO, newly created Asian Infrastructure Development Bank, multinational organizations, international law firms, financial institutions, government agencies, such as ministry of commerce and trade and research organizations.

BACHELOR OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (BIR) – 6B03101

Mission of the BIR program

Our mission is to prepare leading professionals and scholars in the fields of International Relations while providing students with solid training in the social sciences and liberal arts. After completion of the program, students are expected to be familiar with all aspects of international and comparative politics.

Statement of purpose of the BIR program

The BIR Program is designed to:

- produce graduates capable of taking on leadership roles in the challenging arena of world affairs, including positions within the diplomatic corps, multinational corporations, education and non-governmental organizations.
- offer an integrated multidisciplinary curriculum program that compares favorably in standards and quality to comparable programs in Western universities.

Objectives of the program

The objectives of BIR program are:

1. to train professionals capable of taking on challenging jobs and playing leadership roles in the international arena, as diplomats, consular agents, communications officers, international affairs analysts and advertising specialists; and
2. to provide a solid foundation for future scholars who want to pursue graduate study and research in international relations and related fields in the social sciences and humanities.

⁹ In exceptional circumstances as exhaustively described in GOSO students may be allowed to replace thesis with a written exam.

3. to foster students' critical and analytical thinking and to expand their linguistic, technical, research and communication skills.
4. to analyze the core fields and sub-fields in the discipline through innovative teaching
5. to develop student/faculty collaboration that allows students to attain the political literacy necessary for good citizenship.
6. to help students understand the concepts, theories and methodologies used in the disciplines so that students can integrate theoretical knowledge and practical experience.

Learning objectives

In line with the University's development strategy to 2021, which has at its heart the development of a transparent learning process, learning objectives have been developed. In many respects, the BIR has built this process in advance of the rest of the Institute. The BIR's program's learning objectives are to ensure that graduates have:

A satisfactory level of knowledge of:

- the concepts and theories that inform the field of international relations, political theory, comparative politics and regional studies;
- the nature of the international system and its relationship to individuals, socio-economic and cultural groups, states, international organizations, international law, global civil society, and private multinational corporations;
- the economic perspectives on global, international and regional governance;
- ethics as they apply to international affairs;
- the differences between political systems in terms of constitutional frameworks, social and cultural traditions and practices, and political participation;
- one or more areas of specialization in international and regional studies (including security, natural resources, geopolitics, foreign policy history and decision-making, bilateral relations, diplomacy, and governance of international organizations);

And the necessary cognitive, inter-personal and self-management skills to:

- undertake research that synthesizes, integrates and applies theoretical constructs to define, analyze and address issues in the fields of international relations, comparative politics, and regional studies;
- communicate ideas and information clearly and effectively in oral and written English;
- make appropriate use of information technology for the retrieval, analysis, and presentation of information;
- work effectively with others in the pursuit of common objectives.

Intended learning outcomes

At the successful completion of the program, graduates will be able to:

1. describe and articulate the key concepts, major paradigms and theoretical perspectives within the discipline;
2. appraise the impact of cultural, historical, geographic, and economic factors on the formation of different states, regions and civilizations within the international system;
3. analyze the structure and dynamics shaping the contemporary international system and regional structures such as the European Union, NATO, the Eurasian Economic Union, the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, the Asia Pacific Economic Conference, and others;
4. explain the behavior and interactions of the primary actors within the international system and regional subsystems, so as to be able to explain their impact on state-level policy decision-making, risk assessment and conflict resolution;
5. appraise the structure of political systems and the impact of social classes, ethnic groups, social/political movements and interest groups on the formation of foreign and domestic policy in various states;
6. evaluate the role of global institutions, international law, and fundamental values or ethical considerations in the formulation of foreign and domestic policy;

7. assess the impact of major threats to the global order, including the breakdown of the global financial system, economic and social polarization, geopolitical rivalry, resource scarcity, environmental degradation, terrorism and nuclear proliferation;
8. utilize the skills and knowledge noted above to frame the policies of Kazakhstan and other Central Asian states in a global context;
9. implement basic social scientific research skills oriented towards autonomous and independent learning, critical thinking models and effective communication techniques in the preparation of original compositions in the field of international relations and regional studies; and
10. work effectively with others in the pursuit of common objectives.

Transfer Policy

Credits earned in another program can be transferred to the extent that the course is equivalent to a course in the KIMEP program. For transfers from bachelor to bachelor level course KIMEP rules apply. A department committee decides case by case.

For joint, dual, and multiple degree programs different rules may apply as determined by specific agreements.

CURRICULUM

Program Structure

Like all undergraduate degrees at KIMEP University, the BIR has five study program categories.

To earn a Bachelor of International Relations a student must complete 146 KIMEP credits equivalent to 240 ECTS.

BACHELOR OF PUBLIC AND MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION (BPMA) - 6Bo4101

Statement of Purpose

The purpose of the Bachelor of Public and Municipal Administration at KIMEP is to prepare professionals for careers in the public, non-profit, and private sectors through an intellectual and practical interdisciplinary approach. The program prepares prospective managers with skills that enable them to adapt to changing demands within different sectors.

Learning objectives

The BPMA program equips students with the essential knowledge for professional, managerial, and, ultimately, executive positions in the public, non-profit and private sectors. The program's learning objectives are to ensure that they have a satisfactory level of knowledge of:

- the concepts and theories that have informed the development of public administration, public policy and public management;
- the nature of the public sector and its relationship to government, civil society and the marketplace, and how it can be institutionally arranged and reformed;
- the concepts and theories of public finance (taxation and expenditure), governmental budgeting and financial management;
- the nature of public organizations and impact of their structure and culture on organizational performance; the concepts and theories of motivation, leadership, job design and organizational change that can be applied to improve the performance of public organizations; and
- one or more areas of public policy specialization (including natural resources, urban development, social policy, and environmental policy).

Students also acquire the necessary cognitive, inter-personal and self-management skills to:

- undertake research involving the synthesizing and applying of theoretical constructs to define, analyze and address issues in the fields of public administration, public policy and public management;
- communicate ideas and information clearly and effectively in oral and written English;
- make appropriate use of information technology for the retrieval, analysis and presentation of information; and
- work effectively with others in the pursuit of common objectives.

BPMA Curriculum

To earn a Bachelor Public and Municipal Administration a student must complete 146 KIMEP credits or 240 ECTS.

¹³ In exceptional circumstances as exhaustively described in GOSO students may be allowed to replace thesis with a written exam.

BACHELOR OF JOURNALISM (BJ) – 6Bo32o1

Statement of Purpose

The Department of Media and Communications prepares well-trained communicators, providing them theoretical knowledge and practical, technical and language skills necessary to develop Kazakhstan's media environment. The Bachelor of Journalism (BJ) is a four-year program that primarily enrolls recent high school graduates who want to pursue careers in mass media and mass communication.

Mission

The Bachelor of Journalism program provides theoretical and practical education to prepare undergraduate students for careers or for continuing education at the master's level in media and communications or related fields. Students develop professional skills built on a strong theoretical foundation, which prepares them for success as working professionals or as advanced students in higher education.

Learning Objectives

Students who graduate with a Bachelor of Journalism degree will be prepared to enter employment in media and communication fields including journalism, public relations, or broadcasting, or to related positions outside the media sector. They will also be prepared for further study at the graduate level in media and communication or related fields. This preparation is based on developing theoretical understanding and practical skills, including the abilities to:

- understand and apply key theories and concepts central to the academic fields of media and communication;
- comprehend the role of professional communication in Kazakhstan and the world;
- investigate and become skilled at the practices of media and communication;
- understand and apply ethical standards related to the practices of professional communication;
- learn and apply legal issues related to the practice of communication in Kazakhstan;
- understand the impact of new information technologies on the practice of Public Relations, Management, Broadcasting and Journalism;
- comprehend historical and contemporary practices in CIS and Kazakhstan and in other regions of the world, as well as major social, economic, and political issues affecting those practices;
- develop the analytical skills to critically evaluate verbal and visual communication;
- gain the analytical skills to conceive and produce professional and/or academic communication materials;
- enhance practical skills for effective traditional and online communication;
- learn the skills and understanding needed to conduct journalistic research, using a variety of method; and
- gain practical experience as an intern in a professional communication workplace.

Intended Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of the program, BJ graduates will be able to:

- explain the role of media and communications, and particularly journalism and public relations in society;
- identify and apply theoretical knowledge of media and communications practices;
- apply foundation practices in professional communication, such as writing, planning, analysis, and research;
- follow ethical and professional practices related to media and communications;
- work with legal issues and procedures related to the practice of journalism and mass communication in Kazakhstan;
- manage and explain the role of new information technologies in the practice of mass communication;
- engage with, and advance, communication practices in CIS and Kazakhstan and in other regions of the world, in ways that reflect the major social, economic, and political aspects and impacts of those practices;

- develop the analytical skills needed to critically evaluate professional communication materials and performances;
- master the practical skills needed to conceive, report, and produce news for online, print, broadcast and other media;
- adopt the language, management and technical skills needed to communicate effectively;
- demonstrate understanding of commercial and academic research, including a variety of methods;
- demonstrate the technical skills necessary to communicate effectively in a multimedia environment; and
- undertake at least one semester of work in a mass communication role or field.

Department of Media and Communication policies

Advanced undergraduate students may enroll in graduate-level courses for undergraduate credit with permission of the Department. The content of such courses must not substantially duplicate the content of a course the student has previously taken or is currently taking.

Any BJ student may use any offered JMC course for which she/he meets prerequisites to fulfill any JMC elective requirement, regardless of whether that course is specifically listed in that student’s catalog.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS (36 KIMEP credits / 60 ECTS)

The BAJ program offers two majors: Digital Journalism & Public Relations

Students who want a flexible curriculum may choose to graduate without a major. In that case, Major Required Courses should be treated as Program Elective Courses and selected with the advice of DMC faculty.

Digital Journalism is designed for students who want to work as journalists, or as specialists in other fields applying the knowledge and skills required of journalists in a digital environment. Students develop skills in effectively identifying, gathering information, and telling compelling factual stories in a digital media environment. .

Public Relations is designed to prepare students to become well-rounded online and offline communicators. They will learn to establish mutually beneficial relationships between organizations and their stakeholders. Students will learn to develop the image, reputation and the brand of a person or an organization. They will learn communication skills needed to advise management, set policies, and plan and execute strategic campaigns.

Internships in the Department of Media and Communications

Internships provide students with opportunity to gain work experience in organizations such as media outlets, communication and PR agencies, production and film studios, corporate media, non-government organizations and government agencies and to acquire marketable skills in the areas of their specialization. BJ students are required to complete 6 total credits of internship.

Prerequisite Courses and Program Progression

Students are strongly advised to take courses that serve as prerequisites for other courses at the earliest possible time in their academic careers. There are many upper-level courses which cannot be taken by students who have not taken the required prerequisite. These courses include: JMC 2605, Media and Society; JMC 2608, Introduction to Public Relations; JMC 2615/JMC 3201, Media Writing. In general, students should try to take 1000-level courses in the first year of study; 2000-level courses the second year; and 3000-level and 4000-level courses in the final two years of study.

THE SCHOOL OF LAW UNDEGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The School of Law offers the following undergraduate (LL.B.) programs that qualify graduates to pursue post-graduate studies as well as to practice law in Kazakhstan and to work at the international level:

1. Bachelor of Laws
2. Bachelor of International Law

Description

The Bachelor of Laws program is designed to provide its students with a comprehensive education in law that will enable them to acquire both theoretical knowledge and practical skills. In accordance with current international best practices, the KIMEP degree will integrate the study of Kazakhstan's substantive law with critical thinking and problem solving skills, and with drafting, negotiating and advocacy skills. As a result, students who earn the KIMEP degree will be well-trained, highly effective lawyers and business people, who upon graduation will be well prepared to practice law in Kazakhstan. The Bachelor of Laws program requires that students complete 146 credits of education. If the student takes 18 credits per academic semester, the program may be completed within four academic years.

The Bachelor of International Law program provides a high-quality education on the legal regulation of inter-State relations, of private relations between natural persons and legal entities, and of business relations between partners resident in different jurisdictions. This knowledge and correspondent skills enables graduates to become effective lawyers in the public and private practice areas. In particular, graduates of the Bachelor of International Law program should be suited to practicing public and private international law at relevant State organs, international inter-governmental and non-governmental organizations, at private companies, and law and consultancy firms. The Bachelor of International Law program requires that students complete 146 credits of education. If the student takes 18 credits per academic semester, the program may be completed within four academic years.

Program Objectives

The Program Objectives of the Bachelor of Laws program are:

- To train students to enter positions that require legal knowledge so that they become leaders in the Kazakhstan legal field by developing professional competencies of:
 - applying statutes and regulations, particularly in civil and business-related law;

 - communicating and negotiating with lawyers from other legal systems; and
 - representing clients in all legal fora and providing counsel.
- To provide a foundation for future legal scholars to pursue graduate studies in law, particularly the development of legal research skills.
- To foster students' critical and analytical thinking and to expand their linguistic, technical, research and communication skills.
- To instill a sense of professional ethics that will allow them to resolve professional ethical dilemmas.

The Program Objectives of the Bachelor of International Law are:

- To train students to take up positions that require legal knowledge in the areas of public and private international relations by developing professional competencies of:
 - applying international treaties and other sources of international law, national laws and other normative legal acts in a variety of areas;
 - drafting legal documents, including treaties, laws, statutes and regulations in both English and Russian;
 - communicating and negotiating with lawyers from other legal systems; and
 - representing clients in all legal fora and providing counsel.
- To provide a foundation for future legal scholars to pursue graduate studies in law, particularly the development of legal research skills.
- To foster students' critical and analytical thinking and to expand their linguistic, technical, research and communication skills.
- To instill a sense of professional ethics that will allow them to resolve professional ethical dilemmas.

Teaching Objectives

The objectives of the Bachelor of Laws program are:

- Prognosticate trends in the development of public and private international law by means of the comparative legal method;
- Express themselves clearly on topics of public and private international law in Kazakh, Russian and English, orally and in writing;
- Correctly interpret and apply normative legal acts, and provide legal advice
- Perform legal work individually and in a team

Language Policy

The Bachelor of Laws is taught primarily in English. However, instructors may use presentations and handouts in Kazakh/Russian and refer to Kazakh/Russian language legal and legislative sources. Textbooks may also be in Russian.

The Bachelor of International Law degree is taught almost exclusively in English, the official language of most conventional multilateral sources of international law and of a wealth of international legal doctrine. Students are expected to have acquired near-native professional English language proficiency by the time of their graduation.

High-level English language proficiency will enable graduates of the Bachelor of International Law program to have a distinct competitive advantage when working in their chosen professional fields. However, students must also understand the technical legal terms, and to apply Kazakhstan’s national law in advising clients and representing them in judicial proceedings in Kazakhstan.

Russian may be used as the primary language of instruction in the following practice-oriented courses (other courses may be taught primarily in Russian upon Academic Council decisions):

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The College of Humanities and Education offers the following undergraduate programs:

Bachelor in Foreign Language (BAFL)
 Bachelor in Translation Studies (BATS)
 Bachelor in Cognitive Sciences (BACS)

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE: TWO FOREIGN LANGUAGES (BAFL) - 6Bo1701

Statement of Purpose

The B.A. in Foreign Languages (BAFL) is designed to equip students with a high level of language proficiency in two languages, along with sound intercultural competence, and to develop skills for a wide range of career opportunities. The program includes a strong liberal arts component, a carefully planned sequence of professional courses, and the opportunity to minor in another discipline. The program combines the academic study of language and communication with practical training in foreign language teaching, and emphasizes leadership ability in curriculum development and instruction. This prepares students for a wide range of careers in the academic, corporate, administrative, and non-governmental sectors, including publishing, media, business, digital industries, etc.

Mission Statement

The B.A. in Foreign Languages shall:

- Prepare highly competent language professionals for field-related careers in Kazakhstan and abroad;
- Provide an early entry into the job market, as well as further learning prospects in the humanities and social sciences;
- Equip students with the necessary knowledge and skills of literary appreciation, linguistics and applied linguistics analysis;
- Encourage students to use modern technology that can enhance their language education and careers.

Program Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

At the end of the program, students are expected to:

ILO1 Demonstrate effective operational proficiency in English (CERF level B2-C1) and be independent users of a second foreign language (CERF level B1);

ILO2 Demonstrate effective communication skills and proficiency in oral, written, and professional English in a variety of social and academic contexts;

ILO3 Demonstrate core academic knowledge of major literary texts in English and in their second foreign/professional language;

ILO4 Show understanding of the properties and analysis of human language;

ILO5 Show a broad and coherent understanding of contexts and processes of language learning and teaching;

ILO6 Apply high-level thinking skills in planning, delivering, and reflecting on instruction as well assessing teaching and learning;

ILO7 Apply ethical standards to the teaching/ learning practice;

ILO8 Demonstrate cultural competence and show openness to, and respect for, diverse cultures and backgrounds;

ILO9 Adapt and transfer a range of subject specific and generic skills, including high order conceptual, research, critical, and lifelong learning skills of value in graduate studies and/or employment.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN TRANSLATION STUDIES (BATS) - 6Bo2301

Statement of purpose

BA in Translation Studies is designed for students who aspire to learn how to generate original or translated content that effectively communicates ideas and messages to a variety of audiences. The program instructs students in the art of translation and interpreting, and trains students to accurately reproduce cultural, economic, legal, and technical texts in English/Russian/Kazakh. The program aims to improve students' command of English and of a second foreign language, by developing their lexical repertoire and polishing their writing style. The program emphasizes critical thinking, operative communication skills and strong interpersonal skills that empower students to be adaptable communicators with real world experience. It also provides the opportunity to deepen mastery of specific skill sets through minoring in PR, Public Administration, Law, Marketing, International Relations, etc. This prepares students for a wide range of careers in the academic, corporate, administrative, and non-governmental sectors, including publishing, media, business, digital industries, etc.

BA in Translation Studies shall:

Prepare highly competent language professionals for field-related careers in Kazakhstan and abroad;

- Provide an early entry into the job market, as well as open further learning prospects in the humanities and social sciences;
- Equip our students with the necessary knowledge and skills of translation and interpretation, literary appreciation, and linguistics analysis;
- Encourage the students to use modern technology that can enhance their language education and careers.

Program learning outcomes

Students of this program will be able to:

- ILO1 Demonstrate effective operational proficiency in English (CERF level B2-C1) and be independent users of a second foreign language (CERF level B1);
- ILO2 Demonstrate effective communication skills and proficiency in oral, written, and professional English in a variety of social and academic contexts and genres;
- ILO3 Demonstrate core academic knowledge of major literary texts in English and in their second foreign/professional language;
- ILO4 Show comprehensive understanding of the properties and analysis of human language, and the theories and practice of language use;
- ILO5 Show comprehension of current theoretical thinking and linguistic theories on translation, and their relation to the practice of translation;
- ILO6 Demonstrate ability to draw on extra-linguistic knowledge to make sound decisions in translation;
- ILO7 Demonstrate an accurate and faithful translation/interpretation in a target text.
- ILO8 Demonstrate accuracy in translation/interpretation at all linguistic levels (phonemic, morphological, syntactic, semantic, and pragmatic);
- ILO9 Show openness to and respect for the variety of cultures, religions and political affiliations that they come in contact with;
- ILO10 Adapt and transfer a range of subject specific and generic skills, including high order conceptual, research, critical, and lifelong learning skills of value in graduate studies and/or employment.

Bachelor of Arts in Translation Studies (BATS) Curriculum

Requirements for the BA in Translation Studies are as follows:

Total for program: 146 course credits (240 ECTS)

MINORS

To complete minor requirements students must take four courses (12 credits/20 ECTS).

The prerequisite is completion of all four Academic English courses with minimum grade “B+”.

MINOR IN TRANSLATION

The Minor in Translation complements academic majors by providing students with specialized training that is essential in a globalizing world. Students receive a thorough grounding in the theory and practice of translation, including:

- translation history
- translation theory
- professional terminology
- grammatical analysis
- textual analysis
- vocabulary building
- systematic research
- team-work

Students begin the Minor by taking the TRN 2101 Introduction to Translation course. To qualify, a student must have completed (or tested out of) all five Foundation-level English courses. The student must also demonstrate a certain level of proficiency in Russian. Subject to approval by the program coordinator, students who do not speak Russian but who are proficient in Kazakh or another Central Asian or European language may also qualify. A student must earn a minimum grade of “B” in TRN 2101 before moving on to third- and fourth-level electives. All students complete the Minor with TRN 4103, a senior translation project which they develop in consultation with their instructors or with the program coordinator.

All translation courses except the Senior Project are also open for students who are not pursuing a Minor. For a third-level translation course, the prerequisite is proficiency in a non-English language as outlined above, plus completion of the English Speaking (GEN1100) and Academic Reading and Writing 1 (GEN1120) course. For a fourth-level (topics in translation) course, the prerequisite is proficiency in a non-English language plus completion of all four Academic English courses.

To qualify for the Certificate program, a student must demonstrate an acceptable level of proficiency in both Russian and English. KIMEP undergraduates must complete all General Education requirements (including all four Academic English courses) as a prerequisite.

MINOR IN CREATIVE ARTS

Students will demonstrate critical awareness of 20th and 21st century art and apply contemporary methodologies in the production of original works of art in design, photography, and drawing. Students will learn theatrical roles and produce an onstage performance, learning critical analysis and application within the performing arts.

BACHELOR IN COGNITIVE SCIENCE (BACS) - 6B02302

Mission statement:

The Bachelor of Arts in Cognitive Science allows students to explore human (natural) language from a variety of perspectives, including the way that language is processed and produced in the mind, and the increasing role of computers in analyzing language. This interdisciplinary program provides students with a solid grounding in the theoretical principles, technical skills, and practical applications of the fields of linguistics, psychology, and computer science, with a focus on the interfaces of these fields. This knowledge will be put to use through research and application, allowing students to address real-world problems related to language and language processing. Students who study cognitive science have the skills, knowledge, and critical thinking abilities to adapt and contribute to a rapidly changing world. After completing this program, students will be well qualified for careers in a variety of related fields, such as Cognitive Linguistics, Computational Linguistics, Natural Language Processing and AI, including improving or developing new software in areas such as grammar checkers, machine translation, and information retrieval. The program also provides an excellent background for students who wish to pursue graduate studies in these areas.

Intended Learning Outcomes:

ILO1 Demonstrate effective operational proficiency in English (CERF level B2-C1) and be independent users of a second foreign language (CERF level B1);

ILO2 Demonstrate effective communication skills and proficiency in oral, written, and professional English in a variety of social and academic contexts;

ILO3 Demonstrate and apply knowledge of theory of language and linguistics, including the ability to precisely describe and analyze empirical patterns found in sets of language data;

ILO4 Demonstrate and apply knowledge of psychology and cognition, especially psychological and cognitive processes related to language processing;

ILO5 Demonstrate knowledge of theory in computing, and implement practical programming skills and computational tools, including identifying problems and developing practical solutions, making use of computational tools and statistical analysis, and understanding and evaluating the organization, design, and construction of software systems for computing;

ILO6 Perform data analysis across a variety of data types, drawing on theory in linguistics, psychology, and computing and demonstrating critical thinking;

ILO7 Develop and carry out practical applications of skills, including conducting original, ethical research.

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

GRADUATE ENGLISH REQUIREMENTS

English Requirements for Admission

All applicants seeking admission to a graduate program at KIMEP University must satisfy the regulations of the Ministry of Education and Science RK (MES). The language requirements of the MES stipulate one of the following:

- A pass in the Foreign Language Test administered in August each year by the National Testing Center (the test is offered in English, French or German and applicants may choose the language they prefer)
- An IELTS score of 6
- A TOEFL score of 560

Applicants with an IELTS or TOEFL result have a score that indicates their proficiency in English, the language of instruction at KIMEP University. Those who choose to take the NTC test must also take the KIMEP English Placement Test (KEPT) so that the university may ascertain their level of proficiency in English.

Using the results of the IELTS, TOEFL or KEPT tests, the College of Humanities and Education will place graduate students in one of the following courses:

- Direct admission to the academic program—for those with IELTS 6 or TOEFL 560 or a minimum of 70% in KEPT
- Graduate Foundation English Level C—for those with a KEPT score of less than 40%

- Graduate Foundation English Level B—for those with a KEPT score of 40-49%
- Graduate Foundation English Level A—for those with a KEPT score of 50-59%
- Four courses of Academic English for students with 60-69% in KEPT

No concurrent study in a program is possible until students demonstrate a proficiency level equivalent to 6 in IELTS, 560 in TOEFL or $\geq 70\%$ in KEPT.

Graduate Foundation

Students with less than 60% on KEPT are placed in the Foundation Phase. They may not take any other courses concurrently with GFE Levels B or A. No exceptions will be considered.

The Foundation English courses are as follows:

Course Code	Course Title	Level of Proficiency (at end of course)	Duration	Prerequisite
ENG5103	Graduate Foundation English C	Near Beginner to Mid-elementary A1+ on the CEFR	180 learning hours over a full semester	None
ENG5104	Graduate Foundation English B	Upper Elementary to Pre-intermediate A2 on the CEFR*	180 learning hours over a full semester	ENG5103 or requisite KEPT score
ENG5105	Graduate Foundation English A	Pre-intermediate to Intermediate B1 (mid) on the CEFR*	180 learning hours over a full semester	ENG5104 or requisite KEPT score

* Common European Framework of Reference

The primary goals of the Foundation Phase include not only the development of English language competence to a level that sustains study at master's level, but also the improvement of study and organizational skills, critical and analytical thinking, and other skills that contribute to successful university study at an advanced level.

Each Graduate Foundation English (GFE) course takes 540 learning hours, including class study, homework, individual and group projects, library and Internet research, independent study and other tasks. GFE courses are available during the summer for students who wish to be able to begin full-time studies in the Fall semester. Courses are defined in learning hours because students are expected to combine classroom interaction and learning with substantial time spent on work and study outside the class.

Placement in a GFE level is checked on the first day of classes. A verification test is administered in order to check the accuracy of the placement. It is compulsory for all new students to take this test. The results of the test will lead to one of three possible outcomes:

1. Confirmation of the placement—the student remains in the assigned course.
2. Transfer to a lower level—this decision is mandatory.
3. Transfer to a higher level—this decision is optional and the student may choose to remain in the level to which s/he was originally assigned.

Course Assessment Criteria: Assessment is based on satisfactory attendance, completion of all course work and an exit test. Students must pass both the course work and the exit test in order to proceed to the next phase (English for Academic Purposes). A pass mark in GFE is a “B” or 73%. Students who encounter a serious problem in the last week will be eligible for an “I”. In the event of a fail (i.e. a “B–” or less), the student must repeat the course.

MBA: ACCOUNTING AND AUDIT SPECIALIZATION

Accounting involves the measurement, recording and reporting of financial information that is critical for management decision-making in organizations. Managers need to understand how accounting information may be used to make decisions, control processes and people, and motivate employees. In addition to use this information effectively, managers need to be familiar with the manner in which Annual Financial Statements, Budgets and Variance Reports, etc. are constructed. Crucially also, managers need to understand their personal and legal responsibilities for internal control and for reporting financial information.

The MBA program offers a 4-course specialization (including the MBA Thesis and Internship courses) in “Accounting and Audit” that addresses the broad range of issues described above. The specialization prepares students both for careers as managers, and for careers in accounting, auditing, controllership, treasury functions and budgeting. The Accounting specialization will help prepare students to sit for such professional exams as the CPA, CMA, ACCA, etc.

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (EMBA) – 7Mo4107

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Executive Master of Business Administration Program is targeted towards middle and senior managers with the potential for further growth. The program, based on the North American model, is designed to enhance strategic and global business prospects of the program participants and to develop a wider range of leadership and management skills. Participants will develop the strategic thinking necessary in today's world of business to gain an increased understanding of the total organization to achieve and maintain a competitive advantage. The program has been re-accredited in 2012-2013 by international agencies: Asian Forum on Business Education (AFBE) on Level 3 (Full International) and Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA) with a Quality Seal in Higher Education.

The Executive MBA Program successfully passed re-accreditation in November 2017 from Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA) and received a Quality Seal in Higher Education for 7 years.

The program is offered in both English and Russian languages via the flexible learning model that allows for active full-time employment while simultaneously achieving the academic MBA degree.

Executive MBA at KIMEP University is a transformational experience in terms of personal and professional development. The program equips participants with the skills, knowledge, networking environment and world-class standards that encourage professional development in the direction selected by the participants.

The program allows participants to balance a demanding career and personal commitments within the 18-month period of intensive studies and professional development. The program is flexible in terms of the schedule, classes run on Friday afternoons and Saturdays, or on Saturdays and Sundays which is convenient for working professionals.

Taught by world-renowned academic faculty and business experts, program participants benefit from the diverse perspectives of peers from a wide variety of nationalities, job functions, and industry sectors.

MISSION

The purpose of the Executive MBA Program (EMBA) is to provide business enterprises with strategic competitive advantages and government agencies – with the enhanced capacity to deliver public services by building on the existing capacities of the next generation of senior managers and executives to allow them to become effective leaders. The program also enables the participants (working professionals, managers and executives) to gain a comprehensive understanding of business and earn the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree without interrupting their career.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

KIMEP University provides equal opportunities for all applicants irrespective of age, sex, religion and other conditions. It includes the acceptance of people with disabilities, offering them the same conditions as are offered to other applicants.

A person with a disability is able to seek admission to or apply for enrolment in, KIMEP University on the same basis as a prospective student without a disability.

KIMEP University puts actions in place to help ensure equal opportunity for people with a disability by making education-related adjustments.

The academic requirements for admissions are determined by identifying academic achievement reasonably expected at the admission, including skills and abilities required and whether the academic requirements can be met in another way by making education-related adjustments.

Admissions test: KEPT is objective and does not discriminate against applicants on grounds of any of the protected characteristics. Tests and assessments are accessible to applicants with disabilities and KIMEP University comply with its duty to make reasonable adjustments for disabled people who are being assessed. KIMEP University makes the test material available in an adapted format, allowing extra time or providing a scribe, depending on the individual needs of the applicant.

NB: Fulfilling the entry requirements does NOT guarantee admission, as the admission is subject to approval by the Executive MBA Oversight Committee.

COMMENCEMENT OF STUDIES

Beginning date of studies by the cohort is subject to achieving the minimum target number of enrolled students. More detailed program study plan is available at the Program Office (located at Executive Education Center, Dean's office #102)

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The Executive MBA is offered via a venue that is consistent with the area that business and government needs. Class meetings are scheduled on weekends during intensive learning sessions. In the future, a customized meeting schedule may be developed to accommodate the specific needs of prospective candidates. Anyway, the requisite of 45 hours faculty-to-learner contact time per each 3-credit module will be achieved.

The schedule or order of course/module delivery is at the discretion of the Executive MBA Oversight Committee. While the program curriculum is fixed, the order that courses/modules are delivered may vary from cohort to cohort.

The program encompasses the business skills and knowledge needed for effective leadership capacity in a small and large organization.

POLICIES OF KIMEP UNIVERSITY

TRANSFER OF CREDITS

TRANSFERRING KIMEP UNIVERSITY CREDITS (INTERNAL TRANSFER)

Credits earned in degree status at KIMEP University are permanent and can be used in any degree program for which the credits are appropriate. If a student is withdrawn from KIMEP University and later reapplies to study under a new student ID, the credits previously earned can be transferred to the records for the new ID. If requirements have changed, then some credits may not be applicable. The EMBA Oversight committee of the program makes the final determination of whether previous credits correspond to current requirements and can count towards the degree.

ID POLICY FOR EMBA STUDENTS

When the status of the student will be changed from non-degree to degree, then the tuition fee and the catalog of the entrance for the Executive MBA students on the degree status will be kept the same and the earned credits fully transferred for the Executive MBA students.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

In light of a special course/module delivery mode at Executive MBA Program (sequential delivery), certain students may require enrolling in the format of Independent study course format.

A graduate student (in good academic standing on regular status) may enroll in the independent study if a course necessary for graduation is not offered or if a course necessary for graduation has been canceled. Independent study can be authorized if sufficient courses or substitute courses are not available for the student to make continuous progress towards completing the degree. No more than six credits of independent study can be used for a graduate degree.

The process of completing an independent study is as follows:

- The dean assigns an instructor for Independent Study and makes a recommendation to Vice President for Academic Affairs for final approval.
- A signed form for Independent Study should be submitted to the Registrar's Office
- The student registers for the course as independent study and pays the regular tuition fee.

At the end of the semester, the faculty supervisor submits all documents verifying completion of the independent study along with the grade for the course.

TIME LIMITS

All students admitted to the program are admitted as full-time students

1. The program is delivered such that students are expected to complete all degree requirements within the 18-months period.
2. Graduate students have 5 year limit for completing graduation requirements. A period of academic leave from KIMEP University is included in these time limits.

GRADE OF INCOMPLETE

The procedure for incomplete grade follows KIMEP University policy, except for the period of grade completion. At the EMBA program, the grade of incomplete stays at the student's records for the entire period of study of the respective student until it is changed to a regular letter grade.

PAYMENT OBLIGATION

Every student must accept personal responsibility for the payment of all tuition and fees on time. Where possible, KIMEP University and other organizations will provide support to students who need financial assistance. However, it is important to recognize that financial assistance is not a contractual obligation on the part of KIMEP University or any other organization and is always subject to the availability of funds. If anticipated financial assistance is not received, students will need to find alternative means of meeting their financial obligations.

TUITION PAYMENT POLICY

Payment of tuition allows a student to register for courses. No student is permitted to attend class or to take exams unless the student is officially registered for the class and the name appears on class roster produced by the Registrar office. Tuition is based on the number of credit equivalents that a student enrolls in. The total tuition is the tuition rate per credit times the number of credit equivalents.

Tuition payments must be received by KIMEP University by the due date. As KIMEP University follows cashless operations principle and usually bank transmissions take several days, all payments should be made sufficiently in advance to allow for transmission, processing and posting while before the due date on the payment report of each student. Payments received after the due date are automatically assessed a late payment fee (regardless of when the payment was initiated). It is the students' responsibility to ensure that tuition is paid on time.

PAYMENT OPTIONS:

There are three payment options for the Executive MBA Tuition Fee:

Option 1: Full Tuition Payment upon Enrollment

Candidates pay for the full program prior to commencement in the program. In the case of advance payment, candidates are provided a 10% discount on the total tuition fee (in effect at the time of enrollment).

Option 2: The candidates are free to pay in two installments of 50% of full fee.

Option 3: Payment Plan before the registration for modules

Per-module payment for the program is made in before the registration for modules

No registration with outstanding debt is allowed at the program.LATE PAYMENT FEE*NON-PAYMENT OF TUITION

KIMEP University reserves the right to take administrative and/or legal actions to the students whose payments have not been received by the tuition due date, as indicated in the Academic Calendar or in the payment plan. Although the University notifies students about the payment deadlines by sending a message to the student's University-provided email address and/or by phone, it is the responsibility of a student to be current in payment of all financial obligations to the University.

Following administrative actions will be taken in case the student has overdue tuition balance:

1. Withdraw (administrative withdraw) from registered classes, i.e. the student won't be able to attend classes, submit assignments, and sit final examinations.
2. Official transcript won't be available to the student until the balance owed is paid in full
3. Registration for classes will be blocked until the balance owed is paid in full
4. Withdraw (administrative withdraw) from the University, if the outstanding balance is not paid in full by the end of the following semester (classes' end) unless the student has made satisfactory arrangements prior to this date.

Following legal actions may be taken in case the student has overdue tuition balance:

1. Student's account may be sent to a collection agency. In such circumstances, the student will be responsible for all collection costs, including, but not limited to, agency fees, attorney fees, and courts, on top of the balance owed to the University.

REFUNDS OF OVERPAYMENT

When an overpayment occurs (except for graduating students), KIMEP University encourages students, parents, and sponsors to leave the overpayments in the student's account and to use these funds for tuition in the subsequent semester or summer sessions.

POLICY OF NON-DEGREE STUDENT FOR EMBA PROGRAM

A candidate entering the program is expected to have:

- ✓ A bachelor's degree from a Higher Education Institution with minimum 5 years of experience with a completed bachelor's degree.
- ✓ The user of IT software and programs.
- ✓ Demonstrated commitment to the program.
- ✓ The non-degree student registers for the course and pays regular course fee valid at the time of registration.

In case a non-degree student wishes to transfer to a degree student status, he/she is expected to meet the minimum requirements for degree student status.

SUSPENSION OF STUDIES

The program recognizes that unforeseen circumstances may result in a student being unable to attend one or more courses/modules. In such cases, the student may request a temporary suspension of their studies. This does not mean a withdrawal from the program itself. Requests to suspend studies must be made in writing to the Associate Dean of BCB for EEC.

Courses/modules missed during the period of suspension may be taken by joining to another Executive MBA cohort. In the event that the course/module is not offered by the Executive MBA Program at the time, or if the student is unable to attend the course/module that is offered, the student may be required to take a similar course/module (approved by the Executive MBA Program) from KIMEP University's regular MBA program. Alternatively, the student makes a special request to the Associate Dean of BCB for EEC to complete the course/module requirement as a self-study. Normally, a maximum of one self-study course/module will be permitted for EMBA. At the discretion of the Program, additional requests may be considered in exceptional circumstances.

In the cases of courses/modules taken by joining another Executive MBA cohort, or taken with the regular MBA program, there will be no additional charge to the student, provided the request for suspension of studies was received prior to the start of the course/module. In the case of self-study, the student will be required to pay the full-credit (Executive MBA) value for the course/module.

A suspension of studies does not alter the time allowed to complete the Executive MBA degree. It is the student's responsibility to complete the degree requirements within the time period articulated in the 'Degree Requirements' section of the Program Overview and/or KIMEP University catalog.

RETAKE OF COURSES/MODULE

Students retaking courses/modules for reasons other than those described above will be required to pay a tuition fee based on the per-credit fee in effect for the Executive MBA class that he/she joins. The tuition fee will be calculated as 'total credits in the program / full tuition fee for the program' * 'credit value of the course'/module'.

DIPLOMA SUPPLEMENT

In addition to the MES state diploma and KIMEP U diploma, the diploma supplement is awarded to each graduate of the EMBA program. The diploma supplement is a document accompanying a higher education diploma, providing a standardized description of the nature, level, context, content and status of the studies completed by its holder. It has the following eight sections of information:

- ✓ Holder of the qualification
- ✓ Qualification
- ✓ Level and function of the qualification
- ✓ Program contents and results gained
- ✓ Information on the function of the qualification
- ✓ Any additional relevant information
- ✓ Certification of the supplement
- ✓ Details of the national higher educational system concerned

KIMEP should follow the structure and sequence of information as provided by the European Commission; avoid information overload and present information as concisely as possible.

GRADUATION DATES

A student can graduate after Fall, Spring, or Summer semesters once all graduation requirements have been completed. In order to graduate, a student must complete all requirements by the end of the semester of graduation. In order to graduate, a student should:

- ✓ Submit a Graduation Request to the Office of the Registrar. This initiates the process of certifying that the student has met all degree requirements and is approved for the degree.
- ✓ Submit a Graduation Checkout List to the Office of the Registrar. This verifies that all administrative and financial obligations (library, dormitory, sport center, commandant, etc.) have been met.

GRADUATION CEREMONY

KIMEP University holds an annual graduation ceremony shortly after the spring semester of each year. The graduation ceremony is for all graduates from the entire academic year.

Spring graduates may participate. Graduates from the previous fall semester may participate even though they have already received their diplomas.

Students who are short 12 credits based on Spring registration may also participate. These students do not officially graduate or receive their diplomas until after the semester in which all requirements are completed.

GRADUATION PARTICIPATION

Student who wishes to participate in the graduation ceremony should:

- ✓ Inform the Office of the Registrar that they desire to participate
- ✓ Settle all debts with the University.

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCE GRADUATE PROGRAMS

MASTER OF ECONOMICS (MAE) - 7Mo4106

Statement of Purpose

The Master of Arts in Economics is a western-style graduate program in economics and prepares graduates to understand the complex interplay of economic activities in businesses, policy making and other analytical functions related to performance evaluation of a business enterprise, a government project, or to forecasting of various economic and business scenarios.

Mission

The Master of Arts in Economics provides its graduates with a strong foundation in economic knowledge, both theoretical and applied, that is required to advance their professional careers or to continue their studies in doctoral programs in economics or in related disciplines. Graduates possess the analytic skills that are necessary in the workplace whether as managers or as economic analysts for business, government, and nonprofit organizations.

Learning objectives

The Program's learning objectives are to ensure that graduates have:

1. an understanding of how a market economy organizes production and exchange
2. an understanding of how the national economy works and how its performance is measured;
3. the ability to evaluate macroeconomic policies;
4. analytical reasoning skills;
5. effective problem solving skills;
6. an understanding of the economic issues of Kazakhstan and Central Asia.

Degree Requirements

The MAE program comprises 48 credits, made up of 33 required course credits and 15 elective course credits for those students with adequate background.

Requirements for the MA in Economics are as follows:

	Credits	ECTS
Program Foundation Requirements	12	15

Course Transfer Policy

Credits earned in another program can be transferred to the extent that the course is equivalent to a course in the KIMEP program. A department committee decides case by case. For transfers from master to master level course, KIMEP rules apply. For transfers of credits from bachelor to master program, maximally 25% of the credits of the KIMEP program can be transferred.

For joint, dual, and multiple degree programs different rules may apply as determined by specific agreements. A student may have current or past employment experience of at least six months equivalent of full-time employment count towards the requirements of the internship course.

MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (MIR) - 7Mo3101

Statement of purpose

The Master's Program in International Relations (MIR) was launched in 2002. The MIR is a three regular semesters, 48 credits (90 ECTS) program. It is designed to build up a new cadre of scholars/officials capable of taking on leadership roles in the challenging arena of world affairs, including positions within the diplomatic corps, multinational corporations, education and non-governmental organizations.

Mission

The aim of the Master's Degree in International Relations is to train experts and young professionals capable of taking on challenging jobs and playing leadership roles in the international arena. Unique in Central Asia, the MIR program is comparable in standards and quality to masters' programs in Western Universities, such as Glasgow University, which offers its students in the Russian, Central and Eastern European Studies program an opportunity to earn a dual degree program by studying alongside MIR students at KIMEP.

The overarching goals of the MIR program are:

- to promote excellence in the study of international relations and regional studies;
- to train professionals capable of taking on challenging jobs and playing leadership roles in the international arena; and
- to provide a solid foundation for scholars who want to pursue doctoral study and research in international relations.

Objectives

The objectives of MIR program are:

- to provide students with graduate-level knowledge and analytical skills needed for employment in public, no-profit, and private organizations with an international orientation as well as government agencies and higher education institution; and
- to educate graduate students for ethical service to their society and the broader regional and international community.
- to prepare graduates for doctoral studies in areas relevant to international relations

Learning Objectives

The MIR program's learning objectives are to ensure that graduates have:

A well-rounded knowledge of:

- the major paradigms of international relations;
- the dynamic structure of the international system and the evolution of the interplay between its main actors, including individuals, groups, states, international institutions and private corporations;
- the development of different economic perspectives and paths on global, international and regional governance;
- normative approaches for proposing solutions to ethical dilemmas in international affairs;
- international law and international organizations and their management and leadership, and the impact of development paradigms on political, social and cultural changes;
- Central Asian security issues, geopolitics, economics and integration in the international and global system.

And the necessary cognitive, inter-personal and self-management skills to:

- undertake supervised independent research, involving the synthesis and application of theoretical constructs to topics in the fields of international relations, international political economy, developmental studies, and regional studies with a specific focus on Central Asia
- communicate complex ideas and multifaceted information clearly and effectively in written and oral English;
- use information technology for the retrieval, analysis and presentation of information; and
- work effectively with others in the pursuit of common objectives.

Intended Learning Outcomes

At the successful completion of this Program, graduates will be able to:

- identify and analyze the structure and fundamental dynamic processes of the international system;
- describe and articulate the major paradigms and theoretical perspectives within the discipline;
- explain the behavior and interactions of the primary actors within the international system, so as to be able to construct basic models of policy decision-making;
- discuss and appraise the impact of culture, history, geography, and power and wealth differentials on the formulation of foreign policies of different states;
- appraise the impact of social classes, ethnic groups, social/political movements and interest groups on the formation of foreign policy in various states;
- evaluate the role of global institutions, international law, and fundamental values or ethical considerations in the formulation of foreign policy;
- utilize the skills and knowledge noted above to frame the policies of Kazakhstan and other Central Asian states in a global context; and
- conduct original research that shows critical thinking and critical analysis skills, and develop the capacity to communicate that knowledge via written and oral presentations at a satisfactory level in English.

Program Structure

Requirements for the MIR are as follows:

	Credits	ECTS
Program Foundation Requirements	12	15
Program Specialization Requirements	27	45
Experimental Research Work	6	18
Final Attestation	3	12
Total Required for Graduation	48	90

With the exception of Thesis III, courses are normally offered every three regular semesters, therefore students are advised to plan their graduate career accordingly.

Course Transfer Policy

Credits earned in another program can be transferred to the extent that the course is equivalent to a course in the KIMEP program.

For transfers from master to master level course, KIMEP rules apply.

For transfer of courses taken at the bachelor level to master courses, the following rules for the Recognition of Prior Learning apply for the MIR:

- Students who graduated from programs delivered in English language by an accredited institution are allowed to waive the course CSS5103.2
- Students can transfer the course Public International Law with an equivalent course taken at the undergraduate level with a minimum passing grade of A- or equivalent
- Students can transfer the course Theories of International Relations if they graduated from an accredited program (European or American accreditation) in International Relations that includes equivalent coursework on theories of international relations

A department committee reviews and decides case by case.

For joint, dual, and multiple degree programs different rules may apply as determined by specific agreements.

MASTER OF PUBLIC AND MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION (MPMA) - 7Mo4101

Statement of purpose

The MPMA Program's purpose is to prepare graduates for careers, leadership positions, and ethical service in public, non-profit, and business organizations. It seeks to demonstrate to Kazakhstan and the Central Asian region the value of high-quality, research-informed teaching of public administration, policy, and management.

The Master in Public and Municipal Administration (MPMA) program started in 1994 shortly after the inception of KIMEP. Since then, over 300 MPAs have graduated, contributing skills, knowledge and abilities to public, non-profit service at the national as well as the international level. We are currently working to internationalize the student body to bring people together to share ideas from across the world, and particularly China and South Asia, as well as former Soviet republics.

The program:

- Promotes excellence in public, non-governmental, and private management and policy-making through the building and strengthening of the analytical and leadership capacity of graduate students;
- Provides graduate students with the generic and specialized management and policy knowledge and skills needed for successful careers in the public, non-governmental, and private sectors; and

- Educates graduate students for ethical service to their society and the broader regional and international community.

The Master of Public Administration degree requires 48 credits of coursework for students new to the field or a minimum of 36 credits for students with significant experience in public management and/or KIMEP graduates. The program includes 42 credits of required component courses, 6 credits of concentration and electives courses.

The courses taught for MPMA students are conducted in a number of ways: as advanced lecture courses, as seminars in which faculty and students present critical studies of selected problems within the subject field, as independent study or reading courses, or as research projects conducted under faculty supervision. It is important to note that all graduate courses are offered during evening time to ensure that our students keep their full-time jobs at KIMEP or outside of KIMEP.

Graduate studies imply developing scientific curiosity and acquiring special skills to be able to do the research. Nurturing a research culture among MPMA students is one of our very first priorities. Under the guidance of a faculty member, all MPMA students are expected to write and defend a thesis. A thesis should make a genuine contribution to the understanding and analysis of public policy issues, management and administration in Kazakhstan.

Learning objectives

In order to equip students who graduate from the MPMA program with the essential knowledge and skills required by professionals seeking managerial and executive positions in the public, non-profit and private sectors, the program’s learning objectives are to ensure that graduates have:

- a satisfactory knowledge of the nature of the public sector and its relationship to government, civil society, and the marketplace, and how it can be institutionally arranged;
- a satisfactory knowledge of economic perspectives on government and public policy, governmental budgeting, and public financial management;
- a satisfactory knowledge of ethics as they apply to the public sector;
- a satisfactory knowledge of public organizations and their management and leadership, and the impact of organizational structure, culture, and leadership on organizational change and performance;
- a satisfactory knowledge of project appraisal and management, and the necessary cognitive, self-management, and interpersonal skills;
- a satisfactory knowledge of the concepts and theories of public policy and analysis;
- a satisfactory capacity to undertake supervised independent research, involving the synthesis and application of theoretical constructs to topics in the fields of public administration, policy, and management
- a satisfactory capacity to communicate ideas and information clearly and effectively in written and oral English;
- a satisfactory capacity to use information technology for the retrieval, analysis and presentation of information; and
- a satisfactory capacity to work effectively with others in the pursuit of common objectives.

MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL JOURNALISM (MIJ) – 7Mo3201

KIMEP University has offered a master's degree in International Journalism since August 2002. Currently the university's Department of Media and Communications offers a Master of International Journalism (MIJ) degree. This program is designed to be completed with three semesters of full-time study plus an additional semester for completion of thesis; all program requirements must be completed within five years of commencement of study. There are two specializations or majors in the program: media management and public relations.

Program Statement of Purpose

The Master of International Journalism (MAIJ) equips graduate students with: advanced knowledge and understanding of and ability to apply key media and communications theories in academic and professional contexts; advanced industry-specific skills for creating journalistic materials and designing public relations and advertising materials and communications plans; intellectual abilities to analyze, synthesize and evaluate social phenomena through the prism of media and communications; advanced competencies to solve problems and learn independently; transferable skills for effective oral and written interpersonal and intrapersonal communication, teamwork, leadership, and time management.

Program Mission and Goals

The MIJ program (48 KIMEP credits, 90 ECTS) is designed for recent recipients of undergraduate degrees in relevant fields or for early or mid-career professionals seeking to develop knowledge and skills in journalism, public relations, and communication. Its central goals are:

- To provide graduate-level education in the discipline of communications as consistent with the mission statement of KIMEP University;

- To produce competent professionals who demonstrate a thorough knowledge of the theory and practice of media communication, with a focus on journalism and public relations; and
- To foster within students an ethos of professionalism and citizenship.

Program Objectives

The objectives of the MIJ program are:

- To provide advanced academic and procedural knowledge, which will equip students with the abilities to able to judge the required knowledge and/or competences as well as their application in both professional or academic contexts;
- To develop students' functioning abilities, which will establish them as leaders in their chosen career in the fields of media and communication;
- To implement high level of critical thinking and analytical competences in investigating trends, issues, and solving problems in journalism, mass media, and public relations and related fields of knowledge and practice.
- To develop creative thinking and innovation by experimenting with new theoretical approaches in order to challenge existing knowledge boundaries and design novel solutions to existing problems.
- To equip students with the awareness and understanding of global issues and happenings in the fields of media and communication.
- To help students develop as constructive and ethical members of their local, national, regional and international communities.

Program Learning Objectives

The learning objectives of this program study are to ensure that students are able to:

1. Implement major media and communication concepts and theories in producing quality media and communication research;
2. Produce, distribute mediated messages in a range of contexts and technologies, including traditional and online communication;
3. Communicate the nature of mass communication processes and production and their relationship to society, the global marketplace and various media systems;
4. Plan, implement, and evaluate professional projects; and
5. Assess the impact of the activities and culture of media and communication organizations on society.

Program Intended Learning Outcomes

On the successful completion of the program, MAIJ graduates will be able to do the following:

1. (Identify/Diagnose). Identify and diagnose issues accurately and effectively across a wide range of domains such as political, economic, social, technological, legal, and environmental issues.
2. (Produce/Design). Design and produce text, video and visual materials adhering to the highest professional international standards and ethical principles across various fields of media and communication, including journalism, public relations, and advertising.
3. (Examine/Argue). Examine the diverse roles and functions of media and communications in contemporary society and argue new points of view advanced academic and/or professional work.
4. (Forecast). Use both quantitative and qualitative research methods and evaluations to forecast changes that affect communities, organizations and society as a whole.
5. (Investigate). Investigate civic, business and political issues through original research and analysis of official and public materials.
6. (Write). Plan and write academic and professional materials by applying mastery of high level skills, including critical, analytical writing, deductive and inductive argumentation, and causal explanation.
7. (Strategize). Design and implement ad hoc and proactive comprehensive public relations plans implementing effective PR strategies, tactics, KPIs, and cost-effective budgeting in various contexts and domains.
8. (Communicate). Effectively communicate orally and in writing, including effective objective reporting of social reality, presentation of analysis, justification of recommended actions, and persuasive messages intended to affect the knowledge and perceptions of others.

10. (Ethics). Apply professional ethics principles, assess practices, and formulate stands based on national and international Codes of conduct both in journalism and public relations.

MIJ Program Majors

The Graduate Program in International Journalism offers two majors:

Journalism and Media Management Major Public Relations and Advertising Major

Students pursuing a major consult with the graduate supervisor and declare a major at initiation of their program. They select courses appropriate to the major in consultation with the graduate supervisor, and they pursue a thesis topic relevant to that major. The major is earned based on successful completion of the approved course distribution and of the approved thesis.

CSS Policies

Credits earned in another program can be transferred to the extent that the course is equivalent to a course in the KIMEP program. KIMEP rules apply. A department committee decides case by case. For transfers of credits from bachelor to master program, maximally 25% of the credits of the KIMEP program can be transferred.

For joint, dual, and multiple degree programs different rules may apply as determined by specific agreements.

Department of Media and Communications policies

Graduate students may enroll in 4000-level courses for graduate credit so long as the chosen course does not substantially reproduce the content of another course the student has taken or is currently taking. Graduate students may be allowed to enroll in courses at the 3000-level or below for graduate credit with permission of the department. Graduate students who enroll in undergraduate-level courses will be required to complete additional course requirements to justify graduate credit.

Advanced undergraduate students may enroll in graduate-level courses for undergraduate credit with permission of the Department. The content of such courses must not substantially duplicate the content of a course the student has previously taken or is currently taking.

Internships

The DMC Internship Program aims to provide students with an opportunity to work in real-world organizations (media outlets, PR and marketing and advertising companies, production and film studios, corporate media, government agencies, embassies, etc.) and acquire marketable skills in the areas of their specialization.

Internships are available in the following areas:

- communication,
- broadcasting,
- public relations,
- marketing,
- advertising,
- multimedia journalism,
- SMM
- Media management, and
- Event management.

The professional internship program is designed to:

- Immerse the students into the reality of Kazakhstani and international multimedia and communication field;
- Get introduced to the work of mass communication professionals; learn more about career choices;
- Give students hands-on reporting and writing experience in a professional newsroom; experience in planning and implementing strategic campaigns;
- Help students build a portfolio that will strengthen their applications for post-graduate jobs; employers will require previous experience and gauge a candidate's ability through their work samples;
- Develop a network of professional contacts that will help students launch a career in mass communications, public relations, marketing, and advertising.
- Improve their understanding of how market-based analysis can help them better understand economic and social problems;
- Enhance interns' awareness of the real-life situation in the chosen field;
- Help identify necessary skills and knowledge in order to focus in their academic program;
- Help develop interns' analytical, communication, team-working, decision-making and other professional skills;

The DMC internship program prepares students for such jobs as:

- Multimedia journalists
- Media producers
- PR managers
- Magazine editors
- Marketing specialists
- Communication consultants
- Corporate communications specialists
- Account managers
- Media planners
- News anchors
- Copywriters
- Social media coordinators
- Event managers, among many others.

Students have the opportunity to undertake an internship abroad or study abroad as part of their MIJ program. This can be arranged with one of KIMEP's partner universities by the International Relations Office.

THE SCHOOL OF LAW GRADUATE PROGRAM

MASTER OF INTERNATIONAL LAW (LL.M.) - 7Mo4201

Statement of Purpose and Mission

The Master of International law is a one-year degree program providing specialized knowledge of international law for legal and business practitioners engaged in cross-border legal transactions. Foundational knowledge of international law permits students to acquire a profound understanding of the normative predicates upon which contemporary and particularized departments of law repose. The objective of the program is to provide professionals with the skills to solve complex legal problems, provide service to clients based on ethical principles, and to develop the legal system of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Students are expected to acquire the skill to read and interpret legal texts, to critically examine the underlying policies of legal rules, and to prepare written and oral arguments based upon correct reasoning and appropriate to practical tasks encountered in the external environment. The KIMEP Master of International Law takes advantage of Kazakhstan's geopolitical position. Kazakhstan is rich in natural resources, expects the city of Astana to become the financial center of Central Asia, and has joined a Customs Union with the Russian Federation, Byelorussia, Kyrgyzstan and Armenia. The curriculum weaves conventional courses found in general LL.M. courses with courses dealing with the particular legal regime of Kazakhstan that constitute a precondition for foreign direct investment and emerging cutting edge markets of Kazakhstan. The faculty within the graduate program provides guidance to its students, especially within the context of the LL.M. thesis. Close relationships between faculty and students benefit both parties. Students have an opportunity to receive professional advice both in academic matters and professional career choices. The ratio of faculty to students is low and allows for the creation of a "lyceum-like" atmosphere at KIMEP.

Program Objectives

The primary objective of the Master of International Law program is to train students to apply detailed substantive knowledge of international law, using skills required by the external environment in which they will undertake careers in law and businesses engaged in international transactions.

These mandatory skills are:

- To draft legal documents in the English language virtually equivalent to a native speaker.
- To think innovatively by knowing how to interpret and apply law to formulate creative solutions to legal problems.
- To understand legal principles triggered by cross border transactions.
- To comprehend the business models upon which laws are based.
- To understand legal formalities without losing sight of substance.
- To produce an LL.M. thesis demonstrating deep knowledge of a subject and representing scholarly work equivalent to that expected in any world-class law school.

Each course in the Master of International Law program contains explicit components on critical thinking and legal argumentation.

No student graduates from the program without mastering these skills.

Program Intended Learning Outcomes

At the successful completion of this Program, graduates will be able to:

- Demonstrate professional-grade understanding of public and private international law, both substantive and procedural;
- Demonstrate knowledge of the interaction of domestic and international law;
- Evaluate the role of international law in international relations and in the furthering of Kazakhstan's interests in the international arena;

- Complete substantive research projects, which demonstrate advanced knowledge of international law, and proficiency in research methodologies, academic conventions, and academic English;
- Provide ethical legal advice and solutions to legal problems involving the international aspects of actions by private individuals, business, government and civil society;
- Communicate ideas and information clearly and effectively, in both oral and written English, using correct legal terminology;
- Demonstrate ability to work in teams.

Having achieved these learning outcomes, students are prepared to pursue further study of law at the PhD level or to work locally or internationally. For example graduates will be qualified to work in:

- Law Firms
- Business Firms
- Financial Services Firms
- Government
- International organizations

Please note that this is an LL.M. designed for practical application. It allows the student to pursue further academic development abroad as well. However, in order to be eligible for a PhD program in a Kazakhstan university, further coursework may be required. Contact the law school coordinator or a law school faculty member for details.

Language Policy

The Master of International Law degree is taught almost exclusively in English, the official language of most conventional multilateral sources of international law, and of a wealth of international legal doctrine. Students are expected to have acquired good professional English language proficiency by the time of their graduation.

High-level English language proficiency will enable graduates of the Master of International Law program to have a distinct competitive advantage when working in their chosen professional fields.

However, students must also understand the technical legal terms, and to apply Kazakhstan’s national law in advising clients and representing them in judicial proceedings in Kazakhstan. Therefore, Russian may be used as the main language of instruction in some courses.

Degree Requirements

The Master of International Law program consists of 38 credits. The program may be completed in one year for full-time enrolled students. The program also may be completed over an extended time period to accommodate working professionals. Admitted students who have a score of less than 60 on the KIMEP Entrance English Test (KEET) test are required to take Foundation English language courses depending upon the range of the KEET score.

Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.00 to graduate from the program and may not have more than 2 grades of 2.0 (C) or below.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION GRADUATE PROGRAMS

MASTER OF ARTS IN FOREIGN LANGUAGE: TWO FOREIGN LANGUAGES (MA TESOL) - 7Mo1701

Statement of Purpose

The main goal of the educational program is to prepare highly qualified, competitive research methodologists who meet international standards of teaching in the field of teaching English as a foreign language and leaders in secondary and higher education, who are able to evaluate and create curricula for language teaching. During the training, undergraduates form professional competencies, as well as acquire general scientific and special knowledge, develop the skills necessary in professional activities, and master the skills of administration, analysis and transformation of the educational process.

Learning Objectives

The MA in Foreign Language program's learning objectives are based on the TESOL International Organization and the US-based National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education standards with some revisions taking into consideration the different contextual needs. By the completion of their studies, MA students in this program will be able to:

Intended Learning Outcomes

ILO1 Orientation to classical and contemporary theories of language, methods of teaching foreign languages, and the ability to apply self-sufficient teaching and learning to newer teaching methods, learning outcomes and learning materials;

ILO2 Be able to explain the basic theories of the origin of the language; a linguistic map of the world and have an idea of their genealogical affiliation and territorial distribution; explain the most important and typical phenomena in the system of the language being studied;

ILO3 Own methods of search, critical analysis, processing and systematization of professionally significant information in foreign languages; own computer and innovative technologies in order to acquire and use in practice new knowledge and skills related to teaching;

ILO4 Be able to use the conceptual apparatus of philosophy, theoretical and applied linguistics, methods of teaching foreign languages at various levels of instruction, linguodidactics and the theory of intercultural communication to solve professional problems;

ILO5 Be able to form positive relationships with colleagues, respecting their point of view; have teamwork and leadership skills; possess a communicative culture, demonstrate professional independence (solvency) and leadership;

ILO6 Demonstrate knowledge and understanding, which are the basis for the original development and application of ideas in the context of scientific research.

DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

BANG COLLEGE OF BUSINESS DOCTORAL PROGRAMS

Mission

The Program Mission is to develop outstanding scholars for careers in research and teaching at leading academic institutions throughout the world. The program involves a combination of course and research work over a period of approximately three to seven years. PhD Program guarantees a challenging, focused, and meaningful experience

This degree will build the graduate's capacity in the areas of teaching and professional business research, and ensures that graduates are placed in the leading positions in academia and businesses. The main objective of the program is to strategically affect all business and economics education in Central Asia, and foster international business techniques to assist in the development of Kazakhstan economy and educational system. With a team of internationally renowned professors and researchers, and extensive partnership with some of the top business schools in the world, we are well prepared to deliver a quality PhD program unrivalled in the entire region.

The PhD Program's distinct academic approach is designed to enable students to excel as researchers, educators, and scholars in the future. Throughout PhD Studies experience, students focus on one of four areas of study.

Learning Goals and Objectives

The PhD program at BCB aims at achieving the following goals:

- Create scholars who can advance business theory and practice,
- Develop effective business educators,
- Encourage analytical thinking, critical analysis and innovative problem solving.

In consideration of the program mission and goals the PhD program has established a set of learning objectives. Upon completion of the program the PhD graduate should be capable of:

- Making significant intellectual contributions to the body of knowledge in their chosen field.
- Applying relevant theoretical knowledge to contemporary business problems.
- Applying a range of qualitative and quantitative research methods.
- Critically evaluating business research studies.
- Demonstrating superior oral and written communication skills.
- Gain expertise in respective areas such as management, finance and accounting

Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

1. Application of appropriate research methods (qualitative, quantitative and combined) in the field;
2. Critical thinking, decision making and creativity;
3. Theoretical knowledge of body of literature in the relevant discipline or interdisciplinary field;
4. Able to identify problems and issues in the discipline or interdisciplinary field
5. Significant intellectual contribution to the relevant discipline or interdisciplinary field ;
6. Gaining analytical skills and expertise in the relevant discipline or interdisciplinary field ;
7. Demonstrating oral and written communication skills;
8. Publication of high impact journal and conference papers in the discipline or interdisciplinary field;

9. Teaching skills at the Higher Education levels;
10. Proactive team work ;
11. Cultural awareness and global impact of research in relevant area;
12. Social and legal responsibility and ethical values

Admissions

Admission to the PhD program is highly competitive. Admission is granted to candidates deemed most likely to complete and benefit from the program. The final decision on admission is based on a comprehensive assessment of the applicant’s overall qualifications and commitment to the program.

Requirements for admission to the PhD program include:

- A master’s degree or equivalent from a nationally attested or internationally recognized university
- Official IELTS score of at least overall 5.5 and/or TOEFL (IBT) -87; TOEFL (PBT)-560; TOEFL (ITP)-460;
- Official GMAT score of at least 600 or equivalent (KGET 20/50)
- At least three years of experience in a corporate, government, academia or non-profit organization.
- At least two professional letters of recommendation.
- A research proposal that states your research question, your area of research interest and how you propose to undertake your research. To develop a successful proposal, you need to be familiar with current research in the area – identifying gaps in the research literature can be a way of finding an original research topic.
- A professional resume.
- An admission Interview
- Additional exams required by MES

PhD PROGRAM ACADEMIC POLICIES

In general academic policies on registration, course load, class attendance, withdrawal, etc. applied to doctoral students are the same as to other graduate students. In other cases there may be a separate policy for doctoral students which take precedence over general academic policy.

Independent Study Policy

An Independent Study is a course in which the instructor will direct student(s) in a non-classroom environment to replace a regular (traditional) course when the regular course cannot be offered by the program for the current semester due to various reasons. The purpose of an Independent Study course is to help the student complete their course requirements in a timely manner. Any course in the curriculum can be taken as an independent study if there is consent from the instructor who offers the course and approval from the PhD Council. The Independent Study workload should be equivalent to a regular PhD course. Students must submit an Approval for Independent Study Form. A PhD Student may take a maximum of 9 credits as independent study.

Transfer of Credit

Unless coursework has been transferred, students must take a minimum of 75 credits to satisfy the requirements of the PhD programs. A transfer of credit may be given for a post graduate level course completed by the student especially if taken as part of an official exchange program. Transfer credits are allowed from accredited institutions. A doctoral student must successfully complete one semester in residency at BCB before the coursework is eligible for transfer. The transfer of credit must be approved by Doctoral Council. Transfer of credits is regulated by KIMEP U transfer policy.

UNDEGRADUATE PROGRAM COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

GENERAL EDUCATION COURSES

Category A - General Education Ministry Required Courses

GEN1000 Modern History of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0001 Foundation English Level 1

This course covers the history of Kazakhstan in modern times: from the beginning of the twentieth century till present. A study of modern national history has become one of the major factors contributing to the construction of a community of peoples, civil society and to the promotion of patriotism. The history of Kazakhstan is seen as a unique process of development for the Kazakh people, who constitute part of the history of the Eurasian, nomadic, Turkic and steppe civilizations, which in turn constitute an integral part of global civilization. The course aims to study the most recent stages and specifics of key historical processes on the territory of Kazakhstan, focusing particularly on building of a modern nation - state and maturing national liberation movement in the course of pre-Soviet and Soviet periods. Cultural and social changes are also considered

ENG 110 Academic Listening and Note Taking (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG1100 Academic Speaking

Common European Framework: B2 to C1 low upon completion

The Academic Listening and Note-taking course develops students' abilities in these two essential academic skills, while at the same time ensuring that listening is not a passive activity. Students improve their understanding of academic discourse in a variety of contexts, including lectures and less formal situations. They are exposed to a variety of dialects of English and levels of formality. They refine their note-taking skills and then use these notes as the basis for questions, responses and requests for clarification. In addition, their notes will be useful for revision and for developing essays, presentations and debates. Mere noting of facts will not be the primary goal. Rather, students will use their notes to write responses and develop their own critical thinking. As far as possible, authentic audio and video materials will be used in preference to the artificial materials specially prepared for such courses.

ENG 1120 Academic Reading and Writing 1 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0005 Foundation English Level 5 or direct admission to Academic English based on KEPT

Common European Framework: B2

This course enables students to deal with the academic reading and writing requirements of the program courses. Course activities develop advanced-level reading ability by focusing on main ideas and specific information, by recognizing lexical meaning from content areas in context, and by training in writing that presents clear, well-researched arguments within particular essay styles and structures. Students will acquire independent research skills, using online and print sources in a responsible and ethical manner so as to extend their critical thinking ability within a piece of academic discourse. They will learn to find and select relevant reading texts that provide information and interpretations that can be used to support their ideas and provide evidence in their essays. Students will need to process and critically analyze that information before incorporating it within their own arguments. A process-writing approach will be adopted, with greater emphasis on the process of reading and writing and on drafts of the essay than on the final product.

KAZxxxx Beginning Kazakh and Elementary Kazakh are intended for international students who begin with no knowledge of Kazakh. Students from Turkic-language regions should begin with Elementary Kazakh. Beginning Kazakh is aimed only for students whose first language is not in the Turkic language family.

KAZxxxx Pre-intermediate Kazakh, Intermediate Kazakh, Upper-intermediate Kazakh and Advanced Kazakh are designed for graduates of Russian-medium schools in Kazakhstan whose Kazakh is not fluent but is above elementary level.

KAZxxxx Business Kazakh, Kazakh Language and Culture, Business Correspondence in Kazakh and Public Speaking in Kazakh are intended for students who can speak Kazakh fluently and who wish to develop their Kazakh to a professional level/graduates of Kazakh-medium schools.

GEN 2500/IRL 2500 Introduction to Philosophy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN1100 and GEN1120

This is an introductory course to philosophy. Special attention will be devoted to the historical development of philosophy as well as the current state of the discipline.

GEN 2510/IRL 2510 Principles of Ethics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN1100 and GEN1120

Ethics refers to the study of what is right and wrong or good conduct in a given set of circumstances. In essence, Ethics looks at the moral values we already possess and examines how we came to our own personal worldview and outlook on life. Ethical problems exist because we have choices. Ethics presupposes the existence of morality, as well as the existence of moral people who judge right from wrong and generally act in accordance with norms they accept and to which the rest of society holds others. We will primarily focus on ethics as it relates to modern issues we face as a society within our local environment, our work place, our university and personal life.

GEN/OPM 1300 Information and Communication Technologies (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0004 Foundation English Level 4

The purpose of the course is to introduce the background of computer and information technology principles to beginners and pre-intermediate level students. The course involves uses of modern software, such as Microsoft Windows, Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Internet and E-mail programs, which are necessary for studying at KIMEP.

GEN/OPM 2301 Business Computer Applications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0004 Foundation English Level 4

This course is a broad overview of the main topics in business computer applications. Students gain an understanding of computer architecture, networks, telecommunications; they learn how to apply information and knowledge systems, operations and decision support systems, spreadsheets, databases to a wide range of tasks and decision making process. The course emphasizes how organizations benefit from and use computer-based technology. The purpose of the course is to foster business thinking through available technical means.

GEN 2501 Introduction to Social Sciences (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0004 Foundation English Level 4

This course introduces the fundamental concepts and methods of three social science disciplines (sociology, psychology, and political science) and the relationships among them, with the goal of enabling students to better understand their roles as citizens in a globalizing society. In addition, preparation in both qualitative and quantitative skills used in these academic fields will allow students to engage in rational decision-making about contemporary social problems in Kazakhstan and elsewhere. Students will investigate different theoretical and empirical approaches to the of study of how people, institutions, and societies function in the modern world. Students will be able to compare and contrast the unique contributions of the three subject areas from an interdisciplinary perspective and use this knowledge to critically analyze research in the social and behavioral sciences.

GEN 2502 Cultural Studies 1: Kazakhstan (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0004 Foundation English Level 4

This course builds on GEN ED 2501 Introduction to Social Sciences by examining the field of cultural studies in the context of early and modern Kazakhstan. Beginning with an overview of the discipline and drawing on concepts from anthropology, semiotics, and cultural history, students will investigate the anatomy and evolution of the Kazakh cultural heritage over the past five centuries. The final part of the course will explore the problems and prospects of a revived national and ethnic identity in the political and social context of the 21st century.

Category B - General Education Arts, Society, and Culture

For any Category B course, the prerequisite course in ENG 0004 Foundation English Level 4.

GEN/ASC 2103.3 Introduction to Drama (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

GEN/ASC 2108.3 Introduction to Films (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Introduces students to understanding cinema from the perspectives of the viewer, the professional critic, and the film maker. The course also gives an overview of the world of cinema from history to the craft of filmmaking.

GEN/ASC 2102.3 Introduction to World Literature (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Introduces students to fiction, plays, and poems from various periods and from various parts of the world in comparative contexts, focusing on questions of culture, class, and gender, and on the role of translation in the study of world literature. The course will concentrate on the development of skills in thinking, in close reading of literary texts, and in writing.

GEN/ASC 1102 Mythology and Folklore (3 Credits, 5 ECTS)

This course looks at mythology and folklore in order to better understand and give a broader perspective of human nature. These stories, which have withstood the test of time, reveal something true and eternal about the human condition. Students will read, discuss, and analyze from both historical and modern perspectives. By the end of this course students will be able to read critically and analyze texts for deeper meaning. Students will be able to extract themes and motifs from their reading and apply those ideas to other stories and contexts.

GEN/ASC 2104.3 Digital Photography (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Introduces the basic concepts of digital imaging as applied to photography. Students learn how to operate image manipulation software using a variety of scanning equipment, software tools and output devices by executing new assignments and applying these technologies to their photographic process. Prerequisite: none.

GEN/ASC 3202 The History of Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

An overview of the major writing systems of the world: Egyptian and Mayan hieroglyphs, Sumerian and Akkadian cuneiform, West Semitic consonantal scripts (abjads), East Asian scripts, runes, and Greek and Roman alphabets. This course has a considerable linguistic component supplemented by historical information about ancient languages and cultures.

GEN/ASC 2105.3 Drawing 1: Visual Arts Studio (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Fundamental skills of observational drawing will be taught using a wide range of drawing media including graphite, charcoal, pastels and ink. Students will develop technical abilities and creative responses to subject matter using diverse materials. A variety of approaches and processes in creative thinking, problem solving, and mark-making will be explored. By encouraging individual and expressive styles in drawing, students will gain self-confidence and courage to take risks in the creative process. Learning to critique art and articulate concepts using discipline-specific vocabulary will be focused on throughout the semester. Through image viewing lectures, students will learn about drawing through both a historical and contemporary lens. The student will maintain a sketchbook throughout the semester. Prerequisite none.

GEN/ASC 2119 Painting 1: Visual Arts Studio (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course introduces the basic processes, tools, and techniques of painting. Working with various media such as inks, acrylics and oil paints, students will explore diverse methods of paint application and mixed media. Preparation of materials, painting surfaces and color theory and mixing will be covered. Specific exercises will help students learn to apply paint ranging from a build-up of transparent layers to thick impasto. Students will learn to work from initial sketches to more developed art works. Emphasis is placed on composition within pictorial space, challenging students to organize their ideas into successful visual images. The course is designed to teach students to become conversant in the visual language of image and color, while developing critical analysis and problem solving to enable self-expression. Prerequisite: Drawing 1.

GEN/ASC 2106.3 Art and Visual Culture (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This survey course will develop student skills in the perception and comprehension of contemporary visual art. Analysis, active looking and interpreting art are focused on throughout the semester. Global contemporary art of the 20th and 21st century will be key areas of study. Students will learn to distinguish between the fine arts, design, entertainment and spectacle, building a knowledge base and skill in navigating visual culture. New paradigms of art, how art interfaces with informational systems, and the increasingly plastic and immediate art context will be studied. Interactive art projects and virtual dynamics will be explored and how notions of time, art and design are merging and expanding. Local gallery exhibitions and museum visits will provide a forum for analyzing and writing about art. Prerequisite: none.

GEN/ASC 2107.3 Introduction to World Art History (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Introduces art history beginning with Mesopotamian and Egyptian civilizations to modern century artists. During the semester, students will survey a variety of images and monuments produced throughout history, focusing on Near Eastern, European, South Asian, Islamic, Christian, East Asian, and African art and architecture. Students will recognize artistic styles and developments in relationship to their historical contexts. Prerequisite: none.

ENG/GEN2100 Introduction to Creative Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing II

An introduction to imaginative writing, concentrating on the mastery of language and creative expression in different genres. The course includes analysis of literary models (professional writings in each genre), individual and class criticism of work by established writers, and lectures on and discussion of literary techniques in each genre.

GEN/ASC 2110.3 Transmedia: The Art of Contemporary Storytelling (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course will explore the cultural and business context of transmedia storytelling as a form of creative writer's craft. It introduces undergraduate students from all specialities to the art of 21st century storytelling. During the course, students will be challenged to think creatively, develop their content production competences, and strategically create narratives for organizations from all walks of cultural and business life. Through transmedia storytelling, students will build immersive narrative experiences into a unified communicative context, which will unfold across media, thus enhancing the emotional bond between people and organizations.

GEN/ASC 2112.3 History of Social Media (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The last few decades have brought an astonishing array of technological changes, particularly in the ways people gather information and communicate with each other. In an effort to understand the meaning of contemporary media, this course will start by examining other moments in history when new technologies have had significant cultural, political, and economic consequences. Students will investigate the origins and implications of "new" media (e.g., the alphabet, printing press, telegraph, photograph, radio, television, internet) and consider how each has prompted new hopes for world peace along with fears for the imminent decline of civilization. We'll draw on historical evidence and our own experience to engage with important questions about the relationship between people and technology.

GEN/ASC 2113.3 Globalization and Diversity: A World Regional Approach (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Globalization represents a monumental transformation of Earth's cultural, socio-economic, and geopolitical structure. Converging economic, political, cultural, and environmental systems might at first glance portend a certain homogenization across global regions, while the persistence of geographical difference and diversity alludes to some countervailing global forces. These opposing pressures form an overriding theme prevailing throughout this course. The earth's major world regions are surveyed, highlighting environmental, demographic, cultural, geopolitical, and economic patterns at varying scales. This approach allows a comprehensive examination of global and local expressions of the forces forging diversity and globalization in today's world.

GEN/ASC 2114.3 Cheating, Corruption, and Fraud in Society (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course will examine the issues of cheating and fraud from an interdisciplinary perspective. At KIMEP, and elsewhere, it may be seen as acceptable behavior to cheat to receive benefits. Bribery is a common way to sort out problems with the law. Regulations are not respected and people do not take personal responsibility for protecting the rules. The course will have students examine why people cheat, how to recognize indicators of cheating, why cheating is the wrong choice (morally, economically, and psychologically), what the negative consequences are, and the benefits of fighting fraud and corruption in the larger society. The investigation of the issue will draw on insights from business, psychology, sociology, and law.

GEN/ASC 2115 Law and the Arts (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course explores fundamental legal notions such as justice, revenge, forgiveness, equality, equity, and more with examples from literature, visual arts, theatre, and films. The course aims at cultivating students' culturally sensitive understanding of those fundamental notions through well-known characters and images, and seeks to foster students' critical and interdisciplinary analysis skills, as well as decision-making skills. It also presents law as an integrated social phenomenon with connections to sociology, politics, economics, and other social sciences. During the course, students will be encouraged to practice their artistic skills while reflecting about the role of law in human lives.

GEN/ASC 2116 Animals and Society (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Since time immemorial human societies have relied heavily on the use of various species of animals. Animals are used for food, for their skin and furs, for transportation, for entertainment in zoos and circuses, as pets, as working animals, as weapons, as objects of laboratory research, and in countless other ways. Only very recently, however, have animals become the focus of a systematic, multidisciplinary study. The course starts with an introduction to the older, anthropocentric approach to the study of human-animal interactions, and discusses the recent emergence of an alternative, animal-centric approach. Using case-studies, the course analyzes ethical, sociological, anthropological, and psychological aspects of human-animal interaction in cross-cultural perspective. The course will include a comprehensive discussion of animal-protection movements, wildlife conservation initiatives, and recent developments in animal law and other animal-related studies. Love for animals is a requisite for taking the course.

GEN/ASC 2117 Design Foundations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This visual art course introduces the elements and principles of design and how to engage the creative process. By learning fundamental steps in the design process, students will learn how to formulate ideas and conceptualize visually. Both image/surface and space/form designs will be researched, analyzed, and studied. Hands-on creative projects will give students practice making designs out of materials and also using software tool to create, depict and modify designs. Working together students will participate in open discussions, peer critiques, and review design ideas through a collaborative process. Prerequisite none.

GEN/ASC 2118 Applied Arts and Design (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This visual art course introduces students to the actual production of design and visual art. Courses will be taught by working professionals engaged in the field. This course will be offered during summer school, and will project-intensive. Under the mentorship and guidance of the professional, students will actually produce art and design applicable to specific disciplines within the creative arts. Prerequisite none.

GEN/ASC 2204 Introduction to Language and Society (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course examines the role of language in human social interaction and how language relates to socio-economic status, gender, age and social identity. Students are introduced to analysis of sociolinguistic data to understand relations between language and society. Students are also introduced to linguistic diversity in Kazakhstan and the world and implications of language contact for language loss and language change.

GEN/ASC 2125 Audio Storytelling (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Audio is an essential storytelling medium that is used to entertain, to inform, and to influence audiences. In this course, students will develop knowledge and skills to produce their own audio stories combining various types of sound. Students learn storytelling and audio production techniques by listening to and analyzing stories told in sound (and other media); by developing communication and technical skills used in audio storytelling, and by progressively producing their own audio stories. The course introduces audio recording with mobile devices and editing with multi-track editing software. Students should have access to a smartphone, simple headset, and computer or laptop (Windows/Mac/Linux).

GEN/ASC 2122 Modern Tourism and Sustainable Development (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

As a personal activity, tourism is practiced by a diverse range of the population; as an industry, it is multi-sectoral; and as a means of economic and cultural exchange, it has many facets and forms. This course will provide students with a basic understanding of travel flows; microscale spatial structure and land use of tourist places and facilities; economic, social, cultural, and environmental impacts of tourist activity; impacts of tourism on different countries including Central Asian countries; and geographic patterns of recreation and leisure pastimes. Students will examine how sociocultural, economic and political processes operate on and through tourism and how and why new forms of tourism have emerged and how they are related to sustainability.

GEN/ASC 2123 Nutrition in the Modern World (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

In this course we will discuss the history of food and nutrition issues, global nutrition policy and its dynamics over time. Topics include social, economic, political factors that develop people's food and nutrition preferences in different cultures; poverty and food; food politics and sustainability of food systems. Nutrition policy involves issues such as sustainable agriculture, organic farming, food production and the role of genetically modified foods in it. Also examined are multi-faceted nutrition problems in the modern world such as malnutrition, food allergies, eating disorders, unequal access to healthy and affordable food; the global obesity epidemic; the impact of food advertising; and how individual eating habits are affected by the modern environment.

GEN/ASC 2124 Cold War Culture (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The Cold War is the name historians give to the decades after the Second World War when global culture and politics were shaped by two ideologies in intense competition. The United States and its allies promoted free market economics and ideals, while the Soviet Union and China backed anti-colonial, anti-imperialist movements and regimes. Their indirect, often proxy conflict set the stage for our era of "globalization." This seminar approaches the Cold War from a cultural perspective, above all in terms of the radical changes it brought to American society, but also with an eye to comparative experience. It challenges students to consider whether -- or to what extent -- Cold War metaphors and mindsets are still relevant today.

COGN/GEN1201 Introduction to Psychology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing II

BUS4800 Cases in Contemporary Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MGT3001 Principles of Management, MKT3130 Principles of Marketing, FIN3121 Principles of Finance, ACC2201 Management Accounting I

Business conditions are changing rapidly, globalization and the so-called “new economy” are based on continuous change, the growing use of information and communication technologies and complex networks of relationships between firms. This multi-area course will introduce students with current business trends. The course will also create a new critical perspective for students to review businesses and perform relevant and timely analysis.

BUS4251.1 Internship Program I (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 30 credits completed

The purpose of the program is to introduce various professions to the students and provide training in interpersonal and professional communications.

MGT4251.2 Internship Program in Management II (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 70 credits completed and BUS4251.1 Internship Program I

Familiarization with the organizational structure of the internship host-organization, with the area of its activities; learning mode of operation of the organization; learning the organizational documents of the organization; acquiring the skills of collecting and processing of primary information in the field of management; carrying out a comparative analysis of the organization; identifying gaps and suggesting the ways to improve the development of the organization.

MGT4204.2 Cases in Management (substitute) (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: BUS4251.1 Internship Program I and 70 credits completed

The course offers various advanced case studies on practical problems in managing the business entities.

MGT4251.3 Internship Program in Management III (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MGT4251.2 Internship Program in Management II or MGT4204.2 Cases in Management (substitute)

The consolidation and intensification of theoretical knowledge and skills acquired by students through the process of theoretical learning; the formation of professional competence; the familiarization with real industrial, technological, and organizational processes going on at the place of internship; the mastering of the profession's basics in the operational sphere: the familiarization with and acquirement of the methodology and technology of professional problem-solving; the collection of the necessary for the preparation and compilation of the internship report materials.

MARKETING AREAMKT3130 Principles of Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The aims of this course are to provide students with a basic understanding of the constituent elements of the marketing function in organizations. The course will develop analytical and diagnostic skills in dealing with marketing situations. Students will learn how marketing objectives are matched with marketing strategies and programs.

MKT3150 Strategic Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

This class involves an in depth study of marketing management, with emphasis on the marketing environment, development of marketing strategies, formulation of policies, and, critically, the integration of marketing with other functional areas of business.

MKT3201 Consumer Behavior (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course will provide the students with knowledge of key concepts of Consumer Behavior Science and their use in developing marketing strategies. This will include analysis of external and internal influences on consumer behavior; consumer decision-making process; concepts of consumer strategy and tactics; the importance of product image and brands; and, store image influence consumer purchases.

MKT3202 Marketing Communications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course is designed to introduce students to the main aspects of the marketing communication mix as well as marketing communications strategy. This knowledge will develop them as future marketing managers, who will be able to lead a company's communications. By the end of the course students will be able to define and develop a company's marketing communications strategy; brief advertising agencies about message style and media used for promotional campaign; and, evaluate advertising agency proposals.

MKT3205 Retailing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

This course investigates the structure of the retailing industry. Issues covered include retailing trends, retail store organization, and tools for understanding retail consumers. Store location, design, and layout are examined as the core of understanding the basic fundamentals of operating a retail business.

MKT3210 Services Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course focuses on the specific issues facing successful marketers in the service sector. Marketing of services, including promotion and pricing practices and strategies, are discussed in detail as is in-depth practical knowledge of franchising and specific services sectors.

MKT3212 Fundamentals of Selling (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

The fundamentals of selling and sales management will be studied in this course to ensure students understand the role of personal selling in the company promotional program, customers' buying behavior, sales process, and functions of a sales manager. The students will practice the skills necessary for effective communication and successful selling. Prospecting and approaching customers, sales presentation, handling objections, and closing and follow-up techniques will be studied in detail. Sales planning, developing, and directing sales forces as well as evaluating the performance of the sales aspect of organizations will contribute to the students' understanding of sales management.

MKT3214 Brand Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course addresses important branding decisions faced by organizations. Its' basic objectives are firstly to increase understanding of the important issues in planning and evaluating brand strategies. Secondly, the course provides the theories, models, and other tools to make better branding decisions. Thirdly, the course provides a forum for students to apply these principles using practical examples. Particular emphasis is placed in the course on understanding psychological principles at the customer level that will improve managerial decision-making with respect to brands. A central aim of the course is to make these concepts relevant for any type of organization (public or private, large or small).

MKT3216 New Product Development (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

This course addresses important marketing issues involved in developing new product and is based in the strategy of the firm and includes the marketing, manufacturing, finance, engineering and R&D functions. In the context of the course the term "new product" is related to anything new and creative including a product concept, an advertising slogan, the new design of packaging, and a new logo among others. One unique feature of this course is to get students understanding and managing new-product marketing processes.

MKT3221 Tourism Practices and Principles (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Through an interdisciplinary approach this course introduces students to the nature of tourism and hospitality from both an industry and a social perspective. The course imparts knowledge and comprehension by introducing research skills, the development of critical analysis and encourages the articulation of concepts and opinions. Students will be made aware of the development of "system thinking" and its application in both the tourism and the hospitality industry.

MKT3222 Cross-Cultural Tourism Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

Through an active participation in this course the student will develop an understanding of culture as a tourism product, as well as cross-cultural tourism marketing and its place in tourism. The perspectives include the fundamental – what is culture and how are representations embodied in specific products and communication channels, the global and comparative – how is the nature of culture changing in a global economy from tourism marketing point of view and how can tourism business respond to the challenge, developing tourism that is culturally sustainable?

MKT3223 Niche Tourism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Niche Tourism examines one of the fastest growing areas within the tourism sector. This course provides an integrated picture of specialty/niche tourism as a whole looking at both the 'macro' and 'micro' niche area. It has a comprehensive theoretical framework, and discusses initiatives, policies and strategies adopted internationally. With an emphasis on linking theory to practice, it is underpinned by up-to-date international case studies from around the world. Divided into 3 parts, it covers a variety of aspects under the headings of special interest tourism, tradition and culture base tourism and activity-based tourism.

MKT3275 Advertising Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3202 Marketing Communications

This course analyses the principles and practices of advertising from a managerial viewpoint. The purpose of the course is to familiarize the student with the process of developing and managing advertising. The course considers the reasons to advertise products and market analyses in the planning phase of the advertising program. This stage also includes media selection, creation, and production of advertisements, copy testing and development of advertising budgets.

MKT3277 Sustainable Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

Sustainable Marketing course will introduce students to the concepts of social and environmental sustainability principles applied to marketing activities of organization. The course will demonstrate students how to optimize marketing decisions with respect to nature and society well being. Participants will learn concepts like Triple Bottom Line, Natural capitalism, cradle-to-cradle design, and other. It is expected to demonstrate that implementation of sustainability principles to marketing activities can improve performance and profitability of business organization.

MKT4201 Cases in Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

The course offers various advanced case studies on practical problems in marketing.

MKT4203 Marketing Research (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course looks at how marketing research functions and procedures can be utilized in measuring and analyzing environmental factors in consumer demand, sales efficiency, effectiveness of promotional programs, and effects of competitor's strategies. It includes methods of product distribution and pricing research. Projects emphasize current marketing research techniques.

MKT4208 International Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course covers international marketing operations by looking at issues such as product policies, pricing, marketing communications, distribution channels, and marketing research. The factors governing the decision to engage in foreign transactions by organizations are explored in detail. In-depth market studies form a core part of the course.

MKT4210 Digital Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3202 Marketing Communications

The course is designed to examine the unique features of marketing through the digital media. Upon completion of the course, students will be able to understand what activities comprise digital marketing and how to support marketing strategy with those activities. Students will not only learn the advantages of digital media compared to off-line media, but also get recommendations on how to properly use various instruments of digital marketing such as web design, search advertising, display advertising, online video, viral marketing, branded content, mobile marketing, and social media marketing. The course will use local and international real life cases and will emphasize ethics surrounding digital marketing activities.

MKT4219 Event Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

The course will provide the students with an understanding of the constituent elements of the planning, designing, and implementing events. The focus is placed on sales promotion techniques, marketing creativity, and public relations in the organizations. The course will develop analytical and diagnostic skills in dealing with marketing situations.

MKT4299 Selected Topics in Marketing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3150 Strategic Marketing

This course provides further study into various areas in marketing. Topics covered will change from year to year depending on the students' particular needs and strengths.

BUS4271 Thesis I/ Thesis Project I: Research Methods in Business Studies (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

This course aims to study the design, and the appropriate methods of research in business studies. It covers basic aspects of the logic of scientific inquiry, the main techniques and methods of research. The course provides students with an understanding of the relationship between research methodology theory, estimation method, and practice. The students will also be provided with an understanding of the use of the primary data generated based on questionnaires to examine business practices, and the secondary data to study the relevance of business and research methodology theory in the real world. The course also covers such topics as statistical concepts, probability and sampling distribution, correlation and regression, single- and multiple-regression, hypothesis testing, goodness of fit, analysis of variance, the problems in regression analysis and remedies and time series analysis.

MKT4272 Thesis II/ Thesis Project II (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 128 credits and BUS4271 Thesis I/ Thesis Project I: Research Methods in Business Studies

Thesis II is the final work, which is a summary of the results of the student's independent study of an actual problem corresponding to the profile of the Bachelor of Marketing program.

Thesis Project II is the final work of the student, which is an independent solution of applied problems corresponding to the profile of the Bachelor of Marketing program, performed using project approaches and (or) in the form of preparation of business projects, models, as well as creative projects and other projects.

MKT4277 State Examination (1 credit, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

Students are required to take the state examination in Marketing. Further details on this requirement are provided under the KIMEP University regulations on this matter.

MKT4280/MKT4290 State Specialized Examinations (2 credit, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

Students can take state specialized examinations under certain conditions. Further details on this requirement are provided under the KIMEP University regulations on this matter.

MKT4251.2 Internship Program in Marketing II (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 70 KIMEP credits completed and BUS4251.1 Internship Program I

Familiarization with the organizational structure of the internship host-organization, with the area of its activities; learning mode of operation of the organization; learning the organizational documents of the organization; acquiring the skills of collecting and processing of primary information in the field of management; carrying out a comparative analysis of the organization; identifying gaps and suggesting the ways to improve the development of the organization.

MKT4201.2 Cases in Marketing (substitute) (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 70 KIMEP credits completed and BUS4251.1 Internship Program I

The course offers various advanced case studies on practical problems in marketing.

MKT4251.3 Internship Program in Marketing III (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT4251.2 Internship Program in Marketing II or MKT4201.2 Cases in Marketing (substitute)

The consolidation and intensification of theoretical knowledge and skills acquired by students through the process of theoretical learning; the formation of professional competence; the familiarization with real industrial, technological, and organizational processes going on at the place of internship; the mastering of the profession's basics in the operational sphere: the familiarization with and acquirement of the methodology and technology of professional problem-solving; the collection of the necessary for the preparation and compilation of the internship report materials. Bases of internship are organizations related to careers in Marketing.

MKT3800 Contemporary Issues of Marketing Intelligence (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MKT3130 Principles of Marketing and GEN2301 Business Computer Applications

The course covers contemporary trends in the classical tools of market intelligence - information mapping, data collection, study and analysis of competitors, macroeconomic analysis, regulatory framework and customer behavior. The age of Big Data creates new challenges in use and application of the gathered information and the course teaches on the tools and approaches to the task.

BUS4800 Cases in Contemporary Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MGT3001 Principles of Management, MKT3130 Principles of Marketing, FIN3121 Principles of Finance, ACC2201 Management Accounting I

Business conditions are changing rapidly, globalization and the so-called "new economy" are based on continuous change, the growing use of information and communication technologies and complex networks of relationships between firms. This multi-area course will introduce students with current business trends. The course will also create a new critical perspective for students to review businesses and perform relevant and timely analysis.

OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT AND INFORMATION SYSTEMS AREA

PHYS1201 Physics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

No pre-requisite

This course provides students with the opportunity to develop their knowledge, understanding and skills relevant to the study of motion. Students examine energy in its different forms, and how we describe and measure electricity and magnetism and their interrelated effects.

GEN 1201 Mathematics for Business and Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course develops the basic concepts of mathematical analysis used in economics and business with emphasis on differentiation and integration of single real-variable functions and matrix algebra. The approach to these concepts is intuitive and visual. The formal proofs are given only when they help in understanding concepts. Applications to economics, business and social science as well as computational realizations are studied.

GEN2402 Business Statistical Analysis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN 1201 Mathematics for Business and Economics/MATH1202 Calculus

The course provides basic knowledge of probability, axioms of probability, expectation, joint and conditional probability distributions, Bayesian concepts of statistical inference, exploratory data analysis and data transformations, confidence limits, continuous probability distributions, sampling distributions, sampling surveys, hypotheses testing, regression analysis, analysis of variance and correlation analysis.

MATH1202 Mathematics for Computer Science 1 (Calculus I) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

The course introduces the basic mathematical tools and methods needed for computer science. It teaches how to develop the elementary mathematical skills needed to define, analyze and reason with the sorts of abstract concepts used in programming and computer science.

MATH1204 Mathematics for Computer Science 2 (Calculus III) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Mathematics for Computer Science 1

The course introduces the advanced mathematical tools and methods needed for computer science. It teaches the principles of discrete and linear algebra applied in programming and computer science.

IFS2402 Probability and Mathematical Statistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Mathematics for Computer Science 1
The course introduces probability theory and mathematical statistics. It teaches the concept and elementary properties of probability space, and random variables and their probability distributions. The concept of sampling, estimation, and hypotheses testing is also explained.

OPM3011 Decision Techniques and Tools (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN1201 Mathematics for Business and Economics/MATH1202 Mathematics for Computer Science 1 and FIN3121 Principles of Finance

The course provides the essential concepts of business mathematical methods and knowledge about computer tools used for decision making and problem solving. It will deal with such topics as LP Solutions, Breakeven Analysis, Sensitivity Analysis, Decision Trees, CPM/PERT, Time Series Analysis, Quantitative Forecasting Techniques, Decision Support Systems & Spreadsheets. The course will have a lab section added to focus on application of computer tools.

OPM3131 Introduction to Operations Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN2402 Business statistical Analysis or IFS2402 Probability and Mathematical Statistics

This course is an overview of the fundamentals of operations management (OM) used in service and manufacturing organizations. OM uses analytical thinking to deal with real world problems. Students will be introduced to the application of effective operations management techniques: productivity management, product and process design, job design, the planning and management of materials flows, manpower and capacity planning and scheduling, project management, and quality management.

OPM3215 Business Time Series Forecasting (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN2402 Business statistical Analysis

The course is devoted to advanced students who would like to refine their knowledge in applied statistics. The course consists of forecasting models and techniques, such as exponential smoothing models, ARIMA models, neural network techniques, rule-based forecasting, business forecasting. Commercial software such as SPSS and Neural Networks Package will be used for practical applications. Examples of time series forecasting related to marketing, operations, and finance are provided.

GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The purpose of the course is to introduce the background of computer and information technology principles to beginners and pre-intermediate level students. The course involves uses of modern software, such as Microsoft Windows, Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Internet and E-mail programs, which are necessary for studying at KIMEP. This course is a broad overview of the main topics in business computer applications. Students gain an understanding of computer architecture, networks, telecommunications; they learn how to apply information and knowledge systems, operations and decision support systems, spreadsheets, databases to a wide range of tasks and decision making process. The course emphasizes how organizations benefit from and use computer-based technology. The purpose of the course is to foster business thinking through available technical means.

CIT1303 Information Systems and Networking (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course focuses on the information systems and networking principles and best practices. In this course students will learn the foundation concepts of computer hardware, software, operating systems, peripherals, etc. along with how to get the most value and impact from computer technology. The course includes creating and working with a computer network and network equipment.

IFS2203 Management Information Systems (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course provides a broad overview of the information systems including their resources and components. In addition the course discusses key managerial issues relating to implementation and application of information systems in an enterprise, understanding the impact of information systems/ information technology on business functions; outlining strategies for corporate growth based on the effective use and management of information systems; analyzing business problems and developing the design for relevant information systems solutions; understanding how information systems can be used to transform business processes and provide more effective management control and decision systems.

IFS2204 Algorithms, Data structures, and Programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: PHYS1201 Physics, MATH1202 Calculus

This course is designed for teaching students three main fundamental terms in software engineering - data structures, algorithms, and programming. Students will learn types of data such as arrays, stacks, queues, linked lists, binary search trees, heaps, and graphs, the syntax of data declaration and manipulation in object-oriented programming language environment. Students will learn types of algorithms - linear, non-linear, the possible algorithm presentation ways, algorithms that make use of such structures as for sorting, searching, memory management. Students will also learn at least 2 programming languages at the examples of deciding different computational, business problems.

CIT2731 Digital Graphics in Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course involves studies of computer graphics software; basis of computer graphics: vector, bitmap (raster), 2-, 3- dimensional software packages, graphics coding, etc. The course is emphasized on the use of computer graphics in business (design of business cards, logo, booklets, leaflets, animated banners, billboards, etc.) with Corel Draw 12, Corel Draw X5 as software package "3 in 1" combining vector and bitmap graphics facilities (drawing with Corel Draw, image modifying with Corel Photo Paint, animating with Corel R.A.V.E.)

CIT2302 Database Management Systems in Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course covers fundamentals of databases & database management systems. The course introduces types and models of data base logical organization, relational structure of database systems based on entity relationship diagrams. The course contains basic principles of the relational database management systems with key fields and relationship models, with database testing mechanisms via Normal forms. The course contains principles of securing data while monitoring, editing, transferring. The course is compiled in the sequential manner from declaring, structuring, arranging data to managing data with data base management system -DBMS objects such as queries, forms, reports, pages. The course contains basis of programming with built-in DBMS languages like SQL, built-in macro-commands

CIT3734 Web Technologies in Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course provides knowledge about Web Design principles. In this course students will learn the fundamentals of web site design. Topics include publishing Web sites, updating web sites, Internet technologies. Topics include an overview of the www, e-mail, browsers, basic web page elements and organization of virtual communities. In the course software for web site development such as MS FrontPage and Dream Weaver are taken as tools.

IFS3745 Information Security Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

The purpose of this course is to show some of the critical security challenges in today's computing world and to discuss mechanisms for defending against those attacks by using classical and modern approaches of cryptography and other defence mechanisms. Course contains topics which deal with theoretical and fundamental aspects of cryptography, discuss various applications of cryptographic protocols and techniques in designing computing and network security solutions. The course will be useful for students interested in cryptography and security related areas.

CIT3801 Software Engineering Concepts (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: IFS2204 Algorithms. Data structures and Programming, CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

Software engineering is the application of a systematic disciplined quantifiable approach to the development, operation and maintenance of software; the application of engineering to software. In the course there will be given basic activities which are common to all software engineering process models: software specification – functional requirements obtained from the user; software design and implementation – production of the software system as a product; software validation – activity that assures that customer specifications are met; software evolution – system modification to meet continuing customer needs.

CIT3802 Advanced Programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

This course introduces computer programming using JAVA Script and the basics of JAVA programming languages with the principles of object-oriented programming. The emphasis is on event-driven programming methods, including creating and managing objects, classes, and using object-oriented tools, such as a class debugger. Upon completion, students should be able to develop, code, test, and debug JAVA Script and JAVA language programs.

CIT3803 Python Programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

In this course students will learn programming in Python which is a popular programming language. It was created by Guido van Rossum, and released in 1991. It is used for: web development (server-side), software development, mathematics, system scripting. Students will learn how to utilize Python program to create web applications; to create workflows; to connect to database systems, to read and modify files; to handle big data and perform complex mathematics; to rapid prototype; to do production-ready software development.

CIT3804 Engineering Computation and Data Science(3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: IFS4301 Introduction to Data Science

This course trains students to use and manage scientific data, whether it is in analyzing complex physical systems or in using statistics and machine learning, along with data visualization to extract useful information from the massive amount of data that can be also collected from sensors today. The course is committed to the development of new knowledge aimed at development and propagation of the use of numerical and computational tools to further research across multiple disciplines.

CIT3805 Big Data Analytics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: IFS4301 Introduction to Data Science

This course covers Big Data Fundamentals, including the characteristics of Big Data, the sources Big Data (such as social media, sensor data, and geospatial data), as well as the challenges imposed around information management, data analytics, privacy and security, as well as platforms and architectures. Data warehouses will also be presented as a solution to handling big data and business intelligence applications. This course is for understanding why the Big Data Era has come to be. This course provide students with the terminology and the core concepts behind big data problems, applications, and systems. It will help students to start thinking about how Big Data might be useful in their business or career.

CIT3806 Cryptographic Data Security (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: MATH1202 Calculus and GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

The purpose of this course is to show some of the critical security challenges in today's computing world and to discuss mechanisms for defending against those attacks by using classical and modern approaches of cryptography and other defense mechanisms. Course contains topics which deal with theoretical and fundamental aspects of cryptography, discuss various applications of cryptographic protocols and techniques in designing computing and network security solutions. The course will be useful for students interested in cryptography and security related areas.

CIT2735 Introduction to Programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: IFS2204 Algorithms, Data structures and Programming

This course introduces computer programming using JAVA Script and basis of JAVA programming languages with object-oriented programming principles. Emphasis is placed on event-driven programming methods, including creating and manipulating objects, classes, and using object-oriented tools such as the class debugger. Upon completion students should be able to design, code, test, and debug JAVA Script and JAVA language programs

CIT3812 Programming in C (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches C language of programming, developed for creating system applications that directly interact with the hardware devices such as drivers, kernels, etc. C programming is considered as the base for other programming languages, that is why it is known as a mother language.

CIT3807 Programming in Java (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches Java, a popular general-purpose programming language and computing platform. It is fast, reliable, and secure. According to Oracle, the company that owns Java, Java runs on 3 billion devices worldwide. Considering the number of Java developers, devices running Java, and companies adapting it, it's safe to say that Java will be around for many years to come.

CIT3814 Programming in PHP (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches PHP, a popular general-purpose scripting language that is especially suited to web development. The language has the ability to communicate back and forth with a server and create a dynamic web page for the user.

CIT3815 Programming in SQL (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course will teach SQL, a domain-specific language used in programming. The language is designed for managing data held in a relational database management system, or for stream processing in a relational data stream management system.

CIT3811 Security in Computer Networks (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT1303 Information Systems and Networking

The courses teaches the fundamental of network security, which consists of the policies and practices adopted to prevent and monitor unauthorized access, misuse, modification, or denial of a computer network and network-accessible resources.

CIT3809 Mobile Programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

This course teaches how to develop mobile applications for mobile devices, such as personal or enterprise digital assistants or mobile phones. These applications can be pre-installed on phones during manufacturing stage, or delivered as web applications using server-side or client-side processing to provide an "application-like" experience within a Web browser.

CIT3810 Machine Learning (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches the fundamental of Machine learning, a method of data analysis that automates analytical model building. It is based on the idea that systems can learn from data, identify patterns and make decisions with minimal human intervention.

CIT3808 Mobile Platforms and Systems (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches the hardware and software environment for laptops, tablets, smartphones and other portable devices. The students will learn different platforms like Windows and Mac dominated the laptop world, and Apple and Android that rule the smartphone/tablet devices.

CIT3802 Web programming (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2735 Introduction to Programming

The course teaches programming for develop website development. Web development can range from developing a simple single static page of plain text to complex web-based internet applications, electronic businesses, and social networks.

IFS 4204 Decision Support Systems (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

A decision support system (DSS) - is a computer system that encompasses mathematical models, informational databases and a user interface to help managers make better decisions. This course is intended to develop an appreciation of the nature of managerial business decision making as well as a working knowledge of Decision Support Systems (DSS) for facilitating the process of semi-structured decision making. The course will help students to gain proficiency in general solutions of operational business problems, using Decision Support Systems released in spreadsheets at the examples of MS Excel, Google sheet (free cloud), released in free cloud applications – such as Microsoft Power BI, and special commercial DSS software including IBM SPSS.

IFS4301 Introduction to Data Science (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course covers the necessary tools and concepts used in the data science industry, including machine learning, statistical inference, scaled data, and more. Students will learn the basics of retrieving data from a variety of sources, including web APIs and page cleaning. Students will learn the basic syntax of data mining languages such as R, Python, command line and spreadsheets for research and data manipulation. The course contains topics on using methods for data analysis.

OPM3204 Project Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: OPM3131 Introduction to Operations Management

This course offers a comprehensive overview of project management and covers topics such as methodology, tool sets, and project lifecycle including analysis, planning, design, and evaluation. It provides a good foundation for beginners who want to learn about the various phases of the system development lifecycle, as well as different types of documentation.

IFS4302 Business Intelligence Applications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information & Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications and FIN3121 Principles of finance and MKT3130 Principles of Marketing

Business Intelligence Applications course is designed to familiarize students with business intelligence concepts with an understanding of the tools and techniques for data mining, storage, management, analysis, and reporting. In this course students will study BI applications on the basis of stationary and online analytical processing intellectual systems like MS Power BI and Google analytics.

IFS4305 Data Visualization (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: GEN/OPM 1300 Information and Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM 2301 Business Computer Applications

The course is addressed to students with knowledge on basic data analysis techniques. Students will get started with building interactive MS Power BI dashboards based on the user needs and required metrics. By the end of the classes students will become efficient in telling an interactive story using data and providing recommendations based on it.

IFS4306 ERP systems (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Pre-requisites: CIT2302 Database Management Systems in Business

ERP Systems are used by large and midsize companies in order to support their daily business transactions, covering areas such as Sales & Distribution, Procurement, Inventory Management, Production Planning, Finance and Controlling. Enterprise software designed to integrate every aspect of a company's operation. The goal of this course is to familiarize students with business processes and enable them to record transactions in an ERP System

BUS4271 Thesis I/ Thesis Project I: Research Methods in Business Studies (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

This course aims to study the design, and the appropriate methods of research in business studies. It covers basic aspects of the logic of scientific inquiry, the main techniques and methods of research. The course provides students with an understanding of the relationship between research methodology theory, estimation method, and practice. The students will also be provided with an understanding of the use of the primary data generated based on questionnaires to examine business practices, and the secondary data to study the relevance of business and research methodology theory in the real world. The course also covers such topics as statistical concepts, probability and sampling distribution, correlation and regression, single- and multiple-regression, hypothesis testing, goodness of fit, analysis of variance, the problems in regression analysis and remedies and time series analysis.

IFS4272 Thesis II/ Thesis Project II (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 128 credits and BUS4271 Thesis I/ Thesis Project I: Research Methods in Business Studies

Thesis II is the final work, which is a summary of the results of the student's independent study of an actual problem corresponding to the profile of the Bachelor of Information Systems program.

Thesis Project II is the final work of the student, which is an independent solution of applied problems corresponding to the profile of the Bachelor of Information Systems program, performed using project approaches and (or) in the form of preparation of business projects, models, as well as creative projects and other projects.

IFS4277 State Examination (1 credit, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

Students are required to take the state examination in the major area. Further details on this requirement are provided under the KIMEP University regulations on this matter.

IFS4280/ IFS4290 State Specialized Examinations (2 credit, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: completion of the General Education and Program courses

Students can take state specialized examinations under certain conditions. Further details on this requirement are provided under the KIMEP University regulations on this matter.

IFS4251.2 Internship Program in IS II (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: BUS4251.1 Internship Program I and 70 credits completed

Familiarization with the organizational structure of the internship host-organization, with the area of its activities; learning mode of operation of the organization; learning the organizational documents of the organization; acquiring the skills of collecting and processing of primary information in the field of management; carrying out a comparative analysis of the organization; identifying gaps and suggesting the ways to improve the development of the organization.

IFS4201.2 Cases in IS (substitute) (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: BUS4251.1 Internship Program I and 70 credits completed

This course provides students the opportunity to apply their knowledge and skills to address a series of real IT issues that have arisen in organizations. The variety of cases, in terms of issues addressed and different organizational settings, provides the opportunity to accelerate learning in a manner not possible in real-life. Students can expect to develop and apply not only their critical, analytical and decision-making skills but also those of written and oral communication.

IFS4251.3 Internship Program in IS III (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: IFS4251.2 Internship Program in IS II or IFS4201.2 Cases in IS (substitute)

The consolidation and intensification of theoretical knowledge and skills acquired by students through the process of theoretical learning; the formation of professional competence; the familiarization with real industrial, technological, and organizational processes going on at the place of internship; the mastering of the profession's basics in the operational sphere: the familiarization with and acquirement of the methodology and technology of professional problem-solving; the collection of the necessary for the preparation and compilation of the internship report materials. Bases of internship are organizations related to careers in Information Technologies in Business.

CIT3908 Cybersecurity (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM1300 Information and Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

Cyber Security deals with the technology, practices, and processes of securing computer systems, networks, and information from any type of damage, corruption, hacking or theft. Cyber Security course covers many areas of cybersecurity including, security legal issues standards and regulations, security management, network security, cloud security, system security, network infrastructure, protocols, and encryption standards, methods, and algorithms.

CIT3816 Mobile Technologies and Applications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM1300 Information and Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

Mobile Technologies and Applications course is to introduce students with modern diverse mobile network technologies, systems and applications. Students will learn the facilities of mobile operating systems and application software; capabilities and compatibilities of different operating platforms in designing mobile application software

IFS3738 Digital Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: IFS2203 Management Information Systems

This course is intended to provide undergraduate students with an overview of such IT-driven platform business phenomena sweeping through the global economy and teach how to start and run a successful platform business, explaining ways to identify prime markets and monetize networks. This course also covers essential issues concerning security, regulation, and consumer trust, while examining markets that may be ripe for a platform revolution, including healthcare, education, and sharing economy.

IFS4208 IT-Driven Business Model (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: IFS2203 Management Information Systems

This course provides students with basic concepts and Theories necessary to understand the various aspects of business model. Topics include business model types with IT, innovative business model, innovative business strategies, and so on. Many real IT-driven business model examples including Fintech, Blockchain Company will be discussed in the course. Students are expected to develop a big picture about the role of IT-Driven business model to be successful in the business world.

IFS3730 Business Analytics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: IFS2203 Management Information Systems

This course provides an overview of strategic and managerial issues on business analytics in modern enterprises. Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to figure out fundamental issues of business analytics: Business Analytics Overview- Introduction to business analytics, data-analytic thinking, data science solution for business problems. Predictive Modelling- Introduction to predictive modeling. Forecasting analytics. Prescriptive Analytics- Introduction to optimization and simulation. Decision Analytics- What is a good model? Visualizing model performance, introduction to data Introduction to Business Analytics mining and text analytics.

OPM3205 Logistics and Supply Chain Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: OPM3131 Introduction to Operations Management

The course focuses on managing resources in service and production operations environments for globalization and outsourcing for competitive advantage from a strategic viewpoint. Participants will learn how the value chain and lean synchronization improves Supply Chain Management (SCM) design. The course builds a solid foundation in designing SCM networks, process design, capacity assessment and operations network configuration in SCM. The role of location and distribution networks, customer handling, order fulfillment and service quality design in SCM are identified. Participants will understand the applications of strategic forecasting, inventory flow, MRP, vendor selection and evaluation, purchasing and subcontracting, contract preparations, management of integrated project planning and financial analysis for global strategy formulation.

OPM4201 Purchasing and Materials Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: OPM3205 Logistics and Supply Chain Management

This course reviews analysis and application of an integrated approach of purchasing and material management to facilitate efficient logistics to companies along the supply chain. Particular emphasis will be given on organizational policies and procedures on purchasing, relationship with supplier, relation of purchasing department with other departments, make-or-buy decision; bid and proposal preparations, supplier or vendor selection; quality assurance, value and cost analysis; quantity discounts, inventory determination, material requirement planning, Just-In-Time (JIT) purchasing; purchasing and warehouse management and purchasing information systems. The students will also relate the government rules and regulations of purchasing.

OPM4202 Transportation and Distribution Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: OPM3131 Introduction to Operations Management

This course provides a review of the transportation alternatives, techniques and technologies are changing very rapidly. An in-depth analysis will be conducted on the fundamental differences among the various transportation modes and their combinations in terms of their basic cost structures, mode of transportation, market competition and service characteristics to minimize the transportation cost as well as total logistics expenses and reduce the shipment time. From local and international point of view this course addresses the role of commercial transportation in logistics & business, existing transportation infrastructure, intermediaries involved in movement of goods to and from a country, all critical routing and scheduling; shipment planning & containerization; mode, carrier, and third-party selection; transportation regulations and documentation; transportation management systems; and transportation organization design.

OPM4206 Project Management Supply Cost and Risk Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: OPM3131 Introduction to Operations Management

This course provides a general introduction to project management in Supply chain. It covers projects from identification of mission, need or commercial opportunity through project economic justification; pre-project definition, planning and programming; evaluation of technical and business risks, integrated cost estimation and scheduling; cost, time, and performance risk assessment; work breakdown structures; project networks; managing to the budget; setting contingency allowances and management reserves; contracting and subcontracting; make-or-buy decisions; integrated project teams; managing multidisciplinary projects; progress and productivity measurement; change management; risk management, forecasting time and cost; etc. Practitioners give examples of actual projects. The objective is to convey how projects are initiated, developed, started, managed to completion, and to gain some “hands on” experience using tools and techniques including MS Project software to accomplish project management objectives.

IFS4203 Big Data Management and Analysis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN/OPM1300 Information and Communication Technologies or GEN/OPM2301 Business Computer Applications

This course covers Big Data Fundamentals, including the characteristics of Big Data, the sources Big Data (such as social media, sensor data, and geospatial data), as well as the challenges imposed around information management, data analytics, privacy and security, as well as platforms and architectures. Data warehouses will also be presented as a solution to handling big data and business intelligence applications.

This course is for understanding why the Big Data Era has come to be. This course provide students with the terminology and the core concepts behind big data problems, applications, and systems. It will help students to start thinking about how Big Data might be useful in their business or career.

BUS4800 Cases in Contemporary Business (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MGT3001 Principles of Management, MKT3130 Principles of Marketing, FIN3121 Principles of Finance, ACC2201 Management Accounting I

Business conditions are changing rapidly, globalization and the so-called “new economy” are based on continuous change, the growing use of information and communication technologies and complex networks of relationships between firms. This multi-area course will introduce students with current business trends. The course will also create a new critical perspective for students to review businesses and perform relevant and timely analysis.

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

ECONOMICS AREA

ECN1101 Introduction to Economics (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN1100 and GEN1120

The course develops economic concepts and illustrates them with applications from Kazakhstan and elsewhere. The course surveys both microeconomics and macroeconomics. “Micro” addresses how markets coordinate the choices of firms and individuals. “Macro” concerns the national and world economy. Macroeconomic topics include the measurement of national economic activity (Gross Domestic Product, or GDP), economic growth, the business cycle, unemployment, inflation, international trade, and the economic role of government. This course helps the student to reach General Education objectives in critical thinking and writing.

GEN1201/ECN1201 Mathematics for Business and Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG0004 Foundation English Level 4

The course develops the basic concepts of mathematical analysis used in economics and business with emphasis on differentiation and integration of single real-variable functions and matrix algebra. The approach to these concepts is intuitive and visual. The formal proofs are given only when they help in understanding concepts. Applications to economics, business and social science as well as computational realizations are studied.

ECN2020 Global Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The purpose of this course is to enable students to understand the 21st Century world economy. Students will be introduced to the global distribution of world GDP by country, and changes in this pattern since the turn of the century. Global macroeconomic interconnections among the significant players will be examined in terms of commodity trade flows and FDI flows, and country rankings by GDP in current USD, constant dollars, Purchasing Power Parity, per capita GDP, and Human Development Index, among other indicators. The course will also deal with major country alliances such as BRICS and the EU, and examine the role of major older institutions such as IMF and World Bank and WTO, and the newly-formed Asian Infrastructure Development Bank. Students will study world-wide trends in inequality of income and wealth, the incidence of poverty, and the different forms poverty takes.

ECN2021 Health Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course deals with the core concepts in microeconomics, welfare economics, and moral and political philosophy, and applies them to reach an understanding of human health and health-care issues in both developed and developing countries. It investigates how the provision of health-care services is different from the supply of commodities in markets, with particular emphasis on the role of government and insurance markets. In addition, it deals with the theoretical and empirical aspects of key health economics issues, including the demand for health-care services, supply side concerns, health insurance, the provision of public goods, and related topics. Another chief concern in this course is the role of public policy in engendering 'health equity' in society.

ECN2083 Introduction to Statistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN1201/ECN1201 (Not available to students who have credit for OPM2201 or STAT2101)

This course introduces the basic concepts of study design, data collection, data analysis and statistical inference. Topics include an overview of observational and experimental study designs; graphical and numerical descriptive statistics; probability distributions for simple experiments and for random variables; sampling distributions, confidence intervals, and hypothesis testing for the mean and proportion in the case of one sample. The emphasis is on developing statistical reasoning skills and concepts; computational skill is secondary. Students are taught the use of statistical software to handle the computations.

ECN2101 Professional Foreign Language for Economists (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

The course focuses on effective writing and communication for economists.

ECN2102 Principles of Macroeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: All required GE English courses

This course provides basic understanding of a typical market-based economy from society's point of view. It includes national income analysis; the traditional theory of income and employment; economic fluctuations; the economic role of the government; government expenditures and taxation; money and banking; economic growth; and international economics.

ECN2103 Principles of Microeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: All required GE English courses

This course provides students with a basic understanding of how markets work. At the end of the course, students should be able to: understand and explain the basic problems in micro economics; demonstrate knowledge of basic microeconomic terms, concepts and models; correctly apply microeconomic terms and concepts when discussing economic issues; and appreciate the contributions, as well as the limits, of microeconomics in solving current economic problems.

ECN2202 Business Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: All required GE English courses

This course familiarizes students with core notions and landmark concepts of the legal system of Republic of Kazakhstan that are likely to be encountered in future business practice. It begins with an introduction to the major legal concepts in the context of modern business and then introduces students to the basic doctrines of the business law of Republic of Kazakhstan and covers its main branches, including: Law of Transactions, Property Law, Liability Law, Land Law, Labor Law, Tax Law etc..

ECN2360 Introduction to Personal Finance (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103 and ECN2102 (for non-economics students ECN 1101)

This course of applied economics helps consumers plan a budget and earmark savings for personal goals. Topics include financing and owning a home; minimizing taxes; budgeting to balance income and expenses; managing expenses such as credit-card spending; planning one's savings, particularly for investment; planning education and careers; determining how much insurance to buy; and retirement planning. The course shows students how to apply basic economic theory to practical problems.

ECN2401 Calculus (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN1201/GEN1201.

This course provides students with methods of multivariate integral and differential calculus, including partial differentiation and its applications, vector calculus, and nonlinear optimization, both constrained and unconstrained. The students who successfully complete the course will be acquainted with necessary concepts, and they will develop skills to apply their knowledge in business, economic analysis, and academic research.

ECN3030 Economics of the European Union (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103, ECN2102

This course covers an array of significant aspects of the European Union economies in conjunction with other economies of Europe. Students learn about the European Central Bank's operations, and the Euro's exchange rates against major currencies. The course traces the economic history of the EU, its relationship with non-EU European countries, highlighting the role played by political and institutional foundations of integration processes across Europe, including adoption of trade agreements and establishment of supranational organizations of the Union. Other diverse issues covered by this course are: EU economic performance, ranging from commodity and factor markets, Common Agricultural Policy, trade policies, to fiscal and monetary policy frameworks.

ECN3040 Market Regulation and Antitrust Policy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

In some markets with a handful of participants (half a dozen or less sellers or buyers) some agents can exercise power in a manner that creates a divergence between commodity price and the true cost of producing an additional unit of the commodity. Governments, in such cases, seek to regulate markets to bring about more efficient outcomes and to protect individuals from collusive and other harmful activities, especially by corporations. This is true of pollution control, environmental protection, ensuring new entrants access to markets dominated by large corporations, and solving problems of asymmetric information, especially in the healthcare industry. This course deals with the economic and legal foundations upon which such government regulation or deregulation of business activities is achieved. This course is cross-listed with the School of Law course by the same title, with the Course code LAW3040.

ECN3081 Intermediate Microeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103 or FIN2105. Alternatively ECN1101 with minimum grade B minus.

This course falls between Principles of Microeconomics and Advanced Microeconomics. Topics include consumer theory, firm production and costs, decision-making under perfect competition, imperfect competition, monopoly, and oligopoly. Students can diagnose and solve microeconomic problems using the economic concepts and tools acquired in this course.

ECN3082 Intermediate Macroeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2102 or FIN2106. Alternatively ECN1101 with minimum grade B minus.

This course provides the theoretical background to analyze macroeconomic phenomena. Several competing theories will be introduced to discuss controversial issues of employment, inflation and government policies. Traditionally, Keynesian and Classical theories are debated in depth in this course. Theories like the Real Business Cycle Model also will be included.

ECN3083 Mathematical Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This introductory course applies mathematical tools to optimization decisions in economics. Matrix algebra and calculus (differentiation and integration) will be briefly reviewed. The economic intuition behind various mathematical assumptions is explained. Particular emphasis is given to the unconstrained and constrained optimization techniques applied to the consumer theory, production theory (profit maximization and cost minimization), and to general equilibrium analysis. Linear modeling and linear programming are also covered.

ECN3151 Managerial Economics (Entrepreneurship) (3 credits 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This course provides the student with the tools for decision making in an enterprise. Course topics include organization and finance of the firm, optimization techniques, estimation of demand functions, behavior and pricing strategies under different market conditions, creating and capturing value, task assignment and labor contract.

ECN3155 Money and Banking (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2102

The course begins with a review of the functions of money and of the structure of banking. It proceeds with monetary theory as a guide to changing the money supply and the interest rates. Much of the course concerns bank regulation. To understand the functioning of banks and, more generally, of financial institutions, one must first comprehend such phenomena as market equilibrium, interest, inflation and exchange rates. Specific banking issues will be interwoven into digressions concerning macroeconomics, microeconomics and international trade. The last part of the course is about duration and convexity, which help immunize bank balance sheets against unexpected changes in interest rates.

ECON3161 Natural Resource Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This course addresses theoretical and policy issues related to the exploitation of renewable and non-renewable natural resources, such as land, water, forests, fisheries, minerals and mining. The dynamic dimension in economic modelling of mining and forestry is addressed. In particular, the efficient extraction and depletion path of natural resources (under various market structures and government control) is discussed along with the management of natural resources. Present value and cost benefit analysis are also covered. The issue of sustainability is addressed with particular reference to natural resource scarcity.

ECN3184 Econometric Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN 2103 (alternatively FIN2105), ECN 2102 (alternatively FIN2106) and ECN2083 (alternatively GEN2400 or GEN2402)

This course introduces regression techniques widely used in economics and finance. It discusses basic procedures for estimating equations and testing hypotheses; the use of one or more independent variables; and problems in time series or cross-sectional data (for example, a dataset of income in each Kazakhstani oblast for a given year).

ECN3189 Economy of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103 (alternatively FIN2105) and ECN2102 (alternatively FIN2106)

This course starts by introducing the economic history and geography of Kazakhstan and its neighbors. It then details economic development before, during and after the Soviet period. It emphasizes the stabilization and restructuring of Central Asian economies after 1991. It concludes by examining Kazakhstan's resources, sectoral composition, and international comparative advantage.

ECN3230 Financial Institutions Management (Management) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This course gives an overview of financial institutions and their role as financial intermediaries. It develops a framework within which questions of adequate regulation can be addressed and introduces tools to measure, analyze and manage different types of risk to which these institutions are exposed.

ECN3350 Financial Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3081

This course introduces modern theories in financial economics. It applies economic analysis and the modern theory of finance to decisions of investors and firms. Topics include the selection of a portfolio that may comprise bonds and other securities; option pricing; and basic theories of efficient markets. Students will learn how to evaluate such corporate financial decisions as capital budgeting, working capital management, mergers and acquisitions, bankruptcy and corporate reorganization.

CSS1999 Academic Internship (2 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

Through the course, students with no or with little professional experience in their area of specialization will be given an opportunity to be introduced to the basic skills necessary to have internship at professional level and/or to apply for job in any governmental or non-governmental organization in future. In particular, students will be exposed to legislations which govern labor relations, how to write CV and motivation letters, business ethnics and business correspondence rules. In addition, representatives of different organizations such as British Council, United Nations, embassies, and business organizations, republican and international banks will introduce their companies to the students with perspectives of internship and future work.

ECN3888 Academic Internship in Economics for BAE two parts for a total of 2 credits, 4 ECTS

First part: No Prerequisite

In this course students will be exposed to legislations which govern labor relations, health and safety, processing sensitive information. They will also get introduced to writing of applications, writing of resumes and interview skills.

Second part: Prerequisite is passing first part

Students will study selective company laws and tax regulations and acquire relevant knowledge for working in Kazakhstan as an economist.

ECN3888.1 Professional Internship in Economics for BAE (4 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3888.01 or ECN/CSS3888, 60 credits completed

Through the internships, students with no or with little professional experience in their chosen area of concentration will be given an opportunity to be introduced in the daily work environment. Students already employed in their chosen careers become better familiar with professional day-to-day life, which offers an opportunity to sharpen skills and/or examine unfamiliar aspects of their chosen fields. Ultimately, internship should help students be better prepared for fast approaching job market experience and for their future professional career. Students will keep an internship journal, write a report on their internship and make a presentation.

This course may be taken in one semester or in two parts in two consecutive semesters.

ECN4990 State Examination in International Economics (1 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 4th year status

This course prepares students for the state exam in International Economics.

ECN4991 State Examination in Econometrics/Quantitative Methods (1 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 4th year status

This course prepares students for the state exam in Econometrics/Quantitative Methods.

ECN4086 Applied Microeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3081

This course follows up Intermediate Microeconomics with such advanced topics as general equilibrium theory, strategic behavior, making decisions under uncertainty, asymmetric information, public goods and externalities. The course develops these topics with elementary mathematics.

ECN4104 Research Methods and Methodology (Data analysis) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 90 Credit hours

This course introduces students to methods and methodology of research in economics. It discusses issues such as organizing a research project, collecting data and it provides them with techniques of statistical and data analysis such as cluster analysis and factor analysis. The course will guide the students towards developing their own research projects.

ECN4111 International Finance (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN4112

This course gives deepens the analysis of international economics, including different theories of the foreign exchange rate, currency crises, efficiency of foreign exchange markets and international monetary arrangements.

ECN4112 International Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2102, ECN2103

This course gives an overview of the determinants of trade and money and finance in an open economy. It introduces basic concepts and general equilibrium models of trade with and without factor movements; trade barriers and their impact on social welfare; the political economy of trade barriers and the evolution of trade organizations. It also introduces the balance of payments, theories of the exchange rate and open economies macroeconomics. Other issues, such as optimum currency areas are also discussed.

ECN4121 Public Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This class emphasizes government expenditure policy. Topics include the theory of externalities and public goods, welfare economics and income distribution, political economy and voting mechanisms, and the design and evaluation of social insurance programs.

ECN4122 Labor Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103

This course develops theoretical models for the labor market, presents related empirical research, and discusses policy applications. Topics include labor supply, labor demand, market equilibrium, compensating wage differences, investment in human capital, and cyclical unemployment. In addition, labor unions, minimum wage laws, compensation policies and productivity, wage indexation, and discrimination and equal opportunity laws may be discussed.

ECN4125 Monetary Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3082

This course develops the basic analytical tools used in monetary regulations, such as money supply aggregates as well as the demand and supply of money. After developing several theories of macroeconomics, the course will analyze the effectiveness of monetary policy in various economic situations. Inflation theories will be also covered.

ECN4140 Introduction to Game Theory (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Game Theory is the mathematical modeling of strategic interaction in conflict and cooperation among actors who never engage in any premeditated action that is dominated by any feasible alternative that they have. This course focuses on non-cooperative games and their applications to economics, political science, sociology, the law, biology, and other fields. It applies this knowledge to the design of mechanisms. A short introduction to cooperative game theory completes the course.

The module aims at students:

- Knowing the standard solution concepts of non-cooperative Game Theory
- Applying these concepts to economic problems
- Appreciating the problem of moral hazard and adverse selection in games of asymmetric information.
- Applying our knowledge of games to the design of mechanisms.
- Having a basic understanding of the different approach of cooperative Game Theory.

ECN4152 Industrial Organization (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3081

The study of industrial organization is important for understanding corporate behavior. The course focuses on an empirical and theoretical examination of the structure, conduct, and performance of firms and industries. Major topics include the theory of the firm; profit maximizing and growth maximizing models; price and output determination under different market structures; measures of market structure and market performance; production and cost functions; productivity growth, technical efficiency and technical change.

ECN4153 Law and Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3081

This course introduces students to law making and enforcement from an economic perspective. Areas of law amenable to this treatment include contracts, torts, and property law. Topics may include rationality; motivation; moral judgment and responsibility; fairness and justice; self-control; informal social control via norms and education; formal social control via laws; and issues of identity and intergroup conflict.

ECN4154 Government and Business (Government Regulation of the Economy) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3081

This course surveys theoretical treatments of oligopoly, natural monopolies, mergers, vertical restraints, and price discrimination; and social welfare tradeoffs associated with public regulation of electrical, natural gas, cable TV, and telecommunications firms and the effects of government policies on businesses and individuals.

ECN4169 Development Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2103 and ECN2102

The module aims to introduce students to the problems and features of developing economies, and it is based on the modern analytical quantitative approach adopted by the main international development institutions, with an emphasis on the most recent advances in the field. The course focuses on growth models, child labour, inequality and poverty, sharecropping theory, and economics of conflict.

ECN4181 Special Topics in Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Minimum GPA 3.4 and 90 credits completed

This is a study of current topics of economic interest that are not normally covered in the curriculum. Students should discuss their special interests for this course with the Department Chair.

ECN4182 Thesis Seminar (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 3rd year standing

This course prepares students for writing research papers and reports. For students interested in doing independent research it leads up to the thesis course ECN4183.

ECN4183 Thesis (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN 4104, ECN4182

A thesis is an independently written piece of work which represents critical scholarly reflection or original research in the student's major field of study. Proposals must be approved by a faculty sponsor. Completed projects will be announced and presented to interested students and faculty.

ECN4183.4 Thesis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN 4104, 90 credits completed

A thesis is an independently written piece of work which represents critical scholarly reflection or original research in the student's major field of study. Proposals must be approved by a faculty sponsor. Completed projects will be announced and presented to interested students and faculty.

ECN4185 Applied Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3184

This course applies regression methods to answer economic questions.

ECN4350 Advanced Financial Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3184, ECN3081, ECN3082.

The course will give an introduction to advanced mathematical and econometric modelling techniques in financial economics.

ECN4351 Foreign Exchange Markets (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites ECN2102

The course will enable students to understand global markets for foreign exchange (forex). It emphasizes practical currency dealing, providing the skills that you need to become a forex dealer or market analyst. To learn the ropes of trading, students will play a margin trading game with an Internet demonstration account. The main topics of the course are basic analysis of forex, technical analysis of forex markets, and principles of currency dealing in Kazakhstani banks.

ECN4352 Financial Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN3184.

The course focuses on advanced techniques for financial data analysis using methods such as ARCH, GARCH and AREMA.

ECN4359 Investment in Emerging Markets (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN2102 and ECN2103

This applied course involves a wide array of issues. These include the peculiarities of emerging capital markets, especially in the CIS. Other topics include investment in emerging fixed income markets, pension funds, securities markets, and foreign direct investment. Theoretical benefits of international investment are examined empirically. Macroeconomic stability, capital flows, and exchange rate options and are analyzed against a historic background, including the currency crises of Asia and Latin America. Undergraduate students investigate one of these topics in detail and make a paper proposal, which they present in a seminar setting. Graduate students are required to do an extensive paper.

MATHEMATICS AREA

MATH2001 Linear Algebra (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: any of GEN1201, GEN 1202, GEN1203

This course studies in depth the main notions and tools of linear algebra including matrices, systems of linear equations, vector spaces, linear operators, determinants, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, inner product spaces, quadratic forms, and some applications. Additional topics may be selected by instructor. The emphasis is on mathematical theory and proofs.

MATH3001 Introduction to Analysis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: any of GEN1201, GEN1202, GEN1203

This course studies in detail the main notions and tools of mathematical analysis. The topics include the real number system, limits, continuous functions, differentiation, the Riemann integral, the concept of metric space, uniform convergence, infinite series. Additional topics may be selected by instructor. The emphasis is on mathematical theory and proofs.

MATH3002 Differential equations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MATH2001, MATH3001

This course studies first-order and second-order differential equations, homogeneous ordinary differential equations, systems of linear differential equations. Such topics as existence and uniqueness of solutions will also be covered. Additional topics may be selected by instructor. The emphasis is on mathematical theory and proofs.

MATH4001 Discrete mathematics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: any of GEN1201, GEN1202, GEN1203

This course studies such topics an introduction to logic, mathematical induction, sets, relations, functions, introduction to graphics, elementary number theory, combinatorics, algebraic structures. Additional topics may be selected by instructor. The emphasis is on mathematical theory and proofs.

MATH4002 Probability Theory and Statistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN2401/ECN2083 or equivalent, MATH3001

This course starts with elementary probability and statistics and goes much further. The topics include expectation, distributions (including multivariable), laws of large numbers and central limit theorems, conditional expectations. Additional topics may be selected by instructor. The emphasis is on mathematical theory and proofs.

MATH4003 Introduction to Multivariate Statistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MATH3001

This course deals with the multivariate normal distribution, sampling distributions of the mean vector and covariance matrix, principal components; canonical correlation; factor analysis, cluster analysis, and discriminant analysis.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AREA

IRL2510.2 Professional Foreign Language: Strategic Communications in International Affairs (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

The course focuses on international relations and effective communications with a special attention to international treaties, memorandums and speeches of key decision makers in international relations. This is an advanced course on government and foreign policy making in China since the formation of the Chinese State to the modern era. This course will focus on Chinese foreign policy as a whole, but will also give special attention to present-day Chinese foreign relations, and in particular China-Kazakhstan relations.

IRL3539 History of Diplomacy from 1648 to 1815 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is an advanced survey course on the development of modern international relations in Europe from the inception of the Westphalia System to the rise and fall of Napoleon. Special emphasis will be placed upon the role of history in shaping the modern international system.

IRL3540 History of Diplomacy from 1815 to 1945 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course task is to give to the students the history of European affairs beginning from 1815 from the point of Europe international relations. Among the main problems of the course are: the XIX century history could be explained by “congress system”, middle class discontent that caused revolutions of 1848: Napoleon III “overthrew” the Second Republic and his regaining the Russian friendship by the Reinsurance Treaty; Bismarck unification of Germany and Polish policy of Russia in 1863, Crimean War and causes of it; Anglo-Japanese alliance of 1902 and a decade of anarchy existed in international affairs before the World War I and the settlement of 1919 that “balkanized” Central and Eastern Europe. The new “Versailles-Washington” system established in 1919-20-s led to paradoxical results – intensification of the tensions between defeated and victorious countries which finally broke a peace and led to World War II.

IRL3541 Contemporary World History: 1945 to Present (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course presents the major historical events from 1945 to the present. It starts with the end of the Second World War and covers the years of the Cold War and Decolonization up to the fall of the Soviet Union. It then considers the end of the second millennium with the fragmentation of states and the beginning of the third millennium with the emergence of new threats such as international terrorism, challenges such as environmental problems, opportunities such as technological developments, and the new distribution of power.

IRL3544 Diplomatic and Consular Service (3 Credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: POL2511/ GEN2701 and IRL2512

This course covers theoretical and practical problems and issues of diplomacy, organization and functioning of diplomatic and consular services in Kazakhstan. This course will also discuss and debate the process and mechanisms of foreign policy decision-making in Kazakhstan and the forms and methods of their realizations.

IRL3517 International Institutions and Law (3 Credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: POL2511/ GEN2701 and IRL2512

This course is designed to introduce students to basic concepts of international organization and international law. It will focus on the history, administration, and politics of key international institutions and the machinery of international law. We will discuss and analyze how institutions and legal frameworks function in the areas of international peace and security, human rights and humanitarian relief, and environment and sustainable development.

IRL3545 Diplomatic Protocol and Documents (3 Credits 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: POL2511/ GEN2701 and IRL2512

This course instructs students in diplomatic protocol in the context of preparing them for diplomatic service. Diplomatic privileges and immunities, the presentation of the credentials of diplomatic representatives, the protocol of diplomatic correspondence, diplomatic receptions, personal visits and conversations, international courtesy, the structure of staff protocol and the personal activity of diplomatic representation abroad will be covered. Various kinds of diplomatic documents will also be examined.

IRL3547 Security Studies (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course is designed as a foundational course for students majoring in International Relations aimed to complement their general knowledge of international issues with an understanding of the challenges of globalizing world. The course will address conceptual problems of defining the 'threat', as a key notion in Security Studies. Threats could range from the survival of individual to groups, nations, and the whole world. By investigating definitions of security as state provision of defence in realist and neorealist conceptions we will set up an analytical departure point. Then we will move towards exploring the notion of threat by 'broadening' and 'deepening' its definitions. Expanded definitions enable us to engage with the constructivist, structuralist and post-modern analytical frameworks within Security Studies.

IRL3539 History of Diplomacy from 1648 to 1815 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is an advanced survey course on the development of modern international relations in Europe from the inception of the Westphalia System to the rise and fall of Napoleon. Special emphasis will be placed upon the role of history in shaping the modern international system.

IRL3540 History of Diplomacy from 1815 to 1945 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course task is to give to the students the history of European affairs beginning from 1815 from the point of Europe international relations. Among the main problems of the course are: the XIX century history could be explained by "congress system", middle class discontent that caused revolutions of 1848: Napoleon III "overthrew" the Second Republic and his regaining the Russian friendship by the Reinsurance Treaty; Bismarck unification of Germany and Polish policy of Russia in 1863, Crimean War and causes of it; Anglo-Japanese alliance of 1902 and a decade of anarchy existed in international affairs before the World War I and the settlement of 1919 that "balkanized" Central and Eastern Europe. The new "Versailles-Washington" system established in 1919-20-s led to paradoxical results – intensification of the tensions between defeated and victorious countries which finally broke a peace and led to World War II.

IRL3544 Diplomatic and Consular Service (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: POL2511/ GEN2701 and IRL2512

This course covers theoretical and practical problems and issues of diplomacy, organization and functioning of diplomatic and consular services in Kazakhstan. This course will also discuss and debate the process and mechanisms of foreign policy decision-making in Kazakhstan and the forms and methods of their realizations.

IRL3545 Diplomatic Protocol and Documents (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course instructs students in diplomatic protocol in the context of preparing them for diplomatic service. Diplomatic privileges and immunities, the presentation of the credentials of diplomatic representatives, the protocol of diplomatic correspondence, diplomatic receptions, personal visits and conversations, international courtesy, the structure of staff protocol and the personal activity of diplomatic representation abroad will be covered. Various kinds of diplomatic documents will also be examined.

IRL3546 Selected Topics in International Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course examines various topics of international relations. Topics vary according to the interests of students and instructors.

IRL3550 United Nations: Structure and Practices (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course provides an overview of the major contemporary international institution. The course will have three parts. First, it presents a review of the structure and functions of the UN in general and of specific agencies (for example, the UNHCR and UNICEF) in particular. Second, it offers a normative theoretical knowledge for interpreting the institution. Third, it reviews case studies with the help of experts involved in the field.

IRL3564 Political Communication in International Affairs (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This elective course is designed for the students of International Relations and Regional Studies, who are interested in learning how to analyze various political messages in international affairs. It focuses on how the theories of Political Communication and Psychology are employed in IR and examines to what extent those theories interact with world politics. The major theoretical approach of Political Communication and Psychology have been developed mainly in line with (post-)Constructivist approaches in the field of International Relations. However, this course extensively examines the interactions and interfaces between Constructivism(s) and other Political and IR theories, notably Realism, Liberalism, Functionalism, Marxism, and Critical Theories. It intends to encourage students to actively participate in the interactive learning process through discussion, role plays, presentations, and workshops. The course explores not only the fundamentals of concepts and theories of Political Communication but also the practical mechanisms of delivering political messages in international affairs and the substantive IR Theories. The course is divided into three parts: core concepts and theories of Political Communication and Psychology in IR; case studies matching different multi-dimensional communication tools with specific political events, phenomena or processes in international affairs (e.g. cinema, social media, conferences, propaganda, museums, political events, soft power foreign policy tools, global public sphere etc.); and workshop focusing on actual production of students' own projects based on methodological tools that they learn in Part II. The course is divided into three sections as follows. (1) Core concepts and theories on Political Communication and Psychology in IR; (2) Case studies, matching different multi-dimensional communication tools with specific political events or phenomena in international affairs (e.g. cinema, social media, conferences, propaganda, museums, political events, soft power foreign policy tools, global public sphere etc.); (3) Workshops focusing on the actual production of students' own projects, based on the methodological tools that are covered in Section II. Students' final projects for this course will contain creative political communication materials such as political advertisement, campaign posters, public policy communication, analysis on political leadership, interview report, policy recommendations for public diplomacy addressing to political leaders or relevant ministries, publicity on a city or state identity, consultation papers, speeches, op. eds., political cartoons, caricatures, review of political films, or innovative interpretations on existing political communication materials.

IRL3595 Research Design and Methodology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course is designed to be an introduction to the concepts and tools necessary to conduct research both in political science and other social science disciplines. During the course we will discuss why and how certain research tools, e.g. survey, in-depth interviews, experiments, are used to explore certain phenomena. Students will develop important practical skills to collect data and develop their own research design. They will learn how to establish causal relationship between different social phenomena; analyze the effects of various political processes using appropriate specific research techniques they will acquire in this class.

The course will be valuable to anyone who will choose future profession in law, government, business, or community advocacy. It will be also interesting for those who seek to make better arguments and become critical consumers of mass media and political information.

IRL4512 Multivector Diplomacy: Central Asia in Global Politics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course brings together studies of post-colonial, post-Cold War interactions between state and non-state actors. The unanticipated collapse of the USSR initiated a profound crisis in the theory of international relations. The Cold War is rapidly moving into history. The post-Cold War interregnum seems to have come to an end on September 11, 2001. What theory is out there to help us comprehend incisive change in international affairs? We will use elements borrowed from political realism and constructivism to analyze change underway in one particular region: Central Asia. The objective of the course is to provide greater comprehension of the nature of the post-colonial 'Great Game' underway in that part of the world and to relate that game to the transformation in Central Asia.

IRL4513 International Migration and Urbanization Studies (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This focuses on a broad, theoretical understanding of human mobility and the role of international migration and urbanization from economic, social and political perspectives, including social change and globalization, as well as an overview of the major debates and literature on contemporary migration from different disciplinary perspectives. We will also learn how the new economic powers and dramatic improvements in human capital have given rise to an era of labor migration unparalleled in magnitude and diversity, though not entirely unique. As a result of this course, you will not only be more informed about international migration and urbanization, but you will also be able to critically evaluate the merits of different arguments regarding the field. This course, therefore, offers a holistic view of the international migration and urbanization process from multiple perspectives. In the classroom, I expect all of you to be actively involved in the learning process. You are not expected to sit passively; instead, you are expected to pose questions and provide ideas on the topics that we are discussing.

IRL4519 Globalization: Current Issues (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The term “globalization” has quickly become one of the hottest buzzwords in the field of international relations and in the academic debate. This course will cover a wide range of distinct contemporary political, economic, and cultural trends, like liberalization, global civil society, global crisis, and the value of information technology.

IRL4521 Petro Politics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course examines the geopolitics of energy in the Caspian Sea region. The subject is a broad, complex one that is constantly shifting and evolving even as policymakers try to manage and influence affairs from day to day. The emergence of independent states in the Caspian Sea region has created a new environment of great importance to the world. The region’s geopolitical position between Europe, the Persian Gulf, and Asia, and its unresolved ethnic conflicts have made it both a magnet and potential flashpoint for its neighbors, including Russia, Turkey and Iran. Also, the Caspian Sea is the energy world’s latest frontier. The development of Caspian energy resources and their transportation to international markets is one of the most controversial and pressing issues in the post-Cold War era.

IRL4525 Asian Security: Theory and Practice (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The main goals of the course are to give a brief introduction to the field of security studies and its current debates and to apply this theoretical knowledge to the study of Asian security at different levels of analysis: national, regional and global. The discussion of key issues in each region (Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia and Central Asia) will be combined with the in-depth consideration of various aspects of security: military (including nuclear), political, economic, environmental and societal security.

IRL4526 Comparative Foreign Policy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course centers on the foreign policies of states, and more specifically, on the various factors that produce these policies. It is not an easy task to analyze policy “outputs”. The complexity of the matrix makes clear that we cannot attribute the adoption of one foreign policy rather than another to any single factor. Clearly, the interactions between and among all the various sources of “input” makes any such analysis that much more difficult. Nevertheless, it is possible to discern patterns in policy process and the broad outlines of policy goals, and this is what will be accomplished in this course. In this task we will be aided by the use of “case studies” and foreign policy profiles of selected countries.

IRL4527 Ethics in International Affairs (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course presents students a normative approach centered on ethics for studying international affairs. The main purpose of this course is to acquaint students with the moral dilemmas that political leaders, activists and citizens have to face in a globalized world. The theoretical approach is combined with case studies in fields such as just war theory, conflict and reconciliation, humanitarian intervention and the responsibility to protect, sovereignty and social justice, and environmental and technological challenges in the international arena.

IRL4528 Central Asia-Russia Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is an advanced course on the development of relations between Russia and Central Asia from the 18th century to the present. Special emphasis will be given to the development of Central Asia-Russia relations since the collapse of the Soviet Union.

IRL4531 Political Economy of Central Asia (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course analyzes the economic development of Central Asian states starting from the Soviet legacy and going through the years of independence until possible future developments. In particular, the course will try to understand how the common past has been starting point for new and different forms of political economy adopted by different countries. Differences in natural resources, infrastructure and political decisions of different economic paths of developments will be considered in order to understand how to shape future decisions.

IRL4532 Domestic Politics and Foreign Policy in Central Asia and the Caucasus (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course focuses on the domestic politics and foreign policies of post-communist states. In particular, it will examine the transition that has taken place in the former USSR during the last two decades. Students will be required to analyze the myriad of challenges facing the post-communist sphere in the political, cultural, social and economic spheres. Special emphasis will be placed upon the international relations between the new states of Central Asia and the Caucasus and the rest of the world.

IRL4550 Emerging Powers (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course focuses on those states which are emerging as regional powers (both along economic and military dimensions) and with ambitions of further growth. Students will be exposed to the developmental trends of those states and the ways in which they aim to get recognition and influence the international political agenda.

IRL4562 Environmental Politics, Development and Global Governance (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course is designed for students to learn how to present their own thoughts and interpretations on selected IR issues within the scope of the theme, environmental politics and global governance, demonstrating the ability to employ major IR theories and key concepts for prominent environment-related problems in contemporary world politics. This course studies how environmental issues are interconnected with international affairs and globalization, and how they contribute to creating a new domain in global politics. Through examining the most pressing global environmental challenges that the international community is facing, the course intends to help students develop theoretical visions and practical insights to better understand prominent global environmental issues, and to discuss solutions and alternatives to the current situation. The course will be run in a seminar format consisting of student presentation followed by discussions. This course requires students' active participation in raising questions, role play, discussions, presentations, peer commenting, etc.

IRL4590 Undergraduate Seminar in International Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This seminar course is designed to offer students an opportunity to apply their theoretical knowledge to a specific issue in international relations. Students will participate in ongoing research projects headed by individual faculty members. Topics will vary every time the course is offered, and may include issues in bilateral relations, international security, international political economy and the international legal order.

CSS1999 Academic Internship (2 credits, 4 ECTS)

Today's era of globalization heightens the need for an understanding of global political-geographic issues. This course will cover such wide-ranging topics as international conflict, relationships between states, ethnic tensions within states, globalization, the breakup of the Soviet Union, and the political geography of Central Asia.

GEN1610 Great Traditions and Culture of Kazakhs (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course is aimed to acquaint students with the origin, nature, and dynamics of development and the role of traditions in the history of the Kazakh people. Traditions and culture are a central pillar of the new identity building process in independent Kazakhstan. The ancient Kazakh land saw great transformations – in economics, politics, culture and identity – that eventually led to the emergence of the new state for all the ethnic groups populating it. The State program of civic identity creation is focused on three interrelated elements- Kazakh, history, Kazakh culture and Kazakh language. Culture and traditions are in the process of development and integrating the positive influences of other cultures, adopting them and thus being enriched, is vitally important while historically, politics and ideology have played a big role in imposing certain changes that eroded the indigenous culture and changed the civilizational uniqueness of the Kazakh people. The students will observe the major contemporary challenges to traditions and culture caused by globalisation and the modernization processes, and what must be done to preserve the culture of the Kazakh people for the future.

This course surveys how media and mass communication impact society and its economic and political development. It is designed to acquaint students with theory and research in the mass communication field. It examines the relationship between individuals and the media and explores the role of and impact of media in progressively larger social systems. (Students who have taken GED2610 Mass Communications and Society should not take this course.)

JMC2607 Ethical and Legal Issues in Media and Communication (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the major legal, ethical and policy issues related to the mass media. The course covers a wide variety of legal and ethical issues including freedom of expression law, libel, censorship, defamation, invasion of privacy, obscenity, advertising regulations, deception and fabrications, image manipulations, source confidentiality, and etc. We will also discuss limitations of freedom of expression and freedom of information. This course covers some philosophical theories of reasoning, justice from Aristotle, Kant, and Mill.

JMC2608/GEN2812 Introduction to Public Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to provide students with initial theoretical knowledge of public relations and beginning practical experience. It surveys the basics of the PR process and PR-related communication theories. It also introduces students to PR strategies and tactics and discusses public relations professional ethics. The course offers students an opportunity to use some of the strategies and tactics that public relations practitioners have actually used in their campaigns.

JMC2609 Psychology in Communication (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course examines behavior and experience, as it relates to those who produce and consume media products. It will provide a foundation and framework for understanding how media works in individuals, and in groups or systems or societies, while considering the role of such group aspects as culture and gender. We will consider personality, perception, motivation, social relationships, etc. Some of the potential theoretical frameworks that this course covers include: source effects theory, uses and gratifications theory, third-person effects theory, spiral of silence theory, cultivation theory, media dependency theory, feminist theory and the media.

JMC2611 Introduction to Journalism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course provides an introduction to journalism and its role in society. Topics of exploration include: journalism and democratic society, globalization and world trends, and professional practices. Students are introduced to key concepts and issues in the field.

JMC2612 Internet and Society (formerly New Information Technologies) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course examines networked digital information technologies and the impact they are having on communication as well as on society at large. Students develop critical understanding of networked digital information technologies and their impact on communication and society through application of concepts such as: digitization, interactivity, networks, and community.

JMC2615 Media Writing (formerly JMC3201) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course emphasizes news writing and reporting for print media. The course covers news values, basic news reporting skills, news story structure, AP style, and grammar and usage, and basic news reporting skills. Students will learn how to write news stories on a variety of subjects and issues. The course also examines ethical and legal issues related to the practice of journalism. The theoretical basis of the course lies in: the theory of newsworthiness, pluralistic theory of value, Aristotle's Golden Mean and utilitarian theoretical model etc. Students cannot earn credit for both JMC2615 and JMC3201.

JMC2703 Visual Storytelling (formerly Photojournalism) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course covers the key concepts and skills of digital journalism photography and digital photo editing. It explains composition, exposure, and lighting as well as such advanced techniques such as working with subjects, producing a professional portfolio, and postproduction. It also addresses the application of photography and photo editing in journalism, with attention to photography and its relationship to reality, approaches to journalism photography, non-fiction storytelling in photography, and ethical issues for photojournalists. By understanding the traditions and current practices of successful photographers, students learn how to work as a photojournalist, while exploring and developing their own vision.

JMC2704 Persuasive Communications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course covers key principles, practices, and contexts of persuasion in the current era of changing mass communication patterns, in both traditional and online communication spheres. The course introduces key concepts, principles, and practices of implementing "applied psychology of messaging" in diverse communication contexts. Students learn practical ways to deal with persuasion from the theoretical perspective of: attribution theory, behavior change theories, cognitive dissonance theory, elaboration likelihood model, social judgment theory etc. Its general focus can be summarized as the "applied psychology of messaging." We will cover many key concepts of persuasion, but will mostly focus on practical ways to deal with persuasion. Most of the class will involve learning, critiquing, using and practicing major advanced persuasion techniques. Analytical and creative thinking will be integrated into most projects. The course will also consistently consider the ethical aspects of using persuasion, in terms of individuals, groups and societies.

JMC 2778 Russian Language Practicum (3 KIMEP credits, 5 ECTS)

This undergraduate course introduces students to the main aspects of the Russian language and style, phonetics, grammar and vocabulary. It will also help them better understand contemporary Russian Literature and culture. This course will focus on the fundamentals of speaking, writing and listening in Russian. The students will learn the language through the Russian novels, short stories and poetry of the famous Russian poets and writers. They will survey the works of Pushkin, Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Chekhov and many others. Through a variety of class activities, students will develop their writing and reading skills in Russian and enhance the knowledge of contemporary Russian communicative norms. The course will offer extensive practice in orthography and pronunciation. Students in this course will be encouraged to do as much of the Russian literature readings as possible to enrich their language and vocabulary.

JMC3211 Editing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course acquaints students with the philosophy of news editing and gives them extensive practice in the skills required. It covers big-picture editing – whether a story is well organized, whether information is missing that makes a story incomplete, whether the tone of the story is appropriate and so on. It also covers small-picture editing – paragraph transitions, grammar, spelling, punctuation and the like. This purpose of this course is to introduce and train students in the role of editors in the news process, to teach them the basic concepts of editing and to provide them realistic opportunities to develop their own editing skills. Please note that this course does not cover audio-video editing rather this course emphasizes traditional and still highly valued print editing skills. In this course, students edit numerous news stories and examine every aspect of editing from writing headlines to fact-checking to creating readable “products.”

JMC3603 Business News (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None (Previous Title: Business Communication)

This purpose of this course is to introduce to the business reporting with emphasis on understanding what is going on at companies big and small and to report and write stories about them in a way that an average reader can understand. This course is targeted for those who would like to enhance their reporting skills in business and other related areas of journalism and for those who would like to be in media management positions. This is a practical course where we spend the majority of the semester for brainstorming, discussing, writing, re-writing and re-writing. This course is about learning “by doing”. Students are expected to know the conventions of journalistic writing and the elements of journalistic style from previous semester courses. To a large degree, journalistic writing is formulaic and follows certain established conventions. We start with the fundamentals of good news writing, building little by little until students are able to craft effective news stories anchored with solid lead paragraphs. Then, we move toward specialized reporting about business issues/topics. Some of the theoretical aspects of this course include discussions about (1) political economy of the media theory (2) theories of media ownership and (3) theories of media content.

JMC3605 Political Communication (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course covers examines communication processes and relationships among political actors, media, and publics, with particular focus on the changes occurring in the late 20th and early 21st century. The course introduces and develops theories of liberal democracy as foundations for political communication, as well as theories of media and communication that provide an analytical framework for understanding political communication.

JMC3608 Journalism in Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The purpose of this course is to examine news media in Kazakhstan and other CIS countries, including regional problems that relate to journalism. The course surveys different media outlets in Kazakhstan, examines their specifics and introduces their types.

JMC3609 Principles of Media Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This purpose of this course is to introduce to the practical and theoretical knowledge of how to manage a mass media outlet. The course looks at print, broadcast, advertising and internet/social media operations. We will cover topics such as media market and market structures, forces affecting media market, and theories of management as well as financial management that involves systematic planning, monitoring and control. We will also cover about managing personnel (such as hiring and firing of employees) and about what it generally takes to motivate them, examine audience and audience research, etc. The final several weeks of the semester will focus on regulatory and technological influences on media management. Overall, this course provides students with an understanding of how media firms operate within a complex social, political and multicultural environment. This course covers some theories of management including Maslow’s hierarchy of needs theory, scientific management theory, administrative management theory, HR school of management theory. Other theoretical discussions include about audience theory, theories of media effect, and theories of management.

JMC3611 Internship 1 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite JMC2605 Media and Society

Students develop marketable skills, which they can later apply in a professional setting, and begin career networking. Course may be repeated for credit with department permission.

JMC 3770 Digital Studies (3 KIMEP credits, 5 ECTS)

This seminar format course is designed to introduce students to several key topics and practices in the study of new forms of digital media, culture and identity in Kazakhstani and global contexts. Students will explore academic literature using critical, theoretical and experimental approaches in documenting the widespread influence of digital media across diverse aspects of Kazakhstani reality. The course approaches the topics through the lens of “making is a mode of thinking,” therefore students will be required to develop further their digital skills by exploring digital design platforms for several digital creative projects using Adobe Spark, mapping software, and image/audio/video editing software. The course will also help students to build meaningful bridges between Central Asian and Digital Studies disciplines via writing “reflection paper” assignments. The course involves interactive “seminar format” and “production mode” interactive sessions. Throughout the semester students will submit reflection memos, several digital projects, and a final Design Thinking Project.

JMC3612 Internship 2 (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course offers additional training in the student’s chosen field. Students may continue a previous internship or choose a new field of study. The course is designed to provide experience and skills in the field and provide the opportunity for networking.

JMC4081 State Examination/Professional Project I (1 credits, 1.5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 4th year status

This course prepares students carry out a professional project.

JMC4082 State Examination/Professional Project II (1 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: 4th year status

This course prepares students carry out a professional project.

JMC3615.2 Writing for Russian Language Media (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to develop help students apply skills in writing for media in the Russian language. Students will study the language of mass media and access a range of sources in the Russian-language media. The material of the course includes understanding themes and vocabulary of mass media and applying principles of Western style media writing in a Russian language environment. The course will focus on practical written assignments designed to build students' competence in writing professionally in Russian in order to prepare them for entering the local media workforce.

JMC3616.2 Writing for Kazakh Language Media (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to develop help students apply skills in writing for media in the Kazakh language. Students will study the language of mass media and access a range of sources in the Kazakh-language media. The material of the course includes understanding themes and vocabulary of mass media and applying principles of Western style media writing in a Kazakh language environment. The course will focus on practical written assignments designed to build students' competence in writing professionally in Kazakh in order to prepare them for entering the local media workforce.

JMC3617 Creative Thinking and Critical Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites:None

Creative thinking and critical writing course develops students’ creative and critical thinking, analytical writing, and research skills. It develops the ability to analyze, criticize and advocate ideas. Examines relationships of language to logic, induction and deduction, facts, inferences, judgments, formal and informal fallacies of language and thought. The theoretical bases of the course is rooted in Piaget's Theory of Creative Thinking, Wallas's model of the creative process a systems approach to understanding creativity,

Csikszentmihalyi's creativity and flow theory, theories of reasoning, theories of critical discussion, and theories of the cognitive mechanisms.

JMC3623 Broadcast Journalism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC2615 Media Writing

This course provides students with theoretical and practical knowledge of television production. It examines gathering, evaluating, writing, and delivering broadcast news copy. The emphasis for the course is on writing broadcast news. The course teaches students to write news stories that are accurate, clear, interesting, and concise.

JMC 3627 Audience Engagement (3 KIMEP credits, 5 ECTS)

This undergraduate course examines this growing relationship of journalists with their news audience and is about creating quality journalism by incorporating audiences more closely into content production. This course is important because no single media outlet can be successful without generating economic gain and economic gain cannot be gained without prioritizing the audience's needs and wants. Thus, this course will teach how media organizations can engage with audiences in a meaningful and productive way. The course explores the best available tools and platforms to share content and encourage audience engagement to promote collaboration and interaction. In addition to covering best case studies from global news outlets in audience engagement, this course also offers some theoretical and practical understanding about types of engagement and how to use them and under what circumstances to promote quality journalism. Some of the practical sessions focus on the use of various audience metrics/analytics (Google Analytics, Twitter Analytics, Facebook Insights, etc.) to guide editorial decisions. Offering appealing content is not enough these days, because audiences are diverse and fragmented. The given course will focus on the current trends and solutions related to the audience engagement.

JMC3709 Audio Production (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC 2615 or JMC 3201 Media Writing

This course focuses on developing skills in producing audio segments and stories. The course introduces technical aspects of digital audio production as well as audio storytelling techniques.

JMC4070.2 Thesis (2 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC 4701 Communication Research

Students may write an undergraduate thesis on independent research undertaken in consultation with a faculty advisor, who may specialize in the student's potential thesis topic. Students must submit a proposal and obtain the written approval of the faculty advisor.

JMC4201 Advanced Media Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC 2615 or JMC 3201 Media Writing

This course will offer instruction in advanced news writing techniques for newspapers and magazines; these include feature articles, investigative pieces and coverage of government, including speeches by officials and meetings of government agencies. Students will travel off-campus to cover news events.

JMC4601 Advertising and Media Sales (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course examines advertising and promotional principles and their application in mass and niche marketing. Students will receive hands-on experience based on theories such as hierarchy of effects model, strong and weak advertising theories, hierarchy of needs, moments of truth theory, planned behaviour theory etc.

JMC4612 Online Journalism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC 2612 New Information Technologies; JMC 2615 or JMC 3201 Media Writing

This practicum course introduces students to producing media content for an online news or news-related website. Students plan and produce content, learning to make use of the communication affordances of online environments. This course builds on theoretical understanding introduced in JMC 2612 New Information Technologies and on practical skills developed in JMC 2615 Media Writing, which are prerequisites.

Coursework or practical skills in digital photography, photo editing, or digital video production are also useful for this course.

JMC4614 Media Analysis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: JMC 2605 Media and Society

This course demonstrates how and why to analyze a wide range of media materials. Students will use a variety of media analysis techniques to investigate the production of media messages.

JMC4615 Multimedia Storytelling (formerly Online Multimedia Technologies) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course introduces students to online interactive, multimedia technologies including learning management, conferencing, video sharing, social networking multimedia, video creation and editing, and viral marketing. The course builds on theoretical knowledge developed in JMC 2612 New Information Technologies.

JMC4616 Theories of Media and Communications (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course introduces and develops skills in understanding and applying major theories of media and communications. The course covers theories relevant to the study of journalism, public relations, and other areas of media and communications, and prepares the student to identify, select, and apply theory in graduate-level work, particularly the master's thesis.

JMC4622 Copywriting (formerly Advertising, Writing, Layout and Strategies) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course addresses the strategic and creative aspects of ad production. Students learn the why, what and how of various concept designs for print, online, outdoor, and broadcast advertisements. The course is built on the theoretical base of the elaboration likelihood model (elm), Packard's hidden persuaders theory, theory of creativity, graphic design theory, Dagmar model, moments of truth theories.

JMC4627 Public Relations Campaigns (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course covers how to identify, create, implement and evaluate public relations strategies using research-based goals. This course will maximize practical activities based on key principles of the field, and bridge international and regional characteristics of a campaign. This course will extend previous classes in PR and prepare you for final work on the topic and for work after you graduate. It will also increase skills of persuasive, clear and expressive writing for almost any kind of work.

JMC4690 Special Topics in Journalism and Communication (Variable 1-4 credits, 3-5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Generally taught in seminar format, the theme of this course will vary depending upon faculty expertise, departmental priorities and student needs. The course can be repeated for credit if the topic changes.

JMC4701 Communication Research (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Communication Research course explores the implementation of communication theories and concepts in researching communication issues. Students develop the skills to design, conduct, interpret, and critically evaluate research projects in the field of media and communications. The course helps students upgrade their understanding of quantitative (survey research, content analysis, experiments) and qualitative research (interviews, focus groups, field studies) research methods. Particular attention is paid to the case study and textual (semiotic, genre, narrative, discourse, textual) analysis research methods.

JMC4703 Crisis Communication (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course prepares students to foresee, act proactively to prevent or react to an organizational crisis. The course familiarizes students with crisis dynamics and major techniques of coping with crisis. The draws on theoretical bases such as situational crisis communication theory, contingency theory, reputation management theory, image repair theory and corporate apologia.

JMC4704 Brand/Image Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Image and Brand Management course discusses essential components of building a strong brand and impeccable image. The course helps students to learn how to create, maintain, and possibly regain an appropriate image of themselves in the eyes of stakeholders. Students will study theories and concepts that are crucial to organization's well-being, including credibility, identity, image, and reputation. The objective of this course is to master the foundational principles of image and brand management and apply this knowledge to enhance personal or organizational image.

JMC4705 Video Documentary (formerly Introduction to Documentary) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Recommended JMC3623

This elective course is designed for undergraduate students. The course will review the basics of visual writing, different types/angles of shots, specifics of vocal delivery. The course work involves developing story ideas, on-tape interviewing, reporting, writing, video editing and on-air delivery of the script of the documentary. The final outcome of the coursework will be production of an individual documentary piece. This course is an excellent opportunity to produce original work for student's future portfolio.

JMC4706 Creative Workshop (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The Creative Workshop is a course designed for students to develop creative projects in communication. The focus of the course will vary depending on student and faculty requirements.

JMC4708 Public Speaking (formerly Broadcast Public Speaking) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course will help students improve their public speaking skills. The course will teach students how to perfect pronunciation, vocal delivery, pitch, intonation and fluctuation of the voice. It will also cover rhetoric and stylistic rules of writing to the ear. The theory will also prepare students to be effective public speakers on air in various genres.

JMC4709 Media Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Media relations examines the relationship between organizations (corporate, non-profit, or advocacy) and the media. Students will be looking at how to develop a strategy for getting the organization's messages out, and how to prepare the organization for meetings with the media. The course relies on theories of the mass media in order to address the role of media relations in organizations and the practice of media relations in the context of both old and new media.

JMC4710 Public Image-making (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Public Image-making explores the role and functions of the public image in the public, corporate and political spheres. The course develops students' knowledge and understanding of key public image related concepts and the process of image-making and management. The course is built on theories of social prestige and celebrity, perception management and framing, social stereotyping, image and contemporary myth, symbols and signs, strategic public communication, media events (events for the media and pseudo-events), media relations.

JMC4711 Special Event Management and Design (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Special Event Management and Design course introduces students to the process of designing and managing various types of planned events such as special events, cultural events, corporate events etc. Students acquire practical knowledge and skills based on theories such as event design theory, social identity theory, social capital theory, hierarchy of needs theory, planned behavior theory, theory of cultural performance.

JMC 4712 Storytelling with Data (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Media Writing

Journalists, public relations practitioners, non-governmental organizations and other communicators are increasingly using data to tell compelling, fact-based stories. This course introduces students to data-based storytelling. We will address data and their relationship to facts and fact-based storytelling; examine examples of storytelling with data, such as data visualizations, charts, graphs, and maps; learn how to find or develop data to support fact-based stories, and learn about tools for generating fact-based stories. Students will generate their own fact-based stories as part of the course.

JMC4714 Fashion and Lifestyle Journalism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course will introduce students to fashion industry and lifestyle trends and issues, this ever-growing and dynamic field of modern journalism and mass communication. Fashion is considered in its widest sense, from its cultural importance to the social and ethical issues that concern the industry, as well as fashion would be approached as spectacle, as art, as craft, and as commercial, industrial entity.

JMC 4715 Media Design (3 KIMEP credits, 5 ECTS)

This undergraduate course introduces the basics of media design in the digital age. Students will learn how news organizations adopted design principles to create personalized user-centered news products. Students will learn to critique the web and mobile interfaces of the news publications from the design perspective via examining color, interactivity, digital affordances, etc. The first part of the course will offer theoretical knowledge of key design elements and rules, while the second part of the course will offer students some practical workshops for creating media products where students can experiment with diverse design formulas and techniques. The course should contribute to the students' critical and practical understanding of how persuasive design can influence user behavior and engagement.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

UNDERGRADUATE FOUNDATION ENGLISH PROGRAM

Foundation English Program Description

The Foundation English Program is a package of courses designed for students whose native language is not English and whose knowledge and use of English do not meet the standards for entry into regular first-year English courses. The Program aims to bridge the gap between secondary school and university education and focuses on developing the four language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking), which will prepare students for their academic subjects. Its goals are to encourage students' independent-learning and critical-thinking abilities.

ENGo101 Foundation English Level C (0 credits)

Common European Framework: A1 upon completion

The Foundation English C course is the beginning step in the set of levels to be taken by freshmen and is intended for students at the Beginner level of proficiency, upon entry. This is an integrated A1- level course that develops students' receptive skills (reading and listening), productive skills (writing and speaking), and develops a good control of simple grammatical structures and sentence patterns. The course focuses on writing dictations, diaries, personal messages/letters, and basic paragraphs conveying personal information. The course focuses on delivering monologues as well as intensive and extensive reading of graded texts. Listening skills are developed primarily through fulfilling independent-study assignments and classroom interaction. There are multiple individual tutorials with the instructor. By the end of Foundation English Level C, students will have met the criteria of the CEF A1 level.

ENGo102 Foundation English Level B (0 credits)

Common European Framework: B1 Mid upon completion

The Foundation English B course is the second step in the set of levels to be taken by freshmen and is intended for students at the A1+ level of proficiency upon entry. This course continues the development of language skills through activities such as group discussions, individual presentations, descriptive paragraphs and essays, listening to information on various topics, watching videos and films, reading short stories and novels of an appropriate level. Particular emphasis is placed on analyzing information and drawing conclusions, and relating ideas in the text to real life experiences. By the end of Foundation English B students, will have demonstrate competence at the CEF B1 Mid level.

ENGo103 Foundation English Level A (0 credits)

Common European Framework: B2 Mid upon completion

The Foundation English A course is the third step in the set of levels to be taken by freshmen and is intended for students at the B1 Mid level of proficiency upon entry. This course continues the development of language skills through activities such as discussions, presentations, speeches, and group work; writing summaries, argumentative essays, and letters; listening to news, speeches, films, and other videos; and reading essays, short stories, novels or non-fiction books, textbook chapters, and academic and popular articles. Particular emphasis is placed on students' development as writers and speakers and using ideas and information from reading and listening. By the end of the course, students who have made adequate progress in English will have demonstrated competence at the CEF B2 Mid level.

CLP1202 Calculus for Cognitive Sciences (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is designed to introduce students to the basic ideas and methods of mathematical analysis and their application to mathematical modeling. This course equips students with some of the analytical tools that are required by courses in cognitive sciences, computational linguistics and programming. Students will learn to translate ordinary language descriptions of problems into mathematical expression, derive solutions by rigorous mathematical methods, interpret their results, and explain them.

CLP2101 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

The course presents a survey of concepts in artificial intelligence, goals and methods of artificial intelligence. Students are introduced to Problem Representation; search, constraint propagation, rule chaining, frame inheritance, inference and learning in intelligent systems; systems for general problems solving, game playing, expert consultation, concept formation and natural languages processing; recognition, understanding and translation.

CLP2102 Introduction to Data Structures and Algorithms (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science

The course provides the basic background for a computer scientist in the area of data structures and algorithms. Students will learn about fundamental data structures and algorithms and how to apply them in real problems. The topics that will be covered by the course include: Analysis of algorithms, Abstract Data Types (ADT), Lists, stacks, and queues, Search trees (BST, AVL, and B-trees), Priority queues (heaps), Sorting algorithms, Hash data structures, Graphs.

CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN/OPM1300 or GEN/OPM2301 Information and Communication Technologies or Business Computer Application

Introductory course in computer science and the study of algorithms appropriate for students in cognitive sciences. Topics include how computers work, simple algorithms and their efficiency, networking, databases, artificial intelligence, graphics, simulation and modeling, security and the social impact of computing. The course also includes a hands-on introduction to programming concepts with Python.

CLP2201 Fundamentals of Programming I (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP1202 Calculus for Cognitive Sciences

This course is designed for students with no prior programming experience. The course introduces the fundamental computer concepts, logic, and computer programming. Topics include algorithms and problem solving, data types, control structures, functions, arrays, files, and the mechanics of running, testing, and debugging, and documenting programs using the Python programming language.

CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2201 Fundamentals of Programming I

Students are introduced to the programming tools required to solve a more advanced set of problems. Students further develop their knowledge of the principles of object-oriented design and programming, including the use of interfaces and inheritance, learn the fundamentals of sorting data and data structures, and further develop programming skills Python. The course is intended for students who will major in cognitive sciences or a related program.

CLP2203 Introduction to Formal Languages and Finite Automata (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science, CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II, and LING3306 Introduction to Computational Linguistics

The course presents abstract models of computers (finite automata, push-down automata and Turing machines, strings, languages, and fundamental proof techniques) and the language classes they recognize or generate (regular expression, regular grammar, regular languages, finite automata, their interrelationship, and their properties. Introduction to context-free languages). Also presents applications of these models to compiler design, algorithms and complexity theory.

CLP2204 Pattern Recognition (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

This course is an introduction to pattern recognition: features, classifications, learning. Students will also learn statistical methods, structural methods and hybrid method. Applications to speech recognition, remote sensing and biomedical area. Learning algorithms, Syntactic approach: Introduction to pattern grammars and languages. Parsing techniques. Pattern recognition in computer aided design

CLP2205 Academic Internship (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisite: minimum of 56 credits in program (90 ECTS)

This is the first of two required internships. Students will undertake an internship at an appropriate venue outside of KIMEP. Applying knowledge learned in the classroom, they will gain on-the-job experience in areas such as research methods, data analysis, software programming, computing statistical methods, logic, psychology, neuroscience and language acquisition.

CLP3102 Introduction to Machine Learning (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

Introduction to modeling and algorithmic techniques for machines to learn concepts from data. Extracting meaningful patterns from random samples of large data sets. Statistical analysis of the resulting problems. Common algorithm paradigms for such tasks. The focus is on applications in natural language processing, computer vision, data mining, human computer interaction, information retrieval.

CLP3201 Introduction to Natural Language Processing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II and LING3306 Introduction to Computational Linguistics

This class introduces key concepts of Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Natural Language Understanding (NLU), familiarizes with common tools and techniques to analyze unstructured data in cognitive sciences. Students will work extensively with probability, statistics, mathematical functions such as logarithms and differentiation, and linear algebra concepts such as vectors and matrices.

CLP3202 Neural Networks (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

An extensive course on neural network architectures and learning algorithms with theory and applications, including the following topics: temporal and optimal linear associative memories, fuzzy control; Cohen-

Grossberg theorem; unsupervised learning; higher-order competitive, differential Hebbian learning networks; supervised learning; adaptive estimation and stochastic approximation; adaptive vector quantization, mean-square approach; Kohonen self-organizing maps; Grossberg theory; simulated annealing; Boltzman and Cauchy learning; adaptive resonance; and Gabor functions and networks.

CLP3301 Text Mining (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II and LING3306 Introduction to Computational Linguistics

Text mining, also known as 'knowledge discovery from text', is an ICT research and development field that has gained increasing focus in the last decade, attracting researchers from data science, computational linguistics, and machine learning. Example key applications text categorization, information extraction, social media mining and automatic summarization. This course gives an overview of the field from both a theoretical angle (underlying models) and a practical angle (applications). In addition to the lectures, the students work on practical assignments.

CLP3302 Human-Computer Interaction (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2103 Introduction to Computer Science and CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

The basic theories, principles and guidelines of the design and evaluation of human-computer interactions. Topics include: design methodologies (e.g., participatory design, low- and high-fidelity prototyping), user interface technologies (e.g., input and output devices, interaction styles), and quantitative and qualitative evaluation of user interfaces (e.g., expert reviews, usability testing).

CLP4102 Thesis I (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisite: 90 credits of course work

The course aims at developing the students' capacity to plan independent research and to communicate this in a research proposal in a written and oral forms. The research proposal should include a statement of the research problem, literature review, description of research methods and preliminary description of data analysis (optional).

CLP4103 Thesis II (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisite: Thesis I

This course is individual instruction in the finalizing of a thesis. The thesis reports on a study they carried out under supervision of a faculty member. An undergraduate thesis need not make an original contribution to knowledge on the subject (though it may do so) but it is expected to be a coherent analysis of a challenging research topic or problem.

CLP4201 Professional Internship (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2205 Academic Internship

Supervised professional work or research experience on university campus, or off campus in an industry, business or institutional setting using skills and knowledge acquired in cognitive science coursework. Evaluation by internship supervisor.

CLP4211 Senior Project (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CLP2202 Fundamentals of Programming II

The aim of the course for students to develop their own programming product under supervision

COGN/GEN1201 Introduction to Psychology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing II

This course provides an overview of the foundational subfields and theories in psychology. Students will be introduced to the breadth of the research and topics in psychology, and the basics of subfields like cognitive psychology, social psychology, and human psychological development. They will learn about classic theories in psychology and be introduced to the ways that psychological research is conducted

COGN1202 Psycholinguistics: Language and Mind (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics and COGN1201 Introduction to Psychology

In this course, students will become familiar with major topics and theory in psycholinguistics, the study of how the human mind processes and uses language. We will examine the brain structures relevant to language processing and production, and learn about current theory and research methods. We will consider the psychological implications of multilingualism as well as some discussion of psychological aspects of first and second language acquisition.

COGN2103 Introduction to Cognitive Psychology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: COGN1201 Introduction to Psychology

This course will discuss the major fields of human cognition, particularly how we take in information about the world (perception and attention), how we interpret and store that information (learning and memory) and how we retrieve and use that information (higher cognitive function / decision-making).

COGN2201 Perception (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: COGN1201 Introduction to Psychology

How do we perceive and interpret the world around us? This course will explore the psychological and neurological bases of perception and sensory processing. We will discover how the brain is able to process the stimuli it perceives, including some discussion of visual and auditory perception of language.

COGN2202 Learning and Memory (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: COGN1201 Introduction to Psychology

How do our brains store information? How do we retrieve that information and use it to draw new conclusions? In short, how do we learn? This course will explore those questions and more, introducing students to more advanced theory of learning and memory. We will consider major theories in the field, the way research in this field may be conducted, and their implications for education and other applied fields.

CHN1301 Beginning Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course introduces the basic elements of the Chinese language in such a way as to enable students to engage in simple communication. It also provides a good foundation for further study of the language. Practice is given in the four skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing. Basic vocabulary and elementary grammatical structures are introduced. The course focuses on writing short compositions, dictations, delivering monologues, and intensive and extensive reading of graded books. Speaking and listening skills will be developed primarily through self-study assignments.

CHN1302 Elementary Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1301 Beginning Chinese or equivalent

This course follows the Beginning Chinese course and assumes knowledge of all the materials covered in CHN 1301. This course is designed to provide students with a solid background in the four language learning skills: speaking, listening, reading and writing. A special focus of this course is given to developing speaking skills as an integral part of the learning process. Students will learn to communicate in simple terms about their house/flat and their immediate needs, and to describe and comment on their living situations and daily and leisure-time activities. Reading and listening activities will focus on a variety of topics from everyday life in Chinese-speaking countries. Students will also have an opportunity to learn about Chinese culture and traditions.

CHN1303 Pre-Intermediate Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1302 Elementary Chinese

This course is a continuation of CHN1302 Elementary Chinese course and is aimed at students who possess sufficient basic knowledge of phonetics, morphology and syntax of the Chinese language and have experience in everyday speech in Chinese. The course will help to improve students' accents, their production of proper intonation, and their knowledge of Chinese grammar, and to introduce the basic features of functional styles of the Chinese language.

CHN1304 Intermediate Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1303 Pre-Intermediate Chinese

This course is designed for students with prior experience on listening, speaking, reading and writing Chinese at the elementary level. While students will be trained in all four skills, more emphasis will be given to reading and writing Chinese characters, expanding vocabulary, and understanding Chinese culture. This course further develops students' linguistic and cultural competence. In dealing with texts, students are guided to interpret, narrate, describe, and discuss topics, ranging from real-life experience and personal memoirs to historic events. To facilitate the study of the language, different aspects of Chinese culture and society will be introduced through group activities, multimedia programs, and research projects throughout the course.

CHN1305 Upper Intermediate Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1304 Intermediate Chinese

This course offers Chinese for daily communication through intensive study and practice in written and spoken Chinese. Students will carry on conversations and participate in classroom discussions in Chinese on various topics associated with daily life and learn to write short passages in Chinese characters. This course also explores definitions of culture and analyzes the dynamic role of language in culture and culture in language, with an aim to foster cross-cultural awareness and self-realization while developing proficiency in Chinese.

CHN1306 Advanced Chinese (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: CHN1305 Upper Intermediate Chinese

This course continues the development of critical awareness by emphasizing the link between socio-cultural literacy and a higher level of language competence. While continuing to expand their critical literacy skills, students interpret texts related to Chinese popular culture, social change, cultural traditions, politics and history. Through linguistic and cultural comparisons, students will understand more about people in the target society and themselves, as well as about the power of language in use to enhance their competence in operating between languages and associated cultures. This course also aims to improve the ability to speak and understand Chinese, emphasizing correct pronunciation and intonation.

CHN3302 Chinese for Business Settings (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1304 Intermediate Chinese

This course is designed to develop comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing of Chinese specifically related to the business environment. It is an advanced Chinese course for those interested in contemporary Chinese business communications. The course covers various types of authentic business-related language materials, both oral and written. It emphasizes cultural and linguistic aspects of Chinese business communications. Objectives include a better understanding of the business world in China, its practices and trends, as well as development of language skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

CHN3305 Chinese Language: Language of Mass Media (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CHN1304 Intermediate Chinese

This course covers an introduction to the language of Chinese media, including newspapers, magazines, TV, radio and the internet. It includes a deep understanding of both the content of the selected materials and the linguistic characteristics of the language: its structures, vocabulary and style. The emphasis of the course is on improved reading comprehension through the study, analysis and discussion of a wide range of topics in the Chinese media. The course is designed to develop Chinese language skills in conversation, reading, writing, and critical thinking in both practical and cultural situations through contemporary films, television programs, newspapers, magazines, and literary works. Selected important issues and themes in Chinese culture and history are considered.

ENG/GEN1100 Academic English Speaking (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG/GEN1110 Academic Listening and Note Taking

Common European Framework: B2 upon completion

This course develops students' skills in speaking confidently and persuasively on a variety of academic topics in the Humanities, Business Studies and the Social Sciences. Students will be expected to undertake extensive research on their chosen topics and thereby develop their ability to use resources appropriately and ethically. In so doing, they will engage analytically and in-depth with their topics and offer constructive criticisms of one another's presentations. At all times, critical thinking will be emphasized. Students will adopt a process approach to academic speaking, placing emphasis less on the final product than on the stages of academic research, each of which will be presented to the class in the form of a mini-presentation. Through regular presentations on their research, students will improve their language proficiency and ability to argue effectively and persuasively within an academic context, and to handle evidence and statistical data. Class activities will take the form of discussions, debates and presentations.

ENG/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing II (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ENG/GEN1120 Academic Reading and Writing I

Common European Framework: B2 to C1 low upon completion

This is an advanced-level academic reading and writing course in which students undertake a research project on an academic topic of their own choice. Building on the research and writing skills developed in previous courses, students select a project of substantial scope within an area of interest to them. They offer a sound defense of their choice of topic, using criteria appropriate to an academic context, and then prepare to undertake research. In preparing their research essays, students make extensive use of library and online resources, as well as field research such as interviews and off-campus research, depending on the nature of their topic. Reading tasks include finding, analyzing and evaluating a variety of sources. A process-approach to writing is adopted, with specific attention to planning, outlining, surveying the literature, drafting, rewriting, reviewing and using feedback constructively. Attention is paid to both peer and instructor feedback. At the final stage, editing, citations and bibliographical components are the focus of attention.

ENG/GEN2100 Introduction to Creative Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1121 Academic Reading and Writing II

An introduction to imaginative writing, concentrating on the mastery of language and creative expression in different genres. The course includes analysis of literary models (professional writings in each genre), individual and class criticism of work by established writers, and lectures on and discussion of literary techniques in each genre.

ENG/GEN2101 Introduction to Literary Studies (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1120 Academic Reading and Writing 1

This course uses a meaningful range of literary texts to introduce the main genres and central topics of literary studies. Its object is to develop a well-rounded general understanding of the literary arts, including their historical aspects and the basic terminology used in their analysis and interpretation. The texts will model poetry, prose, and drama, while the coursework will focus on the methodical investigation of plot, character, setting, and symbolism, as well as on essential poetic, narrative, and dramatic structures and techniques.

ENG/GEN2201 Introduction to British Literature (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN2101 Introduction to Literary Studies

An introduction to the literature of the British Isles through an analysis of its major continuing themes, such as the evolution of regional and class identities, the legacies of industrial revolution, colonialism, and empire, and the wider relation of Britain to Europe and the world. There will be analysis and interpretation of relevant texts and media, covering a variety of genres and touching on topics in language, culture, politics, economics, and intellectual history, with some emphasis on regional literatures within the British Isles.

ENG/GEN2202 Introduction to American Literature (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN2101 Introduction to Literary Studies

An introduction to American literature through an analysis of its major continuing themes, such as the meaning of freedom, the place of nature and the wilderness in the American mind, urban-rural dichotomies, and issues of race, class, and gender identity. This includes the analysis and interpretation of relevant texts and media, covering a variety of genres and touching on topics in language, culture, politics, economics, and intellectual history. Some emphasis on regional literature.

ENG/GEN3102 Introduction to Rhetoric and Composition (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: GEN/ENG2100 Introduction to Creative Writing

This course introduces students to the field of writing studies. It presents key concepts, principles, traditions and discussions that define the field of rhetoric and composition, surveying major texts, movements, issues and methodologies.

ENG3301 Masterpieces of World Literature (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN2101 Introduction to Literary Studies

This course is an overview of the development of world literature. Each class will be dedicated to a significant book that challenged the received literary conventions and paved the way to new directions in literature. It offers students the opportunity to read excerpts from works that are considered landmark classics.

ENG3303 Business and Professional Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN1120 Academic Reading and Writing I

A practical, workshop style course in the types and techniques of business and professional writing in English, including commercial correspondence, reports, policy documents, advertising copy, and product-related literature. Strengthens skills necessary to communicate effectively in a variety of business and professional situations and in both oral and written modes.

LING/GEN1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: none

This course will provide students with an overview of linguistics, the scientific study of language, such as how to analyze the different parts of language such as sounds (phonology), parts of words (morphology), word meaning (semantics), and grammar (syntax). How do people use language in conversation with each other (pragmatics and discourse analysis)? These questions and more will be explored in this course, which aims to introduce students to the exciting diversity of world languages and the basics of linguistic analysis.

LING2101 Language and its Structure I: Phonetics and Phonology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING/GEN1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics

Introduction to the nature and patterning of sounds in human language. The students will be familiarized with articulatory and acoustic phonetics, and basic phonological analysis, focusing on cross-language typology and comparison. The class is aimed at hands-on development of practical skills, including IPA transcription, field techniques, and digital speech analysis.

LING2201 Language and its Structure II: Morphology and Syntax (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING2101 Language and its structure I: Phonetics and Phonology

Morphology deals with the internal structure of words and their meaningful parts. Syntax is concerned with sentence structure. Together, morphology and syntax comprise the core of the grammar of a language. This course introduces students to the basic principles for the description of grammatical structure and the structure of words, and how they can be applied to describe English and other languages. The class is aimed at hands-on development of practical skills of morpho-syntactic analysis. It also focuses on description of contemporary English grammatical structures that pose problems for learners and teachers.

LING/GEN2202 Latin (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course introduces the basic aspects of Latin language and ancient culture. It provides a basic exposure to the Latin elements of scientific language in order to facilitate understanding of special vocabulary and enable students to use appropriate language in communicating with both specialists and the general public. In this course, students will become more conscious of words and their history, and will increase their vocabulary by studying how words are formed, by learning Latin elements in modern words, and by improving their ability to use a dictionary.

LING2203 Language Typology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING/GEN1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics

Why and how are languages similar or different from one another? How can we understand and categorize those similarities and differences? In this course, we will examine not only the linguistics of one specific language, but a broader context of human language through the study of typology. This focus on typology will help us to make generalizations about linguistic structures and to understand how languages we know compare to a range of linguistic types and phenomena. This course will deepen students' understanding of linguistic theory and analysis and give them the tools to conduct cross-linguistic comparison.

LING3203 Logic of Language (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING2101 Language and its Structure I and LING2201 Language and its Structure II,

This course introduces students to the philosophy of language, language and logic/human reasoning, propositional/sentential and predicate logic, and the nature and (abstract) representation of meaning and its relation to reference and truth. Other topics include the relationships between language and knowledge, language and reality, language and acts performed through its use

LING3301 Foundations of Second Language Acquisition (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING/GEN1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics

This course examines the process of acquiring a second or additional language. It familiarizes students with important theories of second language acquisition and different methods for studying such acquisition. There will be special emphasis on the acquisition of English. Topics include the nature of learner language, individual differences in language acquisition, the role of input and interaction, similarities and differences in L1 and L2 acquisition, instructed acquisition and second language teaching. The course also analyzes the linguistic, cognitive-behavioral, and socio-cultural bases of second language acquisition in childhood and adulthood with an emphasis on making theory-practice linkages.

LING3303 Introduction to Discourse Analysis (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING2101 Language and Its structure I: Phonetics and Phonology

The course will focus on aspects of discourse analysis, both written (genres and genre analysis) and spoken (turn-taking, sequence organization). On completion of the course, students will be able to identify and describe patterns in talk and text organization and reflect on possible applications of discourse analytic methodologies and findings to issues in the real world.

LING3305 Introduction to Computational Linguistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING2101 Language and Its Structure I and LING2201 Language and its Structure II,

This course provides a non-technical introduction to the field of computational linguistics and its history. The main objective is to familiarize students with core questions and approaches in the field. It covers major application areas of computational linguistics including machine translation, information retrieval, information extraction, and computational lexicography. We will also discuss the tools and resources needed for natural language processing and generation

LING3306 Corpus Linguistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING/GEN1101 Fundamentals of Linguistics

In this class, students will be introduced to the field of corpus linguistics, learn how to utilize existing corpora, learn the basic computational skills and quantitative methods necessary in carrying out a corpus investigation, find out how corpora are influencing recent trends in linguistic research, and have opportunities to apply corpus-based methods in their own work.

LING4101 Bilingualism and Bilingual Education (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LING2101 Language and its structure I: Phonetics and Phonology

What does it mean to be bilingual or multilingual? How can we explore the reality of multilingualism, and how does it relate to education? How do these complex phenomena shape and reflect other aspects of how we live our lives? This course will explore these questions to give students theoretical and practical tools for understanding bi/multilingualism and bilingual education.

LIT3301 Survey of Russian Literature (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: ENG/GEN2101 Introduction to Literary Studies

Introduction to the classics of Russian literature in translation, beginning with Pushkin in the early nineteenth century and concluding with the works of Dostoevsky and Tolstoy in the later part of that century. This course provides a survey of Russian literature of the newly-concluded eventful 20th-century. The course is conducted in Russian/English.

RUS1301 Beginning Russian (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This Beginning Russian course introduces the basic elements of the Russian language in such a way as to enable students to engage in simple communication. It also provides a good foundation for further study of the language. Practice is given in the four skills of listening, speaking, reading and writing. Basic vocabulary and elementary grammatical structures are introduced. The course focuses on writing short compositions, dictations, delivering monologues, intensive and extensive reading of graded books. Speaking and listening skills will be developed primarily through self-study assignments.

RUS1302 Elementary Russian (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: RUS1301 Beginning Russian

The course assumes the knowledge of all the materials covered in RUS 1301. This course is designed to provide students with a solid background in the four language learning skills: speaking, listening, reading and writing. A special focus of this course is given to developing speaking skills as an integral part of the learning process. Students will learn to communicate in simple terms about their house/flat and their immediate needs, and to describe and comment on their living situations and daily and leisure-time activities. Reading and listening activities will focus on a variety of topics from everyday life in Russian-speaking countries. Students will also have an opportunity to learn about Russian culture and traditions.

RUS1304 Pre-Intermediate Russian (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: RUS1303 Elementary Russian

This course is a continuation of RUS1303 Elementary Russian and is aimed at students who possess sufficient basic knowledge of phonetics, morphology and syntax of the Russian language and have experience in everyday speech in Russian. The course will help to improve students' accents, to provide proper intonation, to improve their knowledge of Russian grammar, and to introduce the basic features of functional styles of the Russian language. This course will greatly expand the vocabulary and common lexicon, and will form a reserve of "background knowledge" of Russian culture. Students will learn not only to participate in educational discussions, but also to lead them. The course involves watching television and listening to lectures and recorded guides to historical Russian cities. Tasks will include a need to describe, narrate, explain and reason about the given cultural information.

RUS1306 Intermediate Russian (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: RUS1305 Pre-Intermediate Russian

This course is intended to motivate students in their Russian language learning, develop communication skills in real situations, and improve knowledge and appreciation of Russian culture. The course is intended to be communicative, with a focus on active student participation and the use of many different learning resources (textbooks, recordings, computers, etc.). Cultural and literary readings are used to expand vocabulary, stimulate discussion, and broaden understanding of the Russian world. Constant review and acquisition of new knowledge are fundamental requirements for the study of this course.

RUS1308 Upper Intermediate Russian (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: RUS1307 Intermediate Russian 2 or equivalent or any Kazakh Language Course

This is an upper intermediate level 1 course aimed at enhancing the four basic skills of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. The course is taught in Russian by native-speakers. Vocabulary, and oral communication skills, as well as comprehension and production of written Russian, will be taught through a combination of class discussion and focused individual and group exercises, using tutor-recommended texts and multimedia resources. The course will encourage students to read and comprehend news and journals in the original language; provide students an opportunity to bolster vocabulary for both literary and Kazakhstani contextual needs; conduct research and compose coherent written or recorded texts on various topics. The communicative component will cover both everyday situations and formal presentations related to students' research interests, focusing on vocabularies for specific needs, such as travel, business, socializing, or tourism.

LAW UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

LAWENG1121 Academic Reading and Writing for Law Students (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: GEN1120 Academic Reading and Writing I (English)

Common European Framework: B2 to C1 low upon completion

This is an advanced-level academic reading and writing course, in which students undertake a major research project on a legal topic of their own choice. Building on the research and writing skills developed in previous courses, students select a project of substantial scope within an area of interest to them. They offer a sound defense of their choice of topic, using criteria appropriate to an academic context, and then prepare to undertake research. In preparing their research essays, students make extensive use of library and online resources, as well as field research such as interviews and off-campus research, depending on the nature of their topic. Reading tasks include finding, analyzing and evaluating a variety of sources. A process-approach to writing is adopted, with specific attention to planning, outlining, surveying the literature, drafting, rewriting, reviewing and using feedback constructively. Attention is paid to both peer and instructor feedback. At the final stage, editing, citations and bibliographical components are the focus of attention. In this context, the student will be introduced to the OSCOLA style citations as used in the law school.

Philosophy of law deals with essential questions about law and legal systems, such as: what exactly is "law"? How is law different from other systems of rules? What is the relationship between law and morality? What is "justice"? What is "wrong"? What are "rights"? What is the best way to interpret a legal norm? What can be achieved through law and what cannot? What punishment is appropriate to the various cases of misconduct? The course discusses these and other questions with particular regard to the contemporary international debate. Its chief aim is equipping students with stringent and sophisticated legal reasoning.

LAW2303 Roman law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

All the legal systems called "civil law systems" have a common ancestor: Roman law. In Kazakhstan or in France, in Mexico or in Germany, many of the terms, concepts, and basic rules of functioning that modern legal systems use were first developed by ancient Roman jurists. For this reason, the study of Roman law can offer important insights into the nature of modern law. Further, Roman law enabled the evolution of the so-called modern state. It was in Roman law, for example, that the distinction between public and private law first appeared; and it was in Roman law that an early form of international law emerged. The course provides a survey of the original contributions of the ancient Romans to the systematic development of law, and outlines the subsequent development of Roman law into the modern "civil law systems".

It introduces students to the fundamentals of tort doctrine, focusing primarily on 'injury (damage),' 'illegality,' 'causation,' and 'guilt' elements required to establish conditions for civil liability, and types of liabilities, including personal injury, products liability, and moral distress, etc. Working on skills-based exercises, students will practice analyzing and applying tort principles to factual scenarios. Finally, the course deals also with the legal issues of unjust enrichment.

LAW3303 Company Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2108 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: General Part

The course builds on the introduction to legal entities. Students study the concept, attributes and legal capacity of legal entities as well as rules related to the creation of legal entities; organs of legal entities; branches and representations of legal entities; reorganization and liquidation of legal entities. Besides students will study in detail various forms of legal entities: business partnerships (general partnership, kommandit partnership, limited liability partnership, partnership with additional liability and joint stock company), production cooperative, state enterprise as well as non-commercial organizations. The practical component of the course consists of drafting documents relating to the creation and operation of a legal entity.

LAW3304 Family and Inheritance Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2108 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: General Part

Previously listed as LAW3209

The social, political and economic transformations which faced Kazakhstan in the last fifteen years made an impact on family relations and thus family legislation and inheritance legislation. The first part of the course examines the basic laws governing issues such as the definition of marriage; marriage contracts; termination of marriage; marital support; marital property; debts and family business in marriage as well as matters which regard parental rights and obligations; children's rights and adoption. Cross-border cases, such as international marriages and international adoption are analyzed in the course. The second part of the course is dedicated to inheritance issues, such as the form and content of testament as well as the procedure of inheritance by law, in a case the testament is missing. During the semester the students will receive theoretical knowledge regarding family and inheritance issues and will be offered numerous challenging cases to solve in order to develop the ability to apply these laws in practice.

LAW3305 Comparative Constitutional Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2104 Constitutional Law of Kazakhstan

Previously listed as LAW3105

Comparative constitutional law is an approach to the study of constitutional law based on comparisons across countries and jurisdictions. The course introduces students to the methods of comparative legal scholarship and highlights aspects of the international debate. The course surveys the main areas of constitutional law as illustrated by countries such as: Germany, France, South Korea, UK, USA, South Africa, and others. It discusses the global diffusion of constitutional ideas and models, and emphasizes the role of constitutional review.

LAW3306 Intellectual Property Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2108 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: General Part

Previously listed as LAW3206

Intellectual property is one of the most important issues of business and of common life since it involves the rights of producers as well as those of consumers, the rights of authors and of those who enjoy their creations. The course describes objects of intellectual property rights and their methods of protection as well as remedies available to the injured party. The legislative regulation of copyright, patents, trademarks, trade names, trade secrets and appellations of origin of goods are studied within the course – from the point of view of Kazakhstani legislation and in accordance with international agreements on intellectual property. In addition, students will encounter novel contractual innovations such as licenses that protect open-source ware. Together with the theoretical analysis of IP legislation the students will be offered numerous cases to solve, which involve both local and international intellectual property laws.

LAW3307 Land Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2108 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: General Part

Rights and responsibilities of state, natural persons and legal entities towards the land are described in the course as well as difference between types of land: lands reserved for agricultural use, lands of municipality, industrial lands, and protected land territories, lands of forest and water funds are to be analyzed from legislative point of view.

LAW3308 Environmental Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as GEN2721 Environmental Law

Environmental protection is a matter of everyone's concern. The first part of the course consists of an introduction to environmental studies, and provides an understanding of the scientific study of nature; the relationship between human beings and the environment; corporate social responsibility; the causes and consequences of major environmental problems; and cost/benefit analysis to evaluate possible solutions to regulation of the environment. The second part of the course focuses upon the concept, principles and tasks of the Environmental Law of Republic of Kazakhstan, the legal mechanism of the protection of environment, the legal forms of the environmental control and the issues of the juridical liability for the violation of Kazakhstani laws regulating the use and protection of the environment. In addition, the course examines international agreements and policy goals dealing with the mitigation of the adverse effects of cross-border pollution and other environmental damage and the allocation of liability for that damage.

LAW3309 Animal Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW3713

Animal law is the branch of law that deals with animals. It addresses topics such as: breeding, sanitary and veterinary norms, population control, registration, trade, husbandry standards and practices, animals for human entertainment, use of animals in scientific laboratories, etc. Historically, this branch of law has been developed with an exclusive concern for human health and economic or scientific interests. More recently, however, there has emerged another perspective that is centered on the protection of animals for their own sake. An example of legislation inspired by this perspective is the one aimed at the prevention of cruelty against animals.

LAW3311 Public International Law (3 Credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW1101 Theory of State and Law

Previously listed as LAW3511

Public international law is the system of law governing the international community, thus the aim of the course provides a framework to understand the normative dimensions of international relations. The course introduces students, through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, to the fundamental principles and doctrines of public international law as a meaningful tool for providing order to world politics and for minimizing global conflict. The course reflects the breadth and diversity of international law and covers all its main branches, including: sources; the subjects of international law; international institutions; the law of treaties; peaceful settlement of international disputes; the use of force; territory; human rights; diplomatic and consular law as well as international economic law. The course builds upon the practice of international relations and institutions, developments in political economy, mass media, domestic and international legislation.

LAW3312 Private International Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2109 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: Special Part

Private International Law is the study of private international law relationships from the point of view of the jurisdiction of domestic courts, the substantive law applicable to those relationships, as well as international cooperation between domestic courts of different jurisdictions. Students will learn about jurisdiction rules, conflict of law rules, and recognition of foreign judgments and international cooperation through the study of the domestic law and treaties of Kazakhstan. Ample use will be made from real life case studies, as well as hypothetical sets of facts to which the law has to be applied in order to find possible solutions. This course is very useful for all those students who wish to pursue a career in litigation, as well as for those students who wish to learn how to draft legal documents with a view to avoiding complex future litigation, especially when any of the contracting parties are foreign corporations.

LAW3313 Property Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: LAW2108 Civil Law General Part

Property law is the fundamental area of law that governs the relations of people and other legal entities with objects. First, property law defines who can be a subject of property relations, and what constitutes an object for the purposes of these relations. Then, it establishes the basic framework to determine who may do what with an object. It explains what it really means to own a thing, or to sell it, or to rent it. While the foundations of property law are covered in the course on civil law, this course offers a more advanced treatment of the matter. It discusses topics such as state vs. private ownership, operational management, economic management, easements, expropriations, and others.

LAW3040 Antimonopoly Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Regulation was once considered to be the command of the 'sovereign', often uniformed or even oblivious of the needs of society and markets. Since the 19th Century, though, this concept has developed thanks to a more structured presence of the state and to better knowledge of the national and international economic fabric. The 20th century and the first part of the 21st, have witnessed a first wave of State interventionism and regulatory action of markets and then, from the late 1970s, at least three decades of deregulation. The main goal of regulation and (maybe at first glance paradoxically) deregulation is to foster competitiveness in the market. But what does it mean to have competitive markets and how can this be achieved? Is the choice limited only to regulation or deregulation of markets? What is competition law and how does it relate to direct regulation of a market? What is a monopoly and what does it mean for a firm to abuse that power? What about an oligopoly and a cartel? These and many others are the questions that will find a response in this course.

This course provides a comprehensive overview of the structure and substance of the EU and Kazakh competition rules, with some comparative references to other systems, examining both the current legal framework and the underlying competition policy considerations that have informed their application and development. Moreover, this course will look at regulatory alternatives to competition law, which is the direct intervention of a Government in economic regulation. This course is cross-listed with the Economic course by the same title, with the Course code ECN3040.

LAW4401 Criminal Procedure Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

LAW4502 Law of the WTO (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW4602

The course will explore the regulatory framework governing international trading relations. It will begin with the economic theory of international trade and in particular the case for free trade, then examine the politics of trade policy and objections and sources of opposition to free trade. The following topics will be examined: international economic institutions, the Bretton Woods System, the GATT/WTO, Preferential Trade Agreements, international regulation of tariffs, national tariff administration, the principles of nondiscrimination (most favoured nation, countervailing duties, safeguards, adjustment assistance, trade and agriculture, trade in services, trade-related investment measures, trade-related intellectual property rights, and health and safety, and trade and the environment).

This course will emphasize the role of developing and transition countries in global trade and the impact of the current regulatory framework on these countries.

LAW4503 Law of the European Union (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW4515

The Member States of the European Union adopted the Lisbon Treaty in December 2009. The Treaty endows the EU with legal personality, and the EU will replace the EC [European Community]. The Lisbon Treaty contains provisions virtually identical to the failed European Constitution and consists of two Treaties: The Treaty on European Union and the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. The Lisbon Treaty has reconstructed the architecture of the EU, its institutions, and field of competences between the Member States and Community Institutions. Through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, this course studies the new constitutional order of the EU and covers the most important substantive areas of EU law such as Free Movement of Workers, The Right of Establishment, Freedom to Provide Services, and Free Movement of Capital. These core rights developed over decades through decisions of the ECJ, Community Regulations and Directives, and supplementary concepts such as free movement of goods and EU Citizenship. The development of the EU from a Customs Union to a sui generis political structure, with its own currency, may inform developments that take place in the Customs Union formed by Russia, Kazakhstan, and Belorussia. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW4504 International Human Rights Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW4211

This course serves as a basic introduction to International Human Rights law. Through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, the course will acquaint students with every significant aspect of this critical field including its history, theory, and practice. Beginning with a focus on the historical origins, philosophical foundations and the emergence of the concept of human rights, the course will go on to cover such topics as: the United Nations human rights system, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and United Nations Charter; the various generations of rights - including political, civil, economic, social and cultural rights - and remedies for human rights violations including the use of force and humanitarian intervention; major international and regional human rights conventions and other related legal instruments and organizations; and the mechanisms for the implementation human rights and the reporting of violations, including through the advocacy efforts of NGOs. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW4505 International Investment Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW4709 International Investment Disputes

This course deals with the international law applicable to the rights and obligations of foreign investors and States of the place where the foreign investment is made. The course will have two parts: substantive and procedural. The substantive part will study the rights and obligations of foreign investors and national States, as included in Bilateral Investment Treaties (BITs), other international instruments, as well as in customary law and which protect the investment from unlawful State actions such as expropriation without appropriate compensation or unfair and unequitable treatment. Special attention will be paid to BITs to which the Republic of Kazakhstan is party. The procedural part will deal with the different dispute resolution mechanisms between foreign investors and national States, focusing on arbitration under the Washington Convention of 1965 and the International Center for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). This type of arbitration is particularly important in Kazakhstan, because this country relies heavily upon foreign participation in the development of its energy sector. BITs are triggered and their terms may or may not provide clarity on substantive and dispute resolution issues. Recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards issued under the different instruments will also be studied. Students are expected to be able to apply the law and principles to real case study questions, as well as to hypothetical sets of facts presented by the lecturer in each class. Ample use will be made from the jurisprudence and practice of foreign states.

LAW4506 International Commercial Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2109 Civil Law of Kazakhstan: Special Part

Previously listed as LAW4518

This course provides an overview of key concepts of certain areas of the substantive law applicable to international trade transactions, especially to the international sale of commodities and other kind of goods, as well as ancillary contracts and transactions such as international payments, carriage, guarantees or insurance. Attention will also be paid to international engineering contracts and international loan agreements. This course is very useful for all those students who wish to pursue a career in international trade, logistics or international commercial litigation, as well as for those students who simply wish to learn how to draft legal documents with a view to avoiding complex future litigation. The main instruments of uniformity are examined, such as the UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG). Major international Treaties and Model Laws shall be studied applying, for example to secured transactions, payment systems, assignment of receivables, and security interests in mobile equipment. Trade finance, mainly in the form of letters of credit, independent guarantees and stand by-credits is introduced. As well as transport law, mainly maritime, including the UNCITRAL Convention on Contracts for the International Carriage of Goods Wholly or Partly by Sea. Students are expected to be able to apply the law and principles to real case study questions, as well as to hypothetical sets of facts presented by the lecturer in each class. Ample use will be made from the jurisprudence and practice of foreign states.

LAW4507 Law of Energy and Natural Resources (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW4706

Acknowledging the importance of energy on a global scale, and particularly to the economic development of Kazakhstan, this course explores the agreements/contracts/treaties and negotiations between states (public) and multinationals (private) in the exploration, supply of, and investment in energy resources. The course examines the role of major players in energy resources including international organizations in the energy sector, such as OPEC, the OECD, the IEA, the UN, the EU as well as NGOs. The course will also provide an in-depth look at the non-legal aspects of oil and gas industry, ownership rights to petroleum, the evolution of international petroleum agreements, concession agreements, production sharing agreements, risk service agreements, participation agreements, exploration, appraisal and exploitation clauses, other clauses like title to data and facilities, confidentiality, assignment, liability and insurance, foreign exchange, imports and exports, marketing and valuation of petroleum, downstream activities, and accounts, natural gas contracts, unitization, joint operating agreements, farm-out agreements, force majeure, adaptation and stabilization provisions, choices of law and forum, sovereign immunity, dispute resolution methods and enforcement of awards. Students are expected to be able to apply the law and principles to real case study questions, as well as to hypothetical sets of facts presented by the lecturer in each class. Ample use will be made from the jurisprudence and practice of foreign states.

LAW4514 Law of International Treaties (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

There is no area of international law that is not, to a lesser or higher extent, regulated by a treaty. This course offers a comprehensive overview of the foundations, principles and sources of the law of international treaties (LIT), clarifies the role of bilateral and multilateral treaties between states as well as treaties of international organizations, and explains the very notion of a "treaty", together with the key role it plays in the system of international law. The main sources of treaty law such as the Vienna Conventions of 1969 (VCLT), 1978 and 1986 are considered and characterized. Key issues such as the treaty-making process, stages and the role played by domestic law, treaty parties, the relationship between treaties, customary international law and rules of jus cogens, as well as the role of the language in treaty-making are discussed. Students will thus be offered a holistic perspective on this crucial part of international law taking into account its influence on the development of the latter as well as its role in the regulation of dynamically evolving international relations of today.

LAW4515 International Criminal Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW2107 Criminal Law of Kazakhstan: Special Part

After the Second World War, but especially since the 1990s - that is, after the establishment of the International Criminal Tribunals for the Former Yugoslavia and Rwanda - international criminal law (ICL) is gaining in significance. States' cooperation in penal matters, whose function consists in the prevention and repression of the most serious crimes of international concern, is developing in bilateral and multilateral formats. In conjunction with the key concepts of the law of international security, international humanitarian law and international human rights law, this course includes lectures, seminars and practical exercises, and covers the substantive issues of international criminal law - that is, jurisdiction, the general part of ICL, crimes under international law (genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and the crime of aggression) - and the fundamentals of international criminal procedure, including the operation of the International Criminal Court. The implementation of ICL in the CIS countries and selected common law and civil law jurisdictions is also covered. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW4516 Introduction to the Legal System of Foreign Countries (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course surveys the legal system of a foreign country. It outlines the main components of the country's law, including constitutional law, administrative law, criminal law, business and company law, family law, structure and functions of the courts, main international organizations and treaties the country adheres to. The course is accessible also to students without legal background and is a good introduction to law in general.

LAW4517 Comparative Contract Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course starts with an introduction to comparative law. Here, different methods and theories of comparative analysis will be analyzed. It follows a description of the main legal systems in the world and the reasons for their division in 'legal families'.

In particular, the course will focus on the common law tradition (distinguishing in particular the English model and the US model), the civil law tradition (with examples from the French, German, Italian, and Kazakh systems), and the Chinese system.

Following this introduction, the course will delve into the micro-comparison of the institution of the contract in these legal systems, considering in particular: i) the binding nature of the contractual promise in common law and civil law; ii) cause and consideration; iii) invalidity and vitiation of consent; iv) the contract and the transfer of ownership in common law and civil law; v) consumer contracts and online contracts in common law and civil law jurisdictions.

Comparative contract law is the comparative study of the contract law of several legal systems and jurisdictions. As the latter can be differentiated into groups according to their origin, methodology and substantive similarities, the course will examine the Common Law, the Continental Law and the Sharia legal systems. In doing so, the course will introduce students to the most important contract law concepts (e.g. interpretation of contracts, formation of contracts, the principle of good faith, liability for non performance, remedies for non-performance, etc) from comparative perspective. Studying the differences and similarities of the contracts of different legal systems, the course will facilitate a better understanding of both the Contract Law of Kazakhstan and International Contract Law.

LAW4519 Criminology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW1101 Theory of State and Law, LAW2106 Criminal Law of Kazakhstan: General Part (co-requisite)

The course covers the roots and causes of crime, trends in criminal behavior, the anthropological, psychological and sociological aspects of various categories of crimes, the basics of victimology, and other related topics. The course is usefully related to the General and Special Parts of Criminal Law, and Criminalistics, in that it provides a background to relevant material and procedural provisions, and helps to study criminal law in a broader cultural context.

LAW4520 Public International Law (Advanced) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW3311 Public International Law

The course is seminar-based and offers an interactive overview of current challenges to international law, and of prospects for this law's future development. The course covers emerging theories and developing institutions of international law, and is intended to enable students to research international law independently, and to apply it in various professional formats.

LAW4521 History of International Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course covers the development of international law, from antiquity to modern time. It presents international law as a cultural phenomenon common to the entire human civilization, intended to progressively install ideas of peace, cooperation, good faith and mutual respect among peoples and States. The major milestones in the development of international law are related to key events in the history of international relations, to show international law's realistic nature and practicality. The course is closely related with the history of international relations.

LAW4522 Diplomatic and Consular Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW3311 Public International Law (co-requisite)

The course focuses, in a detailed fashion, on the 1961 Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations, the 1963 Vienna Convention on Consular Relations and other treaty-based and customary sources of international law dealing with the regulation of official bilateral or multilateral relations between States. Through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, the course covers the organization and functioning of permanent and temporary diplomatic missions, the legal status of diplomatic, administrative and technical, and service staff under international law, and the Republic of Kazakhstan's legislation on diplomatic and consular service.

LAW4523 International Institutional Law/Law of International Organizations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: LAW3311 Public International Law (co-requisite)

The course deals with the nature of international organizations as secondary subjects of international law, and through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, provides an overview of the structure and functioning of the United Nations and organizations of the UN system, of other universal and regional international organizations. It also provides an overview of activities of international non-governmental organizations (NGOs), and of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC). The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW4524 International Conflict and Security Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The course includes lectures, seminars and practical exercises and deals, on the one hand, with the prohibition of the use of force in international relations (Article 2(4) of the UN Charter) and lawful exceptions from this prohibition, and, on the other hand, with the international law of armed conflict (ILAC). In the first part, States' inherent right to individual and collective self-defence, the UN collective security regime, peacekeeping and peace-enforcement, "humanitarian intervention", the Responsibility to Protect, and other relevant legal regimes are dealt with. The second part of the course is devoted to the legal regulation of the conduct of hostilities and the protection of victims of international and non-international armed conflicts. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW4525 IT (Cyberspace) Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Information technology and the Internet have had, and are having, an immense impact on substantive law. 'Computer law' has developed since the Seventies from a patchwork of applications of ordinary rules of contract, criminal, and commercial law, to what is largely accepted to be a rapidly growing specialist cognate discipline. It has now expanded to embrace the "new" field of "cyberlaw" that focuses on the legal regulation of the Internet.

This course will examine the legal ramifications of cyberspace and the digitisation and virtualisation of everyday activities, including topics such as regulation by law and code, intellectual property in cyberspace, illegal file sharing, content liability, cybercrime, online privacy and cloud computing.

Themes relevant throughout the course will be discussed such as globalisation, enforcement, regulatory forms (including self-regulation and soft law) and the competing lobbies for consumers, corporations, regulators, rights-holders and cyber-libertarians.

A further focus will be the extent and need for interaction between themes and legal fields.

LAW4526 International Humanitarian Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course represents a basic introduction to International Humanitarian Law (IHL, or LoAC). Through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, the course will acquaint students with most of the significant aspects of this topical field including its history, theory, and practice. LAW4533 Eurasian Economic Union Law (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course introduces students to the substantive laws of the Eurasian Union, with comparative remarks to the European Union substantive law and references to the One Belt, One Road initiative.

Kazakhstan has embarked on a project which deeply affects its sovereign power to regulate the domestic economy, as the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU) aims to achieve deeper integration among countries part to the post-Soviet space. According to many scholars working and commenting on the EAEU, this process of integration is mainly inspired by the European Union institutions and substantive laws. However, the EAEU is far from enjoying the same or even a comparable level of independence from the Member States as in the EU, as the EAEU relies predominantly on intergovernmental elements with a view to preserving the interests of all of its member states. These economic interests are intertwined in the substantive laws of the EAEU that aim to the creation of a level playing field for business to compete within the economic area and, at the same time, of a custom union where member countries agree on external tariffs. To achieve this goal a number of key economic sectors are subject to common regulatory frameworks, in particular, intellectual property rights, ICTs and energy.

The course focuses on the following topics:

- Eurasian Economic Union: History and Institutions
- Trade Regulation
- Competition
- Intellectual Property
- Special regulatory regimes
- ICTs and Innovation
- Agriculture and Energy
- The EAUE, the EU and the OBOR

The course uses a practical, hands-on approach through case studies and class exercises. Topics covered include various aspects of project management life cycle, the role of a project manager, project scope and integration, project time and cost management, risk management, procurement management, project management tools and techniques.

MGT5105 Human Recourse Analytics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

The aim of the course is to familiarize students with theories, concepts and applications of HR metrics and different information technologies to improve human resource decision making process. It will discuss recent trends and developments HRM, related IT technologies, software and applications used by human resource management practitioners. Students will be introduced with different software related to employee selection, training, compensation and salary administration used by the practitioners. Completion of course will develop competencies to identify and use appropriate IT and software to record, maintain, retrieve, analyze and report human resource information to support organizational decision making process.

MGT5106 Managerial and Interpersonal Skills (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

The primary objective of this course is to move students beyond the theories of modern management principles to the practice of managerial and interpersonal skills in an experiential, highly participatory classroom environment. This course will help students acquire practical managerial and interpersonal skills that are of immediate use in management or leadership positions. The early part of the course will address self-awareness and the assessment of core management skills such as managing personal stress and solving problems analytically and creatively. As the course progresses, students will explore more advanced managerial and interpersonal skills such as conflict resolution, empowerment, leading teams, and creating a positive environment for change in the organization.

MGT5107 Situational Leadership (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course will highlight the importance of having an adaptable style of leadership, including the reasons why situational leadership ensures success in today's complex, global business environment. Students will first learn, in depth, about the major theories of situational leadership (including self-assessment to learn about their leadership styles).

Students will also learn about the advantages and disadvantages of different leadership styles in an international context. Students will learn how to develop a situational strategy for leadership—with the goal of becoming a visionary and dynamic leader in the future. Cases, videos, and guest speakers will be utilized to help demonstrate the nature of situational leadership.

MGT5108 Managing Negotiations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MBA Standing

This course deals with the art and skills of negotiating in various business situations. Cases involving and analyzing issues and problems ranging from sales and contracts to the most complicated issues of international business will be discussed.

MGT5109 International Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MBA Standing

This course compares management styles used in various countries and the effectiveness of those styles on that culture. Methods will be contrasted with current management methods used in Kazakhstan to formulate effective methods for practical use. Focus is on the design of the organization; political, legal, and economic concerns; personnel issues; and, negotiating strategies.

MGT5225 Hospitality Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: MBA Standing

This course examines the philosophy and history of hospitality and the special characteristics of the industry. A broad overview of management styles, management and marketing theories and organizational structures is offered, as well as an introduction to local and international issues associated with the industry. This course examines hospitality specific issues such as yield management, services marketing, hospitality distribution channels, and service quality management strategies.

MGT5227 Change Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course serves as an introduction to managing change in organizations with an emphasis on developing the students' ability to understand the necessity of change in organizations. Upon completion of the course students will be able to understand the conceptual and theoretical underpinning of change in different organizational contexts. Students will also learn how effective change management helps an organization gain competitive advantage and understand the skills needed to manage change effectively.

MGT5229 Competitive Advantage Strategy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course uses Porter's model of competitive advantage to understand the dynamics of the competitive environment. Drawing on case examples, the course outlines the core concepts of Porter's theory with particular reference to the importance of the Diamond model of competitive advantage. Cluster mapping methodologies are employed to understand the dynamics of competitive advantage, emphasizing the importance of corporate and government collaboration to achieve sustainable competitive advantage.

MGT5230 Innovation Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course provides an essential insight into the area of innovation management. Once seen as a luxury, innovation is now a key part of the toolkit of the successful business. The class covers issues such as risk management, managing the research and development process, intellectual property management, integrating innovations into existing operation, the marketing of new products and technology transfer.

MGT5250 Strategic Management (3 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course focuses on the strategy of the firm, examining issues central to its short-term and long-term competitive position. Students are placed in the role of key decision makers and asked to address questions related to the creation or retention of competitive advantage. The initial focus is on industry analysis and identifying opportunities for competitive advantage followed by recognition of firm-specific capabilities or core competencies that contribute to competitive advantage, followed by exploring ways to use those distinctive competencies to establish sustainable competitive advantage(s) in the marketplace. Students will have an opportunity to understand and apply different techniques, tools, and approaches necessary for identifying a company's key factors for success. This is a case-based course, and students will research and formulate a thorough environmental analysis and strategic plan as a requirement for this course.

MGT5260 Selected Topics in Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

This course examines specific contemporary issues in management at an advanced level. Topics vary according to the interests of the students and the instructor.

OPM5203 Logistics & Supply Chain Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master standing

This course focuses on managing resources in service and production operations environments for globalization and how the value chain and lean synchronization improves Supply Chain Management (SCM) systems. This course discusses a solid foundation in designing SCM networks, process design, capacity assessment and operations network configuration in SCM. Students will understand the applications of strategic forecasting, value chain, inventory flow, MRP, vendor selection and evaluation, purchasing and subcontracting, contract preparations, management of integrated project planning and financial analysis for global supply chain management.

BUS5200 Business Research Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Master Standing

The course aims to develop the student's ability to understand and apply basic quantitative and statistical methods in business and economics. It will cover such important topics as elements of the probability theory, sampling surveys, statistical modeling, hypotheses testing, non-parametrical methods, regression analysis, analysis of variance, decisions making and time-series forecasting, including the neural network approach.

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCE GRADUATE COURSES

ECONOMICS AREA

CSS5103 Professional English (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to prepare you for the writing of a masters thesis by addressing the challenges common to graduate research writing. Students will learn how to analyze and present valid arguments. Practice includes developing writing skills that enable students to clearly present claims to support their conclusions and avoid reinforcing biases. Topics addressed include the relationship between critical thinking and clear writing, credibility of sources, rhetorical devices, fallacies, unclear or misleading language, and the characteristics of various types of arguments.

CSS5501 Management for Social Sciences (1 credit, 1 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course deals with the functions of management of organizations. It analyses organizational structure, motivation and incentive conflicts, human resources and compensation schemes, organizational culture and ethics.

CSS5502 Psychology for Social Sciences (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course gives an introduction to psychology and its applications to learning, management and interpersonal relations. It gives an overview of the interconnection between psychology and economics covering such topics as consumer choice, happiness measures, social preferences and behavioral approaches to policy and finance.

CSS5503 Research Methods and Methodology in the Social Sciences (Thesis I, 3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course gives an overview of the methodological basis of the social sciences. Students are introduced to logical reasoning and to concepts such as causality and statistical inference. The course also covers methods in applied research, drawing on examples of current research papers. Its purpose is to prepare the students for writing a master thesis.

ECN5012 Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Econometrics deploys economics, mathematics and statistics to specify economic relationships that help people forecast and make decisions. The course presents basic concepts in econometrics methods and methodology, regression models with time series, cross section and qualitative data. Topics in estimating single equations models are including Distributed lag models, causality problems, and dummy variables models in particular. Application of econometric models in real world economic data analysis will also be covered in the course.

ECN5013 Advanced Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5012 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course begins with fundamentals of advanced econometric modeling methods and techniques. This considers in detail econometric model formulation and estimation in multi equation settings. Topics covered are seemingly unrelated regression models, simultaneous equation models, panel data models, advanced time series models, probit, logit and limited dependent variable models. Students practice their skills with statistical packages such as E-views.

ECN5021 Microeconomics (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course covers consumer and producer theory, welfare measures and analyzes different market forms.

ECN5022 Advanced Microeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course provides a rigorous introduction to advanced microeconomic analysis. It covers consumer theory, auction theory and general equilibrium analysis, incorporating uncertainty, asymmetric information and externalities.

ECN5031 Macroeconomics (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course introduces standard concepts of macroeconomic theory including growth theory, aggregate demand and supply, stabilization policy and open economy macroeconomics. It gives an overview of the current macroeconomic debate.

ECN5032 Advanced Macroeconomics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5031 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course covers advanced topics in macroeconomic theory such as models of economic growth, rational expectations models, and models of currency crises, nominal rigidities, business cycle theory, time inconsistency and microeconomic foundations of aggregate behavior.

ECN5051 Money and Banking (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5031

The course analyses financial intermediation and the role of financial institutions for monetary policy. In addition, it focuses on issues such as risk management by private banks and financial regulation.

ECN5052 Statistical Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course deals with the multivariate normal distribution, sampling distributions of the mean vector and covariance matrix, principal components; canonical correlation; factor analysis, cluster analysis, and discriminant analysis. Proofs of results are provided in this course.

ECN5052.1 Introduction to Statistics (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none (cannot be counted separately from ECN5052)

This course deals with the multivariate normal distribution, sampling distributions of the mean vector and covariance matrix, principal components; canonical correlation; factor analysis, cluster analysis, and discriminant analysis.

ECN5053 Game Theory (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course gives an introduction to the mathematical analysis of strategic interaction in conflict and cooperation. It includes repeated games, Bayes-Nash equilibrium, and sequential games and introduces cooperative concepts such as core and Nash solution.

ECN5053.1 Introduction to Game Theory (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none (cannot be counted separately from ECN5053)

This course gives an introduction to the mathematical analysis of strategic interaction in conflict and cooperation. It includes repeated games, Bayes-Nash equilibrium, and sequential games.

ECN5054 Mathematical Modeling (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none

This course provides an overview of mathematical models which are used in economics and empirical modeling, encompassing data mining and flexible methods of modeling.

ECN5093 Project Planning and Welfare (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course gives an introduction to the foundational basis for the selection of public projects or public policies, and their evaluation in terms not of private profit but of social welfare. It covers issues of alternative ethical bases of social evaluation in light of Arrow's impossibility theorem such as the Pareto principle, sum ranking utilitarianism, Rawlsian Maxi-min criterion, and Sen's capability approach to social evaluation, among other approaches, deals with practical issues of measurement and application.

ECN5142 International Trade (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course covers the basic theory of trade, including gains from exchange and specialization; factor and goods prices; tariffs; imperfect competition in trade; distortions in commodity and factor markets; and economic integration. . Topics include: Ricardian theory of comparative advantage; the Heckscher-Ohlin theory of relative factor abundance; increasing returns and product differentiation; international factor movements; commercial policy -- tariffs, quotas, export subsidies, and infant industries; market structure and strategic trade policy; and economic integration, exemplified by free trade areas and customs unions. The course complements one on international finance but can be taken alone.

ECON5143 International Finance (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECON5031 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course deals with macroeconomics, financial markets, and monetary institutions, all from an international point of view. The field is eclectic, so the course can cover only a few theoretical topics: The balance of payments; international asset markets; and the exchange rate. The course concludes with contemporary policies in the international monetary system. The course complements International Trade (ECON5142) but can be taken alone. Students should have had undergraduate macroeconomics and microeconomics. Basic undergraduate courses in international trade and finance, as well as in money, would be useful. The course will use calculus and basic statistics.

ECN5226 Industrial Organization (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

The study of industrial organization is important for understanding industrial economics and corporate behavior. It is also essential for students aiming to serve the industrial sector of the economy. The course focuses on an empirical and theoretical examination of the structure, conduct, and performance of firms and industries at the micro and macro level. What determines the market structure and how is it measured? How do firms in an industry behave or perform in a given market structure? The course emphasizes production and cost functions; productivity growth; technical change and technical efficiency; corporate investment; dividend policy; and financing behavior. Major topics include the theory of the firm; profit maximizing and growth maximizing models; price and output determination under different market structures; and measures of market structure and market performance.

ECN5261 Public Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics) 1

This course examines the role of the public sector in the economy. It analyzes the behavior of the public sector and the incidence of its attempts to fulfill allocation, distribution and stabilization functions. It begins by asking the central questions of whether or not markets work, and if not, what is to be done about it. It discusses the market failures -- externalities, public goods, imperfect competition and asymmetric information -- that arise when competitive markets cannot give a socially desirable outcome. Topics may include the provision of public and private goods; collective decision-making; taxation -- tax incidence, equity, efficiency, and optimal taxation; theory of and evidence on government expenditure policy; redistribution and welfare policy; social cost-benefit analysis; fiscal aspects of macroeconomic theories; and local government. This would be a good course for students interested in: 1) generally, the economist's view of the appropriate roles for government within markets; 2) specifically, in the analysis and institutional background of government programs and initiatives -- in both expenditures and taxation.

ECN5271 Emerging Markets and Powers (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics) 1

Emerging markets is an overarching concept describing a group of countries with common issues and a similar role in the international system. This course critically discusses the concept of emerging markets and the role of institutions, natural resources and international organizations in their development. It reviews economic growth, open economy macroeconomics and geography as they pertain to emerging markets and introduces case studies.

ECN5296 Labor Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course develops theoretical models of the labor market, presents related empirical research, and discusses policy applications. Topics include labor supply, labor demand, market equilibrium and compensating wage differences, investment in human capital, and cyclical unemployment. Additional topics may include labor unions, minimum wage laws, compensation policies and productivity, wage indexation, and discrimination and equal-opportunity laws.

ECN5334 Monetary Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5031 (can be waived for students with undergraduate coursework in economics)

This course covers basic concepts such as the demand for and the supply of money. It consists of three parts: Theory of Money, Monetary Macroeconomics, and Monetary Policy. The first part examines the origin and concept of money and the structure of the money market. The second part is an extension of Macroeconomics related to monetary issues. The third part examines the contemporary theories of monetary policy. The course examines Classical, Keynesian and Rational Expectations theories. The course also deals with the contemporary theories of monetary policy, including those addressing the choice between rules and discretion and the choice of monetary regime.

ECN5352 Advanced Financial Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5354, ECN5012 (can be waived for students with undergraduate course work in economics)

This course will introduce students to advanced econometric methods and methodology to model and forecasting the various issues in financial assets and markets determinants such as prices and returns. Given the wide scope of financial econometrics modeling, this course includes both the univariate and multivariate time series financial data analysis in terms of modeling, estimating and forecasting for decision making. For the linear, dynamic expectations and volatility financial modeling process, it introduces advanced techniques such as ARIMA, VARMA, ARCH, GARCH, TAR, VAR, VMA, co-integration and error correction procedures. Model tests in applied project setting include capital asset pricing, options pricing models among others.

ECN5354 Advanced Financial Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021 Microeconomics (can be waived for students with undergraduate course work in economics)

This course applies economic analysis to financial decisions and equilibrium in financial markets. It discusses in detail market efficiency, behavioral finance, the theory and empirics of optimal portfolios, option pricing and security design.

ECN5355 Theory of Corporate Finance (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5021

The course develops an in-depth understanding of the financial relations of the firm and their impact on corporate governance. Topics include the theoretical and empirical study of the financial structure of the firm, financing constraints, risk management, contracting and monitoring under asymmetric information, control rights, mergers and acquisitions and security design.

ECN5888 Internship in Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Permission of academic advising faculty member and permission of the employer.

This independent research project, undertaken in a work environment, provides students with data, people, and experience for studying an economic issue. Related readings, a daily journal, and an analytical paper supervised by a faculty member are required. The student must obtain permission before the start of the semester in which he enrolls.

ECN5888.1 Research Internship (3 credits, 8 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Permission of academic advising faculty member and permission of the employer.

This independent research project, undertaken in a work or research environment, provides students with data, people, and experience for studying an economic issue.

ECN5890 Special Topics in Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: varies depending on the topic

Selected topics in Economics of interest to students and faculty. The course may be repeated for credit if the topics are different.

ECN5990 Research Seminar (Master Thesis 2, 3 credits, 10 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5801

The student shall undertake a seminar class with an instructor and orally defend his/her thesis proposal. At the same time, the student will have a supervisor who works with the student towards preparing the thesis.

ECN5991 Thesis and Thesis Defence (Master Thesis 3, 4 credits, 12 ECTS)

Prerequisites: ECN5990 or concurrent enrollment

The student under the supervisor shall complete his/her thesis and publicly defend it.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AREA

CSS5103 Professional Foreign Language (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to prepare you for the writing of a masters thesis by addressing the challenges common to graduate research writing. Students will learn how to analyze and present valid arguments. Practice includes developing writing skills that enable students to clearly present claims to support their conclusions and avoid reinforcing biases. Topics addressed include the relationship between critical thinking and clear writing, credibility of sources, rhetorical devices, fallacies, unclear or misleading language, and the characteristics of various types of arguments.

CSS5501 Management (1 credit, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course deals with the functions of management of organizations. It analyses organizational structure, motivation and incentive conflicts, human resources and compensation schemes, organizational culture and ethics.

CSS5502 Psychology (2 credit, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course gives an introduction to psychology and its applications to learning, management and interpersonal relations. It gives an overview of the interconnection between psychology and economics covering such topics as consumer choice, happiness measures, social preferences and behavioral approaches to policy and finance.

CSS5503 Research Methods and Methodology in the Social Sciences (Thesis I, 3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course gives an overview of the methodological basis of the social sciences. Students are introduced to logical reasoning and to concepts such as causality and statistical inference. The course also covers methods in applied research, drawing on examples of current research papers. Its purpose is to prepare the students for writing a master thesis.

IRL5513 Theories of International Relations (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

The course examines old and new theories used in International Relations, Realist, Liberal/internationalist, globalist and Marxist. Modern theories of globalization, modernization, dependency and human rights will also be discussed. The purpose of this course is to acquaint students with the theories and concepts used in the field of IR and to sharpen their theoretical knowledge and analytical skills so that they can understand and explain modern complex issues and conflicts in IR from a theoretical perspective and framework.

IRL5515 International Political Economy: Politics in the World of Interdependent Economics (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

The main objective of this course is to acquaint students with the dynamics and changes of the field, and to discuss the scope boundary and methodologies used in the study of IPE. It critically examines and analyzes major international economic trends and institutions such as international monetary and financial organizations, globalization of production and distribution, international trade and investment, development, dependency and foreign aid. Issues and problems of order, stability and transformation of world economy are also discussed.

IRL5203 Public International Law (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

Public International Law is the system of law that governs the international community; thus the aim of the course is to provide a framework to understand the normative dimensions of international relations. The course introduces students to the fundamental principles and doctrines of public international law as a meaningful tool for providing order to world politics and for minimizing global conflict. The course reflects the breadth and diversity of international law by covering all main branches, including: sources; the subjects and international institutions; the law of treaties; peaceful settlement of international disputes; the use of force; territory; human rights; diplomatic and consular law and international economic law. A problem-oriented approach to various case studies is used in both lectures and discussions.

IRL 5539.0 Political Geography: Geopolitics, Globalization and Governance (former “Political Geography) (3 credits, 4.5 ECTS)

(cannot be counted separately from ECN5539)

This upgraded master course advances students’ knowledge on political geography by thorough examination of the location, distribution and interaction between political entities in the world in the context of the era of globalization, thus reinforcing the need to comprehensively envision the global political-geographical issues. The course covers such broad and specific topics as globalization and regionalization, appearance of the new powers and reasons of the collapse of the former Soviet bloc, political geography of Central Asia, location and spread of international conflicts, relations between states, and ethnic tensions within states. Ultimately, the course increases the detailed canvas of political geography for students to apply and combine the knowledge for the systemic view of the IR system and implement it into their research and further self-study in the area.

IRL5520 Domestic Politics and Foreign Policy in the Post-Communist World (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course provides a comprehensive and comparative analysis and overview of the political, economic, ethno-religious, cultural and demographic peculiarities of the so-called Post-Communist world and their reflection in foreign and domestic politics, economy, security and nation-building.

IRL5521 Central Asia in Global Politics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course is designed as an in-depth study of the place of Central Asia in global politics and the policies of key external actors, such as Russia, the United States, China, European Union, Turkey, Iran, Japan, and India, toward the region. Students are familiarized with the ways Central Asia has been contextualized both in scholarly sources and media. We will dwell on the changing geopolitical dynamics of the region and analyze similarities and differences in the foreign policies of Central Asian states. At the end of the course, we will discuss future prospects of the region.

IRL5525 Thesis II (Thesis Seminar) (3 credits, 10 ECTS)

Prerequisite: CSS5503

All Master’s students have to write a M.A. thesis. The thesis topic must be approved in writing, first by the prospective thesis supervisor and then by the Thesis Supervisory Committee (Panel). The thesis research has to be supervised by a qualified KIMEP faculty. (For details, please see the CSS Guidelines for Master’s Thesis.) In his/her M.A. thesis the student has to demonstrate that he/she can design and execute with competence a major piece of research. The length will vary with the nature of the topic, but it should be developed in 50-60 pages (double-spaced). This course, taught by an experienced instructor, is designed to help students to acquire necessary skills in writing their thesis and to organize their time and thesis materials. The course complements the guidance of students’ thesis supervisor. By the end of the semester, students will have completed the introduction, the theoretical framework and the methodology (literature review and bibliography) and have prepared for the Thesis Proposal Defense.

IRL5526 Thesis III (2 credits, 10 ECTS)

Prerequisite: IRL5525 Thesis II

This is the writing and finalization of the research thesis. Normally, by the end of the semester, students will have completed and submitted their thesis, and have it defended before the Thesis Defense Committee. The Thesis has to follow the formal requirements and standards as detailed in CSS Guidelines for Master’s Thesis.

IRL5533 Developmental Studies: Selective Models (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is a seminar course on development studies. A comparative analysis of approaches to the study of development and underdevelopment will be offered here, including structural-functional, neo-classical, Marxist, and dependency theories. The main objective of the course is to acquaint students with various theories, concepts and models of development and provide them with the necessary skills and methodology so that they can independently study, compare and contrast among various developmental models. This course will select several models of development from various parts of the world and study and evaluate them from comparative, historical perspectives. Students are expected to actively participate in the class.

IRL5534.4 Internship in International Relations (5 credits, 5 ECTS)

The internship is designed to provide the student with a hands-on learning opportunity by in a consulate, the Foreign Ministry, an NGO, private company or other agency. A program of study and activities is collaboratively designed by the students' advisor and the participating agency. In the past, departmental internships have been pursued at the Foreign Ministry, US and UK consulates, the UN, the OSCE, and the EurAsEC.

IRL 5538 Ethics in International Affairs (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is an advanced course presenting students a normative approach centered on ethics for studying international affairs. The main purpose of this course is to prepare students to have a critical perspective on international politics and institutions and to be able to evaluate the moral dilemmas that political leaders, activists and citizens have to face in a globalized world. The course has three main components: a theoretical approach that focuses on the ethics of political decision-making; a detailed study of contemporary international institutions and norms such as just war theory and human rights; an analysis of case studies based on current global issues.

IRL5540 Genesis of the Modern Concepts of International Relations (former "History of International Relations) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The purpose of this graduate course is to provide master students with a systematic vision of international relations, which implies a multi-level picture of the complex and sophisticated IR field. A number of the event happened in IR genesis reflected the trends and challenges of each period. Knowing the latter, allows a graduate student to estimate appropriately the contemporary global and regional tendencies, transition from one qualitative state to another, judge upon the appearance and disintegration of subsystems of international relations throughout the history prism. Tracing and comprehending the logic of international relations forms the key tools for a modern expert and scientist to produce prognosis and calculate the risks and strengths of various situations, see the IR paradigm as a whole, increasing their analytical and critical skills.

IRL5542 Government and Politics in Central Asia (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This advanced course examines the multifaceted historical, ethnic, religious and linguistic factors that impact on the development of Central Asia after 1991. It provides a comparative study of political institutions, domestic politics and foreign policy behavior of Central Asian countries. The course is not only an introduction to the political systems of Central Asian states – new patterns of power and decision-making – but it also offers an analysis of ongoing changes generated by world geopolitics in a period of global uncertainty.

IRL5547 Russian Foreign Policy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The background of the present day Russian foreign policy is to be found in this advanced course. The emergence of USSR and US as the two global powers mainly defined the whole system of international relations in the world from 1945-89. Throughout this period, the Cold War confrontation constructed the essence of Soviet policy. The subsequent crisis and demise of the Soviet Union means not only the end of the "Cold War era" but also denotes the emergence of new key concepts and changes to dominant paradigms that explain the role of an independent Russia in the new world. The goal of the course is to develop students' critical and analytical skills, and to direct them to explaining the motives and objectives of Russian diplomacy operating on several levels: relations with the USA and the West, the establishment of a new system of relations with former Soviet republics and the development of new approaches to Third World countries.

IRL5548 European Union: Politics and Foreign Policy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course offers an advanced study of the model of the European Union as a unique experiment whereby European law supersedes national law and a single European currency is used. The purpose of this course is to offer students an advanced and critical analysis of European government and politics as well as of the structure and foreign policies of the European Union.

IRL5551 Petro Politics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course provides a comprehensive study of the contemporary politics of oil via a critical analysis of the causes, dynamics and implications of the global quest for energy. The course lays special emphasis on the geopolitics of energy in the various oil-producing regions of the world and the interests of great powers in these regions. General theories, concepts, paradigms and models associated with international relations, economics, and security studies will be introduced to provide students with the analytical tools and knowledge necessary to comprehend the complex dynamics of energy politics and to facilitate an understanding of current developments in the field of energy. The course is designed to sharpen students' abilities in the area of geopolitical analysis by evaluating various strategies for constructing pipelines, accessing markets and forming strategic alliances between producing and consuming nations.

IRL5552 Central Asia-United States Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This is a graduate-level survey course on the development of Central Asia - US relations from 1991 to the present. At the outset, we will examine the mutual "discovery" of the United States and Central Asia by their opposite number, as well as the framing of the relationship in the context of realist, idealist, and neo-Marxist paradigms. We will further consider the interests that determine foreign policies of Central Asian states and that of the United States in the region, perceptions and decision-making processes, and the broader geopolitical context of Central Asia - US relations (with the focus on Russia, China, Afghanistan, Iran, and EU). A broad variety of topics will be discussed: American contribution to Kazakhstan's denuclearization, investments in the energy sector, development assistance, the post-9/11 security relationship, US military bases in Central Asia, US cultural influence on the region, and other issues. We will conclude by examining the likely trajectories for the development of these relationships in the coming decade.

IRL5555 Asian Security: Theory and Practice (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course aims to provide both an advanced theoretical knowledge of the current debates of security studies and to apply their paradigms to the study of Asian security at different levels of analysis: national, regional and global. An updated research of key issues in each region (Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, South Asia and Central Asia) will be combined with an in-depth consideration of various aspects of security: military (including nuclear), political, economic, environmental, societal and human.

IRL5558 Central Asia – Russia Relations (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This graduate course provides a comprehensive and comparative overview and analysis of the political, economic and historical background of Russian – Central Asian relations throughout the Tsarist and Soviet periods and their reflection in cultural, political, strategic, economic, ethno-religious relations between the former Soviet Central Asian states and the Russian Federation. In doing so, the course provides a thorough methodological and analytical foundation of the cultural and demographic peculiarities of post-Soviet Russia and Central Asia, their foreign and domestic politics, economy, security. The course will explore how "stories" could be effectively used in communicating diverse and complex ideas. The practical exercises of the course will involve writing stories and creating multimedia content using words, visuals, audio, and video. The course content involves lectures, seminars, discussion of case studies, guest-speaker presentations, and hands-on projects like publishing of online magazines, designing interactive infographics, developing podcasts, and producing short films using the power of "stories" to communicate ideas. Upon successful completion of the course, students should be able to: a) effectively critique diverse storytelling cases; b) design stories for effective communication using diverse digital tools; c) innovate with content creation using storytelling techniques.

JMC5621 Professional Internship (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Students complete internships at print, broadcast outlets or public relations firms. The course is designed to provide hands-on knowledge of the field and the opportunity to network. Course may be retaken for credit with departmental permission.

JMC5625 Research Internship (3 credits, 8 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This independent research project, undertaken in a work or research environment, provides students with data, people, and experience for studying an issue in media and communication.

LAW SCHOOL GRADUATE COURSES

LAW5201 Legal Method, Skills and Reasoning (Professional English) (3 credits, 3 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Certain skills are required for the successful study of law. This course teaches those skills: Methods of Study, Use of Language, Critical Thinking, Legal Text Interpretation, Legal Research and Writing, and Architecture of Argument. The course uses legislation, case reports, and research assignments to achieve its multiple objectives. Writing about the law and learning the art of advocacy are taught through solutions of practical problems. This course must be taken during the first semester in which a student enrolls in the LL.M. program. This course may also serve as a Professional English Language course. It will introduce students to the methodology of reading legal text: extending from Treaties, constitutions, legislation and cases. It also provides an overview of the structure and hierarchical form of most domestic legal systems and their relation to international law and organizations. The course also covers the basic techniques of legal research, writing and analysis. Students learn briefcases, perhaps synthesize cases from related fields, and write legal documents as opinions memoranda or thesis related essays. The course is based on solving and analyzing legal questions taken from different disciplines.

LAW5202 Methods of Legal Argument (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course primarily is a course in Logic modified for legal study. It covers the following subjects of logic: (1) Basic Logical Concepts, (2) Analyzing Arguments, (3) Language and Definitions, (4) Fallacies, (5) Categorical Propositions, (6) Analogical Reasoning, and (7) Probability. The objective is to teach students how to identify arguments from other types of statements, such as explanations, to distinguish between correct and incorrect reasoning, and to deconstruct legal texts and judicial opinions. Practical and inductive reasoning are emphasized as these are the tools of the lawyer. The course also advances the proposition that: Law is not logic, but a system of authority. The facade of stylized reasoning is pierced.

This course may also serve as a Professional English Language course. It will introduce students to the methodology of reading legal text: extending from Treaties, constitutions, legislation and cases. It also provides an overview of the structure and hierarchical form of most domestic legal systems and their relation to international law and organizations. The course also covers the basic techniques of legal research, writing and analysis. Students learn briefcases, perhaps synthesize cases from related fields, and write legal documents as opinions memoranda or thesis related essays. The course is based on solving and analyzing legal questions taken from different disciplines.

This course should be taken during the first semester in which a student enrolls in the LL.M. program.

LAW5203 Public International Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Public International Law is the system of law that governs the international community; thus the aim of the course is to provide a framework to understand the normative dimensions of international relations. The course introduces students to the fundamental principles and doctrines of public international law as a meaningful tool for providing order to world politics and for minimizing global conflict. The course reflects the breadth and diversity of international law by covering all main branches, including: sources; the subjects and international institutions; the law of treaties; peaceful settlement of international disputes; the use of force; territory; human rights; diplomatic and consular law and international economic law. A problem-oriented approach to various case studies is used in both lectures and discussions.

LAW5204 International Commercial Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course examines the law governing transnational commercial transactions between private parties. Since the Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG) is one of the most successful instruments unifying international commercial law, it is studied in depth. An introduction to the English law of international sales is also provided, in view of its common application worldwide. Course coverage also includes commercial terms of the sales agreement (Incoterms 2010), shipping contracts, insurance, financing arrangements (e.g., Documentary Credits, Standby Guarantees), and customs documentation. The laws of transport operators, including multi-modal transport, are examined, as well as any applicable treaties. Freight forwarders, mandatory carrier regimes, and the respective liabilities of the parties involved in international transport are identified. The second portion of this course examines expansion of business through: export/import, licensing and franchising, and specialized modes of foreign direct investment.

LAW5205 Private International Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Private International Law is the set of legal rules that determine the jurisdiction, the applicable substantive law, as well as the recognition and enforcement of judgments in cross-border relations among individuals and legal persons. This course will mainly focus on Private International Law rules applicable to transnational business transactions. Preliminary matters such as renvoi, characterization, and historical principles guiding forum selection and applicable law are covered. There is no uniform “international convention” in this field accepting the Hague Conventions dealing with the Service Abroad of judicial and extrajudicial documents in civil matters and the Taking of Evidence Abroad in civil and commercial matters. Several “dead” Hague conventions may be examined to facilitate an understanding of the aims of unification of rules. Since there are similarities among the rules found in several jurisdictions, this course covers the subject matter from a comparative perspective. The Private International Law rules of the United States, the European Union, and the Republic of Kazakhstan serve as the foundation for the study of Private International Law principles. The CIS Treaties governing enforcement of arbitral awards within the member States are identified and discussed. Pertinent provisions of the Customs Union Agreement are tracked during the course.

LAW5206 International Commercial Arbitration (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

International Commercial Arbitration [ICA] has already turned into the preferred means of dispute resolution in international business. ICA allows parties to overcome cultural, legal, and geographical differences by appointing a private tribunal to hear and resolve a dispute in a final and efficient manner. However, the key advantage of ICA compared to litigation in domestic courts is that arbitral awards of ICA are enforceable in 144 states. This makes ICA an extremely important subject for every legal practitioner or businessman dealing with international transactions. This course will have a very practical focus. Apart from the general theory of ICA, we will focus on the practices of Kazakhstani courts with respect to enforcement of arbitral awards, we will discuss common grounds of appeal, the appeal procedure, enforcement practices, the ways of interaction between arbitral tribunals and domestic courts, and many other aspects.

LAW5207 Psychology for Lawyers (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The psychology part will provide a brief overview regarding the application of positive psychology to work settings and the psychological influences on the development and behavior of managers and organizational leaders. Increasingly business leaders are realizing that an understanding of psychology helps them unlock the potential of the “human capital”. Topics include: follower influences, nature vs. nurture in the development of leaders, relationship of personality to leadership style, behavioral decision-making biases, tactical, operational, and strategic decision-making, group think, and scenario planning and the retention and development of individual talent, and the selective departure of talent.

LAW5208 Management for Lawyers (1 credit, 1 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The management part will provide you with an engaging and accessible introduction to the disciplines of business and management. The course introduces you to key arguments and debates that form the study of business and management. The course enables you to become knowledgeable and sensitive to the complexity of modern business organizations, both domestic and international. This course will introduce students to the ethical climate that underpins sound management.

LAW5210 International Criminal Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

After the Second World War, but especially since the 1990s - that is, after the establishment of the International Criminal Tribunals for the Former Yugoslavia and Rwanda - international criminal law (ICL) is gaining in significance. States' cooperation in penal matters, whose function consists in the prevention and repression of the most serious crimes of international concern, is developing in bilateral and multilateral formats. In conjunction with the key concepts of the law of international security, international humanitarian law and international human rights law, this course includes lectures, seminars and practical exercises, and covers the substantive issues of international criminal law - that is, jurisdiction, the general part of ICL, crimes under international law (genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and the crime of aggression) - and the fundamentals of international criminal procedure, including the operation of the International Criminal Court. The implementation of ICL in the CIS countries and selected common law and civil law jurisdictions is also covered. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW5211 Law of the European Union (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

The Member States of the European Union adopted the Lisbon Treaty in December 2009. The Treaty endows the EU with legal personality, and the EU will replace the EC [European Community]. The Lisbon Treaty contains provisions virtually identical to the failed European Constitution and consists of two Treaties: The Treaty on European Union and the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union. The Lisbon Treaty has reconstructed the architecture of the EU, its institutions, and field of competences between the Member States and Community Institutions. Through lectures, seminars and practical exercises, this course studies the new constitutional order of the EU and covers the most important substantive areas of EU law such as Free Movement of Workers, The Right of Establishment, Freedom to Provide Services, and Free Movement of Capital. These core rights developed over decades through decisions of the ECJ, Community Regulations and Directives, and supplementary concepts such as free movement of goods and EU Citizenship. The development of the EU from a Customs Union to a sui generis political structure, with its own currency, may inform developments that take place in the Customs Union formed by Russia, Kazakhstan, and Belorussia. The course is closely related with the practice of international relations and law.

LAW5212 Information Technology Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

This is a survey course introducing students to the field of Information Technology (IT) Law. The course begins by introducing students to the concept and problems of internet governance. Who controls the internet? What is net neutrality and do we need it? Do we need special rules to govern the internet? The course will then explore a number of connected legal topics such as online data protection and freedom of expression. A second module will tackle issues related to e-commerce and the internet giants. Finally, the course will explore the legal aspects of the sharing economy, of blockchains and of the use of artificial intelligence. As information technologies operate across jurisdictions, the course will consider domestic (Kazakh), regional (EAEU), and international (especially EU and US) regulatory responses to the advancement of these technologies.

LAW5299 Selected Graduate Topics in Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course provides further study into various areas of law. Topics covered will vary from semester to semester depending on expertise and interests of instructors and students' particular needs and strengths. This course may be repeated for credit if the topics are different.

LAW5701 Company Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course examines business organizations, applicable legal rules, and best practices from a comparative perspective. The company law of the State of Delaware, United Kingdom, the European Union, and the Republic of Kazakhstan serve to explore common principles pervading the object of company law across multiple legal systems. All business forms – ranging from proprietorship to the Joint Stock Company - are delineated, purposes explained, and liability consequences discussed. Tax advantages and disadvantages of each business organization are identified, though not examined in depth. The course identifies the duties and liabilities of officers and directors under laws of the legal systems identified. It also investigates the various theories of company law: Coases' Theory of the Firm, Easterbrook's Economic Structure of Corporate Law, and Company Law as a Matrix of Financial Data. Discussions of publicly listed companies include disclosure, management requirements, trading restrictions, proxy contests, and insider trading.

LAW5702 Tax Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Tax law is one of the most important legal courses for any successful lawyer-since taxation is present in almost every aspect of professional and business life. This course introduces students to the fundamental principles of taxation both from the theoretical and practical perspective. Specifically, students will explore the key sources of tax law in Kazakhstan - Tax Treaties, Tax Code, Transfer Pricing Legislation, relevant administrative guidance and instructions, including the most important tax returns, but will also familiarize themselves with the important case law. The course covers elements of taxes, basic rules of tax calculations for major taxes (corporate and personal income tax, value added tax, subsurface use taxation, excise and customs regime, special tax regimes) and the importance of tax considerations for business decisions and tax planning. It also focuses on the rights of taxpayer and tax authorities, rules related to tax (de-) registration, tax control procedures, tax dispute resolutions, administrative and procedural tax rules, appeal procedures at tax administration and court levels. Students should also explore and distinguish between tax evasion and tax avoidance, understand the key anti-avoidance provisions and also study the relationship of Ethics and Tax Planning

LAW5703 Business Litigation Practicum (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This class gives students an opportunity to participate in real-life experience complex business litigation. In this simulation class, students will draft claims, answers, replies, motions, appeals, causation appeals, and Supreme Court petitions under the Kazakh rules of procedure. The class is based on an actual rich and complex case study drawn from practice. The Practicum is intended to cover all four levels of the current Kazakh court system: the trial court, the appellate court, the causation panel, and the Supreme Court. After drafting the relevant court documents, students will act as the attorneys and participate in scheduled trial and appellate hearings before lawyers and faculty members serving as judges. In this course students will not only develop their writing and oral advocacy skills, but will also learn the substantive law involved in the case and the rules of procedure in civil practice. The course may be conducted in the Russian and English languages or both. For example, trial court level proceedings (both the written documents and the actual hearings) may be conducted in Russian, while the appellate level litigation may be conducted in English.

LAW5704 Law of Energy and Natural Resources (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Acknowledging the importance of energy on a global scale, and particularly to the economic development of Kazakhstan, this course introduces students to international legal principles (sovereignty, territoriality, principles of compensation, liability etc) and relevant treaties, especially the Energy Charter Treaty, that govern the interaction between states and other potential subjects of international law relevant to energy. The course explores the agreements/contracts/treaties and negotiations between states (public) and multinationals (private) in the exploration, supply of, and investment in energy resources. The course examines the role of major players in energy resources including international organizations in the energy sector, such as OPEC, the OECD, the IEA, the UN, the EU as well as NGOs. International energy investment disputes are most often resolved by arbitration as the preferred mode, with ICSID the forum of choice. International energy disputes can also be environmental and human rights disputes, litigated in international courts and national courts. While using oil, natural gas and nuclear power as examples for the course, we will look toward the future and evaluate the international legal and policy (regulatory) issues facing the development and expansion of renewable energy, such as biofuels.

LAW5705 Intellectual Property Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The law of Intellectual Property is fast becoming a significant area of law due to the increasing value of company intangible assets and the World Wide Internet. It also raises the question of the balance of property within the public domain and property that may be privatized with economic rights exercised by the holder. The subjects covered are: Introduction to IP, Copyright, Patents, Trademarks, Trade Secrets, Geographical Indications, Industrial Design, Patents, WIPO and other international treaties. The trend toward harmonization, protection of IP rights, and open source are consistent themes throughout the course.

LAW5706 International Banking Law (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The International Banking Law course commences with a study of money and central banking policy. The relationship between currency and trade is identified. A country's Balance of Payments is key to understanding this function of international banking. This aspect of international banking law is properly called the "international public law of banking". The course then proceeds to identify the business activities of banks, the creation and function of bank holding companies, cross-border banking structures, and the definition and function of "international banking activity". This is properly called the international private law of banking. Payment systems, bank formation, branching, and restrictions on banking activities are discussed from a comparative view. The course then pursues financial institution regulation, risk valuation and control, insolvency, and restructuring of banks.

LAW5707 International Commercial Arbitration Practicum (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This Practicum is designed to teach students the fundamental and advanced principles of International Commercial Arbitration in the context of an international sales transaction through the use of a case study. The case study is based upon an Arbitration problem released by the Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot. The first phase of the Practicum is a study of the fundamental principles of International Commercial Arbitration, the UNCITRAL Model Law [amended as of 2006], the New York Convention of 1958, and the Convention on the International Sales of Goods, in preparation for the release and examination of the Vis Moot problem (usually early October). The Problem is read, analyzed, and parsed for identifying key facts and legal issues. Additional treaties may be examined depending upon the issues raised in the case study. The class is divided into teams of four students representing the Claimants and the Respondents. Each team is responsible for submission of two written pleadings on behalf of the respective parties. Subsequent to submission of the pleadings, the teams then prepare for oral argument that takes place in a simulated International Commercial Arbitration; practice sessions are held.

LAW5708 Administrative Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Previously listed as LAW5803 International Investment Disputes

This course deals with the international law applicable to the rights and obligations of foreign investors and States of the place where the foreign investment is made. The course will have two parts: substantive and procedural. The substantive part will study the rights and obligations of foreign investors and national States, as included in Bilateral Investment Treaties (BITs), other international instruments, as well as in customary law and which protect the investment from unlawful State actions such as expropriation without appropriate compensation or unfair and inequitable treatment. Special attention will be paid to BITs to which the Republic of Kazakhstan is a party. The procedural part will deal with the different dispute resolution mechanisms between foreign investors and national States, focusing on arbitration under the Washington Convention of 1965 and the International Center for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID). This type of arbitration is particularly important in Kazakhstan, because this country relies heavily upon foreign participation in the development of its energy sector. BITs are triggered and their terms may or may not provide clarity on substantive and dispute resolution issues. Recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards issued under the different instruments will also be studied.

LAW5804 Mergers and Acquisitions (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course covers the following topics as they relate to mergers and acquisitions: company law, exchange controls and foreign investment restrictions, antitrust law and restrictions on monopolistic practices, and tax law. Both domestic and international M&A transactions are discussed, as well as mergers, divisions, transfers, acquisitions, and public takeovers. The practical dimension of the course requires students to develop and understand the legal documents necessary to effect an M&A. The Republic of Kazakhstan features as the situs of the content of the course, but references to the law of other jurisdictions is made as needed.

LAW5805 Constitutional Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Students then examine the constitutional rights and freedoms of individuals in Kazakhstan; the institutes of citizenship and referendum; the legal foundations of the activities of public associations and political parties; and electoral law. Students also will study the legal status of the supreme state organs of Kazakhstan: the President, the Parliament, the Government, the judiciary, and the Constitutional Council. Special attention is paid to the stages of the legislative process in Kazakhstan and constitutional review. Finally, the course deals with the legal issues of the local state administration and self-governing bodies.

LAW5806 Commercial Litigation in Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The civil procedure course addresses the rules, principles and forms of pleadings that govern the litigation of a civil case in Kazakhstani courts. The course familiarizes students with how and where a lawsuit is initiated in the courts of Kazakhstan and with the issues related to status of the parties, the jurisdiction and venue, the forms of action and pleadings. Then the course examines the pre-trial stage with particular attention to such issues as preparation of the case and the preliminary relief. Afterward the trial stage is explored with special emphasis on the elements of proof at trial, burden of proof and evidence rules as well as presumed facts and res judicata. The course will also examine content, form and effect of judgments; forms of appellate review and procedures; reopening judgments because of new circumstances; reopening default judgments and execution of judgments. The course will have very practice oriented focus and will be instructed by practicing litigation lawyers.

LAW5807 Contract Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course focuses on the law of contractual obligations covering the formation and interpretation of business transactions, legal limitations on the bargaining process, claims and defenses related to breach of contract, and remedies for breach. In addition, it explores legal peculiarities of each type of contract, i.e., purchase and sale, barter, lease, transportation, construction, bank servicing, loan, insurance, storage, and many other contracts. It develops necessary skills and competencies to draft and efficiently negotiate business contracts.

LAW5808 Tort Law of Kazakhstan (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

The second part of the course focuses on civil obligations arising out of injury (damage). It introduces students to the fundamentals of tort doctrine, focusing primarily on 'injury (damage),' 'illegality,' 'causation,' and 'guilt' elements required to establish conditions for civil liability, and types of liabilities, including personal injury, products liability, and moral distress, etc. Working on skills-based exercises, students will practice analyzing and applying tort principles to factual scenarios. Finally, the course deals also with the legal issues of unjust enrichment.

LAW5809 Law of the WTO (3 credits, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Three institutions operate globally to improve trade relations, solve poverty and promote infrastructure investment, and maintain financial stability: the World Trade Organization, the World Bank Group, and the International Monetary Fund. This course provides an overview of each institution and its primary impact upon legal systems. The WTO is the product of the Bretton Woods Agreement following World War II. The GATT [the original name] created a multilateral trading system to reduce tariffs and non-tariff barriers to trade in an effort to make the economic interests of its members interdependent. The WTO, which was formed in 1995 and incorporates the 1948 GATT, introduced several new covered agreements and significantly the Dispute Settlement System. The course also covers the role of the major public international institutions, with the exception of the United Nations, and provides historical case studies.

LAW5811 Global Competition Law (3 credit, 4 ECTS)

Prerequisites: none.

With globalization and the simultaneous deregulation of markets, competition authorities have gained the fundamental role of ultimate guardians of the fair process of competition between market actors. Predictably, competition authorities all around the world have gathered enormous attention, making it to the headlines of all the news agencies and outlets for the impact of their decisions on businesses and on society as a whole. This trend regards Kazakhstan, whose antimonopoly sector, in the wake of EU and Russia, is gaining momentum both at domestic level (where more and more practitioners and officials are specializing in) and international level (where int'l organization intends to coordinate and abet the enforcement of antitrust rules). This course provides a comprehensive overview of the structure and substance of the EU and Kazakh competition rules, with some comparative references to other systems, examining both the current legal framework and the underlying competition policy considerations, which have informed their application and development.

LAW5922 Internship (2 credits, 1 ECTS)

Prerequisites: Completion of at least 15 credits

An internship provides students with the opportunity to learn about the practice of law through the supervised performance of legal work in: judicial chambers; prosecutor's office and other government agencies; law firms; in-house legal departments; or other placements approved by the faculty supervisor. In addition to enhancing practical skills and to exposing students to the world outside academia, internships offer the opportunity to increase the knowledge of substantive law, often in a specialized area. The Internship program requires students to work at least 150 qualifying hours, of which at least 100 hours must be spent in the field and 50 hours, preparing internship documents. Interns must file an internship report with the Faculty Supervisor conforming to the requirements of the School of Law for the LL.M. program. The Internship Guidelines and Forms contain all details regarding the operation of the Internship program. Students who have worked for a minimum period of one year in a law firm or related field may apply to waive the Internship requirement. The waiver requirements are set forth in the Internship Guidelines. Students who qualify for a waiver are required to take a 3 credit elective course instead of the Internship.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION GRADUATE COURSES

GRADUATE FOUNDATION ENGLISH

Graduate Foundation English Overview

Graduate Foundation English courses are non-credit courses designed for those whose native language is other than English and whose knowledge and use of English do not meet the standards for entry into graduate program courses. The Graduate Foundation English program aims to prepare students for the use of English in their graduate discipline and the course focuses on developing the four language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking), in progressive levels of preparation/ difficulty. Each course consists of 600 Learning Hours, including a minimum of 10 contact hours per week and 30 hours of out- of- class learning, per week.

There are three courses of Graduate Foundation English.

ENG5103 Graduate Foundation English C (0 credits)

Prerequisites: None

Graduate Foundation English C is the beginning step in the set of levels to be taken by graduate students to prepare them for entry into graduate programs. This course is for those who have learnt very little or no English in the past. The students will learn to pronounce English words; ask, understand and respond to simple questions, directions and instructions; read and understand short adapted texts; and write sentences and short descriptive paragraphs. They will acquire knowledge of fundamental grammar structures and their functions (e.g. sentence types, tenses). They will learn to converse about casual topics, personal details, and concrete needs. The course focuses on writing and vocabulary development based on readings and listening activities. The instructional methods focus on in-class activities combined with self-study. Students, upon completion, will satisfy the criteria of A1 level, as a minimum, and satisfy the criteria for lower level A2, optimally, on the Common European Framework (CEF).

ENG5104 Graduate Foundation English B (0 credits)

Prerequisites: ENG5103 Graduate Foundation English C or placement according to English language test

Graduate Foundation English B is for newly- enrolled Master's students. In addition to developing proficiency with reading, writing, listening and speaking, this course especially includes extensive reading and writing projects, reading and discussion of current events, and regular listening to news and fiction through an action-based approach. Students work on a number of projects that aim to develop their ability to learn

English as well as general communicative competences that will enable them to use the language in various contexts and under various conditions. Study skills suited to university work are given special attention. By the end of the course, students satisfy the criteria for level A2 on the Common European Framework. With a pass mark in this course, students enroll in ENG 5105 Graduate Foundation English A.

ENG5105 Graduate Foundation English A (0 credits)

Prerequisites: ENG5104 Graduate Foundation English B or placement according to English language test
Graduate Foundation English A is the third level of English course for newly-enrolled Master's students. The course focuses on developing the four skills—reading, writing, listening and speaking—through a variety of activities in which students interact with authentic material in English. The course emphasizes two complementary aims: the continuous improvement of English language proficiency as well as the development of critical thinking and study skills. Academic skills including note-taking, critical analysis and critical approaches to writing will be emphasized throughout the course. The course expects students to graduate with B1 proficiency on the Common European Framework.

GRADUATE DEGREE PROGRAMS

EPM5301 Program Evaluation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course provides an introduction to the major concepts and theories in the field of program evaluation, such as: defining the different components of a program evaluation, its role in program and policy development, etc. Students will design, collect and analyze, and write up an evaluation report based on a field-based program evaluation project that the entire class will participate in.

EMI/TFL5401 Methods in Language Teaching (Pedagogy in HE) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is an introduction to current instructional methods and approaches for teaching a second language to adults. The course focuses on theoretical perspectives, major methodological issues, and current controversies, and examines the historical and theoretical foundations in second language teaching. The course involves extensive readings, discussions, and observations of language classes, with consideration of principles for instruction in a wide range of teaching contexts. Particular attention is paid to long-term development of language teachers as decision-makers and problem-solvers.

EMI/TFL5402 Practicum (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: EMI/TFL5401 Methods in Language Teaching

The practicum is a course in which the student demonstrates the knowledge and skills developed in the master's program the practicum is the in-class, student teaching experience, where the knowledge and skills developed in the program is applied

EMI/TFL5403 Curriculum and Materials Design (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course prepares and evaluates materials for teaching second language in a variety of contexts. The course focuses on learning-centered approaches to designing courses, from developing curriculum to material design. Curricula in both second and foreign language environments will be addressed. During the course, students will design a curriculum to respond to the needs of a specific student audience through a process of needs assessment, selection, sequencing, presentation, and evaluation. Students will select, adapt, develop, and evaluate course goals and objectives, structured syllabus, course units, lesson plans, system of evaluation, and materials for one lesson.

EMI/TFL5404 Assessment and Evaluation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course introduces the principles and practice of conducting language learning evaluation within the context of adult foreign language acquisition from both theoretical and practical perspectives. The course is aimed at analysis of the goals and rationale of different types of assessments in foreign language programs, including teacher-made assessments and current standardized test instruments. Students will also gain experience in developing and critiquing assessment materials.

EMI/TFL5601 Research Methods (History and Philosophy of Science) (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is designed to familiarize students with a variety of scholarly and scientific approaches and methods for research in education settings, theory development, data processing, scholarly writing, and organization of a research paper related to applied linguistics, second language acquisition, and pedagogy.

EMI/TFL5700 Seminar in Applied Linguistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This special course will be devoted to various contemporary problems in the methodology of teaching and mastering the language. Topics of the seminar: bilingualism, language policy and planning, discourse analysis, program evaluation and critical pedagogy, etc. The purpose of studying the discipline is to acquaint students with the current state of applied linguistics and ensure the acquisition of appropriate competencies for professional activities.

EPM5101 Strategic Management in Education (2 credits, 2 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course introduces the concept of strategic management through case analyses, and considers the basic direction and goals of an educational organization, the environment factors, education market structure, and organizational strengths and weaknesses. The emphasis is on the development of strategy to gain and sustain advantage in competitive markets.

The course also considers implications of grammatical choices in situational contexts for foreign language instruction.

TFL5301 Introduction to Second Language Acquisition (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Co-requisite: TFL5101 Introduction to Linguistics

This course examines the process of acquiring a second or additional language. Topics include the nature of learner language, individual differences in language acquisition, the role of input and interaction, similarities and differences in L1 and L2 acquisition, instructed acquisition, and the relationship between acquisition research and second language teaching. The course also analyzes the neurolinguistic, psycholinguistic, and sociolinguistic bases of second language acquisition in childhood and adulthood.

TFL5401 Methods in Language Teaching (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is an introduction to current instructional methods and approaches for teaching a second language to adults. The course focuses on theoretical perspectives, major methodological issues, and current controversies, and examines the historical and theoretical foundations in second language teaching. The course involves extensive readings, discussions, and observations of language classes, with consideration of principles for instruction in a wide range of teaching contexts. Particular attention is paid to long-term development of language teachers as decision-makers and problem-solvers.

TFL5402a Academic Internship (3 credits, 6 ECTS)

Prerequisites: TFL5401 Methods in Language Teaching; a minimum of 18 credits in the program

The practicum is a course in which the student demonstrates the knowledge and skills developed in the master's program. It involves the observation, and practice of teaching a second language to adults at the college or university level. Students are apprenticed to experienced mentor teachers in ongoing language classes, and receive detailed feedback on: their teaching, including comments about the knowledge, principles, and skills required to teach second languages; the use of student assessment. For experienced teachers, especially those who have taught for many years in ESL and multilingual settings, a research project is an option.

TFL5402b Teaching Internship (3 credits, 7 ECTS)

Prerequisites: TEL5401 Methods in Language Teaching; TFL5402b can be taken concurrently with TEL5402a; a minimum of 18 credits in the program

The second part of the practicum is the in-class, student teaching experience, where the knowledge and skills developed in the program are applied. TEL5402b can be waived for teachers who are working full-time.

TFL5403 Curriculum and Materials Design (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course prepares and evaluates materials for second-language teaching in a variety of contexts. The course focuses on learning-centered approaches to designing courses, from curriculum development to materials design. Curricula in both second- and foreign- language environments will be addressed. During the course, students will design a curriculum to respond to the needs of a specific student audience/target group through a process of needs assessment, selection, sequencing, presentation, and evaluation. Students will select, adapt, develop, and evaluate course goals and objectives through the use of a structured syllabus, course units, lesson plans, a system of evaluation, and materials for one lesson.

TFL5404 Language Evaluation and Assessment (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: A minimum of 18 credits in the program

This course introduces the principles and practice of conducting language learning evaluation within the context of adult foreign language acquisition from both theoretical and practical perspectives. The course is aimed at analysis of the goals and rationale of different types of assessments in foreign language programs, including teacher-made assessments and current standardized testing instruments. Students will also gain experience in developing and critiquing assessment materials.

TFL5501 Multilingualism (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

Multilingualism is the normal state of being for most of the world, and Central Asia has been characterized by complex multilingual realities. This course will take an in-depth look at the theory and realities of multilingualism. Through class discussion and student research, we will investigate a variety of questions in the field, such as: How do multilingual speakers use language? What are some effects of language contact, including code-switching, borrowing, and new language formation? How can we research multilingualism? What are the relationships between multilingualism and education? This course will be conducted primarily as a seminar, in which students will be expected to complete readings and come to class prepared to discuss them. Students will also be asked to design and carry out a research project on the topic of multilingualism.

TFL5502 Educational Technology in Language Classrooms (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course explores the uses of computers in the foreign language classroom, including language learning through information-processing software, digital technology, multimedia applications for home-oriented and educational software, and the Internet. During the course, students will have hands-on experience with multimedia applications and instructional software, information-processing software, and digital technology.

TFL5504 Introduction to Program Evaluation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This seminar provides an introduction to the major concepts and theories in the field of program evaluation. There will be an emphasis on defining the different components of a program evaluation, its role in program and policy development, and how evaluations vary based on where they are theoretically situated. Students will be able to design, collect data, analyze data, and write up an evaluation report based on a field-based program evaluation project that the entire class will participate in.

TFL5506 Cross-Cultural Aspects of Language Teaching (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course defines and explores the relationship between language teaching and culture with a heavy emphasis on how to use different approaches (literature, writing, media, theater, history) to teach culture through language courses starting with the basic question of 'what is culture?' This course is grounded in a socio-cultural constructivist approach towards language and language learning. Students will study culture in general and learn about their own cultural influences to better understand teacher-student and student-student interactions from various cultures through and in language teaching.

TFL5601 Research Methods and Graduate Research Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course is designed to familiarize students with a variety of scholarly and scientific approaches and methods for research in education settings, theory development, data processing, scholarly writing, and organization of a research paper related to applied linguistics, second language acquisition and/or pedagogy.

TFL5690 Thesis I (3 credits, 16 ECTS)

Prerequisites: TEL5601 Research Methods; a minimum of 18 credits in the program

Students register for this course and TEL5691 while they are creating and defending/presenting their master's thesis research proposal. Students are assigned a main and secondary supervisor whom they will consult with

TFL5691 Thesis II (3 credits, 12 ECTS)

Prerequisites: TEL5690 Thesis I; a minimum of 22 credits in the program

This is the second course for working on and defending the master's thesis, where students execute their research plan, with regular supervision.

TFL5700 Seminar in Applied Linguistics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This is a special- topic seminar that will focus on various contemporary issues in language acquisition and teaching. Seminar topics include (but are not limited to): bilingualism, language policy and planning, discourse analysis, program evaluation, and critical pedagogy. Seminar topics will be listed on the program website during the registration period prior to the start of the semester.

DOCTORAL PROGRAMS COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

BANG COLLEGE OF BUSINESS DOCTORAL COURSES

Core Courses

BUS6300 Business Research Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisites: None

This course develops conceptual frameworks in research methodologies and emphasizes business applications of modern software in research design. Main themes of this course are role of business research, acquiring research skills in both qualitative and quantitative aspects of analysis. Students will be exposed to survey instrument design, questionnaire design, sampling methods, data collection and research design, basic inference analysis, research ethics, exploratory research, qualitative analysis, measurement and scaling of data attributes as well as business applications and interpretation of statistical techniques.

MGT6303 Management and Organization Theory (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course examines the theories as well as empirical evidence on integrated marketing communications. The course examines companies operating in international markets, where competition is not limited to local producers offering competitive products. Students learn different models of entry into new markets and the differential application of customization versus standardization strategies.

COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCE DOCTORAL COURSES

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN PUBLIC AND MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION

PAD6503 Research Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course reviews the methodology of social sciences research and connects it to applied problems in public administration and international development, drawing on examples of current research. Candidates produce a term paper in preparation for writing a research proposal for their dissertation.

CSS6103 Academic Writing for PhD students in the Social Sciences (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course provides students with an understanding of how to work at different stages of a written project. It introduces students to a range of techniques and develop skills that are important in preparation of academic texts (dissertation, reports, articles, books). Students learn to write with a clear, concise style, link ideas and arguments in order to create a flowing publishable texts.

Learning objectives:

- demonstrate an authoritative writing style
- compose logical and convincing arguments
- design a coherent narrative
- evaluate stylistic features to make writing style readable
- prepare effective Introduction and conclusion
- produce scientific article for publication

Specialization Courses

PAD6269 Comparative Governance and Development of Industrial Countries (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course takes a historical and comparative perspective on the properties and functioning of governance in industrialized countries. The course explores theories and evidence for the role of governance in creating and sustaining an environment for economic growth and social development. Specific reference is made to analysing institutional and legal frameworks and public values for governance, and to mechanisms and processes for provision of public goods and services.

PAD6211 Contemporary Models of Public Administration and Management (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course explores international models of public administrations in their present forms and current contexts. The course aims to develop knowledge of transformations of classical models of public administration and the emergence of new approaches to public administration and public management. The course explores the links between the underpinning philosophy of the models, their characteristic features and operative capacity to respond to changes in public sector objectives, and the public interest and changing notions for the role of governments and public managers.

PAD6268 Comparative Public Policy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course introduces theoretical perspectives, methods, and methodological techniques by which a comparative analysis of public policy can be conducted. The course systematizes theories and concepts available across disciplines concerning the nature of public policy, policy formulation, design, and implementation. Students are introduced to the historical and contemporary developments in regard to both normative and action-oriented facets of public policy. Candidates are invited to analyse and assess differences and commonalities in conducive factors, and the roles of actors and modalities in public policy provision across various domains of the public interest and across different social systems.

Economic perspectives on government is the study of the effects of government actions on economic activity, with reference to international experience. This course aims to predict the effects of such actions on the economy in order to provide guidance on the choice between different alternatives. The objective is to provide a toolbox with which to approach in a rigorous way a variety of issues related to the design and evaluation of public policy. The course will focus on public needs (types and mechanisms of their financing); public expenditures (types, theoretical basis, economic effects, cost - benefit analysis); public revenues (relationships and structure of direct and indirect taxes in the tax system, other revenue sources); and budgets and budgetary policy.

PAD6255 Selected Issues in Public Policy and Program Implementation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course aims to develop candidate knowledge of the relations between public policy intended outcomes and the way that policy is realized. The course examines the value of program design, checks and balances mechanisms, and evaluation with special account to the institutional and human factors that enable or constrain policy and program implementation. Candidates learn to apply theories of public policy and public administration in order to enhance understanding of the challenges and potentiality of policies and programs for effective functioning of the public sector.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN ECONOMICS

Core Courses

ECN6801 Research Methodology (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

In the course, students evaluate different methodological approaches to research in economics. They discuss examples of cutting-edge research in different fields of economics. Students compose a term paper based on an original research question and develop a research plan towards their thesis dissertation.

CSS6103 Academic Writing for PhD Students in the Social Sciences (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course provides students with an understanding of how to work at different stages of a written project. It introduces students to a range of techniques and develop skills that are important in preparation of academic texts (dissertation, reports, articles, books). Students learn to write with a clear, concise style, link ideas and arguments in order to create a flowing publishable texts.

Specialization Elective Courses

ECN6191 Development Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course is dedicated to a wide range of topics pertaining to economic aspects of development. It provides a thorough overview and an in-depth analysis of traditional, classical and modern models of growth and development and applies them in the context of many real-world country case studies.

ECN6192 Political Economy (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course discusses current topics in Political Economy including the political and institutional determinants of government economic policy. The course explores how political institutions impact on economic development, how institutions form and which their economic consequences are more generally.

ECN6226 Industrial Organization (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course equips students with tools and analytic skills, enabling them to understand how firms exercise market power in a range of settings and how the government can curb negative effects through regulation. Emphasizing the importance of understanding strategic behavior, the course develops rigorous models and asks students to elaborate on the economic logic behind analyses and to discuss real-world implications.

ECN6014 Applied Econometrics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course focuses on microeconometrics. Topics include GMM estimation, binary and multinomial choice models, limited dependent variable models, selection models, partially linear models, nonparametric and semi-parametric estimation, panel data and duration analysis. The course offers lots of hands-on experience with using the methods on real data sets.

ECN6042 Behavioral Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

This course provides an in-depth treatment of the psychology of economic decision making and its applications to economic policy, financial markets and organizations. Topics include consumer choice, happiness measures, social preferences and evolutionary approaches to behaviour.

ECN6199 Special Topics in Economics (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

The course develops current topics in economics in accordance with student and faculty interest.

COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES AND EDUCATION DOCTORAL COURSES

DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAM

EPM6101 Academic Writing (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is offered to doctoral candidates and it introduces them to scientific writing. Students will practice writing their own articles, review literature, improve texts, and practice advanced grammar. The course will also assist in learning to identify typical features in published articles. Students will have an opportunity to submit work to their instructor and receive constructive feedback; they will also submit and receive papers for peer feedback. Through these practices, they will discover more about their own writing style and maximize their learning experience.

EPM6102 Philosophy of Education (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is a study of human learning and cognitive organization and process. The content will provide an overview of the development of learning theory and cognitive models since the beginning of the scientific study of human learning and mental processes. Major theories concerning the learning process and their implications for the instructional process are investigated

EPM6103 Qualitative Research Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

The purpose of this course is to introduce doctoral students to field methods and qualitative data analysis, including such methods as unstructured interviews and observation. Doctorate students will become acquainted with the epistemology of qualitative approaches and with developing skills in all areas of qualitative methodology, through first-hand experience of using these methods to collect and analyze data on an appropriate topic.

EPM6203 Teaching Internship: Educational Leadership (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

This course is based on an analysis of case studies and is aimed at developing important skills and developing concepts related to the ability to manage an educational organization. In the framework of this discipline, topics such as organizational theory, factors and the structure of the educational process management, criteria for making important management decisions to improve the effectiveness of educational activities, and the main corporate governance models in the field of education are considered. Doctoral students learn to develop their own leadership style and successfully manage curricula and educational institutions.

EPM6201 Leadership and Management for Changes in Education (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

In this course, doctoral students will get acquainted with new management theories that reflect the mutual influence of educational processes and sociocultural changes. During this course, they will master methods, skills and theories in the field of motivation and optimization of the educational process performance, ways of monitoring and ensuring the quality of educational services provided. The main attention is paid to the development of managerial and creative decisions used in educational organizations to ensure effective social changes in the field of education.

EPM6202 Advanced Program Evaluation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Doctorate students are trained to do different types of program evaluation, including needs assessment, formative research, process evaluation, monitoring of outputs and outcomes, impact assessment, and cost analysis. Doctorate students gain practical experience through a series of exercises involving the design of a conceptual framework, development of indicators, analysis of computerized service statistics, and development of an evaluation plan to measure impact. Covers experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental study designs, including the strengths and limitations of each.

EPM6204 Policy Development and Implementation (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Education policy is crucial to educational improvement and renewal. In this course, education professionals develop the skills for critical analysis of education policy at the local, national, and international levels. They topics include: the processes of policy implementation and evaluation, the use of logic models in the policy process, ensuring educational equity and justice, etc.

EPM6205 Quantitative Research Methods (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

The goal of the course is to teach students (1) to understand and (2) to confidently apply a variety of statistical methods and research designs that are essential for education research. The course covers basic data management, measurement, hypothesis testing, bivariate least-squares regression, multivariate least-squares regression, and some extensions.

EPM6211 The Economics of Education (3 credits, 5 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Education is a key contributor to the stability of local, national, and global economies. Addressing challenges related to these key ideas, education professionals in this course explore the financing and provision of education. They apply economic principles and econometrics to their understanding of educational practices and policies. They also identify research to improve efficiency, quality and equity of education.

EPM6302 Research Internship (6 credits, 10 ECTS)

Prerequisite: minimum 24 credits earned

During the research internship, students will gain first-hand experience in data collection and analysis under the supervision of both local and international supervisors. Students will also have the opportunity to further develop their literature review.

EPM6601 Research Projects including research seminars and publications (6 credits, 15 ECTS)

Prerequisite: None

Conducting research, participating in research seminars and conferences, publishing articles to meet MES requirements for PhD candidates

EPM6602 Dissertation 1-3 (4 credits, 11 ECTS)

Prerequisite: TFL/EPM6103 Qualitative research methods, TFL/EPM6205 Quantitative research methods
Students will use this period to advance their dissertation writing and research work.

PART X. OLIVIER GISCARD d'ESTAING LIBRARY

ADMINISTRATION

Director
Olga Zaitseva, MA
Offices 105, 109 / Library
Tel: +7 (727) 237-47-54 /56
E-mail: zaitseva@kimep.kz, lib.office@kimep.kz
Web-site: <http://www.kimep.kz/library/>

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The mission of the Olivier Giscard d'Estaing Library (hereafter Library) is to serve the academic information needs of the KIMEP University community. To fulfill this mission, the library is building a permanent research collection and providing access to electronic resources that support University academic requirements, as well as exchanging information resources with other organizations locally and internationally. The library is committed to help all patrons evaluate and use the available information resources.

PROFILE

The library offers open access to local and global information resources for its patrons seven days a week. The library building is designed to serve up to 350 students at a time. It houses public reading areas, the circulation, reference and periodicals collection. The library maintains its reserves materials collection here as well. Electronic resources are accessible in two independent study laboratories with computer and multimedia workstations within the library. Additional workstations are provided in other locations for use of the online catalog, the reference and periodicals resources. Librarians are available to assist students with finding and evaluating all of the print and e-resource materials. Other public use areas include a Conference Room, ID and Document Processing Center and a lounge in the lobby with vending machines.

COLLECTIONS

Currently the KIMEP University has nearly 85570 print volumes: approximately 55830 in English with the remainder in Kazakh and Russian. In addition, the library provides electronic access to over 750 000 documents including journal articles, newspapers, conference papers and reference materials. The students may search these collections using online catalog and the library's electronics resources page. These collections contain works in all of the academic disciplines taught at the University including business, social sciences, law, journalism, information technologies, humanities, education and a variety of other subjects. The reserves collection contains required readings for the courses as determined by course instructors.

Reference and Periodicals

The reference collection is constantly being updated to provide the most current reference materials available. Periodicals maintain a collection of nearly 21 titles of international and local newspapers, academic journals and popular periodicals in English, Kazakh and Russian.

CARD

Librarians have created and continually update CARD (Central Asia Research Database), a bibliographic database of periodical articles on Kazakhstan and other Central Asian countries focusing on topics of particular interest to the students.

Electronic Resources and Multimedia

The Olivier Giscard d'Estaing Library brings students information sources that are little-known in Kazakhstan. From almost every computer on campus students have access to a number of databases with bibliographic citations and full text articles from hundreds of periodicals including refereed academic journals. Some of these databases require training to use effectively and patrons should feel free to ask electronic resources librarians for assistance.

The library maintains a collection of major academic electronic databases including EBSCOHost (multidisciplinary collection of databases), ProQuest One Business (a business information database), JSTOR (an archive of scholarly journals covered by academic and research institutions), Ebook Central (over 201 000 e-books in all academic areas), Paragraf and BestProfi (Kazakhstan legal databases), Zakon (Kazakhstan legal database published by the Ministry of Justice RK), Westlaw (international legal database), Emerald (management e-journals collection), Sage (multidisciplinary journal collection), The Chronicle of Higher Education (newsroom covering education in colleges and universities) and Taylor&Francis ebooks collection (72 ebooks on variety of subjects). Since 2012 the library has free subscription to the Web of Science and Scopus databases (the resources for academics to create and plan their own research strategies).

Campus-wide Information Resources

Students and faculty may access any of the library's electronic databases from the computers in any of the computer laboratories or offices throughout campus.

The library also works closely with other university units to meet the University community's information needs, including Computer and Information Systems Center, College of Humanities and Education, Corporate Development Department, and others.

Course Textbooks

At KIMEP University, as at other Western-style institutions of higher education, students check out the course textbooks and other materials they require for study throughout the semester. Reserve copies of required course readings are available for use in the library reading rooms. Some reserve copies of textbooks may be rented overnight.

Textbook Rental

The library operates a Textbook Rental System to assist students who cannot purchase their required course materials.

Students place a textbook security deposit at the beginning of each semester. The required amount is 36460 tenge (deposit can be changed). Students then receive the required materials for their courses. The Library charges a rental fee for all course materials provided. The amount of the fee is 25% of the cost of the material and it is deducted from the textbook security deposit. The deposit must be brought back up to 36460 tenge before the beginning of the next semester in order for a student to rent the textbooks. At the end of a student's career, the balance of the deposit is returned to the student. According to KIMEP University policy the balance of the deposit is returned to those person who made the payment last. To avoid the problems with the balance return the payments should be made by one person.

The security deposit and rental fee amounts are adjusted periodically to reflect changes in the quantity and cost of textbooks and other course materials.

The library expects that there will be the usual wear and tear of a textbook used for a semester. However, students turning in mutilated or destroyed books or books exhibiting more than usual wear and tear must pay fees and/or fines according to the rules for library books (see Fees and Fines below).

LIBRARY RULES AND REGULATIONS

The Library Administration determines the library's rules and regulations according to the mandates of the KIMEP University Administration.

1. Identification Card

A plastic Identification Card (ID) is issued to all individuals affiliated with KIMEP University. A patron is allowed only one card, thus, if you are both a student and an employee of the University, you must discuss which card is the most appropriate for you.

The ID card should be carried with you at all times while on campus. A student must produce this card or the Kazakhstan identification card when requested by faculty, staff or security personnel. If the student refuses to provide identification information, they will be immediately escorted off-campus. This card serves as the KIMEP University ID card and gives access to the library. It must be presented when entering KIMEP and borrowing materials from the Library. The ID card is issued free of charge; the replacement fee is 1000 tenge. Please report the loss or theft of the card to the library so that the account can be disabled. This ensures that no one else can use your card. The ID card is issued to the person named on it. Its use is strictly limited to the bearer and is non-transferable. Allowing another person to use the ID card will result in the loss of the bearer's right to it and thus to enter KIMEP, use the library and library resources. The ID card is the property of the University. The card must be surrendered to the University upon termination of the status of the bearer or upon violation of library rules and regulations.

Upon graduation, students must relinquish their IDs. A fee of 1000 tenge should be paid if the student cannot return his card.

2. Library Loan Circulation

Library materials circulate according to the item status (main collection, reserve item, reference item, etc.) and the type of borrower. For students, main collection materials (excluding fiction collection items) circulate according to these guidelines:

- Undergraduate students: 1 week, 1 renewal, 3 item limit
- Graduate students: 2 weeks, 1 renewal, 4 item limit

For textbooks in the Reserve collection, circulation is irrespective of the type of student.

All books from reserve fund register by the librarian, in order to take books student must have the ID card.

Textbooks from the Reserve collection are allowed to be checked out overnight from 8:00 p.m. and must be returned by 11:00 a.m. the following morning or fines will begin to accrue. The fine for each hour of late return is 780 tenge. For books that are held in the Reserve Collection but that are still available for rental are available for overnight check out from the Reserves Collection only with a fee of 780 tenge.

Faculty may check out textbooks for up to one full semester. Teachers have a limit of 21 volumes. Reference books may be checked out for up to 2 weeks with one renewal.

Regardless of the type of patron (faculty, student or staff), fiction collection items are checked out for 4 weeks with one renewal with a 3-item limit.

Overdue fines are levied when items are overdue, damaged or missing (see below, Fees and Fines).

Recalls

If a student or faculty member has found an item in the catalog that has been checked out by another patron, he may request that the library issue a recall notice to the patron who has this item. Within three days of receiving such notice the person notified must return the material to the library. Failure to do so will result in overdue fines of 780 tenge per day until the item is returned, and the current replacement cost of the item will be charged to the patron if the item is not returned within 7 days of the recall notice due date.

Reserves Collection

The purpose of the reserves collection is to make limited information resources available to all students who enroll in a course. When a department notifies the library that a specific title is assigned reading for a course, the library withdraws that title from circulation and places it on reserve in one of the reading rooms. Reserve titles can be used only in the library reading rooms. To use a reserve title in the reading room, students must first deposit their ID with the circulation librarian. There is a time limit on using the item, determined by the circulation librarian (relying on information of the item's popularity), after which it should be returned to the circulation desk. The overnight loan of reserve titles can be arranged 4 hours before the library closes (typically not before 8:00 p.m.). Items are due the next morning no later than 11:00 a.m. Fines will be incurred by the student if the title is returned late (see below, Fees and Fines).

Reference and Periodicals

Reference works, periodicals and journals are located on the third floor of the library. These are non-circulating materials and may be used only in the Reference and Periodicals areas. Dictionaries and encyclopedias cannot be checked out. Other materials may be available to be used outside the Reference area for a limited time.

3. Library Use

The library is a place for independent research and study. In consideration of students' needs for quiet and study space, the following regulations are enforced: bags, computer bags, briefcases, food must be deposited in the coatroom before entering the library reading areas and laboratories. Coats are allowed within the library reading, study areas and laboratories. Visitors may also leave coats in the library coatroom. The Library cannot be held responsible for the coats left unattended. The Library is not responsible for items that are lost, stolen, damaged or left behind.

Talking in the library in a loud voice is prohibited. The library seeks to maintain a quiet atmosphere so as to ensure an optimal environment for study and research. Visitors can use the conference room on the third floor for discussions relating to study.

The use of cellular telephones is not permitted in the library reading areas and laboratories (telephones may be used in stair wells and in the library lounge). Ringers must be turned off in the building.

The consumption of food and open drink is not permitted in the library reading areas and laboratories. Food and open drink may be consumed ONLY in the lobby of the library building.

Visitors, who violate library rules and/or ignore instructions from the library's staff, can be refused admittance to the library.

4. Alumni and External Users

Alumni, individuals and organizations in the wider community are welcome to use the library's collections for the purpose of academic or professional research.

Registered alumni and external users of the library are allowed to use the library collections and Electronic Resources in the library and study in the reading rooms during regular working hours, according to policies and procedures established for all patrons (with some restrictions in materials check out).

For the registration of alumni refer to Corporate Development Department at cdd@kimep.kz, send

1. Scanned Photo (3*4)
2. Full Name
3. Program
4. Year of Graduation
5. Place of Employment
6. Current Position
7. Contact Phone Number (personal mobile number is preferable)
8. Address

For the registration of external users, refer to the office #105 - Library administration.

5. Fees and Fines

ID CARD

The replacement of the ID card is 1000 tenge. A fee of 1000 tenge must be paid if the card cannot be returned to the library upon the patron leaving the University (i.e., upon graduation, termination of employment, withdrawal).

TEXTBOOK RENTAL

Rules of KIMEP textbooks rental are subject to change. The textbook rental fee deposit is 36460 tenge. The rental fee for a textbook is 25% of the replacement cost of the book. Failure to return a rented textbook for semester on time will incur overdue fine of 780 tenge per day but not more than the rental fee of this textbook. Renting a textbook overnight from the library's Reserve Collection, if textbooks are available for rental, is 780 tenge (if not available for rental, checkout is free).

OVERDUE FINES

The overdue fine for any item checked out overnight is 780 tenge per hour. The overdue fine for any item checked out for a period of more than one day is 780 tenge. Failure to return a recalled item on time will incur overdue fine of 780 tenge per day until the item is returned, and the current replacement cost of the item if not returned within fourteen days of the recall notice due date.

DAMAGED OR UNRETURNED BOOK FINES

A patron is responsible for the any books borrowed under his name (through his card). The patron should inspect the book prior to taking it out of the library to ensure that it is in good condition. The library staff will note and record any deficiencies in the book's condition. The patron will be charged for any damage to a book while checked out in his name. Damaged or unreturned books will be charged on the following basis as determined by the Library Administration:

- Damaged item – current replacement cost of the book (100% - current retail price plus taxes plus shipping plus import duties).
- Badly marked or torn pages – proportional to the amount of damage based on current replacement cost of the item, as calculated by the library (50%).
- Minor wear and tear – cost of repair (15%).
- Failure to return an item for any reason will result in a fine, typically the original cost of the item; this fine is not refundable.

Patrons observed violating these regulations may be asked to leave the library. In case of repeated violations, or a single egregious violation (as determined by the Director of the library), the student patrons may be denied access to the library and library resources, and may be referred to the Dean of Student Affairs and Academic Disciplinary Committee.

PLEASE NOTE

Rules and regulations in the catalog are subject to change without notice. Inquire at the Library's Administrative office for the most current ones.

PART XI. COMPUTER & INFORMATION SYSTEMS CENTER

ADMINISTRATION

Technical Director

Mikhail Kalinogorskiy, Diploma
Office №333 (Valikhanov Building)
Tel: +7 (727) 270-42-91 (ext: 3102)
E-mail: cisc@kimep.kz;
Web-site: <http://www.kimep.kz/cisc/>

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The CISC Mission is to support and enhance the teaching, learning, research and administrative processes at KIMEP and to facilitate the endeavors of KIMEP students, faculty and staff in meeting the institutional mission and goals through continuous development and maintenance of information and computing facilities and through the provision of the highest quality information technology services.

PROFILE

CISC administers KIMEP's computer facilities and local area network; develops and supports software applications, databases, and web-based services. Currently, CISC employs 9 staff. 2 are full time system administrators and engineers, 3 are software programmers, 2 full-time lab supervisors, and 1 administration staff.

FACILITIES AND SERVICES

Currently, there are 908 computers at KIMEP, of which 908 are connected to LAN and 908 are connected to the Internet. Hardware facilities also include 444 printers, 30 scanners, 110 cameras, including web cameras, 79 LCD projectors, 26 interactive panels, 2 interactive boards, and 15 servers. All facilities are upgraded or replaced on a regular basis in order to keep up with changing technology and institutional needs. There are 11 computer laboratories on campus, which include 280 computers. 140 additional computers are available for students' use in language lab, multimedia lab (JMC department), math lab (mathematical center) and the reading halls and multimedia lab in the Library. The current student to computer ratio is 7. All computers in the laboratories are connected to LAN and the Internet. The computer laboratories are open early in the morning till late in the evening with some open 7 days per week. KIMEP's classrooms are equipped with LCD-projectors, audio systems, interactive boards and computers, which allow multimedia presentations, access to file servers, electronic materials, and the Internet during lectures. There are 75 computers connected to LCD projectors, interactive panels and audio systems in lecture halls and classrooms.

The university has launched a laptop rental service for students. Laptops are given to students in the library for one semester in the same order as textbooks.

Faculty members have the opportunity to publish their lectures and teaching materials in electronic format for the students on the file-server known as L-Drive. The L-Drive is accessible for students via the Internet upon logging in. Students have the opportunity to store their papers and projects on the file-server known E-Drive (Default on cl329n) or Google-Drive, which are accessible from all computer labs, classrooms, and also via the Internet.

The internal and external electronic communication is carried out through e-mails. Every faculty member, student, and all office employees have individual e-mail addresses, which are combined into appropriate e-mail lists. Faculty members are able to communicate via e-mail with the students in their classes, and administration is able to communicate with specified groups of students. Students are expected to check their student e-mail on a regular basis, and any communication sent to them by the administration or faculty is considered to be received and read by the students.

KIMEP offers an opportunity for distance learning for those students who are away from campus, or for those with tight schedules. The distance learning server operates using the MOODLE as course management system. Faculty use cloud-based video conferencing platform Zoom to conduct online classes with study groups. KIMEP is committed to academic integrity. The StrikePlagiarism on-line system is used to check student papers and faculty publications for plagiarism. The on-line proctoring system ProctorEdu is used for online control of entrance and state exams. Zoom, StrikePlagiarism and ProctorEdu are integrated with LMS MOODLE. MS Office 365 A3 and A5 subscription (both on-line and off-line versions) is available for all KIMEP faculty and students. Office 365 covers the needs of of faculty and students in standard set of general purpose software.

KIMEP has developed its own unique Online Registration System, which allows the students, faculty, the registrar, and administration to enjoy a number of web-based real-time services, and effectively supports the administering of the education process.

Using the Student Portal, students can exercise the following features online: check the schedule for the upcoming semester; communicate with their academic advisors; choose the courses according to their descriptions and prerequisites; register for courses; check their grades for the previous semester; check their GPA for the previous semesters; check their financial obligations to KIMEP; check their individual academic requirements; order transcripts and certificates; complete the financial aid application form, academic leave form, waive course form, graduation request and refund application. In addition to Students Portal, the programmers of Computer Center developed KIMEP Mobile Application for students. Mobile Application is available both for iOS and for Android.

The faculty members can exercise the following features online: check the actual number of students registered for the course during the registration period, obtain the list of students registered for a course, carry out advisory services, enter final grades, check students' transcripts and checklists, check the results of faculty teaching evaluation surveys, reserve a hall for extra classes, get attendance lists and make a schedule for semester and exams schedule. The Office of the Registrar can obtain the following current and exact information on any student online: number of credits obtained, GPA, list of courses completed, individual schedules, and financial obligations. The Sports Center can exercise the following features: make a training schedule, control attendance, and keep records of medical certificates. Finally, the administration can obtain the following information online, which is necessary for decision making, planning, and forecasting: number of registered students by colleges, academic programs, courses, and years of study; tuition revenue by colleges and academic programs; payment request tracking systems; contracts and internal documents tracking systems; reports on accommodation, payments and settlement in a dormitory. Additionally, KIMEP uses the following systems, some of which have been developed internally, and some have been outsourced: Automated Accounting and Finance System including HR module, Online HR Applicant Portal, Online Admissions, Dormitory Database, Online Directory, Automated Library System, etc. KIMEP strictly follows a policy of using only licensed, freeware, or shareware software packages. The above online functions are available through the Intranet site accessible only on campus, and through the official KIMEP website: www.kimep.kz. Appropriate access rights are granted to different groups of users upon logging in. The KIMEP website serves as an important source of information about KIMEP for students, parents, faculties and staff, potential employees, incoming students and alumni, and the community.

Through KIMEP's communications platform, all members of the KIMEP community can: check their email from any location with an internet connection; schedule events through an online calendar and notify guests; upload videos to a common storage space; create and collaborate on documents, spreadsheets, presentations, forms, and drawings in real-time; upload and share any file type; develop and display rich websites with many technological features; create mailing lists and discussion forums for communication and material sharing; create profiles in a shared social network, with easy tools for communication and staying in contact.

RULES OF USING COMPUTER LABORATORIES

The purpose of the following rules is to ensure reasonable order of operation of computer laboratories, as well as to protect KIMEP local area network from viruses and unauthorized access. Computer laboratories should be used for study and research purposes only. The students are obliged to satisfy the following requirements:

- Present a KIMEP student ID to the computer laboratory supervisor upon request.
- Register in the journal, indicating the time in and out.
- Log-in when starting working on a computer.
- Fulfill all instructions and recommendations of the computer laboratory supervisor.
- Present all portable data storage media in use to the computer laboratory supervisor for virus checking.
- When working with the local area network, comply with the instructions located at each workstation.
- The students may work with the information located at the following network disks: Default on cl329n (E:), Lecture on 'l-drives' (L:), and H-Drive. Accessing other disks is subject to penalty (see note).
- The volume of information kept by each student on the H-Drive is limited to 100 Mb.
- Log-off when finished working on a computer.
- In case of any non-standard situation (system failure, etc.), ask the computer laboratory supervisor for help. Attempts to solve the problem by own means often lead to the damage of software.

It is strictly prohibited for students to:

- Breaching the printing policy in the computer labs – 1 week.
- Breaking computer laboratories' operating schedule – 1 week.
- Using other person's username and/or password, as well as providing username and/or password to other person(s) – 1 month.
- Downloading, executing, or saving on workstations, file servers or H-Drive of any files of the following types: *.exe, *.com, *.bat, *.mpg, *.avi, *.mp3, *.rep, as well as of any other files not related to the academic process – 1 month.
- Work on servers – 1 month.
Installation of software, or changing system or network configuration – 1 year.
- Accessing pornographic or hacker websites – 1 year.

Notes:

* In the case of repetitive violation according to articles 1-7 the student loses his/her privilege to use KIMEP computer laboratories for a period of 1 year.

 Students who perform activities, which damage the consistency of the KIMEP computer system, lose their privilege to use KIMEP computer laboratories without the right to recover these privileges.

STUDENTS ELECTRONIC MAIL

Every KIMEP student is provided with an e-mail address on the server www.gmail.com, which is considered to be his/her official student e-mail address. This e-mail system is an official means of communication, and is intended to supplement other communication means. Important announcements, news and messages regarding the academic affairs, student life, or administrative issues can be communicated to the appropriate students via this e-mail system. All students are expected to check their student e-mail on a regular basis, and any communication sent to them by the administration or faculty is considered to be received and read by the students. E-mail addresses are assigned to students by the Computer and Information Systems Center, and are identical to the students' local area network logins. Students should not use other student's e-mail username and/or password, or provide their e-mail username and password to other person(s). Students can be held responsible for misuse of their email address and online privileges by third parties. The student e-mail system should not be used for spam purposes, for monetary gain, for dissemination of illegal information or any purpose in violation of KIMEP's code of practice.

PRINTING POLICY (KIMEP COMPUTER LABORATORIES)

Each computer laboratory at KIMEP has at least one printer available for students during working hours of the laboratory. KIMEP assumes that users understand that printers are expensive and fragile equipment and cannot be used as copy machines for producing multiple copies. Only currently enrolled KIMEP students are allowed to use the printers. The purpose of this policy is to provide equipment safety and reduce toner costs in computer laboratories.

It is strictly prohibited to print the following materials in computer laboratories:

- Any information from Internet
- Any information from L-drive
- Accessory and auxiliary materials
- Materials unrelated to academic process
- Slides

It is allowed to print the following materials in the computer laboratories (one copy only):

- Final version of student's assignment (project)
- Resume
- Questionnaire
- Group assignment (project)

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The Corporate Development Department was established at KIMEP University in 1998 in order to create and maintain long-term beneficial relationships with business community. The mission of the department is to develop KIMEP as the leading institution of higher education in the region. CDD contributes to KIMEP's sustainable development by generating external resources and promoting mutually beneficial partnership relations with the corporate community, non-government organizations and government agencies in Kazakhstan, the Central Asian region and worldwide.

GOAL AND OBJECTIVES

The goal of the department is to promote KIMEP among businesses, foundations, and organizations in Kazakhstan and around the world, and invite them to cooperate with KIMEP and offer them the opportunity to contribute to KIMEP's development. The department seeks financial sponsorship and support from national and international donor organizations and companies. All connections established by the Corporate Development Department with the business community and donor organizations strictly adhere to the principle of mutual benefit.

ACTIVITIES

Through various activities and projects the department engages the corporate community in campus life. The department works to raise funds for KIMEP's academic and institutional development.

The activities of Corporate Development Department include:

- Establishing partnership relations with the business community and foundations in Kazakhstan, the CIS and abroad.
- Seeking financial sponsorship and support from national and international donors.
- Fundraising for scholarships and grants for KIMEP students.
- Concluding trilateral agreements between companies/organizations, students and KIMEP.
- Providing the business community with opportunities to advertise their businesses and find prospective interns/employees from KIMEP.
- Bringing companies, foundations, and non-profit organizations to campus for speaking engagements, conferences and seminars.
- Developing KIMEP Alumni Association

CORPORATE SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS

Scholarships are a traditional form of financial aid. Companies, corporations, foundations, individual donors, and other sponsors donate money to KIMEP that is specifically designated for undergraduate and graduate students in the form of tuition fee subsidies. The Corporate Development Department solicits financial sponsorship and support from national and international donor organizations and companies that may vary from year to year. Scholarships are awarded based on the academic standing, leadership skills, research activities, student active life. The criteria are established by the sponsor. Selection process for the grant is executed by sponsor or together with Corporate Development Department.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association was established to maintain a permanent relationship between KIMEP and its alumni, with the purpose of mutual service and support. An active alumni network makes a stronger university and multiplies the value and prestige of a KIMEP degree.

The goal of the Alumni Association is to keep Alumni conversant with the programs and activities of KIMEP and provide support to the University and its program. Alumni Association assists the University in the growth of its cultural and extracurricular activities and facilitates KIMEP's involvement in the community. Alumni currently serve on KIMEP's business advisory board and as mentors to various student organizations on campus.

Alumni Association activities include:

- Developing an active network of alumni branches, as well as discipline-specific alumni groups.
- Serving an important role to KIMEP as benefactors, as spokespersons and advocates for the University, as advisors to the Colleges, and as a positive voice championing the importance of a KIMEP degree.
- Acting as role models for current KIMEP students.
- Fundraising for current students through the Rakhmet Scholarship Fund.
- Annual reunions, luncheons and networking activities online and offline that recognize outstanding alumni in spheres of professional development and community service
- Working on annual issue of Alumni Magazine- the Journal that informs about achievements of our alumni, reports on University news and describes various events, where KIMEP Alumni are involved.
- Informing alumni about the most important university news and alumni projects and events in social media as @kimep_alumni_association

CAREER AND EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

The Mission of Career and Employment Services is:

- To be a bridge bringing together KIMEP students with the business community in Kazakhstan and abroad.
- To provide a wide range services for the career skills development and increase of KIMEP students and graduates employability.
- To speed up and to simplify the job selection process.

Career and Employment Services provides KIMEP students and alumni job seekers with the career skills and employment services.

The Career and Employment opportunities are available for graduate and undergraduate KIMEP students seeking full/part-time work or/and Internship. Students can get information from the Career and Employment Services webpage, by e-mail announcements or by visiting and meeting our staff personally.

PART XIV. QUALITY ASSURANCE AND INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH

ADMINISTRATION

Coordinator

Aisha Akhmetbayeva, MBA, LL.M.

Office #407, Dostyk Building

Tel: +7 \(727\) 270-44-86 (ext. 2362)

E-mails: a.akhmetbayeva@kimep.kz, assistrc@kimep.kz

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

Office of Quality Assurance and Institutional Research (QAIR) is a corporate unit operating under the Provost and General Deputy to the President of KIMEP University. The purpose of QAIR is to support quality assurance systems by developing practices of evaluation and reviews that highlight areas for attention and improvement.

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

QAIR monitors, analyzes and evaluates institutional performance, supports planning and decision-making processes within KIMEP University, and provides secure information on KIMEP University's activities for external agencies. It also liaises with external partners, such as state bodies, higher education institutions, national and international agencies, to share best practices and develop wider-ranging strategies for the benefit of the community as a whole.

STUDENT PERCEPTION OF INSTRUCTION SURVEY (SPIS)

SPIS, conducted on a semestrial basis, allows retrieving the valuable opinion of students on quality of teaching in each subject they take and serves as an effective feedback channel between faculty and students - the main stakeholders in educational process. Evaluation results are made available to faculty members and academic management via KIMEP University's intranet. Generalized data on teaching quality at KIMEP-wide and academic unit levels are also submitted to top management and available online for the whole academic community. Survey results help to determine particular teaching aspects requiring improvement and to promote the quality of education.

FACULTY SATISFACTION SURVEY (FSS)

FSS measures the level of faculty satisfaction with working conditions, professional development and leadership at KIMEP University to further develop the University as a good place to work. The survey is conducted each Spring semester since 2005-06 AY on an anonymous and voluntary basis. All faculty members are invited to take part in the survey. Survey results are presented to top management and faculty community in the form of a report that highlights stronger and weaker aspects of working conditions and presents the general picture of satisfaction dynamics

STUDENT SATISFACTION SURVEY (SSS)

The SSS aims to investigate the level of students' satisfaction with their academic and non-academic experience, which provides a picture of the overall effectiveness of KIMEP University's services to students. The survey is conducted each Spring semester since 2005. All registered students can fill in the survey via KIMEP University's website on a voluntary basis. The survey report is submitted to the University's management and disseminated among KIMEP University's community. The results allow KIMEP University's decision makers to continuously monitor the effectiveness of the University's operations and highlight areas for further improvement of services offered to students.

GRADUATING STUDENTS EXIT SURVEY (GSES)

The GSES measures the level of satisfaction of graduating students with KIMEP University experience and invites them to share their future plans. The survey was launched in 2013-14 AY and is conducted each semester on an anonymous and voluntary basis. Survey results are made available to top management in the form of a report that highlights stronger and weaker aspects of learning conditions and presents the general picture of satisfaction. Based on survey findings, KIMEP University's top management develops action plans to further enhance University's studying environment.

KIMEP ALUMNI SURVEY (KAS)

The KAS aims to assure the quality of professional preparation of graduates by collecting their feedback about working experience, job performance and level of satisfaction with the quality of KIMEP University's education, which would allow identifying areas for improvement. The survey is conducted each summer since 2005 by the means of e-mails and phone interviews with graduates. The survey results are reported to the top management and shared with KIMEP University's community members. The key messages are taken as the basis for the further enhancement of University's programs and services. Since 2018-2019 AY the survey is being conducted in a new format of collecting feedback from three cohorts of alumni simultaneously – those graduated 10, 5 and 1 year ago.

EMPLOYERS' SATISFACTION SURVEY (ESS)

KIMEP alumni Employers' Satisfaction Survey seeks opinion of employers on levels of KIMEP graduates' professional preparedness in terms of knowledge, skills and attitudes. The survey is conducted every fourth year since 2007 through different channels: electronic mail, fax, post, phone calls and visits.

ON-REQUEST STUDIES

The Office also undertakes ad-hoc surveys, reviews and analyses to support institutional decision-making within the scope of University's current needs and focus. Some of the examples of on-request studies are survey researching demand for newly introduced academic programs, market research on programs which are planned to be opened at the University, survey on students' satisfaction with residence hall, survey collecting satisfaction with on-campus catering and shopping services, survey on students' satisfaction with distance learning and others.
